BIG FRUIT MEETING CHURCH & SOCIETY

LANESBING SPEAKERS ADVISE LOWELL ORCHARDISTS TO GET TOGETHER.

"Unit on three or four standard varieties of apples," was the message of M. A. Farrand, extension specialist of M. A. C. and Secretary of the Michigan Horticultural society to the fruit growers of Kent county at the well attended fruit meeting in the Congregational church, Friday morning, March 9.

"Michigan must meet the competition of other fruit sections of the country and she cannot do it unless fruit men specialize on a few standard varieties, increase the quality, and grade more closely. Big apple buyers will not consider the small lots that are now offered them of several different varieties, but so close together, that they buy in large quantities the standard varieties that are in demand."

Mr. Farrand advised setting only such varieties as Northern Spy, McIntosh Red, Jonathan, Rhode Island Greening, Snow. These varieties, if raised in quantities would attract buyers, and their quality would place them in preference to apples from any other section in the United States.

Mr. Farrand told of the efforts of the College, and the State Horticultural society to get fruit men to "top work" or graft over their trees of other varieties to those recommended ones. Grafting schools will be conducted anywhere there is interest enough to warrant. This program is entirely feasible and would mean much to Michigan if followed. In the forenoon, O. E. White, of the State department of agriculture explained the Braman pecking law, giving some of his experiences as state inspector. With samples of apples he made clear the different grades as required by law and urged closer inspection of all apples and other fruit when packed so that the consumer would know that they were buying what they paid for.

The noon meeting with the business men was a good one. R. T. Responding with a welcome to the fruit men, to the facilities of Lowell, but also urged them to join the Board of Trade, which he said was a community organization. M. B. McPherson told of the work of the State Board of Agriculture in behalf of Michigan horticulture and also explained the efforts of the Farm Bureau on behalf, not only of the farmer, but of all the people of Michigan. Mr. Farrand explained the plan of extension work of the College and told of some of the many problems confronting the fruit industry.

The afternoon meeting was completely a discussion of fertilization. Mr. Farrand explained a series of experiments covering several years of two years, some of which by the use of "nitrate" had increased production in many cases 50 per cent and in one case 90 per cent. The section headed by the late Mr. Woodland their orders and ordering several tons of Ford's sulfate of ammonia through the Atkins Motor Sales company.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES, SOCIAL AFFAIRS, EVENTS PAST, PRESENT, FUTURE.

Lowell Methodist News.
"Go to church and be healthy in body, mind and soul. If the church is worth anything it is worth our heartfelt support."
"Uneda church. The church needs U."
Remember Palm Sunday next Sunday. The services will be appropriate for the day.
The special music Sunday morning was a duet: "A Little While," sung by Mrs. Charles Doyle, and Mr. Alkins.
The classes of the Sunday school are greatly appreciating the opportunity of gathering under such favorable conditions as the church housing affords, both for play and for study. The Epworth class gathered for dinner last Friday noon. Among those present were several who had been unable to be out during the winter months. After the meeting several went to visit Mr. George Crump, and helped him to celebrate his 93rd birthday. Regardless of the rainy afternoon, Thursday, March 15, about 60 members of the Aid society and their guests gathered at the church for the poet's convention. This unique idea was original with Mrs. Nettie Devering, who spared no effort in her undertaking to make it a success. Some poems were humorous, some contained much information concerning the Aid society. As a whole they showed much poetical ability. Among those who contributed a poem was Mrs. George White, 73, 81 years of age. The one considered the best was "The Blizzard" by Mrs. Stowell. After the program refreshments were served.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.
10:30 a. m. "There Stands the Church." The church rightfully expects high standards of living of her membership. We will invite many into our fellowship Easter morning. This sermon will clearly set forth the privileges and obligations of church membership.

7:30, p. m. "Joshua, Successor to Moses." The fact that Moses left his great work in Joshua's hands is a sufficient reason for us to be greatly interested in Joshua. There are other reasons why his life and ministry carry a great lesson and a fine inspiration to Christians of our day.

BAPTIST CHURCH.
10:30, regular morning services. Sermon by M. H. Dawson, at 10:30. 11:45, Sunday school. Everybody welcome.

ODD FELLOWS, ATTENTION!
Every member please. Turn out on March 29, to a get-together meeting. Important business will be transacted. A banquet will be served. (42-43)

Read the following notice relative to tire manufacture and figure for yourself the result.
Great Britain covers or controls about 85 per cent of the world's supply of crude rubber. Recently British and her colonies adopted an export restriction plan as follows: no rubber or latex may be manufactured and sold in any of the world's required rubber as total, but all in excess of 65 per cent will be under an export tariff. The result is that the industries will continue their manufacture to that 65 per cent.
The tire industry alone uses 75 per cent of the world's rubber supply. An average of 45 lbs. of crude rubber is used here. An average of 2 lbs. per motor tire. An average of 10 lbs. per heavy tire. Rubber recently jumped from 4 cents to 25 cents per lb. There is not enough rubber in the United States to cover the present demand. It is estimated that the amount of which an average of 45 lbs. is used per tire. In January tires jumped in price an average of 15% per cent. On March 15th one of the leading tire makers in the world announced that the total increase of 25 per cent in the price of the largest companies amounted to an increase of 50 per cent on March 15th. The jump of the leading firms in the tire industry is estimated to be a total increase of 25 per cent in the price of the largest companies. This is not "telling propaganda" but is being published in the interest of tire users that they may see an actual, definite condition of the rubber market.

"Out of the Darkness," a narrative and primary story of great interest and value by Charles J. Brown, is now published by Lowell & Hastings. It is a story of the life of a boy who is taken from his home in the West and sent to a boarding school in the East. It is a story of the struggle of a boy to overcome the difficulties of a new environment, and to find his way in the world. It is a story of the power of the human spirit, and of the triumph of the good over the evil. It is a story that will interest and inspire all who read it.

MOTHER-DAUGHTER OUR CITY FATHERS

CAMP FIRE GIRLS AND MOTHERS UNITE IN GOOD TIME AT M. E. CHURCH.

The Owassa Camp Fire Girls held their annual Mother and Daughter banquet in the Methodist recreation hall, Saturday night. It was held on that night to celebrate the national anniversary of the Camp-Fire. The tables were trimmed with Easter decorations. After a lovely supper was served, the welcome address was given by the President, Mary Cameron. Mrs. M. B. McPherson gave the response. Hosale Foster followed with a talk on Camp-Fire spirit and the meaning of Camp-Fire. Beatrice Pattison gave a talk on "The Past Camp-Fire"; Mildred Peckham talked on "The Present Camp-Fire"; and Katherine McPherson talked on "The Future Camp-Fire." The program, the mothers went to the gymnasium and soon the WolloLo call was given by the guardian, Miss Brew, and the girls came in, clad in Camp Fire costumes and formed their Council Fire circle. Honor beads were awarded, and Merle Pattison, Olive Gaunt and Katherine McPherson received their rank of Wood-gatherer. Olive Kroof, Beatrice Pattison and Leona Denick received their rank of Fire-maker. Hosale Foster received the rank of Torch-bearer, which is the highest rank of Camp-Fire. Miss Orpha Bunker was received as a new member in to the Camp Fire. Following the ceremonial the mothers were sent on an egg hunt, the winner receiving a prize, which fell to Mrs. Cummings. A contest of shooting baskets was another enjoyable feature of the evening, and we were surprised at two of the women who had to play the tie off twice in order to decide the winner. (Two good football teams.) At 10:30 everybody departed for home, saying they had the best time for some while, and are patiently waiting for the Camp-Fire Mother and Daughter banquet next year.

A CARD TO MY FRIENDS.
It seems only fair that I should inform my friends that after a struggle of several years to regain my health, I have found that my work, by the aid of loyal employees, I find myself not much improved; but I love my job and the people I have served for nearly 30 years and would like to continue with them while I can do so acceptably.

I ask to be relieved entirely of outside responsibilities and unnecessary relations of all kinds. At 10:30 my friends will understand that "The spirit is willing but the flesh is weak," and excuse my necessary absence from public functions.
Sincerely,
Frank M. Johnson,
Publisher.

Let's take a stroll up Main street and do a little Pre-Easter Window Shopping.....

See that brown Michaels-Stern suit in the corner? It's $40, but never mind the cost---just try to duplicate the curve of that lapel at any price!

Or that tan Norfolk at $32.50---that hairline stripe at $35---or that velvety Oxford---and leaving out value altogether if you can find better styles or patterns---you're a better man than we are---Gunga-din!

A tour of the windows will help you pick the winners.

Our Easter style supremacy is as plain as day---even under plate glass at night!

Michaels-Stern Value First Suits $27.50 to $45

Eagle Shirts, Carters Union Suits, Stetson Hats.

Minette Was Harrigan's Girl. By JOHN PALMER. Minette was--well, Minette. A girl in Fat Adolf's resort in the woods, frequented by lumber men. Minette's job was to please. Minette flirted from one man to another as indiscriminately as the rain falling on the just and on the unjust.

Over the tables the curses rained and deep. All sorts of plots were mooted against Harrigan. None of them ever came off. Men quailed before Harrigan's cold blue eye and his terrible smile. Little Smith, the bookkeeper at the mill, not being under Harrigan, had never come into contact with him.

There was an awestruck silence in Fat Adolf's shebeen. All eyes were turned toward the door, through which Big Harrigan might be expected to enter at any moment. "Say, Mr. Smith, you've certainly got your nerve with you," said Minette, who was enjoying the situation.

Minette was--well, Minette. A girl in Fat Adolf's resort in the woods, frequented by lumber men. Minette's job was to please. Minette flirted from one man to another as indiscriminately as the rain falling on the just and on the unjust.
