GOOD ROADS RALLY WITH KEENE GRANGE

Colgrove and Rogers Come to Lowell, Wednesday, April 2.

P. T. COLGROVE

Thru the activity of our townsman D. G. Look, a good roads rally will be held at the Lowell City hall on Wednesday, April 2, at 7:30, p. m., with P. T. Colgrove, president of the Michigan State Good Roads association, and State Highway Commissioner Frank F. Rogers as speakers.

Both of these men are well known to the people of Lowell and vicinity as among the foremost good roads advocates in the state; and if the numerous hog-wallows in the roads leading to town do not prevent, the hall will be filled to overflowing.

Turn out and bring your neighbors and learn the purpose and workings of the proposed highway amendment in order that you and they may make no mistake when you vote thereon.

AND THIS IS RIGHT TO THE POINT. A practical demonstration of the need for good roads was staged right here in Lowell Sunday afternoon when a Grand Rapids touring party was stalled in the mire just east of the south end of upper Grand River bridge. Two men, two teams and two hours were required to pull the car out. The elderly ladies of the party, Mesdames Byrne, John Caulfield, Adolph Brant and Joseph Kerwin, after standing on the damp ground until they were chilled, were taken by M. N. Henry to his home. The driver, Ed. Murdock, ruined his fine shoes in the mire and his suit will probably have to go to the cleaners. Needless to say, the voters who witnessed the demonstration will vote "Yes" on the highway amendment April 7, to "Pull Michigan out of the mud."

CENTENARY DRIVE POSTPONED

Missionary Campaign Await Completion of Liberty Loan Campaign. The $120,000,000 financial drive of the Methodist Missionary Centenary has been postponed from the first week in April to the week of May 18 and the entire organization for the Centenary has been offered to the United States government to aid in the Sixth Liberty Loan drive to be launched in April.

Charles S. Ward, campaign director, and other national leaders of the centenary conferred with federal authorities on the advisability of postponing the centenary drive so that it could in no way interfere with the Liberty loan. It was decided that it would be better to hold the church drive later and the week of May 18 was fixed upon as the time.

This action on the part of the national church brings to the aid of the government for the Liberty loan a nation-wide force which has just been completed and which embraces hundreds of thousands of persons trained for the drive.

As soon as the Liberty loan is finished the Centenary organization will turn immediately to its $120,000,000 drive with only a brief period for preparation before it is started.

An Ada Star Event. The officers of Ada Chapter, No. 222, O. E. S. were invited to Mrs. Vera Furber and Mrs. Elia Burt for a decidedly pleasant afternoon Wednesday, March 19, in honor of the retiring Worthy Matron, Mrs. Mary Gramton.

The weather was fine and all knew that an invitation from our "Martha" in her home and "Electa" meant a general good time and none were disappointed.

In a very appropriate address, Mrs. Burt presented the Matron with a beautiful Eastern Star pin. After recovery from her surprise, Mrs. Gramton expressed her appreciation for the loyal support her officers had given the work during the past year and assured them that their experience would ever be sacred in her memory.

Refreshments were served which in no way suggested "Hooverizing." The event will ever be remembered as a red letter day by the retiring officers.—Com.

Russian Letter from Everett Lowell Home Folks.

Archangel, Russia. Jan. 26, 1919.

Dear folks— Will start another letter but don't know when it will go out. I guess my Christmas box was on the boat that sunk near England. We are located in the same place. We are getting plenty of cold weather and quite a lot of snow. Landlanders are coming down here with their reindeer and long sleighs. Most of them have 4 reindeer on one sleigh and they can handle them pretty good. I had a nice long ride with one the other day. I believe me, they can "go some." It was pretty cold riding but I believe in trying every thing once. There are a few Eskimos down from their homes in the "far north" but only a few. They have some very good fur coats, but there is no way of getting one home they are so large. I got my eye open for some fur that will make you a nice muff and neck piece. The people here claim this is the mildest winter they have had here in forty years. I guess it's a good thing for us that it is. I am sending you the Archangel paper. There is some very interesting reading in it this week. Well, its getting late; I will hit the hay.

Jan. 27—Well, another day, another dollar. I'll be a millionaire if I stay in the army long enough. We are feeling about 250 men again and believe me there are plenty of work. We are using carbonate of soda now for baking. I suppose we will raise our biscuits next week with a jack; but take it from me, we'll raise them if we have to use dynamite. I went over to Archangel this afternoon to get some fish. You know how well I like fish. This was a nice day. Just cold enough so as to cover my ears; but I was out of luck one day recently for I froze my ears and you know when they are frozen half of me is for they are so large. I wish you folks could see the fish piled up on the Archangel market. There are thousands and thousands of pounds piled up like cord wood, every size and shape. There are some very interesting sights here; but take it from yours truly, the U. S. is good enough for me, and all the boys feel the same. I had a handy feed of deer meat in a Russian home and it was cooked good, too, also had two fried eggs this forenoon, 25 rubles a piece. I am going to take a little sleigh ride tonight. Have a Ruskie friend here to use dynamite to break and sleigh and we take me the rides. The other evening we went 10 miles to a dance and it was 32 below. My friend has a big fur coat (white bear skin), has no opening only for your feet. I can't wear it if it was snow warm. If I can tote one will try and bring one home; but there is so much I want to bring that I can't carry it all. One good thing, this old month of January is nearly gone and time flies for me here. It doesn't seem to me that I have been here 5 months. Well, we had fish today and they were good, have enough left for supper. I'll soon be ashamed to look a fish in the face. The weather here is not so bad as last night and they had a big crowd. It's fun to see those Ruskie girls dance. They don't believe in wearing their shoes to dance in. They wear felt boots. The Russian people are great dancers and they always have their dances on Sunday nights. The days are much longer now. It doesn't get dark until about 4:15, p. m. But the sun only works when it feels inclined to do so and that's the way with everything else in Russia. The moon isn't so particular, but comes up backwards any old time or place. The wind whistles across the river like a 20th century limited express. Evertime you get on a street car (dram van) you have to count out 60 kopeks for your fare but most of us rather walk. Well, the war is over in France; but it isn't here. We have plenty of clothes, though, so we don't mind being cold at all. I'm not bothered with prickly heat and I don't run around in my B. V. D.s. Have no trouble keeping my feet warm. Have a pair of shuckel-ton boots. They are No. 10, E. E. and I can't get any more. I have a pair of socks and our coats are lined with fur. I received two letters yesterday, the first in about a month and a half. Our company is lucky so far, only a few sick. We haven't lost any more men out of party. I will tell you all about my trip and it will take more than an hour, too. If we are home by the 4th of July, I will be satisfied; but I have a hunch we will soon get out of here and I sure hope so, for this is some place. Guess we must have been sent up here to guard the Northern Lights. I suppose George is home by this time for I see by an English paper all the boys are coming home. Well, mother dear, I hope you are all as well as I am for I am in very good health and there is nothing to worry about. As ever your loving son, Everett.

NOT HOW CHEAP BUT HOW GOOD.

That is the criterion that governs the purchases of the careful and provident house owners and home makers in these days. The home is the center of all that's worth while in this life. If that is right, the home provider and the home keeper will go far and do well. So, in your buying, buy right, not just for today and tomorrow, but buy for life, service, durability, sterling worth and beauty, whether it is

THE PEOPLE'S COLUMN

Mr. Foster Favors Non-partisan Township Elections

Editor The Ledger— Your editorial in regard to taking township elections out of party politics is timely and to the point.

I have been in favor of such a plan for several years past, and hope to see the time when county and state officers will be nominated in that way. I believe it is going to be a general house-cleaning in both old parties when the boys get home.

I am for a business administration in our public business instead of red tape and pea-nut politics, and the actions of a certain class of our U. S. senators is hastening the end. I have no criticism of our township officers, they are all friends of mine, but it is only too true that many good men refuse to serve the public if they have to kneel to party leaders while doing so.

Walter J. Foster.

Stolen Car Found. The Charles Foster car found in front of the Klingman building, Grand Rapids, Mar. 15, for which Edwin Winchester, the owner, offered $50 reward, was located on Wednesday, the 19th, abandoned on Easterly farm, by two of our shrewd and enterprising farmers, F. J. Parrott and Lloyd Yetter, who claim the reward. Mr. Parrott assisted Detective Stone of Grand Rapids in apprehending the party who left the car of L. E. Heron of Grand Rapids in this vicinity a little over a year ago.—Com.

The new Edison is really not expensive when one considers what it renders in actual service, for it re-creates the voices and musical instruments of the world's great artists with such perfect fidelity that thousands who have heard actual recordings are not able to distinguish the difference when some great singer stands beside an Edison and sings portions of a song being re-created. HE WOULD AVOID APOLOGIES FOR STATE HIGHWAYS

GOOD ROADS EARLE, ALSO TELLS WHY HE WILL VOTE FOR THE AMENDMENT APRIL 7.

Horatio S. Earle, popularly known in Michigan as "Good Roads" Earle, who has been spreading the doctrine of permanent highways for more than fifteen years and in whose honor a monument has been reared at the junction of the eastern and western branches of the Dixie Highway in Michigan, says he is tired of carrying his title into the cities of the east and the west and then offering an apology for the highways of his own state.

Known throughout the United States as the Father of Michigan's Good Roads.

"Good Roads Earle," indeed!" he exclaimed, "Why, many a time I have felt ashamed when introduced under that title to speak of good roads before an audience, which, as I only too well knew, included men who had seen and sneered at Michigan roads. If this constitutional Amendment goes through, and it certainly will, if we are to hold up our heads in Michigan, I will not be forced to apologize when I speak in Boston, New York, Chicago or San Francisco."
"That's one reason why I shall vote for the highway Amendment. But there are a lot of other and better reasons, all of which come right home to every Michigan citizen. And so I will cast my ballot for the Amendment because:
"By so doing, I vote to accept a dollar from the United States Government for each dollar that Michigan appropriated for trunk line roads:
"I want the roads as soon as possible:
"If we bond for the money, the incoming will pay his part as well as we who are here now:
"The cost of the trunk line roads will be spread upon the entire state and nation, making it possible for localities to build farm-to-market roads, or tributary roads, with their own money, aided by the State reward:
"I want to see Michigan as good or better than any state in the Union, and roads will develop the state:
"If we get good trunk line roads, we will attract best-of-all summer resort states resorters from all over the country, who will leave a profit each year in the state of more than this bond Amendment makes possible for the Legislature to appropriate:
"When the figures are studied, I can see that it will be no burden upon the tax payers of the State:
"The United States rewards us if we build this road system; and, if we do not, the reward goes to other states that do."

Both Parties Indorse.
Both the Republican and Democratic parties in state convention at Lansing, have indorsed the amendment to the constitution which will start the machinery for financing a state-wide system of main market roads leading to every community. Each party made this issue one of the planks of its platform.

WHAT PART OF ROAD COST DOES FARMER PAY.
According to the official figures in the records of the State Tax Commission offices at Lansing, the farm property of Michigan represents about 37 per cent of the total assessed valuation of the state.

Unless Michigan can have funds available to meet the dollar-for-dollar Federal Aid to be distributed by Uncle Sam to promote highway construction and maintenance, the farmer will have to bear his 37 per cent of the expense.

But if the Good Road Amendment is ratified at the polls, April 7, the people will have authority, through their representatives in the legislature, to use the state's credit to meet any offer the United States government may make and, since Federal aid will care for half of the cost, the farmer will pay only a little more than 18 per cent of the Good Roads investment.
