MANY KINDS OF FLOUR

PREPARED CEREALS THAT SHOULD BE BETTER KNOWN.

Rice, Cornmeal and Those Made From Dried Beans All Contain a High

Amount of Nutriment-Split Pea Loaf.

The only prepared cereal with which many women are acquainted is a wellknown brand of prepared barley flour which they have used in infant feed-

But it may be interesting to know that there are a number of other excellent prepared flours on the market which are almost unknown in many of our homes. There is just as good a prepared oatmeal flour which can be used for children's gruels, for thickening soups and for invalid cookery. The usual practice now is to boil rolled cows, bulls and grassers steady; best of ; raining them, etc.; but this can oats and have all the unpleasantness all be avoided by using the prepared catmeal flour for the purposes above

Similarly, there is a rice flour, a lentil flour, a cornmeal flour, and even flours from dried beans and other legumes. These are all very excellent, because they contain a high amount of nutriment, and because in this prepared form they are far easier to use than the ordinary whole grain. Anyone who has ever eaten the Scotch "pease brose" will never forget the deliciousness that the true yellow split pea soup can give. There are also dishes possible from split peas and lentils which can be much more casily made with the prepared flours I Hogs-Receipts, 4,124; all grades, am discussing. I was interested to learn only the other day from a wellknown doctor also that there is now a prepared flour of the Chinese soy tive made into muffins and small

> Then there is also the banana flour, far too little known, which has a most delicious flavor, and which, combined with wheat flour, can be made into most attractive small cakes, muffins, biscuits, etc.

Familiar are many of the Scotch dishes, chief of which are those using yellow peas in some form. These yellow peas are known here in America, and cost about eight cents a pound. They have a large meaty value, or 'protein." They can be made into a delicious soup by soaking them over night, boiling until tender, straining through a fine sieve and thickening and flavoring as desired. Or they may pulp until very thick, pressing it through a sieve and combining it with bread crumbs sufficient to hold it together. Onions, tomatoes, ham or other tasty meat can be added to the peas while boiling. The crumbs and pea soup should be well mixed, molded into a roll and laid on a buttered pan minutes, basting with butter. If desired, a tomato sauce can be poured over it just before serving. Any remnants of the loaf can be shaped into cakes and fried, like potato cakes, for the following lunch: Four cupfuls of peas or one pound, costing eight cents, will make an ample dish for a family of six. These peas also come in the form of a meal or fine powder resembling cornstarch, made by the Scotch into a peas pudding, or what we might call here a hot breakfast cereal. This meal can be bought at the best groceries and will form an attractive

This bulletin gives a discussion of the weed problem on the farm, dealing with prevention and eradica-It is possible for a farmer, espe-

These three principles are of far greater importance than the particular methods used to carry them out. order to prevent weeds from going to seed as well as to secure a better quality of hay. After a grain crop is removed, a crop of weeds, such as ragweed or foxtail, usually follows, which, if not disturbed, not only reseeds the land for further crops of weeds, but may do much damage to a young seeding of clover or grass. Mowing these weeds will prevent most of them from going to seed, and, further, the clippings will be of value as a mulch for the young grass.

King said the spirit which animated the Egyptians in their varied and changing practices toward the dead was based on affection and reverence, but the Babylonian, in the main, was prompted by fear. The Babylonians were probably more spook-ridden than any other nation of antiquity, and their magical texts made it clear that the most terrible class of spirits were the ghosts of the dead who for some reason had been unable to enter the underworld. Driven to hunger and thirst, such a ghost might roam about and fasten on anyone with whom it had relations in this life, and it would plague him until he performed the rites that could give peace. It was mainly to lay the ghost and prevent it from "haunting" that the Babylonians were scrupulous in performing the due burial

How They Did Bite. We have some respect for the smooth young man, who, finding himself without funds and stranded in a South Dakota town, did not wire home for money, but, on a capital of a dollar, went into business for himself. He brought absolutely nothing into the town but the dollar. He left with quite a bit of money. It is a pretty little study in economics. "He was almost broke" A hotel bill stared him in the face. He was too proud to wire home for cash. So he determined to earn some. He went to a printer and had him make him a lot of labels for a wonderful "furniture polish." He stood off the printer and with his dollar purchased a gallon of machine oil and some pint bottles. He bottled the oil, pasted the labels and started out. He was well dressed and a good talker. He offered to polish any article of furniture free for any lady upon whom he called. He did a good job in each case and was entertaining. The price of the wonderful polish was 50c a bottle. He sold his first gallon of oil for $4.00, With the money he paid the printer, bought more oil and bottles and kept on until he had worked the town. Then he left, paying for everything. After he had gone a druggist and a hardware dealer were among those discovered that their wives had bought "furniture polish" from the young man, although each of them sold various kinds of polishes in their stores. They had

Only a Blindfolded man would buy an automobile today without looking the Maxwell over

There's no excuse today for any man who is "jollied" into buying a car before he looks over the 1915 Maxwell.

We give you the two vital things in this Maxwell Car and then the 17 new features that have made the 1915 Maxwell the most talked-about car ever produced.

Here are the two vital things that any same man wants when he buys an automobile

In the first place

-a handsome, real automobile that he can be proud to ride in.

In the second place

-a powerful, fast, economical automobile that will take him anywhere and bring him back.

We give you these two vital things, and then just about every other detail of refinement, comfort and endurance that you can think of.

Take power and hill climbing ability, for example—when you buy a 1915 Maxwell you buy an exact duplicate of the stock Maxwell cars in which "Wild Bill" Turner and "Billy" Carlson broke two World's Records in two of the toughest, roughest mountain hill-climbs ever made-Mt. Hamilton and Mt. Wilson.

Take speed and endurance, for example when you buy a Maxwell you buy a car made by the same designers—the same chief engineer-from the same Maxwell Laboratory. heat-treated, tested steel, that was used in the Maxwell Racers in which Barney Oldfield and "Billy" Carlson both broke the 300mile non-stop race records in Corona and

Read This List of Expensive Features. The 1915 Maxwell Has These Features And Many Others.

Attractive Streamline Body Pure streamline body; graceful crown fenders, With all rivets concealed. All the grace, stylo and "snap" that you will find in any of the highest priced care.

A High-Tension Magneto Nearly all the high priced cars have high tension nagnetos. A high tension magneto gives positive procedurity curved, and it is built to be trouble proof. It is the expensive double shell type and magnetos. A high tension magneto gives positive ignition. The Simms magneto, with which the Maxwell is equipped, is recognized as one of the best pall the car out of any mud or eard. The Maxwell has a three-speed selective sliding year transmission because Maxwell engineers do not consider any other type to be worthy of the Maxwell car. Double-Shell Radiator with Shock Absorbing Device has raple cooling capacity. The radiator is mounted to the frame by means of a shock absorbing device on each side, which relieves the radiator of all twists and distortions of the frame, caused by toughtees of the road. The shock absorbing device also minimizes the possibility of radiator backs.

Low "Up-keep" Carburetor The earbureter used on the Maxwell was especlally designed for it after long and severe tests under every concelvable condition. Economy tours tonducted by hundreds of dealers and owners in different sections of the country have proved its efficiency, its quick response to throttle and its extremely low consumption of gasoline. It has been termed the "low up-keep" carburetor.

Irreversible Steering Gear The greatest margin of safety has been pro-ided in the steering year of the 1915 Maxwell. he Maxwell irreversible steering mechanism is of the expensive worm-and-goar type and its su-perfority over every other type lies in its many adjustments. At no time is more than a fourth of

Three-Speed Sliding Gear Transmission

All high priced care have a cliding gear transmission. It is costly to make, but it is the best. If the motor has the power, cliding gears will be motor has the power, cliding gears will be made to it anyone—so lit no one.

Adjustable Front Seat

The 1915 Maxwell has a full grown 5-passenger body. The front seat is adjustable, you can move the worm in use. When needed, a new bearing surface of the gear which operates the worm in use. When needed, a new bearing surface may be had by adjusting the gear a quarter of a turn. In short, the Maxwell steering gear has four times the adjustment of any other kind.

Heavy Car Comfort

What surprises most people is in its many adjustments. At no time is more than a fourth of the worm in use. When needed, a new bearing surface of the gear which operates the three inches forward or backward. This makes the car really comfortable for the driver. ant riding qualities of the Maxwell. The spring suspension of the 1915 Maxwell is the same costly combination of long semi-elliptical front springs and the three-quarter elliptic rear springs that is used on most heavy weight, high priced cars. The Maxwell offers you every essential of the highest priced machines at a fifth of their cost.

One Size of Tire-Anti-Skids on Rear The Maxwell car is one of the easiest cars in the world on tires. Maxwell owners carry but one spare tire and but one size of spare tubes. Economical 30 inch x 3½ inch tires are used all around. A famous make of anti-skid tires are supplied on rear wheels.

A Dependable Electric Starter For $55 extra, you can have your Maxwell &c-livered equipped with the famous Simms-Huff elec-tric starter. This starter is efficient, trouble proof and easily operated.

And the Maxwell is completely equipped from the clear vision, ventilating windshield at the front to the spare tire carrier at the rear.

The Maxwell Company's Guarantee of Service to Maxwell Owners

No other automobile is backed by a more reliable service than that guaranteed every Maxwell owner. More than 2,000 Maxwell dealers -in every part of this country-are always ready to give expert advice, to make adjustments, and to supply new parts at reasonable prices. This splendid Maxwell dealer service organization is perfected and completed by the chain of Maxwell owned and Maxwell operated Service Branches. Sixteen great Maxwell Service Stations are so located throughout the country that a Maxwell dealer can supply any part for an owner within a few hours if not in his stock. Maxwell Service is one of the great advantages enjoyed by Maxwell owners.

The First Principle of Good Health

One great medical authority declares that sluggish bowels are the cause of more than half the ills that afflict mankind. A constipated condition quickly affects the liver and other organs, so that indigestion and constipation are soon followed by biliousness, headaches, chronic bad breath and a generally disarranged condition of the system.

Folsy Cathartic Tablets are an ideal physic, for their action is wholesome and thoroughly cleansing, without griping, nauses or inconvenience. They invigorate and strengthen the bowel action and have a good effect on the stomach and liver.

L. L. Levey, Green Bay, Wis., writes: "For a long time I suffered from constipation and liver trouble. Nothing seemed to help me. I finally secured Folsy Cathartic Tablets and am pleased to state they have cured me. They are the finest cathartic to take I have ever used and their effect.

A Mother Intervenes. Long past midnight the telephone the Desmond apartment rang sharpy, insistently. Lydia, who had just tallen asleep, awoke with a start and sat bolt upright in her bed. A clammy perspiration broke out all over her body. She knew there had been a catastrophe.

She sat there chattering until she heard her mother's door open and then the click of the receiver as it was lifted from the hook. Then she put her fingers to her ears and closed her eyes. The very worst had happened, she was sure of it. The blow had fallen. The only thought that seared her brain was that she had failed him, hailed him miserably in the crisis. Oh, if she could only reclaim that lost hour of indecision and cowardice!

The light in the hallway suddenly smote her in the face and she realized for the first time that her eyes were tightly closed as if to shut out some abhorrent sight.

I have no apology to make | waistcoat pocket-when I took it out for two reasons: first, that an ornate house might easily corrupt, through idolatry, the spirtuality of the Hebrew religion; second, David was a man of war and therefore not qualified for temple building. Though denied, David did not despair, but at once provided that his successor carry out his desire. Again, David's treatment of Mephibosheth, Jonathan's son, in accordance with the covenant made between those two men, is an inspiring episode and one of great spiritual suggestiveness; it has furnished material for countless

II. David's One Great Sin, II Samuel, 11:6. David's victories over his enemies are dismissed in a few verses, yet his sin is set forth in detail-another evidence of the divine origin and inspiration of the Bible. David had followed the example of neighboring kings and taken to himself many wives, evidently regarding his fancy as supreme and himself as above the law. David was "off guard" in the matter of temptation, a dangerous position for all, both soldier and civilian. David had had too long and too great a period of success and prosperity after his long period of privation, and this led to carelessness and pride. David was "off duty," indulging in ease while Joab did his fighting. As a result he became an adulterer and a murderer, and the record in no way seeks to palliate his guilt. From all this the record brings to us many important lessons. Outwardly prosperous and his army successful, David must have felt in his heart the spiritual blight in the words, "but the thing was evil in the eyes of the Lord" (v. 27 R. V.); no psalm writing then. III. Nathan's Parable, II. Samuel, 12:1-7. It is an evidence of God's grace that he sent his servant to rebuke and restore this "man after his own heart." Such is his mercy, for he does not will that any should perish but that all might come to the knowledge of forgiveness (Ezekiel 33.11; Matthew 23:37). No parable the spring. ly than this one. It brought conviction and repentance (v. 13) and led to the writing of the fifty-first psalm. It was a delicate task set before Nathan thus essential nobleness of David in that he did not become angry. MRS. LYON'S ACHES AND PAINS

Have All Gone Since Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Terre Hill, Pa.—"Kindly permit me to give you my testimonial in favor of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. When I first began taking it I was suffering from female troubles for some time and had almost all kinds of aches-pains in lower part of back and in sides, and pressing down pains. I could not sleep and had no appetite. Since I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound the aches and pains are all gone and I feel like a new woman. I cannot praise your medicine too highly."—Mrs. AUGUSTUS LYON, Terre Hill, Pa.

It is true that nature and a woman's work has produced the grandest remedy for woman's ills that the world has ever known. From the roots and herbs of the field, Lydia E. Pinkham, forty years ago, gave to womankind a remedy for their peculiar ills which has proved more efficacious than any other combination of drugs ever compounded, and today Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is recognized from coast to coast as the standard remedy for woman's ills.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., are files containing hundreds of thousands of letters from women seeking health - many of them openly state over their own signatures that they have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; and in some cases that it has saved them from surgical operations.

In the local treatment of woman's ills, such as leucorrhoea and inflammation, hot douches of Paxtine are very efficacious. No woman who has ever used medicated douches will fail to appreciate the clean and healthy condition Paxtine produces and the prompt relief from soreness and discomfort which follows its use. This is because Paxtine possesses superior cleansing, disinfecting and healing properties.

PLANTS FOR SHADY WINDOWS the hooks that hold it—and there you

By EBEN REXFORD.

It often happens that the woman who loves plants has no sunny windows in which to grow them, and, under the impression that they cannot be successfully grown without sunshine, she does not attempt their cultivation, thus depriving herself of a great deal of pleasure, especially in the winter. There is no good reason why the lover of plants should be without their company in the winter, provided, of course, that the temperature of the rooms can be regulated to keep out the frost, and some of the plants that can be grown in the windows that are without sunshine are among our most desirable ones for house culture. First on the list I would place the Boston fern. Nearly everyone is fa-

The Whitman fern is a fitting companion for the Boston fern, of which it is a sport. This variety has much shorter fronds than the Boston fern. They are much wider, however, and their leaflets are subdivided in such a manner that each becomes a miniature frond. The effect is light and feathery and exceedingly graceful. This is a most excellent plant for a place at the sill, while the Boston variety is more effective if given a bracket half way up the window, from which point of vantage its long fronds can droop in such manner as to display their charms most effectually. All plant lovers have a desire to grow some member of the Adiantum branch of the fern family in the living room. Few have succeeded in doing miliar with this plant. It requires only this, however, because of the delicacy of the ordinary varieties. But we have one now that will adapt itself ordinarenough coarse, sharp sand worked ily to the cultivation which prevails in

The work of the commission also proves that chemical accumulations in the air as a result of stagnation bring about a decreased appetite for food, which in turn must have an unfavorable effect on the entire body. The Deaf and Dumb Spy. As the British forces under General Kitchener neared Khartum, a dervish spy was discovered in camp and taken to headquarters for examination. But neither bribes nor threats could elicit one word from the prisoner; he affected to be both deaf and dumb. Scarcely had be been put in a tent under guard, when another spy was led in who proved equally obdurate, so he was put with the first one. Half an hour later, when the camp was settling down to rest, there was a fresh stir and hubbub and a third spy vas brought in, who also would reveal nothing, and was finally placed in the tent with his fellows. Soon the guards outside heard a nurmur of voices from within. The dumb spies had found their tongues, but it was impossible to overhear their talk distinctly or to understand it. An art?" hour or more passed. Then the door of the tent was thrown open, and the third spy appeared and asked to be taken to headquarters. There he threw off his disguise and revealed-General Kitchener! He had discovered all he want-

Madam, Allow Me To Introduce the

New Post Toasties

You may have eaten "corn flakes" but you have never tasted any that equal the New Post Toasties.

These new flakes, madam, are crisp and flakey, and have a substance and toastie flavour, a snap and zest that make them distinctive.

Dainty to be sure in their sweetness, the New Post Toasties have a body and firmness that don't mush down when cream or milk is added; and a true ripe-corn flavour that makes one feel that here, at last, is something really new and good to eat.

New Post Toasties-selected Indian corn, prepared for the table as it was never prepared before.

Your grocer has them now.
