ARE YOU ONE OF THEM?

HOW true is the old saying, that "the grass always looks greener on the other side of the fence," and how apt we are not to be satisfied until we have GONE OVER THE FENCE, only to discover that we are STUNG, and begin kicking ourselves and wishing we were safely back on the good "OLD PASTURE" again.

IF per chance YOU happen to be one of the MIS-GUIDED victims of a BEAU-TIFUL trademark, or the alluring Premium of the peddler man, just get back in the old FRESH ROASTED PASTURE, where you do not have to pay for anything but just COFFEE, and you will save enough in price to buy a better premium in a shorter time, and have better coffee ALL the time.

W. S. WINEGAR

WILL SHIP BY TRUCK ON FEDERATION DAY

Western Michigan Will Not Want for Essentials in Event of Rail Tieup.

Grand Rapids, Oct. 17.—A railroad strike would have little or no effect on foodstuffs in Grand Rapids and western Michigan, in the opinion of local wholesale merchants.

Situated in the center of a very productive agricultural district this city can get all the food it needs with the aid of motor trucks, many of which have been competing with the railroads for months and can double the number of trips daily in an emergency arises.

"There may be a shortage of fancy meat cuts," said A. J. Longstreet, one of the largest string butchers in the city, "but there will be no shortage of other cuts. There is plenty of cattle, sheep and hogs in western Michigan to supply the city and any others on this side of the state."

"There will be no shortage of vegetables and canned goods, even if the strike should continue all winter, as there are scores of canning factories with large stocks within 100 miles of Grand Rapids. Most of the large wholesale grocery houses in the city are reported to have fairly large stocks on hand, sufficient in some lines, it is said, to last all winter. With large flour mills in Grand Rapids and scores of others scattered about the state consumers have little cause to worry about getting enough flour all through the winter. Flour stocks are believed to be sufficient until the farmers have more time to sell their grain."

HALLOWEEN PARTY.

Greene Circle! Don't forget the Halloween party. Where? City hall. When? Oct. 31st. Who? All members of the Ladies Aid society. Come and bring "Welcome Song" printed below.

Tune chorus of "Let the Best of the World Go By." Dear friends good and true, We're here to welcome you Let's all be blithe and gay And drive dull care away, We're filled with glee, as you can see. Come join in and all feel free. Let's all enjoy the fun And watch the gobblins run See the witch upon the broom stick fly.

That's how we'll spend Halloween Here with the Circle Greene. And thus let the night slip by. Com.

LOWELL METHODIST NEWS.

Among the visitors at church last Sunday, there were several former members, who expressed themselves as feeling much at home among our Lowell people.

A choir of men led the singing last Sunday morning, and their special number, "Far Away," by Lindsay, was much appreciated by all.

A party of four from our Sunday school, including the superintendent and two teachers, visited the school at Trinity church, Grand Rapids last Sunday, looking for new ideas, by which to improve our own school.

This week, being nationally observed as music week, much will be made of the music next Sunday, and the sermon will be along that line.

The following meetings occur in the near future, at which we expect to have one or more delegates present.

The inauguration of Dr. John Laird, as president of Albion College, Oct. 23-26.

The State Sunday school convention at Kalamazoo, Oct. 26-28.

The National Methodist conference and Detroit Area conference in Detroit, Nov. 15-18.

District Ministerial and Epworth League convention at Muskegon, the date given later.

District meeting of Woman's foreign Missionary society at Burton Heights church, Grand Rapids, Nov. 1-2.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH. 10:30 a. m., "If Christian Should Strike?" A survey of some modern conditions in connection with some pertinent questions.

11:45 a. m., Sunday school. 7:30 p. m., "John, the Revelator." A careful study of this wonderful mystic.

After the Sunday school session last Sunday Postmaster Earl Hunter gave a very interesting account of his recent trip to Washington. He spoke of his visits to Mr. Vernon Gettysburg, Arlington cemetery, and the old Fairfax mansion, all of which inspired the visitors with a deep reverence and patriotic zeal.

He told of the receiving of the delegates at the White house by President and Mrs. Harding, and Postmaster General Hays. He was also privileged to visit both houses of Congress while in session. We were glad to go with Mr. Hunter in this brief review of a most delightful trip.

The Sunday school campaign is half over. Were you there last Sunday to hear where your class stood? Make your class 100% by being present every Sunday.

We have shifted the gears and are now running on high speed. Plenty of opportunity for making new records. Everybody happy and everybody planning to bring somebody next Sunday.

DEDICATION. We are able to announce that the Annex will be dedicated about the first of December. We promise a very splendid social, educational and devotional service.

Attention, members of the Congregational Aid! We are to have a rummage sale the first part of November, so collect your contributions and have them ready for the committee.

The regular meeting of Band No. 2, is Friday afternoon with Mrs. M. M. Perry.

Band No. 3 meets with Mrs. L. J. Post Friday afternoon.

BAPTIST CHURCH. Dr. H. P. Myer, one of the State convention preachers, a very able speaker, will be with us at both morning and evening services Oct. 23. Morning service 10:30. Sunday school, 12:30. Evening service 7:30. Every one is cordially invited.

Clover Leaf Club Hears Report of Delegates.

The regular meeting of the Clover Leaf club was held with Mrs. R. T. Ford Tuesday afternoon. To say that those not present missed a rare treat would be putting it mildly.

It was Federation day and every delegate came prepared to give a very excellent report. Space will not permit a complete account, but here are a few of the gleanings.

The key note of the Federation was Service. We were urged to know our own community, unite our efforts and strive to leave our country not less but more beautiful than we found it.

Find the need of the hour and then work to improve it.

One of the leading problems of the day is that more money be spent on things which build up, such as education, and less on the things which tear down, such as war. And because we, as club women, believe in peace, not war, in education, and not ignorance, in high ideals for the relation of men and women, we should emphasize sincere, practical American citizenship and plead for disarmament.

So, while man has his hands on the steering wheel, it is for woman to demand her foot on the accelerator and carry forward the chariot of civilization.

In the address on "The Importance of Music," we were told that one of the important factors in our daily lives was music, good music, in our homes, our schools, our movies, and begged us to make popular music good and good music popular. One year of jazz is all it takes to rain a pure minded girl and boy. Good pictures demand good music and vice versa.

Let us arouse ourselves and not ask: "What can I do," but with so many things we all can do, let's get busy and do them.

The musical numbers of the afternoon were a solo, "Can't You Hear Me Callin' Caroline," by Mrs. P. C. Peckham, who responded to an encore, and two violin solos by Miss Vivian Haysner, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Harvey Haysner.

The club adjourned to meet Thursday evening, Nov. 3, at 8 o'clock in the City hall. This is an open meeting and the public is invited. Mr. Arthur Andersch, of Grand Rapids, assisted by a vocal soloist, will give a piano recital.

AUCTION SALES. George Stevens, having decided to quit farming will sell his farm, personal property November 4, beginning at 10 a. m. The ladies of the Snow church will serve lunch from 11 to 1 o'clock. Farm located on town line 1/2 miles south-west of Lowell. See advertisement in this paper for Oct. 27 for full details.

O. M. McLaughlin, having purchased the D. M. Lynch farm two miles north of Bailey church will sell the Lynch herd of Jersey cattle Thursday, Oct. 27. See advertisement in this issue of this paper for full particulars. N. C. Thomas, auctioneer, Will Condon, clerk.

William H. Lind's sale of registered Jersey cattle and Poland China hogs and farm machinery begins at 10 a. m. Friday, Oct. 21, at Lindhurst farm 2 1/2 miles west of Alto. Full details were given in this paper's issue of October 13.

This is Lowell Ledger and Alto solo auction advertising service and reaches the people, your money's worth and the right change back.

ROBINSON ROAD WILL BE OPEN TO TRAFFIC NOV. 6. The pavement of the Robinson road with concrete was finished yesterday, the last run of concrete being poured at noon. The road will be opened for traffic on Sunday, Nov. 6.

This is one of the most important road jobs in Michigan this year owing to the heavy traffic between Grand Rapids and Detroit over this route, which is state trunk line No. 16.

The Byron Center county line road was finished Friday. This road replaces an ancient corduroy road through a swamp south of Byron Center, which heretofore has been impassable except in dry weather.—Grand Rapids Herald.

Supervisors Vote $75,000, a Cut of $10,000 on Demands.

Circuit Judge Willis B. Perkins, administrator of the mothers' pension fund do not keep one eye on the mothers' pension fund when fixing alimony in divorce cases, but on the contrary, compel the man in the case to pay every dollar they believe equitable, or might be gotten, if he were not able to pay what he ought.

Their statements were in response to an invitation of the board to explain why "a woman with five children drew $15 per week from the mother's pension fund and only $6 a week from her ex-husband."

Probate Judge Clark E. Higbee, administrator of the mothers' pension fund, had asked for $85,000 for the coming year. The finance committee cut the appropriation to $75,000, and wanted to ask the jurists for "co-operation" in keeping mothers' pensions down by keeping alimony up.

When Chairman Gallwey of the committee had stated the case Judge McDonald asked whether the committee had investigated the 86 alimony cases in question. He thought there must be circumstances in each case which it did not appear on the surface. Supervisor William Ollman of the finance committee had stated that the information had been obtained from official investigators.

Judge Perkins told the troubles of a court in forcing payment of alimony. He said circuit courts handle about 300 divorce cases a year and the judges go the limit in giving the woman the best end of the bargain, both in property and alimony.

"We can go as far as to drive the husband out of jurisdiction of the court, and in such a case any order we might make would be null," he said. "We have to adjudicate such cases according to circumstances. Sometimes when a man remarries and has two families on his hands, he can't pay as much as formerly. If one is out of work he can't pay."

One number so to jail and their friends sent to the penitentiary. Probation officers keep after alimony payers all the time and collect $2,000 or $3,000 a year. We fix the amount of alimony according to the number of children there are for the mother to support and how well off the husband is. We don't have anything to do with the mothers' pensions and we do not keep one eye on that fund. There are cases of drunken husbands and dissolute wife, in which the latter is worthy of no consideration, but we try to look out for the welfare of the child."

Judge McDonald pointed out that when a man is in arrears for alimony the court cannot get until the wife has made a petition. The wife has to refer such women to alimony, and the attorney, have to be paid. The woman can't pay them. He advised that as under the law one of the duties of a prosecuting attorney is to make out such petitions, the board arrange with the Kent prosecutor's office force to do so. The court will do the rest, he said.

Probate Judge Higbee told the board if the probate judges of the state had not gone to Lansing at their own expense and argued against the mothers' pension bill making certain payments, mandatory, Kent probably would be paying $250,000 a year in pensions.

In a tussle between the city and township supervisors, the resolution of Supervisor Melville B. McPherson, of Vergennes that $75,000 be appropriated for mothers' pensions was carried.

The board voted to reimburse the West Michigan State Fair association $300 of the $780 the fair had paid for special police protection in September and also voted $300 for like purpose next year.—Grand Rapids Herald.

WILL MAKE NEW IONIA REFORM-BUILDING FOR FIFTEEN MONTHS. Ionia, Mich., Oct. 17.—Prison buildings which will be as near fire-proof as any structure of bricks and mortar and steel can be made, are to be built on the site of the Michigan reformatory buildings destroyed by fire a short time ago.

After a week of clearing away debris, the ground is practically ready for actual building to begin. Use will be made of the brick walls of the rotunda and cell blocks in building the new dormitories, but the administration building has been entirely taken down and a new one will be built in its place. The warden's residence, which formerly was in the same building as the administration offices, will be in a separate building apart from the rest.

OBITUARY W. H. SCHMIDT. William Henry Schmidt was born in Lowell, Kent county, Michigan, Dec. 14, 1876, and departed from us Oct. 15, 1921, at his home in Lowell, at the age of 44 years, 10 months and 1 day.

He leaves to mourn his loss, an aged father and mother, one brother, Philip, a nephew, Henry Schmidt, and a wife.

"A precious one from us is gone A voice we loved is still A place is vacant in our home That will be hard to fill."

CARD OF THANKS. We wish to express sincere thanks to our many relatives, friends and neighbors, also our Seelye Corner Thresher Association, Success Grange and the singers for the kindness and sympathy shown us and for the beautiful floral offerings sent on the occasion of the death of our beloved son, brother and uncle.

Mr. and Mrs. William Schmidt, Mr. Philip Schmidt, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schmidt.

CARD OF THANKS. We wish to thank our relatives, friends and neighbors in Grand Rapids and Lowell, Rev. Harris, the Ladies Aid societies of Lowell and South Lowell, Mr. Sprinnett and the Scouts for the many kindnesses shown us during the severe illness of Philip.

Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Schneider, Philip Schmidt.

Two Good Days, Fine Exhibits, Big Crowds, Plenty Amusements.

After giving us a stormy introduction last Wednesday, with anything but a fair day, the weather man smiled on the Lowell fair and gave us sunshine and gentle breezes for Thursday and Friday.

The crowds came and were entertained; the exhibits were of good quality, and the various events passed off successfully.

The parade with the splendid showing of the Lowell and vicinity schools, the Boy Scouts band, and the American Legion, was easily the finest feature of the whole fair.

HORSE RACES. The horse races at Recreation park Thursday afternoon drew a large crowd.

In the 2:30 trot Dr. Draper's Danie Sphinx won first, A. Keller's Last Chance, second, William Beaver's Miss M. B. third, Dr. Draper's Leslie Star, fourth. Best time, half mile, 1:12.

In the free for all, Spicer & Son's Can't Tell won first, A. Keller's Echo, second, Roy Vandusen's Elsie Bell, third, William Beaver's Direct Bell, fourth. Best time, five furlongs, 1:35.

The farmer's hitch and go race was won by V. K. Bowen, first, Claude Conklin, second, Charles King, third, Starting Judge Adams stated this was the fastest hitch and go race he had record of.

FAIR NOTES. Friday's bill game between the Pope Hesters of Grand Rapids and the American Legion team of Lowell was won by the former, 14 to 6. The game started with enough but a rank decision by Umpire Speaker favoring the visitors took the heart out of the home team.

In the parade the American Legion of Saranac was awarded the prize, being the only outside entry, the Lowell post, not being in competition.

For best hitch and go race, E. E. by Mrs. P. C. Peckham and Miss Pease was awarded first and Miss Hazel Stocking's Girl Scouts, second.

The American car went to Donald Cameron and the talking machine to Mrs. Charles Rogers.

Awards not given here will be published next week.

NATIONAL MALE QUARTET. The National Male Quartet, which will appear here Friday evening, Oct. 28, on the Lyceum course, is a notable organization.

The members of this quartet are first of all musicians of rare ability, and they present the highest type of the art music. But in addition to their musicianship, they are entertainers par excellence.

Charles Cox, basso, is director of the quartet. His is a voice with a phenomenal range from F above to G below. He is also a capital comedian, and his sketches form an unusually entertaining feature of the program. Mr. Cox was captain in charge of an entertainment division in the A. E. F. during the Great War, serving immediately under General Pershing.

Lawrence Wickland is first tenor. As a soloist he is known for his renditions as sacred numbers from leading oratorios.

Stanley Graham is second tenor and pianist. His piano solos from such composers as Grieg, MacDowell, and Debussy are a never failing source of pleasure to the audience.

Melvin Newquist, baritone, features with solo numbers. This is a big glorious voice, and his repertoire includes the best selections written for men singers.

Those who hear the National Male Quartet are assured a splendid entertainment.

Building, Oct. 5, '21. "This Quartette was one of the most popular numbers on our Building 7-day Chautauque, and the Lowell people should not miss this number if they are men who get right next to their audience and you will like it."

Yours, R. F. Brown, Sec. Chamber of Commerce.

Spend less than you earn

It's excellent advice, especially for those just starting on the road of life.

Then there's another point every bit as important. It is this—put what isn't spent where it will not only be safe, but where it will earn something.

It's YOUR business to see that less is spent than is earned.

It is ours to see that the surplus is well looked after.

THE LOWELL LEDGER AND THE ALTO BOLD

Published every Thursday afternoon of Lowell, Michigan. F. H. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor. Twenty-sixth year under the name of the Lowell Ledger.

THE LITTLE ONES It may not be, dear hearts, that I shall live long footsteps through the coming years; I have given you all my poverty and my love.

Men who pay the least for clothes are the men who demand and buy the long wearing kind—they get fine quality, they buy less often and save money.

They're right—it's a sound and saving proposition—it's economy. Hart Schaffner & Marx Clothes are that kind. You'll find them here. Prices at least 1/3 lower than a year ago.

Suits and Overcoats '30 '35 '40 Our "leader line" Young men's and men's new models in Suits and Overcoats. Priced to make them lead in values. They offer an unusual value at a popular price.

—“an investment in good appearance”
this fall?

The man who wants an investment in good appearance will want to know what is correct style this fall—what is right in good fashion for men, as created by the makers of

Kuppenheimer
Good Clothes

- 1--looser, more simplified lines in harmony with the more sensible trend of the times.
2--lapels small, trim, graceful in curve and the notch very apparent.
3--coat backs straighter with shorter vents.
4--trousers either cuffed or plain, straight or bell-bottomed.
5--overcoats roomier, raglans more popular than usual, the famous Klavicle model leading. Belts buttoning--no buckles.

And the style in clothes-appearing - get as much value as always at about one-third what you paid last fall; what you'll get here.

An army, most of its men have answered to the last roll call over yonder; and their few remaining comrades are awaiting the coming of the day where war and strife will be no more.

SOME TIME. Some time, when all life's lessons have been learned, And sad and aurs forevermore have set, The things that our weak judgment here has spurned, Will flash before us out of life's dark night. As stars shine most in deepest (dark) of blue, And we shall see how all God's plans were right, And how that seemed reproval was love most true. And if, some time, commingled with life's wine We had the worn-out, and rebel and shrive, Be sure a wiser hand than yours or mine Pours out the potion for our sin to drink; And if some friend we love is lying low Where human blows cannot reach his face, (Do) do not blame the loving Father so, We had the worn-out, and rebel and shrive, And you shall shortly know that brotherhood breath Is not the sweetest gift God sends His friends, And that sometimes the subtle path of death Conceals the fabled horn His love can send. If we would reach the other side of life, And stand within, and all God's working see, We could interpret all this doubt and strife, And for each mystery could find a key, But not today. Thus be content, poor heart, God's plans, like thine, are pure and white, unadorned, And have your sorrow with a cheerful spirit; Time will reveal the colors of our gold, And if through patient toil we reach the land Where loved feet, with sandals hoar, may rest, When we shall clearly know and understand, I think that we shall say that "God knew best."
