THE LOWELL CHAUTAUQUA

BEGINS FIVE GREAT DAYS SATURDAY.

Outline of Some of the Great Musical Features, Including Pallaria's Band.

The indications point to this being an unusually successful Chautauqua year and the Community program which is to be given in Lowell for five days August 25 to 29 inclusive, includes a splendid list of attractions.

Special features of the Chautauqua this year will be "Patriotic day" and the Junior Chautauqua for boys and girls. Many children have already earned the money to pay for their Chautauqua tickets and as a reward will receive a special badge from the playground supervisor on her arrival.

Musically the program this year is exceptionally strong. There will be the Mrs. Wilbur Starr Concert party, composed of four highly talented and experienced ladies, using the violin, piano, cello and flute, and varying their instrumental program with vocal selections, piano-logues, readings and costume numbers.

Then we have this year for the first time a company of jubilee singers, under the leadership of W. A. Hann, giving the soulful tunes of the old plantations and the wonderfully soothing melodies of the southland; music such as can be heard no place else in the world except from the lips of the American darkey.

On the third day are Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Winters, entertainers of quality, who are original, versatile and talented. Their program consists of readings, including both the ridiculous and serious; character sketches in costume, piano monologues in great variety, while Mrs. Winters gives her famous bird songs and whistling solos.

And then comes band day with its most thrilling of all music. Our band this year is one of the best we have ever had on the Chautauqua, led by Francesco Pallaria, who is dynamic, dramatic and decidedly spectacular. For four years he played on the battleship Kansas in the United States Navy. Since that time he has appeared with his band in nearly all of the large cities in this country. As one of the newspapers reporting his work last summer said: "The clever little Italian director was a wizard. One minute he was at one end of the stage, and the next at the other and the slightest movement of his finger tip met with a ready response from the members of his band. It seemed as if the band was one huge instrument upon which Signor Pallaria played alone, so in harmony, so delicate and soft and so powerfully superb were the climaxes. Not only the members of the band felt the magnetism and power of Pallaria, but the audiences voiced their appreciation by bursts of applause, even before the completion of some of the numbers."

On the last day of the Chautauqua comes the Handel Choir, a company trained and coached by Mme. Mabelle Wagner Shank, who formerly was a member of Henry W. Savage's operatic forces in New York City, and now one of the foremost creators of Chautauqua companies in the country. Mme. Shank has recently produced a number of Edison records which are very popular. The Handel Choir's program will consist partly of masterpieces of sacred music sung in choral vestments, and partly of popular gems from light and grand opera. There will also be novelty numbers, such as Harry Lauder impersonations, by John McDermott, piano accordion selections by Mrs. McDermott and selections from Madame Butterfly and the popular Poor Butterfly, sung in costume by Madame Shank herself. Their night program will be closed by an original sketch "In the Days of '64" in which the members of the Choir will appear in the costumes of our grandfathers and grandmothers and will sing the old songs that bring with them a flood of memories and a thousand recollections.

Chautauqua Advance Man Here
The local committee is being assisted by W. Mervin Grove, Red Lion, Pa., making final arrangements for the Chautauqua. The tent will arrive Friday and everything be ready for the opening day.
An added feature this year is the Junior Chautauqua in charge of Miss Anna David, a graduate of the Columbia School of Art, Chicago. Great friend of children. She will meet them for the first time at 4 o'clock Saturday after the afternoon program. Interest your children in something worth while by buying them a season ticket.

FARM BARNS BURNED

Year's Crops Swept Away on Bevier Farm.

Fire inflicted a bad loss on the farm of S. E. Bevier in South Boston Monday noon, destroying three barns, a hog house, poultry house, ware house, all this year's hay, two loads of wheat, besides a quantity of grain already threshed and a mowing machine.

Threshing had been in progress and the men were at dinner when the fire was discovered and the manner of its origin is unknown.

The buildings were partially insured, but the loss is especially disheartening to the tenant, Ray C. Sauer, who saw the fruitage of his year's work swept away.

Ed. Tucker, owner of the threshing machine, had his hands badly burned.

One of the two houses on the farm was threatened but was saved by hard work.

SADIE CLARK COLE

Former Ada Woman's Last Thoughts of Old Home.

(By our Ada Correspondent.)
Mrs. Sadie D. Cole (nee Sadie Clark) was brought from her home, Parkersburg, W. Va., to Ada for burial Friday, August 17, 1917.

Mrs. Cole was a native of Michigan and spent the greater part of her life in this village; she was married to Clarence Ervin Cole November 6th, 1897. Mrs. Cole was the mother of four girls who with her husband survive her; she has three brothers and one sister living, her parents, two brothers and one sister having passed out before her. Many friends, both here and at Parkersburg, mourn the loss of their friend but feel that she is at rest.

Following is a poem Mrs. Cole composed a short time before her death, which shows the love she felt for her old home and the scenes of her childhood:

That Old Birthplace of Mine.
At the meeting of the rivers, Thornapple and noble Grand,
Is a charming fertile valley by the deep, cool woodland stream,
Grand old trees stand guard around it, and the village of my birth,
Does nestle close with its embrace, dearest spot on all the earth.

There to me the trees grow taller and their leaves are deeper green,
And the plumage of the songsters is of far more brilliant sheen,
And the dew in early morning sparkles like the rarest gems
As it clings to leaf and petal, fit for fairy diamonds.

Then the splendor of the sunset as it flutters in bright array
All its vivid transient colors at the close of autumn's day,
Is far grander, more inspiring than in any other clime.

Nature pours her choicest blessings on that Old Birthplace of mine,
Many years since I have wandered o'er the paths and thru the grass
Where the little purple violets shyly peep up as you pass.

Where in shaded, woody places hides the sweetest flower e'er seen,
Trailing vines and shell pink blossoms, Arbutus, we crown the queen,
Oh! the peaceful Sabbath quiet, low our hearts with reverence swell,
As out on the evening's stillness rings the deep toned Baptist bell.

How I'd love once more to listen as the birds their voices raise,
On the early morning freshness, deep, full-throated songs of praise,
Oh! I love it, dearly love it, that blest spot that gave me birth;
And I hope to close my eyes there when I'm done with things of earth.

Place me with the friends I loved best where the sun will always shine,
On the hillside in God's acre, in that old birthplace of mine.

Home Again.
I have returned from New York city, where I spent several months in a hospital, covering general medicine and surgery. I am located in my old office in the King block, where I will be pleased to meet my old patients as well as many new ones.

Dodge Brothers Motor Car
There is a very pronounced and definite public opinion now in the country concerning Dodge Brothers cars. Nearly every man or woman you meet has a clean-cut idea of the kind of car it is. How friendly and how favorable that idea is you probably know so well that it is not necessary to go into details.
It is not over-stating the case to say that the very large production of the first two years did not develop a single serious fault.

Your Husband's Energy
And consequent ability to work and provide for you may be all that stands between you and starvation. Why not, then, give a little attention to building up that energy by studying his needs and giving him proper food? Bread properly made from good flour is beyond question the best food for men whether they work with brain or muscle.
To be wholesome and nourishing bread must be light, well baked and taste good.
Bread made of
French's WHITE LILY Flour
Possesses all these qualities. Don't imagine that any kind of bread made from any kind of flour is good enough.
Don't imagine that heavy, half baked, soapy or sour bread will fill the bill.
That kind of bread is worse than none at all. It creates heart and stomach and makes a man feel more like fighting than working.
If you want to put a man in the mood to earn more money feed him bread made at home out of French's White Lily Flour.
A word to the wives is sufficient.

Old Plantation Jubilees To Be Sung Here Soon

HANN'S JUBILEE SINGERS.

THE Jubilee singers were the first to make the negro folk songs popular in America and in Europe. They were an important feature in many of the early Chautauqua programs and have since then in popular favor, being sought after today even more than ever before. Many of these negro folk songs were spontaneously produced by the slaves on the plantations, and they have a quaint and poetic charm unlike any other music that has ever been produced. Edward Everett Hale once said it was the only American music. The old jubilee songs of the plantation will be sung by Hann's Jubilee Singers on the second day of the Chautauqua. This company is one of the greatest singing organizations ever produced by the negro race. It is under the leadership of W. A. Hann, whom one critic designated as "another Ernest Canale with a sable skin." All members of the company have done operative work and in their Chautauqua programs will present some operatic selections, such as the quartet from the third act of the opera "La Boheme" and special numbers from "Rigoletto." But, of course, the feature of their work is their old time ditty melodies. These include many of the sweetest songs of the southland, "Swanee River," "Old Black Joe," "My Old Kentucky Home" and such old ditty camp meeting favorites as "Blinner, Get Ready," and a score of others. Other features of the program are cello solos by W. P. Talbert and readings by Mrs. W. A. Hann.

"Abraham Lincoln would have given as much as a splitter of rails for a seat in your Chautauqua." If you believe progress beats stagnation you'll buy a Chautauqua season ticket. Lowell Chautauqua August 25, 26, 27, 28, 29.
