WE HAIL MERCHANTS

Lowell Welcomes Guests of Mutual Benefit Ass'n With Glad Hand.

President M. N. Henry.

To the members of the Merchants' Mutual Benefit Association of Mid-dleville, Caledonia, Hastings, Freeport, Clarksville, Alto, Ada, Me-tacomb, Saranac, Woodland, Lake Odessa, Waukegan and Cascade, the business men and citizens of Lowell extend the hand of fraternity and welcome.

May your stay with us be so pleasant that you will wish to come again.

With the memory of previous splendid meetings of this associa-tion in mind, Lowell can not hope to excel the efforts of the associat-ing towns, which have so loyally and royally entertained you in the past. But we will strive to equal them.

The day's program opens at noon with a basket picnic at Island park and a concert by the Lowell Boy Scouts band. Following, which will be an address of welcome by Vice President Henry and a re-sponse by one of our merchant guests.

Frank Dykema, social welfare worker of Grand Rapids, will give the principal address of the day; and Orrin Sterkuis, a Lowell singer, will entertain us.

Following the exercises, will be a series of sports, the entries in which will be from all of which Lowell merchants have hung up ap-propriate prizes. The sports will include:

Boys' foot race.
Girls' foot race.
Ball throwing contest.
Needle-threading and nail-driv-ing contest for women.
Tug of war across Flat river and ball game at recreation park.
Sides to be chosen.

LOWELL METHODIST CHURCH NEWS

The members and their families of the Young circle of the Mtd. so-ciety will have a pot luck supper Friday afternoon on the church lawn. The ladies will gather at 3:30 and supper will be served at 6 o'clock.

Even though last Sunday was very warm, the Sunday school class of Mrs. Austin Coons had 100 per cent attendance.

It took several Fordis and other machines to carry the people from the church to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Coons for the wedding service Sunday evening. The com-pany were seated so they could see the setting sun. At this time Miss Maynard and Mrs. G. J. Gollar sang with piano, violin and cornet ac-companiment. "Day is Dying in the West, Heaven is Touching Earth with Rest." Mr. Coons welcomed the company to their home. At the close of the service we were glad to meet the neighbors of that com-munity. All felt it was an enjoy-able and profitable service. Next Sunday evening we go to the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Cheatham.

LOWELL BAPTIST CHURCH

Services Sunday, July 24, 1921.
Morning worship, 11 a. m.
Bible school, 12 noon. The les-son subject for the Bible school hour is "The Beginning of Saul's Ministry."
W. P. U. service at 7 p. m., topic: "The Perils of Materialism." This is an important subject for young and old and it is hoped that as there is no preaching in this church next Sunday evening that all members of the church who are physically able to do so will come and make a twofold effort to bring others that this evening service may be a real help to those who do come.

If you believe in God you should not fail to attend the prayer service Wednesday night at the church at 8 p. m.

Vincent C. Webb, Minister.

DRY GOODS AND CLOTHING STORES

Open Wednesday Evening. Close Thursday Noon for the Day During July and August.

Dry goods and clothing stores open Wednesday evening, close Thursday noon for the day during July and August.

Following the custom of a large number of villages and cities in the state, and in response to requests for a mid-week evening opening of our stores, and believing our clerks are entitled to a half holiday, we will open Wednesday evening and close Thursday afternoons during July and August.

MRS. PHEBE ROWLAND DIED SATURDAY

Mrs. Phebe Rowland, formerly of West Lowell, died Saturday after-noon at the State hospital at Kalama-zoo, where she had been for the past eighteen months. The body was brought to Lowell by Mr. Veit-ter Sunday morning. She is sur-vided by an aged mother and two brothers.

The funeral services were held at Snow church Tuesday afternoon.

OBITUARY—GEO. JASON ROUSE

George Jason Rouse was born near Coldwater, Michigan, July 17, 1888, and departed this life July 1, 1921, aged 32 years, 11 months and 15 days.

His childhood home was near Coldwater. The last fifteen years of his life were spent in the vicinity of Lowell, where he leaves to mourn a large circle of friends.

He leaves one brother, Frank Rouse, of Grand Rapids, who, as far as we know, is the only living relative of the departed. He was united with the Snow M. E. church about eight years ago and was a member of the young people's Sun-day school class.

He never was known to speak ill of any one, and his sunny disposi-tion made every one who knew him his friend. W. V. B.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the friends and neighbors for their assistance and for sympathy shown, and the Snow Methodist Episcopal Sunday school class and Success Grange for the beautiful floral offerings received during our late bereavement and loss of our friend and brother.

Frank Rouse, Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Burras and Family.

GRANGERS OF THREE COUNTIES COMING TO LOWELL

A Regional Grange meeting com-prising the counties of Kent, Ionia, and Montcalm, will be held Wed-nesday, July 21, at Island park, if weather permits, if not in the City hall. Master and Lecturer of State Grange will be there, and some Na-tional Grange speakers.

Lowell free street fair Oct. 12-14.

The Port of Missing Men

HAPPY ALLEN GOES MOTOR GARMENT CO

Campau Lake Pavilion Resort Will Go Too. Watch His Smoke.

Allen Lasby has bought 8 acres at Campau lake, where he designs to build a cottage for himself and a pavilion and boat house for the pub-lic. A store and refreshment stand will be provided, also an ice house for next winter's use.

When the pavilion is ready, dan-cing parties will be made welcome.

There will be a lot to do first, and just how much of this summer sea-son will be available for resorters remains to be seen.

The acreage will be platted and lots sold with proper restrictions, and applications for lots are al-ready being received.

"Happy Allen" will be the right man in the right place, and the Ledger wishes him all manner of success.

FINANCIALLY EMBARRASSED. Grand Rapids Trust Co. Receiver.

The Grand Rapids Trust company has been appointed receiver for the Michigan Motor Garment company, of Greenville, upon applica-tion made here Tuesday by William C. Kline, of the Putnam-Hooker com-pany of Brooklyn, a creditor to the extent of approximately $23,000. Mr. Kline also represents other credi-tors.

Knappen, Uhl & Bryant, Grand Rapids attorneys, have been ap-pointed counsel for the creditors. A bond of $20,000 was furnished by the trust company.

Liabilities are said to be $150,000 and the assets are listed at $170,000, which includes $90,000 in accounts receivable and about $50,000 repre-sented in merchandise on hand.

DISSOLUTION NOTICE

By mutual consent, the co-part-nership firm of Lasby & Son is here-by dissolved from and after this date.

Lowell, Mich., July 14, 1921.
John Lasby,
Allen G. Lasby.

DISSOLUTION OF PARTNERSHIP

Notice is hereby given that the partnership, formerly existing between George M. Parker and C. E. West, under the style of Parker & West has been dissolved by mutual consent. Mr. Parker will con-tinue the business at the old stand, G. M. Parker, C. E. West.

Lowell, Mich., July 11, 1921.

CHAUTAQUA COMMITTEES

Please meet Friday evening, July 22, at 8 o'clock at the City hall.

By Order,
Lowell free street fair Oct. 12-14

REST IN HOME LAND

Last Honor Paid to Two Lowell World War Heroes.

The mortal remains of Privates Clarence R. Roberts and Charles W. Clark, who died in their country's and humanity's service in France three years ago, were on Monday, July 18, 1921, laid to rest with military honors by their comrades of Charles W. Clark Post of the Ameri-can Legion at Oakwood cemetery, Lowell, in the presence and with the silent sympathy of a concourse of the citizens of Lowell and vicin-ity.

A double funeral service was held at the West Side park, the platform of which was appropriately decora-ted with a National colors, partici-pated in by Commander Charles Cook, Chaplain Cochran, Rev. V. C. Webb and by Vocalists Orrin Sterkuis and Edith Speaker, with R. D. Stocking at the piano.

With a grand oratory ringing with patriotic zeal, Rev. Cochran praised American war motives, and the bravery of those who had given their all at their country's and hu-manity's call.

The interment march to Oakwood, led by the Lowell Boy Scout band and vigorous young veterans of the World War, and participated in by a few old veterans of the Civil war, (which closed 56 years ago) and by a long line of citizens in automo-biles, passed business places closed for the sacred occasion, and flags flying at half mast.

And thus, after three years—long to sorrowing relatives, brief to the departed, the Home land claims its own; and two more graves at Oak-wood will be honored each year with the flag and fragrant flowers and tender memories that will never die.

Clarence R. Roberts was born in Belding, Mich., June 30, 1896, and lived in Lowell eighteen years. He enlisted March 5, 1918, in Detroit, sailed for France April 15, 1918, was wounded July 18, 1918, and died the next day in a hospital in France. He belonged to Company C, 58th Infantry, Fourth Division of Regu-lars.

Private Roberts was wounded in action near Courchamps in the Chateau Thierry sector. The com-pany was advancing through wheat fields under heavy shell and machine gun fire, when he was hit in the left side by a machine gun bul-let. He was rendered unconscious, but was given first aid, and was taken to the field hospital where he died on the following day, July 19, 1918.

Private Charles W. Clark was born in Lowell March 30, 1894, and spent his entire life here, except about two years prior to answering his country's call.

He went over seas in Co. B, 328, M. G. Bn., 83d Div., and was later transferred to Co. E, 15 M. G. Bn., Div. He went to his company as cook and was killed by a high ex-plosive shell while serving mess on Sept. 29, 1918, at Dicoillard, France.

He is survived by two brothers, Will J. and Robert H., and three sisters, Mrs. Nancy Denick, Mrs. Ina Potter, and Mrs. Hattie Rice.

APPRECIATION

We wish to express our heart-felt thanks for the courtesy and honor shown our brother,

W. J. Clark,
H. H. Clark,
Mrs. Nancy Denick,
Mrs. Ina Potter,
Mrs. Hattie Rice.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the friends, neighbors and relatives for their kindness and sympathy shown us during our bereavement for our son and brother.

Especially the American Legion, Boy Scouts, Ladies' Auxiliary of the American Legion and also the min-isters and singers.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Roberts and Family.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Morning service, 10:30. "Please Tell Me the Way."
Let us apply the appeal to the deep-seated desire of every person to know the way though life. Some-times that desire is not expressed. Often it is hidden under the earth-ly weight of selfish desires. But it is an every human life, because God put it there.

Our young people are especially urged to hear this discussion as we shall try to establish three principles which will help them find the Way.

Sunday school, 11:45. Do not forget this important hour.

Come and see that all the children are there.

7:30 to 8:30, "Fellowship Hour," at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Moore, "Hiding From God."

Our first parents tried it and we have followed their sad example ever since. Let us consider the re-sults of trying to evade our respon-sibility to God and His Kingdom.

Friday, July 22, meets with Mrs. Elmer Pletcher Friday at 11 a. m. to tie quilts, also pot luck dinner.

STONE—WEBB WEDDING

Mrs. Stone, formerly of Grand Rapids, married, in Grand Rapids, Mich., Monday, July 18, by Rev. J. C. Mead, Jennie E. Webb and Chester A. Stone, (AL) both of Lowell. Mr. and Mrs. Stone have purchased the residence on corner of Washington and King street, owned by Will Clark, and expect to go to house-keeping there early in September.

Keep the Flies off From Your Stock.

One of the most important point for success-ful dairying is to protect the herd from the annoyance of flies. In order to do her best the cow must have comfort.

Authorities claim the amount of loss in flow of milk is at least 25 per cent where cows are not protected from the flies.

Jack's Fly Chaser AND Liquid Louse Killer

keeps all kinds of flies off from your stock from 7 to 10 hours. It will not gum up the hair or blister. The comfort in milking is worth more alone than the trouble and ex-pense of using the Fly Chaser. Try a gallon on our guarantee that it will do all we claim for it.

What the Farmer Receives

Had you ever stopped to think why it is, that for all your sales of grain, hay, stock and produce you receive a bank check in pay-ment? Has it occurred to you that the purchaser of your farm products takes your receipt for every dollar paid you in this manner.

If business men find a check account a necessity in their trans-actions with the public, such an account is surely important in your own affairs. When you pay your bills in cash you are running risks of "bad memory," "carelessness," "short change," and a chance of having to pay a second time.

A check account eliminates all such chances of error—for your check on this bank is a record in writing, witnessed, receipted and therefore, indisputable evidence.

Layers' Sharp Questioning Finally Discovers Food that is as Good as It is With the Originals. Lay on Wasting Stand.

Philander C. Knox used to tell the story of a Pennsylvania lawyer, known throughout the state for his sharpness who once made a mark in an unexpected quarter.

An old woman was being served a piece of pie to her husband who had looked when he made a remark to her about some relatives.

"Did he look anything like me?" the lady asked. "No, sir," replied the waiter. "Seems to me he had the same sort of vacant look," responded the attorney.

His Advice. A young woman called on a morning trip when the small of smoke began pervading. The man at the road side asked her to get out of the car.

BASE BALL NOTES.

Lowell put up a good article of ball Sunday against the Lansing Giants visitors. It was a better game than we looked for. Our team played the game strong, which made the Giants look slow. We only made one boot which cost one run in the ninth inning. Captain Jack Bannan was conspicuous for his absence. Tony Tuskin playing second base in his absence. In the pinches they could not hit Stuart with a baker's shovel.

Nothing got by Hutting, four put outs and one assist. The colored athletics of Grand Rapids, play here Sunday, July 14, it will be the last appearance of Jess' team here this season. He intends to bring his rabbit foot. Come out and help us get it. Murphy.

OBITUARY—WALLACE RICH.

Wallace Rich was born in Fulton, New York state, Nov. 17, 1850, and died at the home of his son in Kalamazoo, July 12, 1921. He came to Michigan in 1869 and settled in Sparta where he spent most of his life. In 1871 he married Cynthia Hilton, and to this union eight children were born, five of whom are now living. Mrs. A. W. Hawley, Lowell, Mich.; Mrs. V. Rich, Kalamazoo, Mich.; Melvin Rich, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Mrs. Fay Pinkney, Saranac, Mich.; Mrs. Nina Bloom, Sparta, Mich.
