NESTS AT OAKWOOD

Well Known Lowell Woman Found Away at Oakwood Nestled.

MRS. EUSTACE ANDERSON. Mrs. Anderson, only daughter of Amos W. and Henrietta Woods was born at Lowell, January 16, 1876. Her childhood days were spent here where she attended the public school, and was very prominent in musical circles, being an accomplished vocalist and pianist. Four musicians have rendered more public services. Her sweet voice will be long remembered, and for many years she was organist of the Methodist church.

On January 4, 1897 she was married to Eustace A. Anderson, and moved to Boston, Washington, where their two children were born and where she resided for six years. She then returned to Michigan, living in the Northern part of the state a few years, and then returning to Lowell, residing here until her death.

She was an active worker in the Clover Leaf Literary club, serving for two years as president. She was also an active worker in the Eastern Star, her kindly acts and deeds of charity endear her in the hearts of many.

For the past two years her health had been failing, and she recently went to Blodgett hospital in Grand Rapids, where she died June 2, 1922.

Funeral services were held at the home on June 4, Rev. Harry Walker of Grand Rapids officiating. Her devotion and care of her parents during their last years will be long remembered by neighbors and friends. She leaves to mourn her going, her husband, Eustace A. Anderson, a daughter, Mrs. Marion Schneider, a son, Harold A. Anderson, a brother, Harold L. Woods, and a host of loving friends.

A Friend.

FLETCHER ANNOUNCES HIS PLATFORM

I am for the reduction of taxes. I am against tax exempt securities. I am in favor of the repeal of the State Corporation Tax. I am against the one-cent and sales tax. I am against the Personal Income Tax. I am against the proposed Depository Tax. I am against the proposed Stamp Tax or any other unnecessary Tax. I am against high inflated state obligations driving Packards, Cadillacs and Lincolns out of the pockets of the taxpayers.

The proposed tax system is driving the Farmers and Business Men into bankruptcy. The enormous burden of taxation, if kept up, will drive business out of the state. I will, if elected, cut the expense to less than one-half. If you, Mr. Taxpayer, doubt this read the facts, and are taken from the files in the Auditor General's office, taken from the Michigan Citizens, printed in Detroit. Look up what causes the high taxes, investigate for years. If you like this stuff keep voting for Greenback.

Do you believe the Administration Board needs four Purchasing Agents at four thousand dollars a year each? Does the state need three messengers? Inspectors of railroad water? Investigators and inspectors of steamship agencies, and a huge army of employees to do nothing but political work, costing $1.50 best-ticks, working politics at your expense? Yes, Mr. Voter, can change this situation by voting right on the 12th day of September.

Look them up, Mr. Taxpayer. Seven thousand employees on the state payroll now. Do you want that to continue? If you do, vote against me, for I will cut the army to less than one-half if I win. It would take one hundred years to reduce one-half of the sins of the present administration, and I am against one man rule in Michigan, and will recommend the repeal of the Administrative Board if elected Governor.

Yours respectfully,
R. H. FLETCHER.

DEATH CAME QUICK TH' ALUMNI REUNION

Body of Charles F. Baird Found on Grand River Bank

The body of Charles F. Baird, aged 75 years, who lived four miles east of Lowell on the north side of Grand river, was found dead on the bank of the river Thursday afternoon. He had been fishing that afternoon and when he did not return, search was made beginning about 10 o'clock, p. m., and the body was found where he had fallen and died suddenly, and evidently without a struggle, as the tall grass in which he rested was undisturbed. Dr. Bailey of Saranac stated that death resulted from heart failure. Funeral services were held Sunday at 1:30 p. m., at the home, Rev. Haywood officiating; burial at Saranac.

Mr. Baird, son of James and Janet Baird, was born in Keene, Sept. 15, 1847. Married Sarah Dodes about forty-eight years ago. Five children are living: Mrs. Mary Haines, of Boston, Mrs. Blanche A. Thomson, of Grand Rapids, Mrs. Ellen Carey, of McLean, James Baird, of Boston, and Elbert, who lived at home. Another daughter, Mrs. Maude Williams, died nine years ago.

JOHN K. NICKLIN DEAD

Former Lowell Printer Died After Collision of Car With Tree.

John K. Nicklin, aged 49 years, a former Lowell printer and an employee of The Lowell Ledger, died at Blodgett hospital Sunday following injuries received when the motor car he was driving collided with a tree on the N. 16 road near the blacksmith shop between Ada and Grand Rapids Saturday.

Mrs. Nicklin and her mother, Mrs. Gregory, were riding with him and the former was severely injured. It is believed Mr. Nicklin received a stroke of apoplexy and lost consciousness and the machine without guidance dashed into the tree. He had previously received a light stroke.

John was a half brother of the late James Nicklin. Since leaving Lowell many years ago he has followed the printing business in Grand Rapids, where for several years he was in business for himself. Recently he has followed the same trade in Chicago.

He is survived by his wife, Zoe Gregory Nicklin, and other relatives.

Funeral services were held in Grand Rapids Wednesday.

Burial twice from Jackson prison to par. lb. of Buchanan's elevator. Order new.

There are 6 sides to a Brick--- and the same with a Bargain!

We don't have to suppose you want a square, honest deal in buying your clothes---everybody does and men, in reasoning out the different prices and advertisements, don't forget that oftentimes it is an ill price that blows the most profit to the seller!

Plain, fake bargains are as plentiful as Camels in Egypt or Kimonos in Japan.

Legitimate, 2 fisted, square as a brick values are only to be found in the stores handling dependable Nationally known merchandise.

Believe this or not---the Michaels-Stern Suits we are offering today at $30 would be better bargains at $40 than most $20 Suits would be at $7.50.

You can pass this on as the Truth and we'll back you up!

Obituary—Mrs. Elizabeth Daniels

Mrs. Elizabeth Daniels, widow of Thomas Daniels, was born in Rochester, N. Y., and when a small girl moved with her parents, Thomas and Ellen Lewis, six sisters and one brother, to Michigan, settling in the wilderness in Leewards county, while the state was still a territory. Here she passed her girlhood days, and on Feb. 6, 1850, she was married to Thomas Daniels of Hudson, Mich. There they resided for five years. Then deciding to make a new home, they fitted up a "prairie schooner," and made their way across the country to Marshall, where they found the snow so deep that they were obliged to load the outfit on a sled to make the remainder of the journey to Lowell, where they arrived in March, 1855. At that time, Lowell was merely an Indian village with a few white families. The summer after their arrival they built a home diagonally across from where the Methodist church now stands. Here they conducted a grocery store.

At the close of the Civil war, 1865, they located on the present farm in Keene, where they shared each other's joys and sorrows until 1895, when death claimed the husband, leaving the widow and three children, Nellie, wife of Mark H. Brown, Charles and Frank H. The two former and the eldest son, Adelbert, having preceded their mother in death, leaving the youngest, Frank H., to care for the mother in her declining years.

She has been a member of the Methodist Episcopal church in Keene for many years, working actively in its support until recent years.

She has been in failing health for the past two years, but continued to the bed for only the past three weeks. She died peacefully at five o'clock Saturday morning, June 3.

TRIBUTE TO HELEN DICKEY.

A crystal spring in a wooded vale by hanging branches hid. Which bubbled out and told no tale Of all the good it did.

Spreading its waves in shallow pool That thrifty folks might drink Laying the violets with water cool And grasses on its brink.

Then speeding on its happy way Through thorny hedge and brake In glad abandon, day by day Earth's thirst and man's to slake. The spring went dry; the merry chase Of lapping waves are stilled. Silence and death in every place Which once the stream had filled. And eager flocks came there to drink And wandering turned away The violets withered on its brink. The grasses turned to gray.

And weary travelers athirst Paused by the pebbled road, In sad remembrance of the place In which once the stream had flowed.

If the pure stream, no thought of strife, Our loyal friend and true Gave out the sparkling gems of life As she was passing through, And like the brooklet on its way Through thorny hedges stealing She fulfilled her mission all the day Her Christian heart revealing.

And tender memories will cling To her as we would not sever. Though her cherished life, like the crystal spring Is hushed and stilled forever. M. A. Stowell.

FINALLY WENT CRAZY ABOUT THEIR BROTHER.

Here is a story published in an exchange which shows how greatly the people of a community in Kent county appreciated their editor:

"In appreciation of the work of a Kanan editor for their community a batch of citizens recently presented him with a handsome watch and a letter of appreciation, and on the same occasion a quartet from a local church sang a few sweet songs, and a minority made a little talk. After the speaker's concluding remarks carried the money order from the house and placed him joyfully in a model 1921 closed sedan, and the whole town formed in parade behind the editor's accompanying car. After the parade the appreciative crowd returned to their homes, approval in the thought of having provided one bright day in the life of their local news purveyor, even if they did not smell the wax used to do it."—The Fourth Edition.
