ANOTHER DAM IS PLANNED

WOULD BE LOCATED JUST ABOVE THE CASCADE BRIDGE

Sept. 12—The Thornapple river water power development project, sponsored by W. G. Yates, of this city, assumed large proportions yesterday when it was announced by his counsel, Attorney Cornelius Hofius, he has practically completed negotiations to obtain the permits obtained 20 years ago by the Cascade Electric company and the Grand Rapids Electric company to erect a dam just above the Cascade bridge at Cascade.

If the title to these flowage rights and to the property along the river held by these companies is found proper, it was stated it is quite likely this project will be linked with the power development contemplated by the permit, obtained from the board of supervisors a few weeks ago, to erect a dam with a 22-foot head across the Thornapple river near Ada.

The combined dams would develop about 8,000,000 k. w., making use of practically the entire river.

Never Began Construction
Grand Rapids Electric companies, composed largely of local stockholders, obtained a permit a score of years ago to develop the water power on the Cascade river in this county by placing a dam with a 22-foot head across the river about 1,000 feet above the Cascade bridge. The companies acquired the necessary property but construction was never begun.

Mr. Yates is completing the fabrication of the company which will build the dam and develop the power. He has engineers at work at the present time on the Ada dam project and it is possible, it is stated, he will ask a higher head at that point. Recently Mr. Yates completed an agreement disposing of problems arising in connection with roads and bridges. If the county takes over the Ada-Cascade Springs road, he has agreed to contribute $7,500 toward construction of a new bridge; if the county does not take over the road, he will give a similar amount to the township.—Grand Rapids Herald.

ROCKY FORT COTTAGE

The Manges have been spending the last two months at their new cottage "Rocky-Fort" on the shore of Lake Michigan, 16 miles north of Harbor Springs. The building was erected last Spring after plans designed by Ivan Swift, an artist of the Chippewa Cove Colony, assisted by Lester Mange. It is constructed of stone and weathered lumber after the fashion of a Swiss chalet, and looks out upon the lake on two sides and directly into primeval forest on the other two. Rather more roomy than many such summer homes, Mr. Mange insists it is an ideal place for the entertainment of guests—about the mammoth stone fireplace or at the massive dining table or in the roomy loft where a dozen can be comfortably housed.

The cottage is reached from the Old Trail or Lake Shore Drive through Chippewa Cove Woods. The family is expected to arrive home from their Summer outing this evening.

REV. HAYWARD'S 76th BIRTHDAY

On Friday afternoon, Ray Casner invited Rev. C. O. Hayward to go out to the gravel pit and they then went on out where they were spreading cement on the King's Highway, thus keeping him away from home while Mrs. Hayward and friends were preparing a surprise for him, that being his 76th birthday. Tables were set in the yard and over forty of his neighbors and friends gathered around these well laden tables. The evening was spent in visiting and enjoying the singing of Rev. and Mrs. Hayward and their daughters, Mrs. White and Mrs. Hathaway.

Mr. Hayward, in the years of his pastorate of the M. E. church and his residence here since, has made a large circle of friends, and all rejoice with him that on his 76th birthday he enjoys so good a degree of health and also that on his occasion he had with him his daughter, Mrs. Hathaway, who for over five years was seriously ill, but who was completely healed in direct answer to prayer. It was an occasion when it did all good to be present and rejoice with this father and mother, knowing as all did, the years of anxiety that they have had. He was remembered on this occasion and received a number of gifts and remembrances from his friends, but the one he will receive the most enjoyment out of, no doubt, will be from the radio set presented by his son-in-law, and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer White of Lowell.—Saranac Advertiser.

CUDDEBACK GET'S A BOOST

The Muskegon Chronicle has the following to say of the promotion of a former Lowell employe of the Grand Trunk company, now of the former city:

C. H. Cuddeback, who for three years has been local agent of the Grand Trunk railway, has been elevated to general agent in this city, and from now on will handle both positions. Mr. Cuddeback is the only man in Michigan in the road's employ who is now handling a double job.

The appointment was made after Mr. Cuddeback had virtually decided to go to Milwaukee to take the position of agent there. He was retained here because Muskegon shippers practically demanded it.

Mr. Cuddeback has been local agent here for three years, and during that time, the road's business has increased 500 per cent. It is now doing such a business as has justified its improvement of the branch along the Muskegon-Ashley division. The improvements over that period, which is to close this fall, will cost approximately $1,000,000, including the complete re-laying, extension of terminals and the constructions of many additional sidetracks.

In the new position, Mr. Cuddeback will handle many problems which heretofore had to be referred to higher officials, stationed in other cities and not as thoroughly familiar with questions as Mr. Cuddeback.

REV. L. H. NIXON RETURNS TO LOWELL

Rev. L. H. Nixon has been returned to the Lowell charge by the Michigan Methodist conference and will have charge of the services at that church as usual, next Sunday.

Rev. H. H. Harris is returned to Middleville and Rev. J. H. Westbrook to Kent City.

Reported that Rev. Charles Nease, on account of approaching blindness, will retire from the ministry and make his home in Grand Rapids.

Former District Superintendent W. F. Kendrick will be stationed at Ionia.

Rev. W. M. P. Jorrett returns to Upton Ave. church, Battle Creek and Rev. W. E. Ragan to Saranac and Keene.

Free advance notice of coming events to patrons of The Ledger's job printing department reaches 7,500 readers. Be Wise!

LILLIAN FAHRNI DEAD

Lillian W. Fahrni, adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Fahrni, was born Dec. 20, 1901. Departed this life Sept. 9, 1925, in Kalamazoo hospital of convulsions. Funeral service was conducted by Rev. Speer of Kalamazoo at that place. Burial there also.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks for the many kindnesses and sympathy, from our relatives, friends and neighbors, to our adopted daughter Lillian M. Fahrni. Mr. and Mrs. Sam Fahrni, [p16]

DOINGS OF THE LOWELL SCHOOLS

The Lowell Public schools, now in the third week of work, are well settled and under way for the year. The enrollment at the present time is as follows: Kindergarten, forenoon division 18; afternoon division 16; East Ward, grades 1 and 2, 45; grades 3 and 4, 40; West Ward, grades 1 and 2, 35; grades 3 and 4, 40; South Ward, grades 1 to 7, 30; Central Building, grade 5, 45; Junior High school, 7, 8 and 9, 149; Senior High school, 10, 11 and 12, 134. Total to date 591.

Six members of the Agricultural classes entered the Smith Hughes judging contests at the West Michigan fair. Teams were limited to three, and contestants only were eligible who had studied the corresponding work the previous year. Charles Baird, Merle Dawson and William Miller, composed the team judging vegetables. Aiden Cole, Edward Bennett and Stanley Moore composed the team judging grain and potatoes. No team could enter the stock judging contest as that subject is only offered here alternate years and last year was devoted to Soils and Agricultural Economics. The boys hope in another week to know the standing of the various teams.

The Animal Husbandry class starting out this year is first studying poultry. The boys would like some real laboratory work in the way of culling. Any one who would care to have the class try culling their flock, please notify the Agricultural department. We would be glad to do considerable culling this Fall.

The boys in the Field Crop class used a laboratory period in visiting some of the projects of some of the members.

The various high school classes are now electing officers, members to represent them upon the student council and choosing sponsors. The results will be published later.

The local football squad suffered a hard blow by the loss of Captain Schneider, star end, who after enrolling, decided not to attend the High school. However Coach Spangenberg and his proteges are working hard to make a team of green material to face the strongest schedule of many years. The schedule has just been increased in strength by adding Catholic Central of Grand Rapids for October 10th in place of Reed City, which was dated for Oct. 16. The most important thing to face at the present is the opening game with Grandville on the home field, Friday, Sept. 18.

On Monday of this week the varsity scrimmaged the alumni, composed mostly of the famous 1923 state champions and held them to a single touchdown. The varsity showed considerable strength on defense but sadly lacked the experience on offense. However with a few nights more of intensive training the lads should show considerable speed and team work in the first encounter.

Mrs. C. W. Lampkin, Mrs. C. A. Lee, Mrs. Elizabeth Bowen, daughter Lucile, were in Ionia, Monday.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
Rev. A. J. Blair, Pastor

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE
Sunday services are held at 11 o'clock over the Lowell State Bank. Subject of the Lesson sermon for Sept. 20, is "Matter."
Everyone cordially invited.

Congratulations are due the Michigan and Detroit Methodist Conferences for their action in repudiating the Peculiar Bird heresy charges against the Advocate editor and Dr. Lynn Hough of Detroit. Refreshing also, was the hearty applause in each, which notified the world that the Methodist church in Michigan is not in the heresy-hunting business.

Leslie Rieckner and family returned last Thursday from a visit with relatives in Sarnia, Ont.

New telephone directory books are being delivered to Lowell patrons of the Bell Telephone company. Charles Doyle of the King Milling Co., returned last evening from St. Louis, Mo., where he attended a convention of the Soft Wheat Millers association, of which he is a director.

The High school flag was at half-mast Tuesday, not because of a National calamity or death of noted public character, but because it stuck there, waiting for an athlete to climb the steel pole and release it. Mr. and Mrs. George H. Force, former old residents of Lowell, now of California, are occupying an apartment at Oakland Manor, Grand Rapids, during September. Mr. Force was in Lowell one day last week and with Mrs. Force will return soon for a week with Lowell friends.

The baseball game at Bonaqua park, Sunday, was attended by quite a number of Parnell folks, who reported it well worth attending.

Justin McCarthy expects to be driving a new coupe right pronto.

Some of our baseball fans have been mourning over the fact that no ball game was booked for Sunday. Never mind, fans, our battery is trying to recuperate after the shock of their victory of September 7.

Some of the bean kings of this vicinity were beginning to think they were on the receiving end of disaster the past week during the rainy season.

A number of people from here attended the Boyton picnic at Crooked Lake, Saturday. They report a good crowd and fine time in spite of the sudden change in temperature.

Joseph Gahan of Grand Rapids is spending the week at the home of his parents, at Crooked Lake.

Catherine and Margaret Doyle of Grand Rapids visited relatives here over the week-end.

John Downes, Jr., of Detroit visited his parents over the week-end. We regret to say that J. Downes, Sr., is in very poor health at this writing.

Bernadette Loughlin has gone to Ypsilanti, where she will attend the Normal school, this term.

1837 FORD REUNION 1925
In 1837 Ira Ford and wife came to Michigan from Indiana and settled in Grattan, erecting the second house to be built in that township.

On September 6, 1925, 80 of his descendants held a reunion at Murray Lake, coming from Clarksville, Belding, Stanton, Lillie, Muskegon, Whitehall, Grand Rapids and many other points. Fred Ford was elected president, Cora Ford, secretary, and Glenn Ford treasurer. It was voted to hold the next reunion on Labor day, 1926, at Wabasis lake.

NOTICE

There seems to be a misunderstanding regarding the registration of fire-arms under the State Law recently passed. This law requires that all pistols, revolvers or guns under 30 inches in length, over all must be registered. Shot-guns, rifles, etc., need not be registered. Guns may be registered with the Sheriff of the County, or the Chief of Police of any incorporated city or village. The undersigned will be at the Township Clerk's Office for the purpose of registering fire-arms, for residents of the Village of Lowell, only.
