Twilight

The most beautiful part of a sunset is the afterglow. That mystic moment when all the laws of nature seem suspended and the creeping darkness and the fleeting daylight pause in their flight—Twilight.

We think, surely, that all the beautiful dreams of life, all that arduous or worth while have been woven at twilight, and almost gladly we look forward to the twilight of life, to the days that grow short and to the little cot at the side of the road where we hope to meet it.

The thought gladdens the heart of him who in his youth has practiced thrift—methodically and consistently. Make the twilight of your life a happy one.

EVANGELISTIC TENT MEETINGS

Many now living will see Jesus coming in the clouds of heaven with power and great glory attended by a retinue of holy angels, declared Evangelist Robert L. Boothby last Sunday evening in his tent at Chautauqua tent before an intensely interested audience.

The speaker based his remarks on the twenty-fourth chapter of Matthew. He read from the twenty-ninth verse: "how God had foretold the darkening of the sun and moon which was fulfilled May 19, 1780 and the falling of the stars Nov. 13, 1833. Several statements from history were read to prove without question that these signs were remarkably fulfilled as God has predicted.

Then Mr. Boothby read as follows: "Now learn a parable of the fig tree when its branch is yet tender and putteth forth leaves ye know that summer is nigh, so likewise ye, when ye see all of these things come to pass then know that His coming is near even at the door." God said when the signs of the darkening of the sun and moon and the falling of the stars were fulfilled that His coming is near even at the door.

The evangelist said we are not to set any date for the work to come but on the other hand any Bible student has a right to know that all the prophecies relative to Jesus return are being fulfilled and that it is time to prepare to meet the "King of Kings."

The Lord marks out the time of His coming even more definitely. "Verily, verily, I say unto you this generation shall not pass until all these things be fulfilled." The prophecies makes plain that the generation here spoken of were those who witnessed the signs spoken of in the previous part of the chapter. It has been over ninety years since the stars fell and that generation is getting old and grey. Each week the numbers are thinning out. Yet God's word never fails and Jesus will come before the generation has passed away.

A solemn appeal was made on the strength of the words, "Then shall two be in the field, the one shall be taken and the other left." The women shall be grinding at the mill, the one shall be taken and the other left." May the Lord help us all to be ready to be taken home.

The evangelist announces another intensely interesting lecture Sunday evening, "The Doom of the Bloody Turk and Another World Explosion: What will happen when the Turk leaves Europe?"

The subjects for Thursday and Friday evenings are as follows: "Does God Appoint the Catholic Priests?" and "Court Week in Heaven." If an angel come to Lowell what message would he bring?

There will be solo, quartet and orchestra music Sunday evening, also good music during the week.

Mr. Loisinger, the representative of the anti-fascism league will deliver an address Sunday at 3 o'clock on the "Prohibition Enforcement."

LOWELL SCOPED IONIA 3 TO 0. The Lowell ball tossers in their game with Ionia last Thursday afternoon, treated a goodly crowd with a good specimen of the best American sport and sent the visitors home with a goose egg for supper. Score 3 to 0.

If Lowell wants week-day games, it would be a good idea to patronize them when offered.

This time the experiment of a game at 5:30 was tried. Probably the temptation of the baseball game was too much for some hungry people.

LOWELL NINE HAS EASY TIME BEATING PARNELL. Lowell's newly reorganized baseball team with George Burns on the mound had an easy time taking over the Parnell outfit Sunday afternoon, 11 to 0. The Lowell twirler pitched a no-hit, no-run game up until the sixth frame, when large errors, one by batsman and two singles allowed the opponents to score their only four runs. Frank Bills, outfielder, and Bill Sherman, third baseman, shared with occasional catches.

NOTICE: As per my advertisement elsewhere in this paper, all accounts due me must be either paid or arranged for not later than August 1st. All bills not taken care of by that date will be turned over to a collector. Elmer S. White.

VACCINATION NOTICE: Smallpox being prevalent in several places in Michigan, the people of Lowell will be benefited by the hereby notified of the advisability of a general vaccination in order to protect our community from the scourge and our people are earnestly advised to give the request for the public health. A. H. Anderson, Health Officer. Lowell, Mich., June 17, 1924.

J. K. FISHER BURIED HERE

Jasper K. Fisher, a former old resident of Lowell, died of apoplexy at his home in Detroit, June 22, aged 78 years. Funeral services were held at Yetter's chapel, Lowell June 24, under the auspices of Lowell Lodge, No. 115, I. O. O. F., of which Mr. Fisher was a member for many years. Burial at Oakwood cemetery, beside the wife, Alice K., who passed away June 27, 1915, Rev. H. H. Harris officiating clergyman.

Mr. Fisher was born January 28, 1845, near Godrich, Ontario, and came to Lowell in 1885. Here he was identified for any years with the Lowell Cutter company.

In 1911 the family moved to Detroit where he since been connected with the Fisher Body corporation.

His death came very peacefully. His sons Charles G. of Evanston, Ill., in reference to the death of Gerald Morris and to a settlement made between his administrator and the Village of Lowell.

This article gave the impression that Mr. and Mrs. Morris, the parents of a child, had a claim against the Village of Lowell and were threatening to start a suit.

In justice to Mr. and Mrs. Morris, we wish to make this statement: These never made any claim against the Village; never threatened a suit and never charged the Village with any blame in the matter. The Village desired to pay the funeral expenses and doctor bill of this little boy. The only legal way this could be done was by appointment of an administrator and the settlement of the matter through the Probate court.

This statement is made in order to correct any misapprehension as to the attitude of Mr. and Mrs. Morris in the matter.

The Council of the Village of Lowell, by J. C. Smith, Village Clerk.

NOTICE TO USERS OF ELECTRICITY. The recent fire at Mr. Root's residence was caused by someone placing pennies back of fuse plugs to replace blown fuses. The practice of so using coins, wire, etc., for this purpose is a dangerous one, which this office has long tried to discourage. It is a safe statement to make that seventy-five per cent of electrically caused fires are due to improper fusing. In case of trouble call the office and have it repaired and properly fused.

DAILY VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL

Under the direction of the Kent county Sunday school association, there will be a daily vacation Bible school held in Lowell again this year. Because the entire budget to carry on the work of the association for this year was not raised, it is not conducting as many of these schools as formerly, thus, Lowell is one of the favored communities and the association is hoping appreciation will be shown by making it the best ever held here.

School begins Monday, June 30, will be held forenoons from nine to 11:45, five days a week for four weeks, closing Friday, July 25. This year in Lowell the school will be held in the Methodist church.

A five-fold program is carried on comprising worship, Bible study, music, expressive activity, and patriotism. The work will be in charge of two teachers, Mrs. H. H. Harris and Mrs. C. H. Horn.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH. The pastor's subjects for next Sunday will be: "The Wise Master Builder," "The Parable of the Wayside Inn."

Thursday evening service at 7:30. Subject, "The Book of Luke." Let us exceed last Thursday evening's attendance, which was the largest since starting these services.

Next Sunday morning the Masonic Order will observe Saint John's day by attending this church in a body. It is hoped that every Mason will put forth a sincere effort to be present. We ought to participate in this service, not only in honor of our patron saints, but for inspiration in our efforts to more fully live up to the teachings of our venerable order. A special invitation is extended, not only to the members of the order, but their families and friends. Services at 7:30.

Mr. King has very kindly invited the members of the Men's class to attend Park church the first Sunday in July and to be his guests at the Masonic Club house for dinner. A full list of names will be published in this paper.

Dr. F. E. White's talk at the Bible school last Sunday was well taken, when he urged the parents to bring their children to the preaching services. The morning service is kept strictly within the hour, so as not to weary those who attend both services. May we not have the joy and inspiration resulting from the presence of more children and young people at these services.

The chairman of the trustee board informed us last Sunday that funds were not coming in fast enough to meet our regular demands. They have sufficient pledged for this purpose but quite a number for reasons unknown, have overlooked this obligation. If all who have pledged would pay their subscription to date it would greatly facilitate matters. All such will appreciate the effort on the part of the church to meet its obligations promptly.

METHODIST CHURCH. "Your chance is now, and right where you are not a mile or a year away."

The subject for next Sunday morning will be "The World Owes to the Pioneer Preacher."

In the evening for the opening service the young people will tell of reading which has been helpful to them.

The State Epworth League institute which was to meet in Albion this week has been postponed for the present on account of the small-pox epidemic throughout the State.

That every child may have a greater opportunity to learn how to date and better know materials of worship such as scriptures, suitable hymns and prayers, vacation Bible schools are being organized in many places. Such a school has been held in Lowell for two years and plans are being made for another four weeks' course to begin next Monday, June 30.

The Ladies Aid society of the Bailey church will meet with Mrs. Orlando O'dell Thursday afternoon, June 26.

The Non-Believer. The non-believer is a man who sits the morning sunshine in and thinks by chance this world was made.

Chance chafed every planet's course by chance the summer follows spring.

Tomorrow chance might overthrow. Without confusion or mistake, there is a power which rules us all.

A better law we cannot break. An eye which sees the sparrow's fall.

In every twig and leaf and blade I see God's handiwork displayed.

Other worlds than ours are inhabited.

Some time ago, The Grand Rapids Herald editorially announced its belief that of billions of worlds in the universe, the earth is the only one inhabited.

In the Dearborn Independent for June 28th, in an article "When Man Earthed on Mars," the editor, Capt. J. J. See, U. S. N., Professor of Mathematics and Director of the United States Naval Observatory, says:

These planets, which roll in rhythmic order around the millions upon millions of fixed stars, are judged by the conditions that prevail upon their surfaces, considering their comparative distances from our earth, to be uninhabitable, or, at the best, uninhabited by creatures comparable with human beings.

It is our belief, however, that if we hold that all the billions upon billions of worlds which are uninhabited, we come to the obvious and certain conclusion that life on earth is an accident, may, more, or less, exist upon other planets.

It would be surprising if there were not other habitable worlds of space. This life becomes and is a general phenomenon of the universe.

We are glad of this confirmation of what we have long held as a true sense of vision and its Creator, by which our conception and adoration of both are infinitely increased.

OUR CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHTS. The first amendment to the constitution of the United States reads: Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the government for a redress of grievances.

Which that is most worth while for a free people is provided in that short paragraph and it is well to be reminded of it at this time: Free freedom of religion, freedom of speech, freedom of the press, the right of assembly, the right of petition.

The constitution of Michigan makes similar declaration. So it would seem that the rights of the people have been well secured by the fathers of the Republic and the State. Let us then, recognize the constitution of the United States and the constitution of this state—so help us God!

Recently, Dr. Butler, president of Columbian university, announced his nomination to the United States Senate. Let us then, recognize the constitution of the United States and the constitution of this state—so help us God!

Politics and the Railroads

To the present generation of Michigan Railroad men it is a grateful thought that this Peninsula commonwealth is appreciative of the fact that Railroad Service is today the best in Michigan history.

We know this appreciation by actual expressions—spoken and written—and by the gradual disappearance of that ancient hostility which featured an era of Railroad long past.

Most people realize that Railroad Service has been re-established despite laws which restrict management in every detail—laws which add huge burdens of expense to Railroad operation without assisting in any way toward Railroad progress or the development of Railroad Service.

Those who understand these facts give full credit for the achievement of Michigan's twenty-four steam Railroads and are prompt to resent selfish attacks on them. Before this defense—a defense based on facts—railroad assistance is becoming out of date, except for spasmodic revivals at election time, when office seekers, desperately fighting for votes, sometimes endeavor to turn Railroad abuse into political capital.

Railroads have small chance to meet such attacks. Railroad men are too busy furnishing transportation and conducting negotiations with the various Government boards and commissions which so closely supervise our every act. In this extremity we must rely on you to protect and defend us, and to insure us a square deal. Is this reliance well placed? Michigan Railroad Association 608 Railroad Exchange Bldg., Detroit, Mich.
