SIMPSON REUNION

Another Enjoyable Family Gathering Recorded.

The ninth family reunion of the Simpson family was held at the home of Oliver Simpson, in Lowell, Aug. 20. Everybody arrived the 19th, and that night and the next day was a time of merriment and jollification that will long be remembered by those present.

Every meal the tables fairly groaned with good things to eat, and that was one place where everybody did their part well. A five course dinner was served by our big-hearted hostess.

The remainder of the day was well filled in with music, stories and parades.

Those from out of town were: George Simpson of Freeport; Isaac Simpson, wife and daughter of Kalkaska; Will Simpson, wife and daughter of Alden; Mart Simpson, wife, son and daughter of Colorado; Fred Simpson and wife of Lansing; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bears and son of Charlevoix, and Frank and Otto Simpson of Detroit.

The plan is to meet at the home of Fred Simpson at Lansing next year.—[Com.]

A FRIEND HAS LEFT US

Mrs. Lane's Brief Illness Terminates in Death.

Mrs. H. F. Lane died at her home in this village, Tuesday morning, Aug. 26, after less than a week's illness, aged 59 years. Funeral services will be held at the Baptist church this (Thursday) afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by Pastor D. Q. Barry.

Lillian A. Lovejoy was born May 13, 1854, at Rose, Wayne county, N. Y., and came to Michigan when a young girl with her parents and settled on a farm southwest of Lowell.

July 30, 1871, she was united in marriage to Hiram F. Lane. To this union were born three children—two sons, David and Charles and a daughter, Ruby. David, the oldest, died August 7, 1897, aged 24 years. The others, with the bereaved husband, survive to mourn the loss of a devoted and loving wife and mother.

Mrs. Lane was of a cheery, helpful, home-loving disposition, always ready to sacrifice for others. Of her it may truly be said, "Those who know her best loved her most." A wide circle of friends will unite in tributes of affection for the departed and sympathy for the bereaved family.

Died in Howard City.

Mrs. Nancy Johnson, widow of Fred Johnson who died about a year ago, passed to her rest at the home of her niece in Howard City, and the body was brought to Lowell Monday for burial beside the remains of her first husband, Jacob Forenday. All three were formerly well-known Lowell people.

MAY NOW SELL FARM

Former Husband Failed to Pay $4,900 Ordered.

As the result of a decision handed down yesterday by Judge Brown of the circuit court, Nettie McCord is entitled to sell a farm belonging to John McCord to secure the payment of a decree for $1,000 given at the time she obtained a divorce from John McCord. The decree was given in 1909 and the defendant ordered to pay $4,000 in lieu of her dower right in his property. It is alleged the amount was never paid and the defendant set up that the proceedings were irregular. It was ruled by the court, however, that irregularity in the proceedings should have been placed at the time the decree was given. It was therefore ordered that Nettie McCord have the right to sell a farm belonging to John McCord to satisfy the decree, and also to have interest at the rate of 5 per cent. from the time the decree was given.

To Arvilla Filhour Patterson was ordered paid $943, that being the interest and principal on money due her for work and labor. Before the divorce proceedings were started by Mrs. McCord the Patterson woman entered into an agreement to take care of Mr. and Mrs. McCord in their old age, in return for which she was to be given their farm at their death. This contract was said to have been broken by John McCord, and the woman was given judgment of $943 for her work, with permission to take a lien on the farm until the amount was paid.—Grand Rapids Herald, Aug. 23.

The New York Evening Journal, declares that the 20,000 editors of the country, "especially the country editors," which may or may not be intended for "tuffy" are the real directors of public opinion. Then it proceeds to inform us that the temperance question is the one great national question. Great! The Journal then goes on to tell us that the 20,000 editors can settle this question if we will only go to it the right way; and that way is to advocate the consumption of beer and alcohol than whisky. As Lincoln used to say, that reminds us of a story:

Small Boy—"Pa, the pigs are in the corn."
Pa—"Well, son, go turn in the old sow."

Nor much has been said of late in public print regarding the "spelling reform" that was urged at a break-neck pace several years ago, because the progress, while progressive, and recognizing the advisability of a gradual and reasonable reform in English spelling, was yet opposed to a revolutionary change. The Chicago Evening Post publishes a list of twelve "reformed" words, for which approval is given by a large number of the most prominent educators in the country. Some of these have been in reputable use for years, and all may now be adopted as sanctioned by usage and public authority. Here are the words:

Tho, thoro, thro, catalog, demagog, prelog, altho, thore, there, decalog, pelaglog, thore, thore.

SATURDAY'S Press comments sharply on the rash talk of some "statesmen" who gave Huerta—Mexico's president by right of murder—reason for thinking that President Wilson is not lacking in his demands upon Mexico by the American congress and people. Grover Cleveland in his controversy with England over Venezuela and William McKinley in his war-like dealings with Spain over Cuba, had the unanimous support of congress and of the American people, North and South, East and West. Shame on the man, any man, anywhere, who basely deserts his chief in a crisis, or who traitorously, for petty partisan reasons, betrays him in the back. Let his name be anything but "Honorable!"

The census bureau reports indicate that the Indian population is on the increase, but more than 35 per cent. are of mixed blood. Oklahoma has the largest Indian population and the largest proportion of inter-marriages. There it has been found that children of such unions have more of the white characteristics than of the red, and after a few generations all traces of Indian ancestry will disappear. If the Indian is to vanish from our civilization, it will undoubtedly be by this process of amalgamation and assimilation. And who shall say that the American of the future will be the worse for this infusion of red blood?

The Press of Saturday and The Herald of Sunday each had full-page advertisements for the Grand Rapids Drawing Company. It will be well for conscientious readers to remember this in future when reading editorials in those papers on the liquor traffic. Stranger things have happened in the newspaper world than the making of an editorial policy by the advertising department. The time is coming, and may not be far distant, when the public will no longer tolerate such demoralizing literature in their homes.

The essence of lying is in deception, not in words; a lie may be told by silence, by equivocation, by the accent on a syllable, by a glance of the eye attaching a peculiar significance to a sentence; and all these kinds of lies are worse and baser by many degrees than a lie plainly worded; so that no form of blinded conscience is so far removed from that which comforts itself for having deceived because the deception was by gesture or silence, instead of utterance.—John Ruskin.

THE little village of Almont is happy over the assurance of the extension of the Detroit United railway from Romeo to that place, and the strenuous campaign to raise a bonus of $10,000. As the terminal had been at Romeo for many years, the villagers had ample opportunity to observe its effect on the prosperity of their neighborhood. It has shown their judgment and faith by going down deep into their veins to secure the same benefit. Don't forget this.

ALL business men, including merchants with unlimited capital and credit, receive bills daily and weekly, year in and year out, and expect it as a matter of course. Still, some people show their ignorance of business affairs by taking offense at the presentation of a simple statement of account; and they are generally regarded as undesirable customers.

THE man who sells his time to another and then employs a large proportion of it in idleness, talk with strangers, and idlers, wrongs his employer and in the end cheats himself. Such people are often dubbed "old women," but the term is an unjust aspersion on millionaires, industrious and sensible women.

THE sale of eggs by weight is advocated by State Food Inspector Mickel; and one store in Detroit has begun the practice, which has much to recommend it. The weight method would be fair for producer and consumer, and should be universally adopted.
