OUR CITY SCHOOLS

SUCCESSFUL PRESENTATION OF "DADDY LONG LEGS" BRINGS WARM COMMENDATION.

On Thursday and Friday evenings of last week the Senior class of Lowell High school presented to the citizens of Lowell their play, "Daddy Long Legs." "Daddy Long Legs," a contemporary four-act drama, was written by Jean Webster. The story runs as follows: Judy Abbott, an unusually bright orphan, is given a high school education and allowed to stay at the home of Mr. Jervis Pendleton, who under the disguise of "Daddy Long Legs," sends her to college. While there she meets the man who is to be her husband, and she is often visited by Pendleton. This warm friendship between the two ripened into love. Finally Judy learned that Jervis had mysteriously "Daddy Long Legs" and the two are joyously united.

The part of "Daddy Long Legs" was splendidly played by Gerald White. Gerald seemed entirely at ease on the stage, as is characteristic of him always. With that enticing smile he won not only Judy, but his entire audience as well. Beatrice Pattison as "Judy" displayed unusual ability in her emotional acting. She was equally successful in portraying the life and emotions of a lonely orphan and the popular college girl. Her charming manner endeared her to her entire audience.

The part of Miss Pritchard, an attractive society woman deeply interested in philanthropic work and trustee of the John Grier Home, was played by Alma Burdick. Alma showed splendid interpretive and acting ability. Even "Daddy Long Legs" was convinced by her woman's charm and logic.

Mary Cameron, as Sallie McBride, was a regular college girl, jolly, clever and pretty. Her whole-hearted humor and wit saved many a situation. "Jimmy" McBride was always on hand when Judy was. Warner Oberly couldn't have been told from a real "Yak." His "Now well, I say" was irresistible.

Julia Pendleton, room-mate of Judy at college, was ably played by Mildred Peckham. Yes, Mildred was a member and fond of society, but she was as good as even. Even Jimmie felt for her mother.

Her mother, Lorna Dow, was an unobtrusive and "proper" as the occasion demanded.

Mrs. Lippett, Lila Kyser, and her numerous orphans, Virginia Davis, Alice Bieri, Ethel Stinton, Leona Denick, Thelma Dyk and Emil Roth, were irresistible. No words could describe the orphans' pranks and their mother's scolding. Her own children seemed upon their childish heads. From the audience came these words: "Ain't they the 'cutest' things!"

Mrs. Sample, Pendleton's childless nurse, was well impersonated by Mable Coulton. Her own and her own humor were truly motherly.

Other trustees of the John Grier Home were Donald McPherson, Wayne Springett and Edward Johnson.

Olive Grant as Carrie, the maid; Duane Keith as Orin, private secretary to Jervis Pendleton, and Russell Ward, as the butler, were thoroughly enjoyed.

While reviewing the splendid work of the Senior class, we would remember that this success came only after weeks of strenuous training. Miss Ruth Beethink, principal of Lowell High school, was the very efficient play director. For her own she has given of her time and ability in training these young people. This effort has not been wasted as those who witnessed the performance last week can testify. The Lowell High school is extremely fortunate in having on its teaching force a play director so capable as Miss Beethink has shown herself to be.

The excellent semi-professional way in which "Daddy Long Legs" was rendered Thursday and Friday nights by the class of 1923 is to be commended. Seniors, congratulations.

Gerald White is valedictorian of the Senior class with an average of 97.1%. Emil Roth was a close rival with an average of 96.9%. Next came Beatrice Pattison and Donald McPherson all have averages of 95% or over.

OBITUARY—GEO. W. BOUSS
George W. Bous was born in St. Plonsard, Canada, Oct. 14, 1861, died April 15, 1923.
He was married Nov. 20, 1874, to Mary Jane Woodcock, who died Nov. 7, 1901. To them were born six children—four of whom are still living: Mrs. Minnie Thomas, Thelma and Andrew of Grand Rapids and George of St. Louis. He came to Lowell in 1871 and settled on a farm where he has since resided. He was a pioneer blacksmith of this section of the country in which business he continued on until about 4 years ago when he had to be forced to retire. He was a member of the Grand Lodge and was highly respected in his town.

He was united in marriage to Mattie Fredrickson Sept. 22, 1902. He was a loving father and a devoted husband. Through all his life he was a very patient sufferer, always cheerful and looking on the bright side of life and never complaining. He and Mattie were married for many a long day to come.

Mr. Bous is survived by his wife, who devoted herself entirely to his comfort during his last illness, and a number of relatives. Mrs. Thelma of Grand Rapids and sister-in-law of George and Andrew, wife of that city, and George J. of Lowell.

Funeral services were held from the home on Wednesday afternoon when the body was taken to the John Grier Home, of Chicago, as stated by Rev. H. H. Bous of Lowell. The funeral home of which he was an old member, conducted services in the residence in Ash Wood street, Grand Rapids. Interment in Wood cemetery.

CLEAN-UP DAY
Tuesday, May 1, is the day set for clean-up day. Have your rubbish taken by the city or a private contractor. Also have the road clear to your own place. Co-operate in keeping a clean town. Let's all be ready.

By Order of Commission Council.

NEW INDUSTRY UNDER WAY AT LOWELL FACTORY OF YPSI-REED COMPANY

The making of reed baby cabs at the Lowell branch factory of the Ypsilanti Reed Furniture company is under way.

Being a new process of manufacture in the Lowell factory, the work has to be learned from start to finish and necessarily must go slowly at first until all hands are initiated and drilled.

The reed chair work formerly done here is all completed and out of the way and the deck is cleared for action.

Local Manager F. J. Jacobi is enthusiastic over the new line and feels that prospects are bright for the new business, saying that "There's a new baby born every minute." The scribbles informed Fred that he was misquoting it that should be "There's a new sucker born every minute" but we agreed with him that they mean the same thing any way.

The reed baby cabs will be turned out in several styles, with metallic wheels and rubber-tired wooden wheels, to suit the tastes and desires of purchasers from Maine to California and from the Lakes to the Gulf.

Here's "Long life, health, wealth and happiness to the Ypsilanti Reed Baby Cab factory and may it rival the Lowell Specialty company in spreading the name and fame of Lowell throughout the world. We couldn't wish it better.

60 JURORS ARE DRAWN BY KENT COMMISSION

At a meeting Friday afternoon of the Kent county jury commission, a panel of 60 jurors, one from each township and 12 from each ward, was drawn. The panel includes the following:

Quinlan, Cananda; Charles Roberts, Courtland; Alvah Pease, Gaines; Glen Martin, Grand Rapids; Louis Emmons, Gratian; R. B. Boylan, Lowell; Mat Elder, Nelson; Platte Reilly, Onsted; John Mendenhall, Paris; Charles Graham, Plainfield; E. G. Rice, Solon; William Goodfellow, Sparta; G. B. Rannussen, Spencer; William Stream, Tyrone; Delbert London, Vergennes; Mrs. C. M. Dowler, Walker; Henry R. Paul, Wyoming.

FARM BUREAU WINS SUIT—JURY OUT 45 MINUTES

It took a jury in Judge Dunham's Court only 45 minutes to bring in a verdict in favor of the Michigan State Farm Bureau when the latter brought suit against E. K. Jones of Cascade Township for the collection of his membership dues to the State and County Farm Bureau. The defendant refused to pay claiming a fraud. This was based on his statement that the solicitor procured a warehouse at Fox Station. Mr. Fred Raymond, Grand Rapids Attorney, handled the case for the Farm Bureau.—Farm Bureau News.

10:30, a. m. Independence—Fidelity or Fact? How quickly the average American would meet the charge that we are not an independent people. But are we? Independence means more than the privilege of voting. Let us consider just how independent we are.

7:30, p. m. Saul. The story of Saul's life is one of unusual interest. A most kindly character we find him making shipwreck of at life. A great lesson will be found in the study.

Band No. 2 meets with Mrs. F. E. White Friday, April 27. Mrs. White and Mrs. Vanlyke will serve tea.

The Congregational Ladies' Aid gave an experience social Thursday evening, April 19, at which time the strange experiences of our members were revealed to the amusement of those present. And if the people of Lowell could remember which were which and who were who, there would be no need for bakers in this town. And our poets were as numerous as our dollars. Refreshments of hot maple syrup and muffins were served.

Methodist Church
"The happiness you get in church on Sunday is a tonic for the whole week."

The Phila A. Clark circle meets in the church parlors Friday afternoon, April 27. Light refreshments will be served. Every one invited.

During the opening exercises of Sunday school last Sunday, Mrs. Foster gave a very interesting report of the County Sunday school convention recently held in Grand Rapids and brought back to her own school many helpful suggestions.

The thirty-second annual convention of the Woman's Home Missionary society will be held at the First Methodist church, Grand Rapids, May 3-5.

Plans are being made for the observance of Mother's Day, May 13, and other gatherings during Mother's and Daughter's week.

The music last Sunday morning was an anthem, "Lead Us, Oh Father," sung by a quartet and a solo, "The Shepherd King," by Mrs. P. C. Peckham. During the evening service, eight of the most familiar hymns were sung. A vote was then taken to find which was the favorite, "Jesus Lover of My Soul," a hymn written about 175 years ago by Chas. Wesley, received more than three times as many votes as any other.

All present at the Euodian class meeting last Friday had an enjoyable time. The report of the flower committee showed much work done along that line. A letter of appreciation was read concerning the work of a teacher in a boys' school, North Africa, which this class helps regularly. As this was the April meeting, the month we naturally expect showers, each told experiences during a hard rain storm which were very interesting. Then papers of rainbow shapes were distributed and on each was written a wish for someone present. Refreshments were served.

Clover Leaf Club
Tuesday, April 17, the Clover Leaf club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Goffredson.

The Saranac Woman's club were guests at the following delightful and interesting program. Mrs. Barber, chairman, responded to the welcome given by Mrs. P. C. Peckham and introduced Miss Johnson who gave two piano solos, "Militaire Polonoise" and "Hungary." Mrs. Kelly gave a reading "The Church Organ." Miss Josephine Greenwalt danced "The Gypsy Dance."

Mrs. Fred Raymond gave readings, "The Darkies' Evening Meeting" and "Mathilda's Experience with Summer Boarders."

Little Miss Mabel Patrick delighted the audience with two recitations, "Neighbors" and "Ma and her Oujia Board."

Solo, "I hear a Thrush at Eve" sung by Miss Johnson, who responded to an encore with "My Little Birdie."

Mrs. Barber sang two solos, "Pale Moon" and "No Limit," after which the program committee, of which Mrs. P. C. Peckham is chairman, served delicious refreshments.—(Con.)

A special meeting of the Clover Leaf club has been called by the board of directors for Tuesday, May 1, at 2 p. m., at the City State bank. Come. The call of the meeting is important.—Com.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY
"Serve Others" seemed to be the slogan of the meeting of the Auxiliary of the American Legion held at City hall on Monday evening at eight o'clock. Welfare work is being carried on in several channels where illness or trouble are making the road a bit rough just now. We do not boast of help rendered; all we give is given in the spirit of our boys who gave their all for us. We want merely to serve where aid is needed most.

The auxiliary will make six bath-tubs and six pairs of pajamas for the patients at Revere's hospital. This work will be started this week in all probability, so if you can help please let our president or Mrs. Kellogg know.

A new bookkeeping system has been set up for use of the officers in our auxiliary. It will simplify the work of our record keepers and make search of past records a much more simple matter.

It was time to see the splendid structure of this meeting. For at the last few meetings the number was so few. Come again, folks, and bring a new member or an absence with you. Always room for one more. Help us to have a big crowd. We had the first Monday in May, so let's all be there on time.

A party was on Memorial day with show that you have not forgotten those who were "Over There."

ATTENTION, AMERICAN LEGION AND AUXILIARY
At the next regular meeting, May 7, at 8:30 p. m., the ladies of the Auxiliary will serve coffee and cake to the members of the legion and the ladies of the auxiliary. To help us to do this we need your help. Please help us to have a big crowd. We had the first Monday in May, so let's all be there on time.

Big pots are being filled while present stock lots at Wecking's.

Proud of the Job

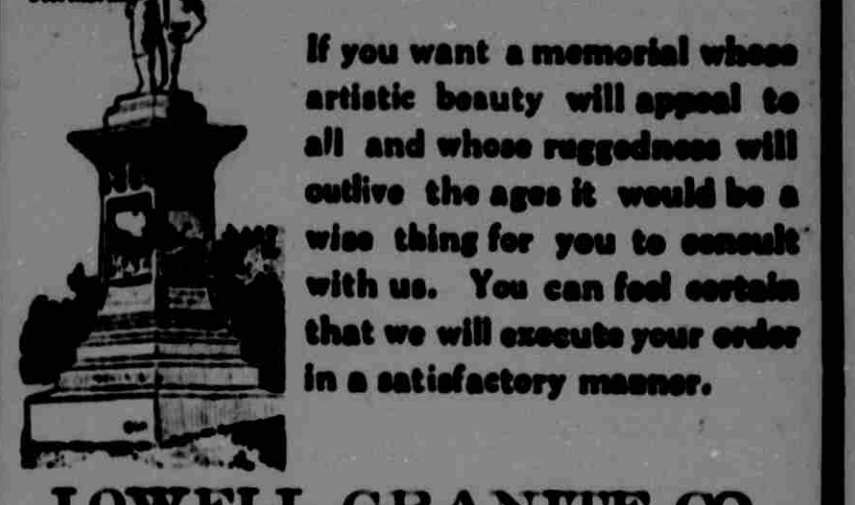

The self-made man is usually proud of the job. That is only natural. He has a right to be.

If he has made a success of his life, he has something to be proud of. If he started with nothing and won his own way, he is entitled to pat himself on the back. No doubt early in life he opened a savings account at the bank and worked, saved and sacrificed until things began to come his way. The same road is open to you. Follow it. Our bank will do it's part.

OBITUARY—FLORA JEAN KNAPP
Mrs. Flora Jean Knapp (nee Rueggesser) was born September 4, 1890, at Alton, Vergennes township, Mich. October 3, 1914, she was united in marriage to Charles Knapp. About ten weeks ago she became ill and was taken to Hodge hospital in Grand Rapids. In spite of the best care and medical attendance it was soon realized that her condition was serious. April 17, 1923, at 10:30 a. m., she quietly passed away at the age of 24 years, seven months and 16 days.
She is survived by her seven-year-old son, James Lyman, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Rueggesser, four brothers, Jacob, Jr., of Alto, John, Leo and Frank of Lowell, and five sisters, Mrs. Harry Mead of Lowell, Martha and Edith of Grand Rapids, and Clara and Eva of Lowell. Funeral services were held Tuesday, April 20, at the Zion German M. E. church, Rev. J. J. Link officiating. Interment at Oakwood cemetery.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to extend our many thanks to our friends and neighbors for their services and Rev. Link for his comforting words and the beautiful singing, flowers and other kind things shown us during the loss of our dear daughter and sister.
Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Rueggesser Brothers and Sisters.

GRATTAN FARMER TAKEN
Frank McCormick, age 58 years, died very suddenly near his home April 13. Mr. McCormick had been to the home of a neighbor and was on his way home when taken, and the whole community was shocked to learn of his sudden death.
He had spent nearly all his life on his farm at Grattan. He was a kind and good neighbor and friend to all and had been a help to all who had sorrow and distress in their homes where he lived.
He leaves to mourn their loss his widow, Mrs. Mary McCormick, three sons, M. J., who is at home, William of Greenville, and Francis of Grand Rapids, two daughters, Mrs. Evelyn Malone of Grattan Center and Mrs. Marguerite McGinnis of Grand Rapids, one sister, Mrs. Lillian Evans of Grand Rapids, and a brother Michael McCormick of Grand Rapids, and five grandchildren.
Funeral services were held Monday morning at St. Patrick's church, Parnell; Rev. D. J. Behan officiating, and burial in Parnell cemetery.

CARD OF THANKS
We thank our friends and neighbors for their kindness shown us at the time of the death of our dear husband and father.
