THE OTHER SIDE OF THE STORY

REGARDING MR. FYFE'S STREET RAILWAY FRANCHISE

As Told by the Lowell Village Council, which Desired to Protect Public Rights in Our Own Streets.

Lowell, Mich., October 29, '13.

In regard to the communication from Andrew Fyfe to F. M. Johnson regarding the Detroit, Lansing, and Grand Rapids railway franchise, as published in the Ledger of Oct. 16, 1913, the Common Council feel that a more thorough explanation should be made to the public.

On Feb. 3, 1911, Mr. Fyfe submitted an ordinance to the common council for the purpose of submitting to the voters a franchise for said railway to pass through the Village of Lowell and at a special meeting of the Council held on that date a committee was appointed to investigate said franchise and report at a special meeting to be held on Feb. 15, 1911.

On the last mentioned date the Common Council met and the committee reported that they had investigated said ordinance and after due consideration recommended that the request be denied. The reason for this refusal being that the railway company was to have permission to place side-tracks, switches, loading platforms, etc., at any locations they desired.

The committee also learned that the franchise submitted was not an exact copy of the one passed in all the other towns along the proposed road as stated by Mr. Fyfe in some cases the company had made changes and concessions. The Council requested that certain limitations be placed on the use of our streets, principally in the location of switches and loading platforms, but Mr. Fyfe absolutely refused to include such restrictions and the Council believed that to grant the ordinance as offered would give the Company privileges in our Main street which might be used to the injury of the village.

There is no question but that if Mr. Fyfe had come to the Council with a proposition anywhere near fair and not all one-sided and could have shown the Common Council any evidence that the Company he represented had the finances to promote and build the railroad the question would have been submitted to the people to vote upon.

The Council was then and is at all times ready and willing to do whatever they can for the welfare and benefit of the Village at large. When the bridges were built they spent several hundred dollars in making them strong enough for a street railway, expecting to have one some day.

The desire to have something to say about our own streets and wishing to serve the citizens of Lowell to the best of their ability caused the Council to turn down the proposition of Mr. Fyfe at that time.

By order of the Common Council

WED IN NEW HOME OLD RESIDENT GONE

Marriage of Well-Known Lowell Couple.

A quiet wedding occurred Thursday evening, Oct. 30th, when Miss Ethel Thomas was united in marriage to Thomas M. Doyle, the ceremony taking place in the future home of the couple on the west side. Rev. Fr. Albin officiated, using the ring ceremony, and only the immediate families were present. The bride was gowned in light blue Japanese crepe.

Immediately after the season of congratulations a six o'clock wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Thomas, by Mesdames E. A. Anderson, A. G. Peckham and Clyde Collier. Miss O'Connor of Grand Rapids was cateress. The table was prettily decorated with pink roses, and cut flowers adorned the rooms.

The couple left on the evening train for a few days' wedding trip to Chicago. They expect to be at home to their many friends in the new house, which is nearing completion.

WED IN NEW HOME OLD RESIDENT GONE

Mrs. Julia White Passed Away Monday Morning.

Julia Colson White was born in Burton, Ohio, in 1829, and died at her home in Lowell, November 3, 1913. Her girlhood was spent in her native state. She was married to George White December 25, 1851. They moved to Bowne township, Michigan, where her husband enlisted in 1861. Disease soon fastened itself upon him through exposures incident to army life and consequently death came soon after returning to his family. Two children were born to them: Dr. George White who died in Topeka, Kansas, in 1879 and Emma who passed away April 20, 1911, at her home in Lowell.

She leaves one brother Sherman Colson of Grand Rapids, who has been a great comfort to her in her sorest trials, also a grandson in Kansas and a granddaughter in Colorado, two nephews Frank Colson of Grand Rapids and Edward Colson of Kalkaska.

For forty-five years she has lived in Lowell, loyal and true to her home her church and her community. Bereft of husband and son for many years; but with a lovely daughter spared to her until a little more than two years ago, she too was called home leaving her aged mother alone, and yet not alone, with a faith and a courage seldom witnessed, she cheerfully waited her time; then with a quiet release she too has gone home. "She has done what she could" with her 84 years and left us an example worthy of imitation.

STILL STANDING PAT

Deadlock Still On In Board of Supervisors.

The October session of the board of supervisors has adjourned and the supervisors will meet Monday afternoon in adjourned session. By this means they may draw again for a few days. Under the law they can draw pay for but 15 days in the regular October session and but 25 days in the entire year. They have drawn pay for 20 days already and the 15 days of the October session were up last Wednesday night. The last three days have been served gratis by the members, but by holding an adjourned session, beginning Monday, they may draw pay for five more days. However, there is a January session yet to come, and if they draw pay for the whole five days now, they must work a day or two in January without pay.

Nothing has been accomplished in the way of equalization. The country members profess to believe the city members will weaken sooner or later, but the city members seem to be standing just as solidly as they did the first day of the session. The same is true of the country members. They are standing pat.

One interesting feature shown by the law. That is that the township rolls must be collected with the state and county tax, and receipt given in a lump. Now, unless the board will equalize and make it possible that the state and county tax shall be paid, the townships cannot collect their taxes, and consequently will have no funds upon which to run until the tax is collected. The city is not so situated, since the city tax is collected in the summer entirely independently of the state and county and will therefore not be affected by any deadlock in which supervisors tie themselves. —[Herald, Nov. 3.]

On 3 Months' Test at our Expense.

Here is the widest open guarantee proposition ever offered to farmers in this vicinity:

Take home a package, sack or pail—or a ton if you like—of Dr. Hess Stock Tonic; feed it to your horses, cows, hogs, etc., all winter. It costs less than a penny a day for a horse, cow or steer, and 8 cents per month for the average hog. If, after it is finished, you are not satisfied with the extra profit it has made you, in increased growth and milk production, besides keeping your animals healthy and free from worms, bring back the empty package and we will cheerfully refund your money.

A big shipment just received to supply the demand this guarantee will create.

PIKE'S PEAK OR BUST

Daniel Blanding of Vergennes Survivor of Big Drive.

Our old friend Daniel Blanding of Vergennes was one of the "Pike's Peak or bust" fellows, driving in 1859 one team all the way to California. Omaha, then the frontier, was a hamlet about the size of Fallisburg.

Mr. Blanding says the Pike's Peak craze wasn't quite so big a rush as that to California ten years before, but it was a bigger humbug.

This was about the time the Pony Express across the continent was started. Mustangs were cheap, could be bought for about $5 a head. Stations were established about every 40 to 80 miles across the continent and the mail was taken across the country on the gallop, relays being made at every station with fresh horses and drivers.

That was a big enterprise in those days.

Buttrick—Willette.

Married in Grand Rapids yesterday, by Justice Creswell, Nova Buttrick of Cascade and Frank Willette of Lowell. They will take a trip to Big Rapids, Saginaw and Harrison and be at home in West Lowell after December 1.

Barkley—Clark.

Married Friday, Oct. 31, by Justice Loucks in Grand Rapids, Miss Fern Barkley and Charles Clark, both of Lowell. A reception was given the young couple Friday evening at the home of the bride's parents, where they will spend the winter.

Scott—Johnston.

Married, Wednesday, November 5, by Justice Loucks in Grand Rapids, Miss Katie Scott and Ralph Johnston, both of Lowell. They were attended by Miss Pearl Callier and Mr. Robert Hill. A reception was given them last evening by Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Clark and received a number of beautiful presents. They will remain in Lowell for the present.

THE FORTY-NINERS

Stewart Edward White Tells Their Story in "Gold."

Being the son of a Forty-Niner and having heard from him the story of the discovery of gold in California and of the mad rush of fortune-hunters to that then far-away land in 1849-50, the writer has read with more than ordinary interest Stewart Edward White's new book, "Gold, a Tale of the Forty-Niners."

That father has gone to his long rest; and few indeed are the survivors of the overland or Panama route or of those who rounded the Horn. Aged from 85 to 90 years must the living be; but Mr. White has made the dead past to live again in the pages of "Gold," and the white-haired veterans of Hangman's Gulch, the Vigilantes, the fevered search for the yellow metal and of the long days and nights and weeks and months of excitement among wild scenes and reckless, lawless men, may feel again the thrill and fever of sixty-four years ago.

"Gold" is a good story and it is good history, of an important epoch in American annals, and is worthy of a place in your library.

Since we advertised for a Forty-Niner a friend telephones that Mr. H. D. Barnaby of Dorset, father of the Senator, a man of ninety winters, is one of those sought for. We are waiting to hear from him before asking the publishers, Doubleday, Page & Co., Garden City, New York, to send him a copy of the book.

LOWELL'S SCHOOLS

Notes and Items of Interest by Student Reporter.

Monday, Oct. 27. Reverend Weldon gave us an interesting address.

The chicken pie supper given Oct. 28, for the benefit of the athletic association, was a success. The sum of $15 was cleared.

Chapel period Monday, Nov. 3, was devoted to parliamentary drill, which was both humorous and instructive.

Ora Veiter is our pianist this week.

The Juniors and Seniors played the Sophomores in football Tuesday night.

The Sophomores held a party at the home of Otto Wisner last Wednesday night.

The girls will start the practice of basket ball in the City hall this week.

The books for the Junior play are expected this week, after which the Juniors will begin practice.

School was closed last Wednesday for the rest of the week, on account of the "Teachers' Institute," which was held in Ann Arbor.

A high school council has been elected to meet with one of the teachers and assist in deciding the punishment to be inflicted upon high school pupils. This council consists of two Seniors and one member from each of the other classes.

Good Roads Bee In Tyrone Township.

Tuesday, November 11, has been fixed by the business men of Kent City and the farmers of Tyrone township for a "good roads bee" and several hundred aggressive taxpayers will be on the job contributing teams and wagons as well their own time and labor.

The stretch of road leading eastward from Kent City to Cedar Springs will be improved for several miles and the job may take three days. The county surveyor has established the grade and all will be in readiness for a large amount of real manual labor.

County Agricultural Agent Skinner and Lee Bierce, assistant secretary of the Association of Commerce addressed a meeting of Kent City business men on the subject of good roads. At that time, plans for the "bee" were completed. The work will be done under the direction of the township road supervisor.

"Comparison ...of Values"

Nearly every day someone tells us how much lower we are on prices than the city stores are offering; and this is based on our regular marked prices. But for good reasons we are giving to cash buyers big reductions on everything in our stock excepting restricted-price goods. Therefore it will be well worth your efforts to come to us when in need of any of the goods we carry in stock, and you all know our line.

While we have withdrawn some of the specials offered for our special sacrifice sale, still the same condition exists that induced the sale, and for cash buyers we will surely make it an object for them to trade with us.

Come and make your own comparisons, whether you buy or not.

The WOMAN A Novel by Albert Payson Terhune. Founded on William C. de Mille's Play. Illustrated with Photographs of the Play and Drawings of W. L. Carter.

SYNOPSIS. Congressman Standish and the woman, believing themselves in love, are married. She is a woman of the world, and she is not a woman of the world.

CHAPTER I—Continued. "I'm sorry," she said. "I didn't know I meant so much to you."

"You don't realize the power of a woman's smile," she said. "People from a thousand different points of view are looking at you."

"I'm glad," she said. "I'm glad to see you so happy. I'm glad to see you so happy."

From Our Point of View

"New York is the most lonesome place on earth," said a pretty country girl on being reassured from an attempted suicide after a heart-breaking failure to earn an honest living in the largest city on the continent. Millions of people, but no friends, for a homeless wanderer, while thousands sought to lead her into a life of sin and shame. "A most lonesome place!" This is not the first time we have heard that indictment of the great city. Many a farmer boy, lured away from the peace and comfort of rural life, has found when too late that he has bartered them for a mess of pottage.

OUR COUNTRY COUSIN'S

THE country printers are not worrying about the income tax.

THE country printers are not worrying about the income tax. They tell the Michigan not to be discouraged. I hope they will take the English suffrage as an example. The English suffrage is a warning rather than an example. They will never go as far as the English suffrage in smashing property and lives. Their claims for equal rights must be made upon the basis of justice, and their appeal to your sense of fair play. These are sufficient and to your grounds woman can gain all she desires.

The Oddfellows of Ionia raised $200 to defray the funeral expenses of Clinton Pickett, killed in an automobile accident, although the young man had taken only the first grade in the order. The lodge was in no way obligated, but volunteered the aid out of sympathy for the widow. Will the Michigan Christian association, which antagonizes lodges, do as well? In the language of some plain, blunt men who so cheerfully do this kind charity, it should "Put up or shut up!"

The Oler theory was antagonized by Dr. Barnes of Philadelphia at the State Teachers' convention, where the decision was that only 4 percent of the world's great progressive work is done by people under 40 years while 10 percent is performed by people 40 and 50. The doctor argues compulsory education for all people over 60. Please pass the university extension service. Study is let for that chloroform any older.

THAT the people of Alto and vicinity are paying Lowell schools $625 tuition and $2,250 for school and $340 per year for railroad fare, is stated by Rev. F. E. Chamberlain, who says that Alto should have a high school of its own. The people of Lowell are glad to have these bright boys and girls in our schools, but there is no doubt in our mind that an enterprising village like Alto should have its own high school facilities.

A MAYVILLE apple packer is in trouble for dressing the tops of his barrels with fine No. 1 apples while those in the bottom are inferior. The longer we live the more we are convinced that these little crooked tricks don't pay. If you can't be square because it is tight, let him try it out because it pays.

EDWARD MORRIS, head of the Morris beet trust, is dead at 47, leaving $4,000,000, of every dollar of which he would, doubtless, have given for a few more years of life. "What shall I profit a man if he gains the whole world?" The "poor and content" are princes beside the dead millionaire.

THE Methodist Brotherhood at its national convention endorsed the movement for National prohibition. "No compromise with wrong" was the spirit of the great gathering; and it is one that will find an echo in the hearts of good citizens everywhere. The saloon must go!

A SPRING LAKE candy man is real angry because it is senseless or gasoline down his chimney, blew up his stove and ruined his stock. Strangely he should be cross about "little things like that." He's lucky to have the building and get off alive.

HOUSEKEEPERS Must be Watchful

For great efforts are being made in this vicinity to sell baking powders of inferior class, made from alum acids and lime phosphates, both undesirable to those who require high-grade cream of tartar baking powder to make clean and healthful food.

The official Government tests have shown Royal Baking Powder to be a pure, healthful, grape cream of tartar baking powder, of highest strength, and care should be taken to prevent the substitution of any other brand in its place.

Royal Baking Powder costs only a fair price per pound, and is cheaper and better at its price than any other baking powder in the world.

ADA NEWS.

November 4.—John Bolt, beloved son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Bolt, died at the home of his parents yesterday. He was born in Grand Rapids Oct. 8, 1881 and came with his parents to this vicinity 16 years ago. He was employed by Mr. Seward Owning on a farm in Lowell township for more than two years. He was taken ill about a year ago, and since that time made his home with his parents here. He attended the Christian Reformed church and the Congregational church regularly for many years and was a Christian at heart. His life was well lived. Those with him in his last moments were his parents and Mr. Con King. When life was ending he whispered the sacred words beginning "Praise God from whom all blessings flow." He is survived by his parents and the following brothers and sisters: Ralph and Edward Bolt of Chicago, Mrs. A. Mewman of Cadillac, Mrs. Homan and Miss Ida Bolt and Dick Bolt of Grand Rapids, and Peter and Henry Bolt who reside with their parents here. Funeral services were held at the Congregational church at 2 o'clock Wednesday Rev. Renelle officiating; burial at Cascade cemetery.

Jesse B. Armstrong and Archie Pettou were in Grand Rapids Monday.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mrs. Anna C. Judson October 29, at high noon, when her daughter Miss Ethel Anna, was given in marriage to Foster Harold Norman son of Mr. and Mrs. William Norman of Cannon township. The bride was prettily gowned in white silk, while the groom wore a suit of blue. Rev. C. Chamberlain of Saranac, uncle of the bride, officiated with the ring service. The bow window was prettily decorated in green and white, where a horse shoe was suspended under which the bride and groom took their places. The flowers were pink and white carnations. Following the ceremonial a three course dinner was served, after which the couple took their departure, amidst a shower of rice for a short wedding trip. The presents received were many and beautiful. Only the immediate family were in attendance. Those from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. George J. Stirling of Holland, Mrs. H. C. Chamberlain of Saranac and Miss Kate Chamberlain of Sparta. Their many friends extend congratulations.

Dr. Gaylord Fisher, of Grand Rapids, has rented the living rooms in the Thomas building, where he is located.

Two attempts were made by parents to take their children by kidnaping or force from the juvenile home, Grand Rapids, one attempt proving successful. While Matron Regester was absent James Hurley visited the home and, after knocking Miss Jennie Neusbaum, an assistant, to the floor, took his two sons, 13 and 11, and escaped. Because she feared her son was to be detained at the juvenile home indefinitely, Mrs. Tich Jennings made an attempt to kidnap her 13-year-old son, but the effort proved unavailing.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS

The publisher will deem it a great favor if subscribers will consult the label on their papers and determine whether they are in arrears. Those who find themselves owing for the paper will be doing THE LEDGER a great kindness if they will bring or send their remittances to this office, without making it necessary to mail statements. The date on the label shows when your paper is paid to.

Newspaper Laws

If subscribers order the discontinuance of newspapers, the publisher may continue to send them until all arrears are paid.

If subscribers refuse or neglect to take their newspapers from the office to which they are sent, they are held responsible until they have settled their bills and ordered them discontinued.

If subscribers move to other places without informing the publishers, and the newspapers are sent to the former place of residence they are then responsible.—Exchange.

Love, I am inclined to believe that for a woman love is the supreme authority—that which judges the rest and decides what is good or evil. For a man, love is subordinate to right. It is a great passion, but it is not the source of order, the synonym of reason, the criterion of excellence. It would seem, then, that a woman placed her ideal in the perfection of love and a man in the perfection of justice.—Henri Frederic Amiel.

Square Foot and Foot Square. There is no difference in area between one square foot and one foot square, though there may be a difference in the shape and dimensions of the surfaces. For instance, one square foot may be inclosed by a circular line, a hexagon, a triangle or a rectangle. One foot square is an area of fixed form, the four sides being equal and the four angles all right angles.

The Higher Equity. Bismark used to delight in telling the story of how, when foraging for food with two companions in an almost deserted village, he came upon a man from whom he procured five eggs. Unable to divide five among three, he began by swallowing two; then, calling his companions, shared the three remaining eggs with them.—A truly Bismarkian idea of an equitable division.

Fate of Eight Bridesmaids. "Three times a bridesmaid never a bride," was the old matrimonial warning; but seemingly there is danger in being a bridesmaid once, judging from the remarkable confession made by a prominent society woman recently. At her wedding there were eight bridesmaids, all of whom have since married, but one of whom is now living with her husband.

ANTIDOTES. Have you come close to a cynic and been in danger of shipwreck because of his doubts? Seek you the young and struggling idealists who live around the corner. Has a hypocrite infected your soul with nausea and weariness? Go at once to the honest persons who live nearest you and visit with them. Does Nero reign violently and cruelly in the world of your labor? Go outside of that world, for once, seeking those who are of the kingdom of Christ. Do you frequently meet the devil at the corner of the street on which you live? Turn into another avenue and walk fast, hoping, and also expecting, that there you will meet God. For when the body sinks into deep waters we reach out toward something that floats, something to which we may cling. When flames take hold upon our clothing we seek water, or earth, wherewith to quench them. When we have swallowed poison we hunt for an antidote while there is yet time. We do what we can to save the body, and we do it quickly. When the soul is drowning, burning, poisoned, in danger of life, shall we not do what we can to save the soul? —Marguerite O. B. Wilkins in the Craftsman.

It takes ten years to write in English, twenty to think in English, and about one or two generations to feel in English. No true sportsman will use a book of quotations. He will at least give the quotation the chance to escape afforded by a lazy memory. The most discreet woman in the world would like to "put her foot in it" when she sees a Cinderella-like slipper about three sizes too small for her. The highest title a business man can secure is "captain of industry." The real generalship can only be found in those who manage to get along without work. The scientists predict that in a few billion years the world will grow cold. By putting the event in the future the scientists give proof they have never suffered marked financial reverses.

If you would stand well with the ladies you must give them your seat in a crowded car. The average girl is terribly disappointed if a fellow doesn't go to the dogs after she has refused him. To identify the Corpse. In the blanks which life insurance companies provide their medical examiners for use in recording the data of the examination of the applicant for insurance, they provide a space for personal marks which may be used to identify the insured after death. A Good Excuse. A choir boy recently gave as an excuse for missing choir practice that he had to sit up with a dying friend but an investigation proved that it was his best girl who was "just dying to see him."
