HOW TO CURE A COLD—Don't Let it Get the Start of You!

When the first symptom of a cold appears, be ready for it and give it a dose of HOBSON'S LAXATIVE COLD TABLETS.

These Tablets, if you keep a box in the house ready for instant use when the cold begins to manifest itself, will knock it out nine times in ten.

Don't take chances of having to worry through the winter with one cold on top of another. 25c will save you all that trouble.

ARMISTICE DAY IS REMEMBERED

Just Enough to Show that Lowell Has Not Forgotten.

Armistice day, November 11, first anniversary of the great day of 1918 over-seas, when right triumphed after years of bloody warfare involving almost the entire world, was generally observed in Lowell.

Old glory was flung to the breeze from home, store, office, shop and school.

At 11 o'clock a. m., the hour of the signing of the Armistice, the teachers and pupils of the Lowell schools marched down Main and Bridge streets bearing flags and singing America, a loyal showing and a pretty sight.

At the noon hour, factory whistles were blown, fire bells and church bells rung and Young Men and Women societies parading the streets with clanging hammers and saws, playing the tune "The old cow died on," and above all the din was heard the firing of cannon and smaller guns.

Many of the business places closed at noon and their owners and clerks availed themselves of the opportunity of witnessing the big parade in Grand Rapids.

Among the Lowell Legion soldiers attending the Grand Rapids celebration and participating in the grand parade were the following: Walter Kropf, Bruce Krum, George Hatch, Ed Land, John Kropf, Will Schneider, Will Delaney, Loyd Lally, Will C. Doyle, Oscar and Herbert, Brezina, Frank Howard, Charles Darby, John C. Bates, Clifford Klump, Howard White, Manning Jones, Paul Kellogg, Harold Graham, A. L. and C. F. Bennett and Ray Skelding.

LEON L. HANMER LAID TO REST. Funeral services for the late Leon L. Hanmer were held Friday at his home, Rev. H. H. Harris, officiating; burial in Bailey cemetery, Vergennes. A large attendance at funeral and burial attested to the esteem in which the deceased was held.

Leon was born in Lowell July 1, 1864, and spent all his life here except seven years in Kansas and Minnesota. He attended the Lowell schools, worked for the Lowell Cattle company and the Lowell Specialty company and played in Lowell bands and orchestra for a number of years. In all of his associations he made warm friends by his cheerful sociability and sterling character.

When his health began to fail he moved with his widowed mother to the farm home, hoping to benefit by the change.

In mid August he went to Albuquerque, New Mexico, from whence he was brought home by his cousin, H. L. Weekes, during his last hours with his mother, Mrs. Cynthia Hanmer. He passed away November 5, mourned by his mother and lamented by a host of friends.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH Regular services at the Congregational church, Sunday morning conducted by Rev. Wm. Todd. Sunday school at the usual hour.

LOWELL BAPTIST CHURCH. The congregation was rather small last Sunday but we are hopeful of better times in the future.

Next Sunday Brother F. L. Currey, of Benton Harbor, will be with us and will preach at the usual hour.

Friday evening a prayer meeting will be held in the church in charge of the pastor.

Prayer is the soul's sincere desire uttered or unexpressed. The motion of a hidden fire that trembles in the breast.

Prayer is the simplest form of speech that infant lips can try. Prayer is the sublimest strain that reaches the Majesty on high.

It is the life and hope of the church. You are invited to come and meet with us in this service, regardless of creed or denomination.

Vincent C. Webb, Minister.

METHODIST CHURCH Next Sunday morning the pastor will take about 10 minutes preceding the regular sermon and talk to the children. It is hoped that many boys and girls will be present for this service.

This week at Detroit is the Laymen's convention. A strong program has been prepared with addresses by lawyers, educators and prominent business men from different parts of the United States.

KRYL'S ORCHESTRAL SEXTETTE.

Practically every year for some time past, Bohumir Kryl, the famous bandmaster and cornetist, has organized an important musical company for the Redpath Bureau. These companies have invariably achieved wonderful success.

This year the Redpath management again has a Kryl company—Kryl's Orchestral Sextette, and Mr. Kryl states that it is one of the best companies he has ever organized.

Miss Irene Stolofsky is leader of the sextette and both as director and as an individual artist she is competent indeed. She has a splendid position among the younger violinists of the country. Her repertoire embraces the literature of the old masters as well as the virtuosity of modern composers.

Miss Bernice Arthur is another artist of the sextette whose work stands out prominently. She is the pianist of the company but she also features with the accordion. In addition, with her brother, Edward Arthur, who has been a drummer with the Kryl band for a number of years, she appears in a marimbanophone duet.

While the ensemble work of the sextette is always a delightful part of the program the work of the artists in solos, duets, trios and quartettes is equally notable.

The program is carefully selected and consists of popular and classic music in enjoyable proportions.

COURT EXCUSES WOMEN JURORS.

Ionia Judge Decides to Try Criminal Cases With Male Jurors.

Ionia, Nov. 12.—It will be a male jury instead of a mixed jury which will hear the criminal cases in the November term of Circuit court as a result of a decision of Judge Davis to excuse the women jurors until a later date. A long discussion between the judge and attorneys was summed up in the fact that they would not want their own wives to set on a jury to review the testimony which it is expected will be brought out.

The calendar this term has an unusually large number of cases involving sex questions over which such a mixed jury would have to deliberate much to the embarrassment of the jurors. The women will be recalled to sit in some of the civil cases. Ionia women who sat on the woman jury in Justice court recently on the case of assault and battery, People vs. Mrs. Anders, have not yet recovered, it is said, from the testimony which was brought out during a review of the quarrel.—[Press.]

OBITUARY—MRS. ELINOR BUCK. Mrs. Elinor Buck, widow of Ira J. Buck, fell "Asleep in Jesus," Nov. 7, 1919, at the home of her grandson, Orville A. Aldrich in Grand Rapids, aged 89 years, 2 months, 25 days, after an illness of three weeks. She was born in East Keel, Lincolnshire, England, Aug. 14, 1830, and came to America about 1850, living in New York City and Brooklyn for some time and later going to Canada where her husband sister lived.

She was married at Whitby, Canada, Dec. 20, 1854 to Ira J. Buck, who died April 26, 1899, at the old home-stead, near Lowell, in the neighborhood where they had lived since coming to Michigan in Sept. 1864.

One daughter, Eliza A. Vanderwall, died at Allendale, Mich., Nov. 23, 1884.

The surviving relatives are one son and two daughters, Abraham B. Buck and Mrs. Joel O. Aldrich, of Grand Rapids and Mrs. Henry Vanderwall, of Lowell, also seven grand children and four great grand children.

The last one of her father's family, a brother, Thomas Cheetham, lives at Bobcaygeon, Canada. Besides these she leaves a host of other relatives and friends who will miss the pleasant smiles and loving words of dear "Grandma," who has gone to be "with Jesus" the One she longed to see.

The funeral was held at the home of the daughter, Mrs. Joel O. Aldrich, Nov. 10, in Grand Rapids. Interment was in Lowell cemetery. [Com.]

CASH IN ADVANCE POLICY A WINNER

Ledger's Big Subscription List Grows Steadily On Stop When Time's Up Basis.

The Ledger's thanks are due to its army of loyal subscribers who have shown their approval of our cash in advance and stop when the time is up policy, which has enabled us thus far to keep the subscription price at $1.50, when hundreds of smaller weeklies have long since gone to $2.00. The threat of newspaper postage at 4 cents per pound, if it becomes a law, will—in connection with the print paper at $7.50 per cwt.—force the higher price on all subscribers, requiring the increased postage. Consequently, it is to the subscriber's advantage to watch his subscription dates and keep paid ahead.

The expiring date is given on the address label every week in the year; and in the middle of each month subscribers whose time expires on the first of the following month are duly notified. Finally, with the last paper paid for a notice of expiration and renewal blank are enclosed with such papers, after which unexpired subscriptions are cut off.

This method has met the approval of about thirteen hundred subscribers, many of whom have requested such a policy for years.

Our appreciation is shown in the service rendered. Compare The Lowell Ledger and Alto Solo with other local papers and see what you will see and then suit yourself. "You pay your money and takes your choice;" and in some cases you pay no money at all; but no one gets The Ledger that way.

Years for an honest-to-goodness home paper that stands for something and always has. Publisher Ledger.

OPEN LETTER TO AMBITIOUS GIRLS

Letter No. 1—The Value of Having A Good Trade.

I can help you to work that is permanent, clean and something that you will like.

It is a job where you can make good money, better yet, I will teach you work that will enable you to make a good living anywhere you may go.

While you are learning, you will be paid well; after you have become familiar with the work, you can command more pay every week as you become better skilled. Isn't that worth investigating?

is the trained worker who makes the most money in the end. You know how it is when a girl "drifts around" from one place to another. Perhaps she clerks a few weeks, then she goes into a candy factory, then into a food products plant. Perhaps then she takes a turn as a telephone operator, and so on.

At the end of two years or so, she has had all the trouble of learning a little about a variety of jobs, she has had all the trouble, but has never learned enough of any one to make her really valuable.

Of course she is discouraged when she compares her experience with the girl who has learned a trade—learned it thoroughly. For that girl is independent, she can always command the best pay and find ready work.

There is, of course, the big question of choosing the right kind of trade. I am going to talk to you about that in my next letter. Look for it in this same space next week.

In the meantime, there are positions open here now, places that will pay you better than well. That you will just come down and talk with me, I am sure I can help you clear up some of your doubts about what kind of employment to decide on as a permanent trade.

Yours truly, Helen Anderson. Forelady Michigan Motor Garment Co., Lowell, Michigan. Advertisement.

Pick Your Overcoat from these 4 models and you won't go wrong!

To be sure, we have more styles but we feel safe in saying that 75% of the O'coat business of America will be done on the four models pictured here--and we always believe in placing our money on favorites.

Reading from left to right; No. 1 is a semi-conservative Chesterfield that 99 out of every 100 men over 50 like, look and feel well in.

No. 2 is that new FLARE BACK coat for young men that you'll like the minute you see it if you are full of vim, vigor and vitality.

No. 3 is a Belt all around creation that comes back from France with new laurels in it's lines, and No. 4 is that famous Michaela-Stern Ulsterette that combines the warmth of a seal skin with the grace of an antelope.

Prices from $35 to $55 and at every price and in every model we have the material and color--the pattern and the preference that you had in mind before you left home.

Howard City, all Howard City, and that includes everybody here, is sorry to see Roy Richardson, of the many Standard Oil representative, leave this territory. He will be succeeded by a worthy and capable man but this town needs more Roy Richardsons. True, Lowell gains by the change, but we are a bit selfish when changes concern such a thorough-going, model citizen and neighbor as Richardson was. From the day he set foot here first he won friends and to win them was to keep them. Genuine, hardworking, always on the job, contented and cheery, Richardson made his mark. We are glad to congratulate him upon his promotion and believe he will soon go higher but just the same Howard City needs as permanent residents more such fellows as Richardson. He was an officer in the Pythian lodge and will also be missed by his brothers there. The club women of the town will miss his wife, and the claps who love her will miss Miss Pierce. Good-bye, Howard City Record.

KING BAGGOT with an All-star Cast

"The Man Who Stayed at Home" is a gripping drama of the power and danger of the Secret Service—it is a story of heroism, though not of war, and tells of the daring of a young man who suffers the lightning scorn of his friends so that he might serve his country with the secrecy his position demanded. How, through strategy and courage, he captures a dangerous band of spies, and foils their attempt to kill hundreds of innocent people and convey valuable secrets abroad, is a story that causes the pulses to leap and the heart to glow. The play, though steep with the undercurrents of secrets, possesses a romance which is the guiding star of the courageous young American, who is happy to find that the girl of his choice admires and loves

Ford's Hardware is moving

The store building we have occupied for the past eleven years, and which has been the site of a hardware store for over fifty years, has been sold and will be used for other purposes and we, right in our busiest season of the year, are forced to move to other quarters; but with our force of first-class employees, we are equal to the occasion and on or before December 1, you will find us in a very neat and well-arranged store in the Negonce Block

Two Doors East of Our Present Location

Business is good, better than ever before, and we trust that our patrons will find it convenient to go with us to our new location, where, with rent lower and the items of heating and lighting much cheaper, we will be able to give you even better service and prices than ever before.

We will have some surplus heavy stock that we will not be able to take with us at present and will sell at very much reduced rates. We are too busy to enumerate the items just now but it will pay you to see us. Advertised list will be given later.
