take place today at Milford.
Captain McPherson was born in Highland, Oakland Co., Mich., Sept. 10, 1839. He enlisted at Detroit, as a private for three years, June 19, 1861, and went with other recruits for ten days into a camp of instruction at Fort Wayne, and at the formation of his company he was pro-moted to first sergeant. The com-pany, the Blair Guard, afterward Co. F., joined nine other companies, recruited in different parts of the state, at Monroe, Mich., and were organized into the Sev-enth Regt., Mich. Volunteer in-fantry and mustered into the U. S. service, August 22, 1861. They left Monroe Sept. 5, 1861, under command of Col. Ira R. Grosvenor, and joined the army of the Potomac. after reaching the front, they were engaged in the disastrous battle of Ball's Bluff, Oct. 21, '61. Dr. W. B. Huntley has sold his practice to Dr. D. H. Silsby of Rochester, N. Y., and will leave next week for Akron, O., to achieve the second of the history of James McPherson, for he was with his next week for Akron, G., to accept a position as city physician.

Akron is his home town and his mother still lives there.

Dr. Huntley has been in Lowell two years, succeeding Dr. Merrill, on the latter's removal to Dement was with his regiment in every engagement in which it participated, from its organization until the expiration of his term of service, Oct. 5, 1864.

In the spring of 1862 his regiment was assigned to the Third Brigade, Second Division, Second Corps, and was with McClellan in the Peninsular campaign. He fought at Yorktown, April 4 to May 4, 1862, and at West Point, Va., May 7, 1862. Three days after this battle he was promoted ure and wish them success and happiness in their future home and field.

MAKE WORK FOR LAUNDRESS

Tub Petticoats With Colored Ruffles Are to Be the Correct Things for the Summer Garments.

Six yards is the correct width for a summer petticoat this season and one cannot help pitying the poor laundress who has had a long and blessed rest from starching and fluting crisp petticoat frills. Some petticoats to be sure own to but three yards, but these are the most inexpensive and humble models. As the price advances the width advances, and the number of frills also. Four ruffles of embroidery, overlapping from knee to hem, is a pretty trimming; especially when the embroidery is the fine scallop-anddot kind always in good taste. A new petticoat which is already very popular has four ruffles of fine lawn edged with narrow handkerchief hems in some pretty color; and the ruffles are stitched to the petticoat with colored threads to match. WITH the pending hot presidential campaign threatening street corner arguments and honest differences of opinion between neighbors and friends, it is well to recall the lesson taught by a well-known incident. A man arguing vehemently, swung his arms violently, saying, "This is a free country," and hit a bystander on the nose. "It's a free country, all right," said the victim, "but your freedom ends where my nose begins." In the campaign that is about to commence, let us remember this story and there will be less to regret when it is all over.

IT HAS often been claimed that a fortune given to a young person may prove a curse in-stead of a blessing. PPENDED will be found the result of the nation wide presidential straw vote polled by cent; Stone, 9 per cent. the American Press Association which was conducted in this secabout 500 other newspapers took part. | Root, 2 per cent. There was the widest interest in the vote, and the expressions of opinion from all parts of the country are particularly interesting at this time. Not in years has there been such a tremendous amount of speculation in the outcome of the national election.

Comment by the Voters. In the ballots received by the various newspapers are interesting bits of comment by the voter. Referring to Mr. Wilson, one voter says:

"Never swap horses crossing stream."

Another says: "He should be re-elected because h kept off war.'

Still another observes: "One good term deserves another." Following are comments of voters on Mr. Roosevelt:

"The man of the hour." "I like him because of his firm stand on preparedness." "The greatest Roman of them all."

Of Mr. Hughes the following comments were made: "He has a judicial mind."

"He is clean. His judgment is

Beyond the Frontier

¶A tale of early days in the great Middle West when the intrepid explorer La Salle, and his faithful friend, Tonty, were blazing the way for civilization, and the golden lilies of France flew from the few lone blockhouses in the Indian country.

Most of the action of the story takes place on the long trail from old Quebec to Fort St. Louis (Starved Rock), on the Illinois River. Adele la Chesnayne is a wonderful heroine. Bravely she bears the hardships of the wilderness journey, and when the life of her lover is in danger it is her wit and devotion that defeats his enemies and her own.

¶In "Beyond the Frontier" Randall Parrish is at his best, and one episode alone, that of the savage Indian attack on Starved Rock, will be read and reread for its thrilling realism.

The Gift Store

TATHEN you think of gifts for any occasion, you quite naturally think of a jewelry store as the place to get them.

We want you to think of our store.--We want you to come in and give us the opportunity of showing you what a fine line of silverware, cut glass and novelties we carry for gifts.

If you are not in the habit of visiting our store regularly, we are sure you will be very agreeably surprised at the large assortment we carry.

As to price—there is only one price in this store and that is the lowest at which high quality merchandise can be sold and still make a living.

Storm, himself, cooled down by Spike, now tried to make his apologies to Helen.

But it was too late. Helen would not listen to him, and, turning away with her guests, left Storm with nobody to sympathize with him but

Reaching the tennis courts, some of the guests took up the play, while others, looking back toward the scene of excitement, saw Helen coming over with Seagrue and Rhinelander. Reaching the courts, Helen, instead of stopping, passed on with Seagrue. Two men watched them walk away with particular interest. Spike, who seemed deeply concerned with the awkward situation, and George Storm, who now began to feel the full force of Helen's disapprobation. For an hour she moved among her guests, accompanied a good part of the time by Seagrue. To tell the truth, it was not wholly by her own desire. As her indignation cooled she began to consider that her lover had some grounds for his ungovernable outbreak and the exploits in which Seagrue had tigured in the endeavor to do her and her friends all manner of harm recurred to her memory. She did feel, however, that Storm should have made a further effort to tell her, privately, he was sorry for having so rudely broken in on the festivities of the day and since he did not, she was suffi- smoke of the local, now fast approachciently piqued to profess an interest ing. in Seagrue she was far from feeling.

He could not bring himself to speak further about the unfortunate incident and. incensed by his attitude, Helen, when she extended her hand as he said good-by, slipped his ring from her finger and gave it to him in shaking hands.

Flushed with humiliation, he turned away. This was not quite what she had expected: but it was too late now to recall her precipitateness, and, precare a great deal—she started for the Storm, with Spike and the tennis barely cleared the hind end of the local as this followed over the crossing in pursuit of its severed head.

The local engineer, looking back, saw what had happened and applied the air. As he slowed down, the passengers now awoke to what had happened, turned out of the coaches and ran forward. Helen fell fainting from the side ladder; she lay unconscious on the ground as the passengers

New Post Toasties

Here's the why:

The New Toasties have a delicate, true corn flavour-unmatched by any other corn flakes. Trial proves.

They are the meat of choicest white Indian Corn-first cooked and seasoned, then rolled into thin wisps and toasted by quick, intense rotary heat. This new patented process of making raises distinguishing little bubbles on each flake, and brings out their wonderful new flavour.

to Falsehood.

In the Art of Deception the Mail Order Houses Excel the World-Where Is the Doubting Thomas Who Dees Net Remember the "Sight Unseen" Trades of Boyhood Days?

[Copyrighted, 1914, by Thomas J. Sullivan.] Of all the evil spirits abroad in the and deception is the most dangerous. It is the first and worst of all frauds. Exaggeration is a blood relative to falsehood and nearly as blamable. Some men and some business concerns can never state an ordinary fact in ordinary terms. All their goese are wans till you see them. There is no strength in exaggeration. Even the truth is weakened by being expressed too strongly.

A Gaping Meneter. Mankind in the gross is a gaping monster that loves to be deceived and has seldom been disappointed. They say that idiots only may be cosened twice, but how about the mail order buyers? How often are they deceived by the large catalogue houses?

In the art of deception the great mail order houses excel the world. In their greed for gain and rush to victimise the poor and unsuspecting they paint their pictures of alleged bargains too alluringly. They instill confidence in the mind of the buyer, only later to fill his heart with doubt and dis-ly had values with style and quality. They would not need to leave their own large cities to sell at the prices they quote, as the city people would swoop down upon their bargains like hungry hen hawks on green goslings. But with style and value lacking they do not dare show their goods in the city where the prospective customers would have the opportunity of comparison, but by cleverly worded and exaggerated description they make the country people believe they are offer-ing more desirable wares than the country merchant carries and at a less price, and, having no opportunity for comparison before buying, many peo-

77 HEN YOU BUY A PAIR OF SHOES you want the best you can buy. You want shoes first that feel good, that won't hurt your feet, that you don't have to break in. You are entitled to that and that's up to us. When you buy shoes from us you can try them on. You can keep on trying on until you get a good fit. We will see to it that you have a good fit or we will advise you not to buy. The next thing that interests you is the style and wear. We bought the best styles known to the trade and they are unequalled for wear. We are not going to take any chances, believing that we can put any old thing off on our customers. We are working on the basis that everyone is hard to please. That is the reason we buy ENDICOTT shoes and other lines of merchandise that have unquestionable merit. We firmly believe that Endicott shoes are the best on the market. If we did not believe this we would handle some other line. No doubt there are other good shoes, but

Endicott Shoes are Better.

They are made of all leather; they are solid through and through; they are good; they have been tested. If you don't buy an ENDICOTT shoe you will pay fifty cents more a pair for one "just as good."
