ADA TEACHERS WED

Rowland-Martin Couple will Live in West Virginia.

A pretty June wedding took place Thursday evening, June 17, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Martin of Ada, when their niece, Gladys Harriet Martin, was united in marriage to Leon E. Rowland of Brocton, N. Y.

The ceremony was performed at 7:30 by H. L. Stetson, D. D., president of Kalamazoo college, in the presence of twenty-four immediate relatives and friends.

While Miss Lou Arthur of Grand Rapids played the appropriate strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, the bridal party took their places in an alcove of roses and greenery. The bride was gowned in white embroidered chiffon, and wore a corsage bouquet of cream bride's roses. Miss Ruth A. Martin, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid, wore white embroidered lawn and a corsage bouquet of pink roses. William Bouck, a classmate of the bride and groom in the Kalamazoo college class of 1914, was groomsmen.

At the close of the impressive ring ceremony and during the season of congratulations Miss Arthur played Mendelssohn's wedding march.

The parlors throughout were decorated with a profusion of pink roses and wild flowers, the effect being one great bow of pink and white and green. Decorations in the dining room were of trailing vines and blue flowers.

After congratulations a delicious two-course luncheon was served, and the bridal couple left immediately after for Grand Rapids. They will spend the summer at the home of the groom's parents at Brocton, N. Y., and will make their home next year at Phillipi, West Virginia, where the groom is engaged as instructor.

The guests were Miss Ruth Martin and Wm. Bouck of Kalamazoo, Misses Dorothy and Muriel Martin of Grandville, O., Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Martin and family of Lowell, Ernest Pifer of Chicago, and the following from Grand Rapids: Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Martin and son, and Misses Elsie Martin, Lon and Belle Arthur, Ola Johnson.

Hansen-Washburn

A quiet wedding occurred at the Wallin Congregational church, Grand Rapids, June 12, when Peter G. Hansen of Negaunee and Rose M. Washburn of Ada were united in marriage by Rev. J. T. Husted.

Mrs. Hansen graduated from the Lowell schools in the class of 1905 and has been teaching mathematics in the Sturgis High school for several years.

They will spend the summer in Lapeer and Ann Arbor and will be at home to their friends after September 1 at Negaunee, where Mr. Hansen is at the head of the science department in the High school. Their host of friends offer congratulations.—(Com.)

In the 2:25 pace, Clown, owned by Post, Grand Rapids, won first; Scott Thomas' Belding Bay second and Dr. Draper's Jennie third. Time 1:15.

BURGLARS NABBED

While Dividing Loot from Scott Hardware.

Two burglars giving the names George McDonald and Frank Smith were captured by Deputy Sheriff Hayes Sunday morning at 1:30 at the Pere Marquette depot, where with a third partner they were dividing $80 worth of watches, revolvers, cartridges, etc., taken only fifteen minutes before from the Scott hardware store, which they entered by a rear window.

Hayes got his men to the City hall corner when one drew a revolver, fired twice at Hayes and got away. The officer succeeded in jailing the two and Tuesday took them to Grand Rapids.

At the hearing yesterday it developed that the captives are Ontario reformatory prisoners out on parole from terms of from three to fifteen years.

A tramp has given the officers a clue to the third man and he is expected soon to be in custody. Hayes has been acting as night watch for the past two weeks, saw the two cross the street after the burglary, followed and arrived just in time. As the streets were deserted at that hour, no help was available, and the officer is entitled to much credit for his unaided capture.

CALEDONIA--LOWELL

Two Towns Furnish Couple For Matrimonial Event.

Tuesday, June 22, was the occasion of a very pretty wedding when Ellen M., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Schantz of Caledonia was united in marriage to Sessions Paul Curtiss of Lowell.

The ceremony was performed in the presence of a few of the immediate relatives by Rev. A. W. Hueschen of Caledonia. The bride was tastefully gowned in silk organdie and was accompanied by her sister, Miss Laura Schantz, who wore pale green crepe de chene with black velvet.

The groom was attended by Joe Scott of Alto as best man. The wedding march played by Miss Maud Curtiss from Schumann's Traumeri was rendered at the appointed time. The bridal party stood before a beautiful bank of ferns and roses where the solemn words were spoken that made them man and wife. After congratulations covers were laid for twenty-seven of the relatives where dainty refreshments were served.

Guests from out of town were Chas. Schantz, wife and little daughter and Mrs. M. Peterson of Grand Rapids, Miss Marjorie Warner of Lind, Wash., and Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Yeiter and little daughter of Lowell.

The happy pair went to their cozy home that was ready for them, where they will be at home to their many friends. (Com.)

R. J. FLANAGAN DEAD

Survives Illness of Pneumonia Only Five Days.

Robert J. Flanagan, aged 65 years, for many years associated with the manufacturing interests of Lowell, died at his Grand Rapids home about noon yesterday of pneumonia, after an illness of but five days. Funeral services will be held at the residence Friday at 1 p. m., and the body will be brought to Lowell by automobile for burial at Oakwood.

Mr. Flanagan was born at Wigton, Scotland, Aug. 22, 1850, and came with his parents to Ayr, Canada, in 1856. About 1873 he came to Detroit, returning to Canada afterward he was united in marriage to Hattie Lashy. For four years they lived at Ovid, where Mr. Flanagan was foreman of a factory and where their son Charlie was born. They moved to Lowell in 1882, where Mr. F. was employed by the Lowell Manufacturing Co., the predecessor of the Lowell Cutter company, with which he has since been associated, in recent years as president. He was also one of the organizers of the City State bank and a director of the same till his death. He was in town only last Wednesday and the announcement of his sudden death was a shock to his many friends.

The son died at the age of 11 and Mrs. Flanagan passed away March 13, 1901.

Thirteen years ago this month Mr. Flanagan married Miss Ethel Moore and they soon moved to Grand Rapids, where they have since lived; though Mr. Flanagan continued to attend to his Lowell interests almost as regularly as before. He was a member of Park Congregational church, of York Masonic lodge, of the Molnar Commandery and of Sodalita temple.

He is survived by his wife, daughter Erna and brother, David Flanagan, of Lowell.

Lowell Chautauqua Aug. 31—Sept 4—five big days. 1f.

IONIA'S CHAUTAUQUA

Opens June 27—A Wonderful Array of Talent.

Sunday, June 27, will be the greatest day of the year at Ionia, for it will usher in nine days of the finest Chautauqua entertainment ever gathered together on one program, and will place Ionia in a class by itself for purposeful speakers, delightful music and good clean entertainment. The Ionia Chautauqua has always set a high standard, but this year has gone way beyond any former effort in choosing its speakers, musicians and entertainers, and there isn't a session on the whole nine days program that won't be worth going miles to attend.

The speakers engaged include our own Governor, Woodbridge N. Ferris, Patrick H. Kelley, Michigan's brilliant and popular congressman, Chancellor George W. Bradford, of the great Methodist University of Oklahama, Dr. J. Leonard Levy, pastor of the Pittsburgh Temple Church with an annual salary of $15,000.00, Dr. James S. Montgomery of Washington, D. C., pastor of Memorial M. E. Church, the church attended by Grant, Logan and McKinley; Hon. Homer B. Hulbert, Diplomat and ex-personal advisor to the Emperor of Korea, Congressman Wm. H. Murray of Oklahama, Rev. Fr. Joseph F. Nugent of Des Moines, a powerful man both mentally and physically, and one of the most eloquent and forceful speakers the great West has ever produced. Harold C. Kessinger, the biggest hit of every Chautauqua at which he speaks, and Sam Jordan, the most practical exponent of scientific agriculture using the Lyceum or Chautauqua stage. Every one of them are "top notchers," men who are big successes in their own lives, and who have messages brimming over with good things for their hearers.

The Musical companies engaged include "The Arcadians," composed of six young women of exceptional musical ability, who not only give a splendid vocal program, but also a delightful instrumental one: "The Chicago Festival Quintet," including Elizabeth Baxter whose splendid contralto voice is known from coast to coast, and Herbert Johnson, whose work as pianist and accompanist stands out as one among a thousand. "The Edwin R. Weeks Co.," a whole Chautauqua in themselves, and "The White Hussars," nine young men who give one of the finest musical entertainments ever offered on the Chautauqua stage. Each of these four companies will be at the Chautauqua for two days, each company giving two afternoon and two evening entertainments. In addition to the above mentioned musical companies, the last day will be specially marked by two splendid band concerts and two entertainments by the famous "Comedy Players" of Chicago, an organization of four professional players of the first rank, who give in costume Shakespearean roles, and comedy sketches of a lighter nature.

The gorgeous $1,000 display of Pain's fireworks, the night of July 5th, put on and supervised by a personal representative of the great Pain Fireworks Co. and guaranteed to be the finest exhibit of fireworks ever given in Western Michigan.

From start to finish the Chautauqua will be a continual feast of music, entertainment and oratory, and will set a standard of excellence never before attained by any Chautauqua of twice its size.

Course tickets for the entire nine days are only $2.50. Single admissions are 25c each.

Plan now to attend every session if possible.

Winners in Crescent Slogan Contest to be Announced Next Week

The recent Crescent Flour Slogan contest, which closed June 8th, attracted wide spread interest among the boys and girls of Western Michigan. Thousands of slogans were received, some of them coming from other parts of Michigan and even from outside states. Because of the excellence of many of the slogans, as well as the large number sent in, the task of judging them is proving a difficult one.

The judges expect to be able to publish in next week's paper the twenty-four fortunate prize winners, each of whom will receive immediately afterward a share of the $100.00 prize money. A handsome souvenir gold stick pin will also be mailed to every boy, and a brooch pin to each girl who sent in a slogan coupon properly filled out. These souvenirs are now being made, and will be distributed as soon as received from the manufacturers—probably not later than the first week in July.

Notice.

Parties who are dropping hitching weights from vehicles on paved portion of Main street are warned that this practice must be discontinued or prosecution will follow according to section of village ordinance relative to preservation of public property. By order of Common Council, H. J. Taylor, Clerk.

IN COMMUTING the sentence of Leo M. Frank from death sentence to life imprisonment, Governor Slaton of Georgia has done the only right thing.

THE principle in law which forbids public officials to use their positions to "feather their own nests," is regarded as a fair one by honest men everywhere and the notorious doctrine "Public office is a private snap," has justly become infamous.

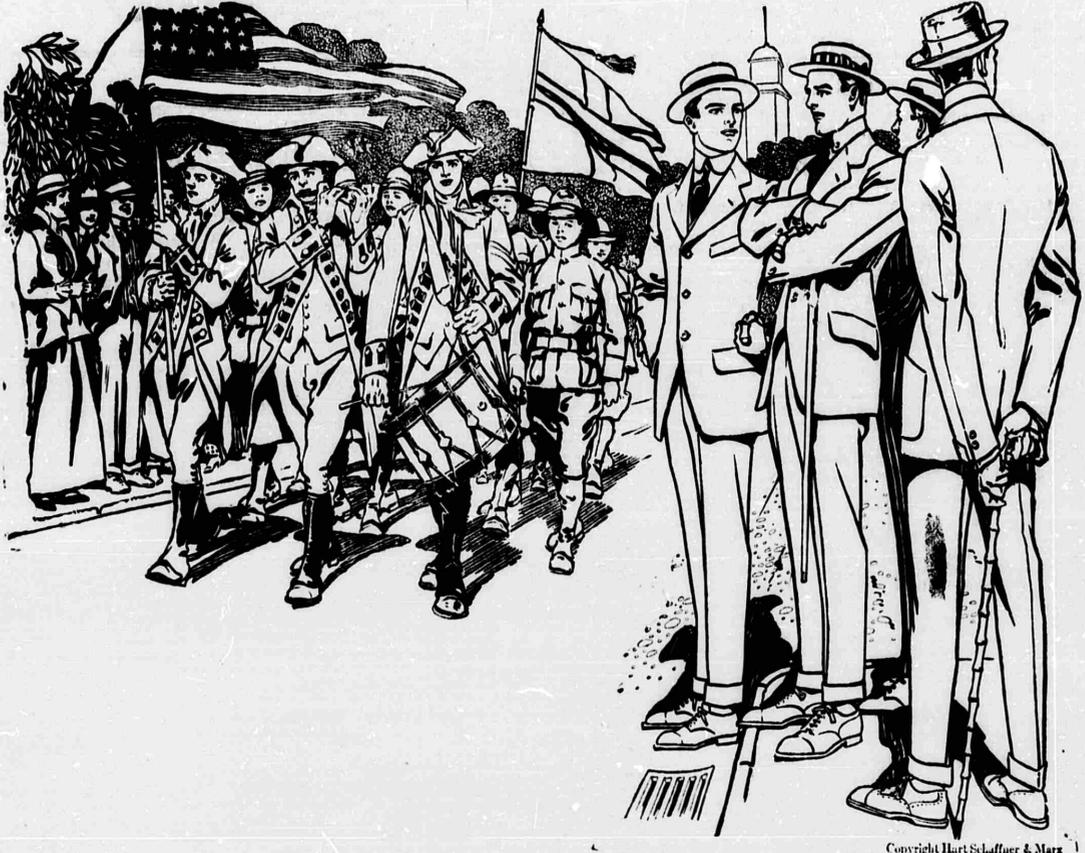

IN ATTEMPTING to explain why, in spite of the Wilson tariff, the Michigan beet sugar industry increased its acreage 150,000 over last year, the Grand Rapids Herald retorts that the acreage was nearly 100,000 greater in 1913 than in 1914, and wants to know why.

Calamity howling, probably there was enough of it done to have killed almost anything; and the Herald knows all about a liberal portion of it.

LANSING NOTES

Members of the Michigan State Bar Association at their annual meeting here expressed the confidence of the lawyers of the state in President Wilson and commended his policy as outlined in the last note to Geizany. Judge Howard West and Judge Rollin H. Person, of Lansing, and John Q. Ross, of Muskegon, drafted the following resolution which was adopted by unanimous vote of the members of the association here today: "The Michigan State Bar Association in annual meeting assembled, Resolves that this nation owes a duty to common humanity; this duty permits neither the nation nor its individual members to sit quiet at this time, but imperatively demands that in his just efforts to maintain the civilization found in the laws of the nations, and the rights of neutrals in time of war, we stand by the president of the United States and go on record to that effect, regardless of political affiliation."

"The president of the United States is eternally right in his stand for the rights of neutrals and the maintenance of the humane laws of the nations. His fight is our fight and deserves our commendation and most active support as patriots. We further resolve to stand shoulder to shoulder with the president of the United States in the effort he is making to keep our civilization up to the American standard of justice." In an address before the lawyers Friday morning Justice Stone of the supreme court advocated uniformity in the marriage and divorce laws of Michigan, and referred to the workmen's compensation act and other recent measures as evidence that Michigan is a progressive state. Judge William L. Carpenter was elected president of the association at the closing meeting this morning. The other officers re-elected were Vice-President Burrill Hamilton, Battle Creek, Secretary Harry A. Silsbee, Lansing, Treasurer William E. Brown, Lapeer.

Attorney General Fellows has filed a bill for accounting in the Ingham circuit court against the United Fuel & Supply company of Detroit, Cadwell Transit company of Detroit, Superior Sand & Gravel company of Detroit and E. Jacques Sons & company, of Detroit. According to the attorney general's department these companies have been using sand suckers in the St. Clair flats and it is the contention of the state that the companies should be made to pay for a certain amount of sand and gravel for which it is claimed the state has not been reimbursed.

Edwin M. Simpson, superintendent of the Detroit district of the Ingham Anti-Saloon league, in an address, proffered that after the election in November, 1916, Michigan would be dry. "There are 44 dry counties in Michigan. Last year the liquor issue was submitted in 15 counties and in 14 of them prohibition was carried. Next year the question will be submitted to the voters on from 16 to 20 counties."

The average condition of wheat in the state is 91 according to the crop report issued by Secretary of State Vaughan. Damage by Hessian fly is estimated at 6 per cent, while two per cent of the wheat crop will be plowed up because it was winter killed. The condition of rye is 91 and oats is 91.

Eighty per cent of the fruit correspondents throughout the state report serious damage to all varieties of fruit by frost during the month of May.

May was a busy month for the state game warden's department according to the monthly report issued by Warden Oates. The report shows 216 complaints, 168 cases started, 157 convictions and three acquittals. The fines and costs collected amount to $2,100.45. There were 151 violations of the fish laws and 17 violations of the game laws. Forty-seven seizures were reported and the proceeds of sales from seizures amount to $41.12.

BECKER LOSES ONCE MORE

Former Police Lieutenant Has Little Chance of Escaping Chair.

Albany, N. Y.—The court of appeals Friday denied the application of counsel for Charles Becker, the former New York police lieutenant, for reargument on his decision affirming the conviction of death.

Becker, convicted of inspiring the murder of Herman Rosenthal, a New York gambler, now is in the Sing Sing death house, sentenced to die in the electric chair during the week beginning July 12.

Unless Governor Whitman pardons him or the United States supreme court interposes, he must die. Little hope is expressed by either Becker or his friends that the federal court will act favorably. Neither do they believe that the governor, who prosecuted the former police, will be inclined to grant him clemency.

NEEDS A LARGER HOSPITAL

On Account of New Law Admitting Children State University Must Have Enlarged Facilities.

Ann Arbor—Because of the new law providing for the admittance of children patients, on order of probate courts of the state, U. of M. officials believe a new hospital will have to be erected as soon as possible in order to relieve the already crowded condition of university hospital.

Medical director Dr. Reuben Peterson estimates the cost to erect a hospital suitable to the needs will reach $500,000.

For years University hospital has been in need of more room and better facilities. There now is hardly time when it is not necessary to place patients in corridors and in other places, where it was never intended that cots for the sick should be placed.

THAW WINS FIGHT FOR TRIAL

Jury Will Pass On Sanity of Slayer of Stanford White.

Albany, N. Y.—The court of appeals Friday upheld the order of Supreme Court Justice Peter A. Hendrick, directing a jury trial to test the sanity of Harry K. Thaw.

The court of appeals was unanimous in its decision, which held that Justice Hendrick did not attempt to evade any responsibility in directing a jury trial, but merely wished to obtain the advice of a jury.

The decision holds that Thaw has no mandatory right to a jury trial, but that it was in the discretion of the trial judge to decide whether such a request should be granted.

EXTENSION PLANS OF M. A. C.

Increased Force and Wider Field of Endeavor Made Possible by Greater Appropriation.

Lansing—Professor R. A. Baldwin, head of the extension department of the Michigan Agricultural college, announced the plan of extension work Saturday which the college will carry out during the coming year among Michigan farmers.

County agent work will be extended to at least 10 additional counties and special attention will be paid to the county work in the upper peninsula. C. A. Ballard, a graduate of the Michigan Agricultural college of the class of 1911, has been appointed county agent in Dickinson county.

Two additional extension workers will be added to the home economic extension service, Miss Anna Cowles, of Lansing, getting one of the positions. A specialist in entomology will be added to the service to help in the control of insects and pests which cause the farmers of the state large losses. Ivan Maystead, who was graduated from the M. A. C. this spring, will take charge of the newly-created farm corps extension department.

Another new position to be added will be a livestock specialist who will cooperate with the United States bureau of animal industry.

As a result of the success of the experiment of keeping a household engineer in the field, O. E. Roby has been engaged to continue the work for another year. This service consists in helping farmers in bettering their water and sewage systems. C. A. Tyler has been reappointed to continue the forestry extension work.

The increase in extension work was made possible by the recently passed Smith-Lever bill which gives the college $28,000, to which the state must add $18,000, making a total of $46,000.

LETTER FROM STATE CAPITOL

SANITATION RULES MADE BY STATE BOARD OF HEALTH FOR SUMMER RESORTS.

GARBAGE MUST BE BURIED

Workers' Compensation Act Has Stood All Legal Tests and Will Continue to Remain in Force for Many Years.

(By Gurd M. Hayes.)

Lansing—In an effort to provide proper sanitation at the various summer resorts in Michigan, the state board of health has issued rules and regulations to be observed by cottagers and other visitors and local boards of health are being ordered to see to it that they are enforced.

"Garbage must not be thrown into the lake, says the state board of health. A garbage can or barrel with a fly proof cover should be used at each cottage. The contents should be removed two or three times a week and buried at least one foot under ground. No pits, into which garbage is being dumped, will be tolerated, unless each quantity of garbage is immediately covered with at least three inches of earth. The burning of garbage in bonfires is so seldom effective that it is not to be tolerated.

Throwing tin cans, bottles, or other rubbish or refuse on the beach or on the grounds is prohibited. A covered barrel or box should be placed at the rear of each cottage for receiving such refuse, which should be removed to some suitable place and buried as often as may be found necessary.

"Cleaning fish upon the beach is strictly prohibited. It should be done back and away from the cottage and the refuse immediately buried. Refuse from lunch counters, lemonade stands, pavilions, and other concessions must be treated as garbage and immediately buried. Throwing refuse of any kind into the lake is strictly forbidden.

"The emptying of drains or sewers from sinks, toilets, closets, etc., into the lake is strictly forbidden.

"The relation which insanitary conditions bear to the breeding of flies should be carefully considered and no material in which flies have an opportunity to breed, should be exposed.

"Violations of these regulations will give rise to the establishment of nuisances which are detrimental to public health, and violators will be subject to the law relating to the maintenance of nuisances."

Although the workmen's compensation law passed at the special session of the legislature in 1912 has been attacked from every conceivable angle, it has stood the test of the courts, and as it is considered highly improbable that it will ever be repealed, this important measure will be a part of the statute law of Michigan for many years to come.

In the decision of the supreme court rendered recently, the section of the statute applying to municipalities is not passed upon. This particular section of the law was not before the court for consideration. The statute was attacked on general grounds of unconstitutionality.

It was alleged by those who were intent upon having the bill declared unconstitutional that it conferred judicial powers upon the industrial accident board, that the title of the bill does not cover the body of the act and that it discriminates against domestic, farm and casual employees and that it is class legislation. It was also claimed that it deprives a parent of right of action for injury to his child and that it deprives an injured employee of the right to be represented by an attorney or agent of his choice in making all attorney fees subject to the regulation of the industrial accident board.

Similar claims have been made by opponents of the measure ever since it was enacted into law at the special session three years ago. At the present time there are 14,000 employees of labor in Michigan operating under the provisions of this law. More than half a million employees are protected under this statute and litigation along the lines of personal injury causes has been materially reduced.

At the last session of the legislature attempts were made to make several amendments to the law which would be improved to a considerable extent, but no changes of any sort were made. The legislature did grant the board the right to appoint two deputy commissioners but all other proposed amendments were killed.

As the result of a new law passed at the last session of the legislature, the chief of each city village and the supervisor of each township in which no fire department exists is required to report each fire to the state fire marshal three days after it occurs.

Under the new law the state will pay twenty-five cents for each report. Since the organization of the state fire marshal's department several years ago these reports have been furnished by the fire chiefs without remuneration. Last year 9,900 fires were reported.

Adjutant General M. J. Phillips of the Michigan National Guard, has Warrants for half the value of 108 cattle, worth $6,900, slaughtered during the month of May for being afflicted with tuberculosis were presented to Governor Ferris Friday morning. This is the largest bunch he has been called to pass upon.

The state pays one-half the appraised value where cattle are considered hopeless and are slaughtered. The largest single warrant was for $1,750 for the destruction of a complete herd of 270 at Grand Junction.

KILLED ON WAY TO BIRTHDAY PARTY

THREE MEMBERS OF STEWART FAMILY MEET DEATH ON R. CROSSING.

MOTHER, SON AND GRANDSON

Sad Tragedy Takes Place of Festival When Carriage Is Struck By Michigan Central Flyer Near Eaton Rapids.

Eaton Rapids—A merry birthday party was transformed into a tragedy at noon Sunday, when three persons, representing three generations of a single family were killed and mangled under the wheels of the Grand Rapids section of the Wolverine Michigan Central flyer, at a crossing near this city.

Mrs. Betsey Stewart, 76 years old; her son, Amos Stewart, 38 years old, and her grandson, Donald Stewart, 12 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Stewart, were the victims.

The little party was riding in the Stewart family carriage to the home of John Stewart, to celebrate his birthday anniversary. When they reached the Michigan Central crossing, two miles from this place, Amos Stewart, who was driving, failed to hear the warning signal of the approaching flyer, and drove his horses to the center of the tracks. An instant later the locomotive struck the carriage and ground it into fragments.

Mrs. Stewart, who was in the rear seat, was hurled more than 300 feet and was instantly killed. Her body was mangled almost beyond recognition. The other two members of the group also met death instantly. One of the horses was killed and the other injured.

Atlantic City—The worst surf disaster in years occurred here Sunday, when seven bathers were drowned and hundreds of others were rescued, in a powerful under-current, sweeping in from a storm center several miles off coast, which carried its victims far beyond the reach of human aid.

Seven of those who lost their lives were well known in Philadelphia. Several of them were prominent in professions and business, and one, a girl student at Beechwood college, Jenkintown, was one of the most popular of the younger set of Philadelphians.

The hospitals, hotels and private homes were filled with scores who were saved, but were exhausted in their battles for life.

No Religion in Korean Schools.

Washington—All religious education will be barred within 10 years from schools in Korea, giving "a general education" by an order promulgated by General Teruchi, Japanese territorial governor of Korea, the text of which was made public here Friday by the Japanese embassy.

The order prohibits the teaching of any religion, no exception being made in favor of Shintoism, the Japanese national religion, but allows a period of 10 years for the schools to conform to the new conditions. It will seriously affect a large number of American and other Christian missionary schools which have been established in Korea.

Warden's Wife is Murdered.

Joliet, Ill.—Mrs. Edmund M. Allen, wife of the warden of the Northern Illinois penitentiary, was found Sunday morning burned to death in her bed, in the warden's family apartments in the penitentiary.

Unusual mystery attaches to the tragedy and it is said formal charges of murder will be placed against one of the convicts at once. It is believed Mrs. Allen was attacked and that wood alcohol was then scattered over the body and the bedding and set on fire.

TELEGRAPHIC FLASHES

Berlin, via London—The federal council has declared void all contracts of sale affecting the 1915 harvest of rye, wheat, split, barley and oats and also crude sugar so far as the contracts call for fulfillment after August 31. The order indicates that these commodities are to remain under the control of the empire until the end of the war.

San Francisco—The jury of awards at the Panama-Pacific exposition announced Friday that it had bestowed the grand prize in art upon Frank Duvenack, an American portrait painter.

Milan—The Little Madonna of the Duomo atop the famous Milan cathedral has changed her golden raiment for a dull drab robe. Military authorities ordered the Madonna painted, fearing her golden robes would invite Austrian aerial attacks upon the cathedral.

Rome—An Austrian submarine has torpedoed the Italian submarine Medusa, the ministry of marine announced Friday afternoon. This is the first time in naval history in which one submarine has attacked another.

Paris—Lieut. Reginald A. J. Warford, the Canadian aviator who attacked and wrecked a Zeppelin over Belgium recently, and Henry Beach Neesham, American war correspondent, were killed in a 500-foot fall when the engine of their aeroplane exploded near Paris.

HOT WEATHER MEALS

COMBINATIONS THAT GO WELL IN THE SUMMER.

Hot Savory and a Cold Salad Are Always to Be Recommended—Some Suggestions That Are Worth Remembering.

A hot savory and a cold salad make a good combination for the summer luncheon, and the savory is a useful dish for the disposition of left-over scraps of meat, fish, etc.

The foundation of a savory is usually a triangle on a finger of buttered brown bread toast, or fried bread, pastry or biscuit. The filling may be varied indefinitely, and its arrangement depends upon available materials.

Here are a few suggestions for the use of materials common to all households:

Tomato Toast—Half an ounce of butter, two ounces of grated cheese, one tablespoonful of tomato; paprika. Melt the butter and add the tomato (either canned or fresh stewed), then the grated cheese; sprinkle with paprika and heat on the stove. Cut bread into rounds or small squares, fry and pour over each slice the hot tomato mixture.

Ham Toast—Mince a little left-over boiled ham very finely. Warm it in a pan with a piece of butter. Add a little pepper and paprika. When very hot pile on hot buttered toast. Any left-over scraps of fish or meat may be used up in a similar way, and make an excellent savory to serve with a green salad.

Sardine Savories—Sardines, one hard-boiled egg, brown bread, parsley. Cut the brown bread into strips and butter them. Remove the skin and the bones from the sardines and lay one fish on each finger of the bread. Chop the white of the egg into fine pieces and rub the yolk through a strainer. Chop the parsley very fine and decorate each sardine with layers of the white, the yolk and the chopped parsley. Season with pepper and salt.

Oyster Savories—These make a more substantial dish, and are delicious when served with a celery salad: Six oysters, six slices of bacon, fried bread, seasoning. Cut very thin strips of bacon; the bacon that can be purchased already shaved is best for the purpose. Season the oysters with pepper and salt, and wrap each in a slice of the bacon, pinning it together with a wooden splint (a toothpick).

Place each oyster on a round of toast or of fried bread, and cook in the oven for about five minutes. Serve very hot, and sprinkle with pepper.

Cheese Savories—Butter slices of bread and sprinkle over them a mixture of grated cheese and paprika. Set them in a pan and place the pan in the oven, leaving it there until the bread is colored and the cheese set. Serve very hot.

Uses of Pineapple Juice. The juice left from canned pineapple is fine for use during the canning season to impart flavor to tasteless fruits, as the pear. A pint of juice added to the water in which pears are cooking gives it an excellent flavor. For canning the pineapple is often put up in grated form, or after being run through a chopper. Although it may be served in various forms, the fruit is so excellent that the simplest form is as good as any. Sprinkle a little sugar over the slices about an hour before wanted and set in the refrigerator. If the fruit is quite ripe when served very little extra sugar is needed, but, like all other tropical fruits when sent North, it has to be gathered in a green state and is seldom found quite ripened from the field.

No fruit lends itself with greater readiness than the pineapple to coating art of the canneries and the preserving factories.

Banana Cake.

Make any one-egg cake, or better still make a sponge cake and bake in round tins, two layers; slice banana on cake and cover with whipped cream; simply lay another layer of cake on first and cover again with bananas and cream.

Whipped Cream—Take one cupful sweet cream, add the white of an egg to give it body, small pinch of salt and whip all together until thick; sweeten to taste and flavor with vanilla.—Boston Globe.

Pineapple Cake.

Mix one egg, half a cupful of butter, three-quarters of a cupful of sugar, three-quarters of a cupful of milk, one and a half teaspoonfuls baking powder and two and a half cupfuls of flour. Bake in two layers and when ready to serve put grated pineapple on each layer of cake. Whip half a pint of cream, sweeten to taste and put over pineapples.

Dumplings That Never Fail.

Two cupfuls of flour, two heaping teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one-half teaspoonful of salt and one cupful of sweet milk. Stir and drop in small spoonfuls into plenty of water, in which meat is boiling. Boil with cover off for fifteen minutes, then put cover on and boil ten minutes longer. These are very fine with either beef or chicken.

Rhubarb Custard.

Stew about one and a half pounds rhubarb and one cupful sugar. Make a soft custard of one pint milk, two eggs, half cup sugar and one tablespoonful cornstarch in a double boiler. Let both cool, then pour custard over the rhubarb. Rhubarb is much better stewed in double boiler, too, using no water.

Sour Cream Dressing.

One-half pint sour cream, two tablespoonfuls lemon juice, one tablespoonful sugar, one teaspoonful salt, one-quarter teaspoonful pepper, one teaspoonful mustard. Beat the cream until it is light and thick; add the other ingredients. Sweet cream may be substituted if desired.

Egg Patties.

Beat eggs lightly and add crushed cracker crumbs till it forms a thick paste, then thin with a little milk. Season with finely cut onion, pepper and salt. Fry in butter, like pancakes. Very good and something different.

When Dinner is Late.

If you want the contents of a saucepan to cook quickly, never leave a spoon in it. The spoon carries off great deal of the heat and delays the boiling.

Flowers and Shrubs— Their Care and Cultivation.

New Ophelia Rose.

GROWING PERENNIALS

By BESSIE L. PUTNAM.

For those who have not much time to devote to the garden, there is no class of flowering plants more desirable than the hardy perennials and herbaceous plants like the peony. These plants require but little attention.

One does not have to acquire a liberal horticultural education in order to know how to take care of them. Most of us will do well to consider the merits of this class of plants, leaving the annuals to those who are here this season and somewhere else next year.

Not that we would advise neglecting annuals wholly, however, I do not want to be understood as meaning that, but simply that a collection of hardy plants will be found so much more satisfactory, all things considered, under the conditions of which I have spoken, that their cultivation is to be urged in preference to that of the other class mentioned, which is not satisfactory unless a good deal of time and labor is expended on it. The impression seems to prevail that annuals require next to no care, and are therefore particularly adapted to the use of the woman who has but little time to devote to gardening.

The fact is, that to grow annuals well you must give them a good deal of attention, especially during the early part of the season, several times the amount of attention, indeed, that will be required by a good-sized collection of hardy plants.

Another argument in favor of this class is that, once established, your plants are good for an indefinite period. Your garden does not have to be made every season.

In spring the plants will need to be worked about, and freed from the grass which will encroach upon their territory, if allowed to do so; the soil will require fertilizing, and once in three or four years the old plants will be bettered by a division of their roots.

This is about all this class of plants will ask of you. A great many can be attended to in a day, you will find. And the work is much easier than that of making beds and pulling weeds.

One of the best perennials—perhaps it would be justified in saying the best—is the Hollyhock. This plant comes in a wide range of colors—white, rose, crimson, maroon, and yellow. It is a profuse bloomer, and it does well in almost any soil.

To secure the strongest effects from it, it should be planted in groups of from six to a dozen plants. If contrasting harmonious colors are planted together like white and pink, pink and yellow, maroon and yellow or white, the effect will be very fine. But don't expect harmony if you put the pink varieties alongside of the crimson or maroon sorts.

We have mostly double Hollyhocks nowadays, but the single kinds are well worth cultivation, especially where a very strong and stately effect is desired.

If the old flower stalks are cut off as soon as the buds on them have developed quite frequently, new stalks will be sent up late in the season.

In this way one may have flowers from the Hollyhock until the coming of cold weather.

A package of seed sown in May, June or July, will give one dozen of plants from which flowers can be expected the next season.

Delphinium, or Larkspur, is an excellent plant when used in clumps. We have no other flower of the same rich dark shade of blue. I have seen charming effects result from planting pale-yellow Hollyhocks close by it—this color and the intense blue of the other producing a most striking combination.

Where an exceedingly rich show of color is desired, nothing equals the Rudbeckia, or "golden glow." Great clumps of it will be a solid mass of the richest golden yellow for weeks. For cutting, we have few better flowers.

This plant is so aggressive in character that it should have a place in the background where it can be allowed to spread itself.

Dianthus is a most lovely flower, and has the special merit of being an early bloomer. The foliage of this plant is almost as fine as its flowers, and the two combined make it one of the most desirable plants.

I often wonder why the herbaceous Spiraea is not more extensively grown. Certainly it is difficult to find a more exquisitely lovely flower than Spiraea with its great plumelike panicles and airy pink bloom.

The Peony need not be given special commendation here, because I only want to say that a garden without this flower is not "living up to its privileges."

If the Iris can be given a somewhat moist location, it should find a place in the amateur gardener's collection always. The German and Japanese varieties are simply magnificent in coloring and remarkably stately in general effect when grown in large groups.

Every collection ought to include at least a dozen of the most distinct varieties of perennial phlox. This plant is to the outdoor garden what the geranium is to the window garden. Anyone can grow it. It is a profuse bloomer. It comes in a wide range of colors. Group it in order to secure best results, but keep the lilac and magenta varieties away from the pink and scarlet sorts unless you want a color discord of the most aggressive sort.

Then there are hardy pinks, the perennial Pea, Coropsis Lancelotti, Pyrethrum, Dairy, Achillea, all good, easily grown and readily obtainable. If immediate effect is desired, it will be necessary to purchase plants, but nearly all the kinds I have mentioned will bloom the second season from seedling plants.

Ornamental trees and shrubs may be pruned any time during the winter if they need it. Bear in mind that pruning should not destroy the characteristics of growth peculiar to tree or shrub. Cut back the top prominent branches, remove those that grow too closely together.

If blooming shrubs are continually cut at the ends of the branches they will, in time, cease to produce flowers.

SOW LANTANA SEEDS

Sow lantana seeds on the north side of a picket fence and moisten the soil well; cover with newspaper to retard evaporation. The soil must not be allowed to dry out. The seeds germinate slowly, sometimes lying dormant for several weeks.

GET OUT YOUR NOTEBOOK

Plan now for next summer's work. Go into the garden, notebook in hand, and decide just what assortment of flowers you wish in each bed and border, then order accordingly.

Edison Batteries for Submarines. The disabling of the submarine E-4 in Honolulu harbor, the cause of which at present writing has not been ascertained, has led to the surmise that some trouble might have been experienced with the batteries. Should sea water have come into contact with the sulphuric acid of the batteries, chlorine gas would have been generated. Of course sulphuric acid is not the only electrolyte that need be used in storage batteries. The Edison battery, for instance, uses a potash solution which gives off no poisonous gases when coming into contact with sea water. Public interest in the Edison cell has been aroused particularly by the fact that the new submarine L-5, which was recently launched, is equipped with this type of battery.—Scientific American.

Fighting Used to Gain Recruits. At a recent recruiting rally in London one girl announced she had sent five young men to the front and that the sixth was ready to go. The recruiting officer declared that fighting of that kind is the right sort of patriotism, and urged all girls to use their wiles in behalf of king and country.

Baseball Helps Farmers. Farmers ought to think well of baseball. They are blessed with many spring rains that they might not get but for the national game.—Toledo Blade.

A Backslider. "I don't believe you ever did anything in your life that was worth while," said the hard-featured woman.

"Yes, mum, I did—once," answered the tramp who smelled strongly of liquor.

"What was it, I'd like to know?"

"Twenty years ago, mum, I signed the pledges."

LACING AS TRIMMING

RATHER OLD FASHION THAT IS ONCE MORE IN VOGUE.

Illustration Shows How Effective It May Be Made—White Satiste the Best Material for the Collar and Vest.

Lacing as a trimming is revived in the way of novelty every once in a while, and, judging from its present vogue, this is one time. There is something quaintly attractive about the fact, but in many cases it is overdone. Just a touch is all that is needed, and it usually occurs at the neck and sleeve ends of a blouse, and, probably, the girdle.

Here in the model sketched we find the sleeve ends laced and the back of the bodice. That has sounds inconvenient, doesn't it? But the effect is really too pretty to forego, and, besides, the world is full of kindly disposed souls, who can on most occasions be induced to help one in and out of difficult things and thus save us contortions.

In general-ornal falls or any of the lovely rose tones this chic little frock will commend itself to those of you who love pretty clothes. The lacing is merely narrow bias folds of the silk knotted at the ends and run through strongly buttonholed eyelets.

As the long sleeves are not set into the armholes of the bodice, it will be necessary to use white china silk or something equally thin for a foundation blouse into the armholes of which the sleeves may be sewed. White batiste is used for the collar and the vest, and by supplying snappers around its inside edge it can be fastened to the foundation blouse and be removed for laundering.

The bodice shows a rather deep V in front, but in back is rounded in a shallow curve about the neck. The length is extended a bit below the waist line and in front cut to give the effect of little vest corners, then draped up in place by means of a vertical line of shirring through the center. The wide armholes are bordered with a set-on braid of fine tucks. As the lacing down the back of the waist is not drawn tightly together, ample here the bodice of plain black silk is straight and severe with prim little turn-over collar and cuffs of white, lace-edged. Wide bretelles of "he stripes are gathered into black-and-white-striped silk covered buckles on the shoulders. The skirt of the stripe is cut bias and opens over a "V" shaped piece of plain black silk which, like the blouse, fastens with black silk covered buttons in buttonholes done in white. The belt and buckle are of plain black silk and a band of the same finishes the bodice.

Rainy Day Hospital. When the children break a doll or toy we tie it up and put it in a box which is used for broken toys. On a rainy day we open a carpenter's shop and a hospital. The furniture is put on the table, where nails, hammer, glue and so forth are found. The dolls are put to bed, each with a ticket pinned on with its number. As each number is called the patient is operated on with needle or glue as needed. Later we play carpenter's shop and mend the furniture.

To Season Utensils. New agate and tin cooking utensils require seasoning before they are used. To do this, simply let them stand on the back of the range for two hours, filled with scalding water and bicarbonate of soda, one teaspoonful to a quart of water, then wash and dry in the regular manner.

Serge in Many Forms. There are many forms of the silk serge, ranging from a twill almost invisible to a heavy diagonal; but the serge weave is a medium twill and is extremely good looking, either in plain one-tone colorings or in black or color with hair line stripes of white.

CARE OF FACE IN SUMMER

Hot Weather Particularly the Time When Complexion Must Be Made a Matter of Moment.

Summer is not a season of pure delight to the woman who values a good complexion. During the warm months extra precautions are necessary in order to preserve the texture and beauty of the skin, for hot winds, hot sunshine and salt water all play havoc with the complexion.

It is hardly possible to go about with a protection in the form of a veil wrapped about one's face, for this is too warm for comfort, and disagreeable and dangerous to the eyes, besides. But there are certain precautions which can be taken to relieve the burning sensation which comes from exposure to the sun. When you have been out in the hot summer air and allowed the sun's rays to kiss your cheeks you will find, of course, that your skin will become red and dry from this reckless exposure. Don't come in from out of doors, where you have been enjoying a motor trip or a game of tennis and wash the dust and dirt from your skin with soap and water. This only increases the burning sensation and the dryness of the skin.

First rub on a quantity of cold cream and rub thoroughly with a soft cloth. After the irritation has been somewhat lessened, the face should be thoroughly washed and cleansed. Fill a basin with water full of fresh soft water. Should the water which flows from the faucet be hard, then soften it with a teaspoonful of borax to every basin. Dip the face

Harlequin Designs Popular. The profusion of black and white worn this season lends itself nicely to the new popular harlequin designs in squares and diamond shapes. They are almost too striking for people to want them for whole dresses, but they are charming in combination with plain black. The slender woman can wear them well.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LESSON FOR JUNE 27

REVIEW, SECOND QUARTER.

READING LESSON—Psalm 118:72. GOLDEN TEXT—I myself will be the shepherd of my sheep.—Ezekiel 34:12.

The approximate time covered by these lessons is from 1091 or 1078 B. C. to 1035 or 1033 B. C., somewhere between 60 and 60 years. The most prominent character is David. He is related to every lesson, except the first, either as an actor or an author. This fact gives us a center about which to revolve our review. By making assignments a week in advance a chapter summary of David's life can be presented as follows: Chapter I, Saul's disobedience, and its relation to David. II, The secluded shepherd boy and Samuel. III, The boy and the giant. IV, The musician and the king. V, The boy and his friend. VI, The young man in exile. VII, The young man as king. VIII, The king and the ark. IX, The king's great sin. The remaining lessons will make excellent reading matter to be interspersed with the presentation of the various chapters and we may call the whole program "From Obscurity to Power."

An excellent suggestion is made in "Peloubet's Selected Notes," of making a large chart ruled vertically into five columns and horizontally into twelve spaces, one for each lesson. Label the vertical columns respectively, place, characters, intervening events, key verse, and principal teaching. Then have each of the sixty different spaces assigned to classes or to individuals who will each in turn, beginning at the upper left hand corner with lesson one, fill in the different spaces in order until the whole chart is covered. If a blackboard is used these facts can be written within the different squares, otherwise cards must be taken to have the facts written up on previously prepared pieces of cardboard, or paper, each to correspond to the dimensions of the various squares on the large chart. As in the case of the "chapter review," previous suggested, Lessons III, XI and XII, being from the Psalms, may be read and no further attention be given to them, as far as the chart is concerned. For the younger classes a good story teller can give a running story of the lessons which will prove highly interesting. To drill the school or the separate classes on some of the outstanding facts of the books of First and Second Samuel and the Psalms will prove a profitable expenditure of time. For illustration: Who are the heroes of First Samuel? Of Second Samuel? What chief events in the life of David are recorded in First Samuel? In Second Samuel? Where is the record of David and Goliath? Of David and Jonathan? How many psalms are recorded in the book of that name? Which are the most famous psalms? Which one was sung by the Levites when the ark was brought to Jerusalem (105:1-15)? Where is the record of Nathan's parable?

If a running commentary is desired the following suggestions may help: Lesson I. Saul is set aside, hence the need of David, "a man after God's own heart." Lesson II. Samuel's choice set aside and David the youngest son is selected to be king. Lesson III. The wonderful shepherd psalm which is a "testimony" of David the shepherd king. (Have the school recite it in concert.) Lesson IV. A venture of faith, Jehovah's watchful care over David, and the downfall of a mighty foe. Lesson V. Saul's vain attempt to slay David. The development of hatred, the protecting care over those who "put their trust in Jehovah." Lesson VI. The love of David and Jonathan, an illustration of the love for one who has said, "Henceforth I call you not servants but friends." Lesson VII. David's generosity to his persistent persecutor. David did not do to Saul what Saul tried to do to David. Though selected to become the king, David recognized in Saul one of God's chosen men and patiently bided his time till God should remove this recreant, disobedient servant and place him in the position of power. Lesson VIII. David exalted to be king, first over Judah and later over the entire nation. Also the record of his shrewd manner of making friends with all of the tribes of Israel. Lesson IX. David established Jerusalem to be both the civic and religious center of the nation. His joy in worship and in God's service points forward to our "chief shepherd." Lesson X. David was after all only human. In the midst of his life luxury he remembered the allotment of temptation and committed a awful sin, an act that involved many others and made the sum total one fearful to behold. How are the mighty fallen! The higher they are the harder the fall. God dealt sternly but lovingly with his repentant servant in vital contrast with his dealings with unrepentant Saul. Lessons XI and XII. David is forgiven, cleansed, restored, and given the assurance, "I will guide thee with mine eye."

Let this part of the review consist of reading the psalms with but little, preferably no, comment.

If it has gone before has been prayerfully and vividly presented, comment on these two lessons is needless.

They so clearly and cogently connect themselves with David's life as to leave little more to be said, and the review will end with the psalmist's note of gratefulness and his trust in Jehovah, the testimony of his personal knowledge and experience.

Most Curious Plant. A very curious plant, which has been famous since ancient times, is the Scythian lamb—otherwise known as the golden-haired dog. It looks remarkably like an animal, and in early days was popularly supposed to combine in some mysterious way the attributes of an animal and a plant. The belief was that it sprang from a seed and turned on its root until it devoured all green foods within reach, whereupon it perished of starvation.

HARVESTING AND PACKING STRAWBERRIES

The stage of maturity at which strawberries should be picked depends upon the distance they are to be shipped. When grown for the local market they should be picked when thoroughly ripe but not soft, says a new farmers' bulletin, No. 664, of the United States department of agriculture. If grown for a distant market the berries must be picked before they are thoroughly ripe, and about three-fourths ripe. If picked before they are colored the berries will shrink and wither, making them unfit for sale. Strawberries should be picked with a short piece of stem attached (about one-fourth to one-half inch). They should never be slipped from the stem, as that spoils appearance and injures their shipping and keeping qualities.

Grading and Packing. Uniformity in the pack is essential in order to obtain high prices for strawberries, and this can be secured only when the berries have been carefully graded and sorted. Some growers have the berries graded in the field.

A common practice in some sections is to pick the ripe berries of all grades into the same box and when the tray is full to take it to the packing shed, where the berries are sorted and packed. The graders dump the berries on a table and pick out all green, overripe or small berries. The others are placed in the boxes, one of the graders arranging the top layers in such a way that the berries show to best advantage. When berries are packed in this manner, care should be taken not to put the small, inferior berries in the center of the box and the large, fine berries on top. The fruit should be uniform throughout the box, with the top layer merely placed to add to the attractiveness of the pack and to hold the fruit in place. Where the fancy pack is put up, the berries should be divided into two grades.

After the berries are picked they should be placed in the shade as soon as possible, for heat injures the fruit in a short time. The pickers should not be allowed to leave the field

BUY THE BEST BINDER TWINE

Always Best to Purchase Standard Quality—Loss From Breakage Ought to Be Avoided.

Buy what binder twine will be needed for the wheat crop early, so as to get a good article. It is always best to buy of standard quality—that will not kink and knot up. A poor quality of twine will give no end of trouble in harvesting heavy grain. The loss of time caused by breakage during harvest will more than pay for all the best twine needed in harvesting the crop.

Ropes for the hay fork and for hauling the hay cocks to barn or rick, should be of the best quality and the full length. A new rope, particularly if it is sisal, often causes trouble because of its stiffness. If used as a hay fork rope or to place where it runs through a set of pulleys, it is apt to tangle up until it has been used for some time.

This trouble may be avoided by boiling the rope in water. Coil the rope in a large soap boiler and cover with water and bring it to a boil. The rope is then to be taken out and stretched out and allowed to dry, when it will be found to be soft and pliable.

Pigs Attacked by Thumps. Young pigs that are overfed and under exercised are often attacked by thumps. They may live for months and then recover or die after being affected a few weeks. A good treatment for the disease is to feed light, laxative food, without corn, and add an ounce of linseed to each quart of slop. Roots and alfalfa hay make good feed for them. Be sure to give them plenty of exercise each day and allow them free access to slaked lime, wood ashes and wood charcoal.

Rid Barn of Fleas. If troubled with fleas in the barn, clean out all the dirt and rubbish and spray with a standard dip solution. You can also apply a coat of whitewash, to which has been added a teaspoonful of carbolic acid or creolin, for every pint of water used. Sprinkle the floors with lime and in the worst places tobacco dust may be used in addition to the disinfectant.

Have a Potato Sprayer. If you cannot afford to purchase a potato sprayer yourself double up with your neighbor in buying a three or four row sprayer for potatoes and other crops. It will not cost either very much and will do practically as much good as two machines.

Use Modern Machinery. Use the best and most up-to-date machinery possible to obtain. Where large areas are to be cropped the machine requiring the least effort for the most work is desirable.

PLAN TO SPRAY VEGETABLES

Machinery as Necessary for Garden as for Orchard—Liquid Should Be Put on in Fine Mist.

A spraying machine is as necessary for the garden as the orchard. Some folks use a common water sprinkler for applying spraying mixtures; but this does little good, because it is not only a great waste of material, but the plants are not fully covered in this way.

The liquid should be put on in a fine mist, not as a heavy rain. To apply plain green in water various cheap hand sprayers are on the market now. They need not be of copper for this purpose, as plain green will not corrode iron more than does water; but when bordeaux mixture is used as a carrier for the arsenical poison (and we would strongly urge that this be done in every case, as it must be done if we put our potatoes through operations on a safe basis) then the sprayer must be made of copper and brass—iron would be eaten away in a short time.

The modern knapsack sprayer, which possibly is the best implement for spraying smaller patches of potatoes—up to three or four acres—cucumbers or other vines, and for general use as a sprayer machine in the garden and small vineyard, will involve a first expense of from $12 to $15, but it will pay in any large-sized garden.

Cataract Cannot Be Cured. with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Cataract is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Cataract Cure is taken internally, and acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing cataract. Send for testimonials, free. W. J. CHERRY & CO., Props., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, price 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

The First Principle of Good Health One great medical authority declares that sluggish bowels are the cause of more than half the ills that afflict mankind. A constipated condition quickly affects the liver and other organs, so that indigestion and constipation are soon followed by biliousness, headaches, chronic bad breath and a generally disordered condition of the system. Foley's Cathartic Tablets are an ideal physic, for their action is wholesome and thoroughly cleansing, without irritation and liver trouble. They invigorate and strengthen the bowel action and have a good effect upon the stomach and liver. L. L. Levey, Green Bay, Wis., writes: "For a long time I suffered from constipation and liver trouble. Nothing seemed to help me. I finally bought Foley's Cathartic Tablets and am pleased to state they have cured me. They are the finest cathartic I ever used, and their effect is quick and sure."
