OLD VETS MARCH TO HONOR DEAD

MEMORIAL RITES PERFORMED UNDER FAIR SKY.

Judge Davis Gave an Able Address. Fine Program Carried Out without a Hitch.

On Decoration day, Friday last, with ranks sadly thinned by death and the decrepitude of old age, the surviving members of Joseph Wilson Post, G. A. R., marched loyally, as of yore, though not with the agility of the sixties, yet with spirits undaunted, faithful to comrades gone but not forgotten, and still following the Red, White and Blue, to lay the annual floral tributes on "The little-green tents where the soldiers lie."

After a cloudy morning, noon found the skies clearing and, at the assembly hour, 1.30, the sun was shining brightly and a large audience gathered at the City hall, where the program published in our issue of May 22 was successfully carried out.

Judge Davis of Ionia in the address of the day, said that he would not attempt to praise the old soldier. That has been done in poetry and song. Neither would he try to deliver "an oration," as announced. The audience had just listened to the greatest of orations—Lincoln's Gettysburg address. He would talk for a little while to the younger generations on the duties and responsibilities of citizenship. Good government must be upheld and its principles instilled in the minds of the young. Great problems, temperance, financial, tariff, immigration and others must be settled. Graft, corruption and dishonesty in government and in public and private life must be put down. To be a good citizen a man must study the affairs and problems of his state and country so as to intelligently take his part in politics. He must take time for caucus, convention and election duties. Our country is great and powerful. It need not fear the world from without. Its dangers are from within, where it must guard against injustice in government and in an ignorant citizenship. The fates of Egypt, Greece and Rome were pointed to as indicating the result of corruption in government and of cruelty, oppression and injustice. Americans must preserve America from the fate of the ancients.

Special mention should be made of the splendid song Columbia by Miss Maynard, Mrs. Henry and Messrs. Hicks and Maynard, also of the fine recitation, "The Union Soldier," by Miss Marie Curtis, which richly deserved the applause given.

After the decorating of graves at the cemetery, a large crowd assembled at the Soldiers' monument and gave an appreciative hearing to R. M. Shivel's eloquent address in honor of the unknown dead.

Here, also, a fine piece of work had been done by Comrade Boylan and assistants, who, on the green plat fronting the monument, had constructed a large cross of flowers, as a fitting memorial.

After a verse of America, which Comrade Hicks pitched "a leetle" too high, Rev. W. D. Ogg brought the day's exercises to a fitting close with a prayer.

Rare Treat Provided.

ADA BOY DROWNS WHILE FISHING

GEORGE WASHBURN, JR., LOST LIFE IN RIVER

Decoration Day a Sad One for Villagers. Funeral Attended by School Children.

From Our Own Correspondent.

May 30 closed, leaving behind a very sad history of the fate of George Washburn, young son of Mr. and Mrs. George Washburn who was drowned in Grand river some time during the evening of that day.

The lad spent the day fishing, starting at the mill dam in Thornapple river and slowly making his way to Grand river where he found an old boat and used it to fish from. He was last seen about 4 o'clock, seemingly enjoying the liberty of the day.

His parents missed him when he did not return as usual for the evening chores and began to feel anxious about his absence. As the evening wore on and still no sign of the boy, a search was made by a number of people.

The lad's cap was found and the boat capsized and a thrill of fear filled the father's heart. Still he had hopes of finding his boy asleep some where in the woods. At length the search was given up and next morning told the tale. Mr. Hill found the body on the banks about two miles down.

The boy was 16 years of age. Funeral service was held at the home, attended by all the school children and was one of the saddest on record, his parents living directly beside the cemetery. George is survived by several brothers and sisters besides his parents, who are grief-stricken by the sudden loss of their beloved son. There is no one to tell how the accident happened and his cries for help were not heard. Much sympathy is felt for the members of the family.

A DETROIT MEETING

Michigan Women's Press Gathering Fine Event

Among the many interesting speakers at the annual meeting of the Michigan Woman's Press association in Detroit last week was Editor James Schermerhorn of the Detroit Times, who appeared before Lowell Board of Trade last year. He gave a powerful address on "Moral Journalism" which was full of good thoughts and greatly appreciated by the association and its guests. Miss Sara Moore, who recently visited England in the interests of the Detroit News, gave an informal talk on the militant suffrage situation as she found it, showing that the people of this country do not get a fair view of conditions and that there is at least something to be said for the campaigners, who are carrying on, as she expressed it, "a real civil war." She said that many of the riots charged to the suffragettes are started by boys and others craving excitement, and stated that there are men serving time in prisons for assisting the suffragettes. "The Newspapers and the Questions of the Day" by Dr. Mary Thompson Stevens" was one of the helpful numbers.

A tea and reception given the visitors by the Detroit Federation of Women's clubs, auto tour of Belle Isle and the city tendered by the Board of Commerce and a luncheon given the officers of the association by Mrs. R. H. Ashbaugh at her beautiful home on Boston boulevard were among the enjoyable features of the convention. Miss Olive Cecil Lampman, formerly of Lowell, who is finishing her second year at Ypsilanti Normal and is a member of the association, attended the Thursday sessions. Miss Ola M. Johnson was re-elected recording secretary.

Got Thirty Days

Several strangers were given thirty days in the county jail by Judge Andrews for making too free with Fred Oliver's chickens. They were enjoying a fine chicken stew on the river flats when arrested. They gave the names of Colin Campbell, Fred Johnson, Mat Hartman and Charlie Sherman. C. Staal who was with the gang, plead guilty, turned state's evidence and thus secured the conviction of the others, in consideration of which he was let off with a fine and costs. All had been drinking.

SIX INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

MACHINE SOMERSAULTED NEAR ALTO.

Grand Rapids and Alto People in the Mused-up Party. None Badly Hurt.

From the Grand Rapids Press, June 4.

Speeding their taxicab at thirty miles an hour, according to eyewitnesses, six persons in a machine owned by the Grand Rapids Taxicab company and driven by Jay L. Williams, 840 Lake drive, S. E., overturned at the crossroads two miles north of Alto at 7 o'clock last night.

All six were injured, none seriously. The taxicab turned completely over once and rolled against a fence, thus averting another turn.

The party in the machine consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. O'Herron of Alto, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Hoover, 345 Eureka Ave. S. E., and Mr. and Mrs. Jay L. Thomas, 840 Lake drive, S. E., according to the register of the Hotel Williams.

The accident occurred about seven o'clock. Farmers in the vicinity saw the big taxicab as it tumbled and rushed to the aid of the four persons imprisoned in it and called for Dr. George Bond of Alto. Severe bruises and sprains were the extent of the injuries, however, in addition to a serious cut on the arm of Thomas, which required several stitches. At Alto they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. O'Herron it is reported. The party was on its way to Lowell.

All the injured were taken to Alto and spent the night at the Hotel Williams. Mrs. Hoover suffered severely from a sprained ankle which disabled her from walking. The taxicab will be shipped to Grand Rapids, as it could not be driven.

COMMON COUNCIL,
Village of Lowell, June 5, 1913.

Who is She?
We are willing to admit that chrysantheums were never more beautiful than now. Even a head of cabbage would be beautiful if a pretty girl wore it for a bouquet.—Philadelphia Telegraph.

Making All Happy.
"What I deem an appropriate present is a book, and that I must choose for myself" writes a correspondent of the London Chronicle. "To leave the selection to friends would be a catastrophe. Every year, therefore, on behalf of those generously minded individuals who have kindly thoughts toward me, I buy books for myself, tell them, and get the money refunded. And in the measure of monetary value they remember me, I likewise remember them—in any article of their own choosing. And we are all happy."

From Our Point of View
Where the Responsibility Lies

A POINT worthy of the consideration of every good citizen was brought to the attention of the Women's Press association, at its Detroit meeting, by Editor James Scheraga, of the Times. That paper in one of the clearest dailies in the world, a condition it has attained by the sacrifice of many thousands of dollars for bad advertising refused and by its courageous and upright editorial policy. In spite of this indubitable fact and yet it still acknowledges that it has not paid financially.

Christian people and good citizens have praised the Detroit Times in season and out of season, at the same time paying their money for corporation newspapers and running their advertisements "checked by jowl" with glaring whiskey and beer announcements. It is words, empty words for publishers who fight the people's battles and cry for those whose motto is "Each for himself and the devil take the hindmost."

Now, if the Detroit Times should be forced to abandon its most praiseworthy policy, who would be to blame? Men and brethren think on these things.

Col. Roosevelt Not a Drunkard
The settlement of the Roosevelt libel case is a good event to a bad citizen. It displays the national emblem on that day. Such public exercises as will promote love and reverence for flag and country are urged upon patriotic citizens everywhere.

A PUBLISHERS' board is a person or an organization a hundred favors and receives not so much as a "thank you." But let him fall in one instance to deliver the goods and "the devil's to pay" at once.

TEN dollars for a cigar! When a publisher's name is used on a Grand Rapids man for one little paper puff by his little 17-year-old boy, it is a result of this libel suit, publishers everywhere cease personal care of candidates, a great gain will have been made. Alas! Grand Rapids are unanimous in their censure of the Weber jury for its infamous verdict.

The President has the tariff lobby cronyism on the run. More power to his sharp teeth! The big thieves fear their finish.

HOLDEN PLANS TO PUT ALFALFA ON EVERY FARM

Plan to Unite All Interests in Nation-Wide Campaign for the General Growing of Alfalfa.
No More Difficult to Grow Than Clover and Gives Double the Yield

Extension Department to Aid Any Community Interested in Conducting Campaign to Encourage the Growing of Alfalfa.

Alfalfa National Trains Important Feature of the Work—Schedules to Be Arranged and Meetings to Be Held at Farm Homes—Prominent Speakers to Accompany Each Alfalfa Train—Alfalfa Organizations Will Be Formed in Each Community to Promote the Work—Field Men Experienced in Alfalfa Growing Will Follow Up Preliminary Work Where Requested and Give Aid in Getting a Start—Professor F. G. Holden, Director Extension Department, International Harvester Company, Chicago, Will Direct the Work.

Campaign with automobiles to begin early in April and extend into the late fall. County and city superintendents of school colleges, institute courses, Chautauqua lecturers, and others interested in the work will be assisted in obtaining alfalfa charts and lantern slides. Alfalfa literature and booklets will be given wide distribution throughout the country. Special alfalfa articles will be sent to farm journals and magazines, and plans and direct correspondence. Alfalfa editions of newspapers will be published where campaigns are conducted. Data will be arranged for "Alfalfa Day" in the schools. The campaign will be conducted in co-operation with current institutes, bankers, business men, commercial clubs, growers, alfalfa stock and dairy associations in any community where the people are anxious to improve their conditions agriculturally and are willing to give their time and money for an enthusiastic campaign.

Work to be started immediately in the Corn and Cotton Belt States and in the West. Thirty to forty meetings will be held in each county, the number depending on local conditions.

To accomplish the most of agricultural development, we must begin with the man behind the crop. Upon him depends the final working out of the principles of agriculture—the simple and practical things—which our schools, colleges and experiment stations are endeavoring to bring into general use. Professor Holden is daily answering requests for his assistance in carrying out the very effective work done on the agricultural trains, by using that modern vehicle—the automobile—going directly to the people on their own farms where the meetings are to be held.

Agricultural development needs in addition to the work of our public institutions, the individual efforts of every merchant, banker, corporation, or laboring man, and this plan calls for their heartiest cooperation.

This plan for increasing the yields of our crops by the more extensive growing of that wonderful soil improver, ALFALFA, is meeting the approval of all men who have any knowledge of the beneficial results of its introduction as a general crop.

Campaigns are now being organized in five different states, and Professor Holden is daily answering requests for his assistance in organizing other localities, and invites cordial cooperation with every community interested.

Cause of Fall of Bullet.

DAIRY EXHIBITS GREATEST EVER

Michigan State Fair Will Have Mammoth Exhibition.

HAS EDUCATIONAL FEATURES

Supt. Marston Arranges for Interesting Demonstrations and Lectures by Experts—How to Stop Leaks Through Advanced Management

"City folks, and even some farmers, little realize how prominent the cow is in producing farm wealth," said T. F. Marston, superintendent of the Dairy Department of the Michigan State Fair.

"Statistics compiled by Sec. Wilson of the United States Department of Agriculture show that in 1912, dairy yield was almost staggering in its bigness," continued Mr. Marston.

"For instance the dairy yield was just twice as valuable as the oat crop, equal to the hay crop, while the entire wheat for 1912 was only worth three-quarters as much as was the dairy wealth. Sec. Wilson estimated the country's wealth in this respect in 1912 was $330,000,000.

"We are already sure of filling the space allotted to our department at the Fair and I have been attempting to get General Manager Dickinson to apportion of some additional room for the dairy exhibit. Manager Dickinson fully appreciates the significance attached to this department and will do everything possible to secure more comprehensive quarters.

Will Demonstrate.

"We propose to go into the demonstration work this year as extensively as possible. It isn't theory the farmer wants, but actual demonstration of the results of research and investigation. We will endeavor to show the dairyman the results of feeding, breeding and caring in the composition of the milk. How pasteurized cream will serve butter and make it more healthful to the consumer. By this, and other methods, we hope to educate the consumer to a keener appreciation of advanced dairying and be willing to pay the additional cost when he sees the results.

"We will have some investigations and exhibitions of European cheese making. How the foreigners get such fine results. For years Americans have been under the impression that the best European produced cheeses cannot be made in America successfully. This is merely an opinion and not a fact. We will have exhibitions of all sorts of choice cheeses at the Michigan State Fair this year that will compare with anything of their kind in the world.

"Experts in the employ of the United States Agricultural stations throughout the country estimate that no less than $5,000,000 was tossed away last year as the direct result of mismanagement of creameries. Improved methods and systems of management will be shown at the Fair. This will tend to improve quality as well as the quantity of the output.

"In conclusion I might say that while past dairy exhibits at the Michigan State Fair have been far from ordinary, the 1913 exhibition will be a classic in every detail."

Crossing the Bridge.

The trouble about crossing the bridge before you come to it is that you will have to cross it just the same when you get there.

Fletchering a Fortune.

A St. Louis man made $64,000 as a ragspicker. Lots of men have made more than that out of rags—chewing them on the lecture platform.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Some Good May Be Done.

I told something to a friend once and he replied, "How do you want a follow to be perfect?" I said, "Yes, but I never expect to see one, but there's lots of rottenness which can be cut out of the efforts of all of us."—Exchange.

Bracelets Worn by the Insane.

Bracelets have been worn from time immemorial, but few wearers of the golden bands of the present day know that they were once used to distinguish the insane. Before lunatics were confined to asylums they wore an armlet for distinction.

Use for Cracker Cartons.

The pasteboard boxes that crackers come in are fine to keep doughnuts or cookies in, as they will not dry up. I also use them to bake fruit cake in. On the other side and stiff outside keep the cake from burning, which fruit cake is very apt to do.—Exchange.

Error of Intellect.

Through the ordinary course of mental failure and misfortune, in the career of nations as well as of men, the error of their intellect and the hardening of their hearts may be accurately measured by their denial of spiritual power.—Rushin.
