The Man Behind The Gun

It's the man behind the who makes it formidable; and it's the men behind a Bank who make it conservative. In all our business transactions this Bank seeks not popularity for itself, but safety for its depositors. We seek to be accommodating—we are always courteous—but the maintenance of our standards of conservatism are ever and always with us the first consideration.

If you admire standards of conservatism, may we be favored with your business and honored by a personal call?

Eyes naturally a bit weak are first to feel the change in seasons—especially into the bright sunlight of Spring and Summer, resulting in dull aching pains with danger always that the strain will be too great, resulting in actual injury to the vision.
Our service is not to put glasses on you if you do not need them, but by thorough and most scientific test of eyes to know the facts, present them to you and let you be the judge.

SENIOR PLAY ON NEXT WEEK

THERE'S A GOOD TIME COMING. "WEDDING BELLS," SENIOR PLAY, MAY 12-13—CITY HALL.

Wedding bells—Since Adam, wedding bells have made a universal appeal. "All the world loves a lover" always has been and always will be true.
The play is a joyous comedy in three acts. The "bells" are ringing for the wedding of Reggie Carter, when out of the past pops an inopportune lady to whom he had been married some time before in Santa Barbara. They had been stopping at the same hotel there and he had not seen her since. She is to be polished, and her dog "Pinkie" had chewed one of them. So they were married two days later. Anyhow, they later got into a dispute about red hair, or something, and off she went; he would have followed her, only—he got the measles! Well, in she comes and lures Reggie away from his bachelor dinner, breaks up the wedding by tipping off the clergyman that Reggie had been divorced, finds a new bridegroom for the bride; and the last you see of her, she looks for all the world as if she were to be the one who would use that other wedding journey ticket to Palm Beach.

"Wedding Bells" is a comedy of delight that never tires. The characters and lines are richly endowed with humor, and the situations are plausible, novel and wholesome. It will afford you an evening of pure and positive enjoyment.
The characters are:
Fuzisaki—A Japanese houseboy.
John Winslow—For whom the "bells" are ringing, Wilbur Claus.
Spencer Well—A Typical Englishman.
Reggie's best friend, Stanley Moore.
Jackson—An English valet, Forrest Buck.
Douglas Ordway—A poet, splendidly, hopelessly in love, Howard Peckham.
Marcia Hunter, the young bride to be, Evelyn Yeiter.
Mrs. Hunter, the dear good mother, Letha Yeiter.
Rosalie—Who, with "Pinkie" Aid, turns everything topsy turvy, Esther Bunker.
Hooper, Rosalie's sweet little English maid, Esther Bieri.
Don't miss "Wedding Bells!" Remember the dates—May 12 and 13.

DR. CORA A. MOON IS NEW KENT COUNTY AGENT.
Dr. Cora A. Moon, assistant county agent for four years, has been named by the state welfare commission to succeed Rev. C. O. Grieshaber as county agent. The commission at the same time appointed Supervisor Ira M. Dean, of Cascade township, member of the finance committee, to the place held by Dr. Moon. The appointees are to assume their new positions immediately.

Dr. Moon is a graduate of the University of Illinois. She had postgraduate work at Vienna and at Boston Psychopathic hospital. She served the government in the World War.

The welfare commission which met at Lansing deferred consideration of the matter of Mrs. Lavina Werft, 1107 Powers-av., N. W., until May 18, when it will meet in Grand Rapids. She conducted a home for babies. The commission is to look into the methods employed by Mrs. Werft in placing infants in homes. Mrs. Werft appeared at the meeting with Attorney Cornelius Holhus as counsel—(Grand Rapids Press).

Lowell Child is Bitten by Mad Dog

The 6-months old dog of Lester Rogers bit the little daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. R. Hawley last week, and later the dog was killed, and the head sent to Ann Arbor, and reports came that the dog had rabies. Mr. and Mrs. Hawley took the child to Ann Arbor for treatment. Walter Rogers was bit by the dog a few days before and is taking treatments sent from Ann Arbor to a local doctor. Monday night the Village Council issued an order that all dogs be closely confined or muzzled for a period of ninety days.

NOTICE—DOG QUARANTINE.
All dogs within the village of Lowell are hereby ordered to be strictly confined or securely muzzled for a period of ninety (90) days. All dogs at large contrary to this order will be killed or the owners prosecuted.
By order of the Board of Health. Dated May 2, 1927.

LOWELL WINS TRACK MEET.
Many citizens do not know that the High school boasts of a good track team and of a good base ball team. These sports are as important and as interesting as basketball. The first base ball game was won recently by a score of 21-4 and Lowell has found hopes of annexing county honors in this sport also. On Friday Grandville comes here for our second championship game.

Of course as far as track and cornered events is being planned for the big county meet which will be held here on June 3rd. In the meantime Coach Finch is rounding his boys into shape by participating in duels and in state meets. Last Friday Grand Rapids suffered a 75-32 defeat. The result of this meet lamely indicates that Lowell will be well represented in many of the events, especially in the discus and javelin throws and in some of the dash events. This week two or three of the boys will go to Kalamazoo.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY.
The regular meeting of the Auxiliary was held Monday at 8 o'clock in the City hall. The monthly bulletin was read and acted upon and plans were discussed for the poppy sales campaign on Memorial day. A son of one of the members has personally made and been paid for, about six thousand poppies, so we have assurance that our "Buddy-made" are a real help.

In answer to a telegram from National headquarters, ten dollars was voted to add to the relief fund for the Southern flood sufferers. Mrs. R. M. Shivel and Mrs. R. D. Hahn are the poppy sales committee and Mrs. W. H. Schneider and Mrs. Paul Krueger were appointed in charge of the benefit bridge party for the Lowell play ground fund. It is hoped to have the new kitchen ready for a pot luck supper at a regular meeting on the third Monday of May.

A STORY OF EARLY DAYS

WELL KNOWN LOWELL OLD RESIDENT TELLS OF PIONEER SOUTH BOSTON AND LOWELL.

MRS. HARRIET SHERMAN.
Mrs. Harriet Hatch-Sherman, 86, well known former resident of Boston township, who now resides with her son, George Sherman, in Grand Rapids, has written an interesting article for the News on historical incidents of many decades ago.

In a pleasing manner she describes the hardships and modes of living when the south part of Boston and Campbell townships was a vast wilderness.
She has many relatives in Lonia county and a host of friends. The homesteads mentioned in the story are on the new M-16 in Boston township, near the overhead bridge. Her story is as follows:
In the fall of 1843, my father, Harvey Hatch, with his family, left the town of Monroe, Ashland county, Ohio, for the far west Michigan. Friends and neighbors gathered at the old home to say goodbye, for they never expected to see us again. They all cried and felt bad, but after the last goodbye was said, with a crack of the whip and a "set-up" to the oxen, the covered wagon started on the long journey. The women and children rode, while the men walked and drove the cattle. I was only four and one half years old, so will write as I remember the happenings of the trip, and after arriving in Michigan, my Michigan.

A STORY OF EARLY DAYS

(Continued from last page.) They used to let an hoocher bring and myself out to pick swimmers whenever we were out on the lake. The wagons would soon be out of sight in the thick woods, then he would tell us we would not see the wagons again and that he would get us. Then he would tell us to stay in the wagon awhile, when I remember of hearing them tell me to stay in the wagon. I remember of hearing them tell me to stay in the wagon. I remember of hearing them tell me to stay in the wagon.

Here I must tell you a story about the Maumee swamp, several years later. It was told at the South Boston grange hall by an old lady from Lowell. She said they were driving from the State of New York to a place in Michigan called South Boston. When they reached the Maumee swamp they got stuck in the mud. They were there for several days, and they were very hungry. They had to eat what they could find in the swamp.

Well, to return to our journey, I think we were a little more tired and never turned back. The next morning I was up at five o'clock and hitched to the wrong end of the wagon. Well, to return to our journey, I think we were a little more tired and never turned back. The next morning I was up at five o'clock and hitched to the wrong end of the wagon.

What "Boosting Lowell" Means

"Boosting" is a good old Yankee word that means a great deal more than merely saying pleasant things about your town. "Boosting" means raising up our community to a higher plane of health, happiness and prosperity.

Real honest-to-goodness "Boosting" means that every citizen of Lowell must put his heart, soul and effort into the things necessary to raise our town to its highest civic level.

A Booster gives his full moral and material support to any movement that benefits his community.

He is faithful in his civic duties, for he recognizes the importance of an honest, efficient administration.

He lends his influence and support to our churches and schools, for he knows that these institutions are the builders of character in our children.

He does his part in keeping Lowell attractive, for a clean city suggests health and order to prospective citizens.

He buys merchandise from his home town merchants because of their efforts and contributions, pleasures and advantages which our community offers.

Every signer to this and the other community pages has pledged himself to earnest and active boosting for Lowell. And they urge you to co-operate with them in making our town one of the best for its size in the country.

We, the undersigned, Believers in LOWELL, heartily endorse the above: LOWELL, FIRST, LAST AND ALWAYS

IN MEMORIAM

—Memory, Life's shadow, holds forever to her heart the Beautiful that passed—

News of the sudden death of Florence Dean Sattler, in Grand Rapids, Michigan, was a great shock to all who knew her.

An illness of four days baffled physicians and terminated her earthly life—a brief life of twenty-six years—or so it seems—an eager and joyous life, filled with love and happiness. Who knows but she experienced in those short twenty-six years the full gamut of human emotion.

Born in Charlotte, Michigan, November 10, 1900, graduated from Charlotte High school, followed by a year and a half in the University of Michigan, and two years in Ohio college, from which she graduated in June, 1922. It was here that her happy romance with Howard Christman, at present principal of Grandville High school, began, and to whom she was married June 6, 1924, in Lansing, Michigan. Two years were spent as teacher of English and History in the Mason High school, and a year and a half as assistant at the Byerson Normal in Grand Rapids.

The record seems uneventful, but one must clothe this bare skeleton with the care-free days of childhood, sheltered by love of parents, the stimulating college days, cheerful in library work, and, lastly, her supreme happiness in her marriage.

She was warm-hearted and impulsive, sweet-natured and forgiving, abounding in good will and a keen zest for life.

Funeral services were held April 18, Rev. A. Hutchins, of Detroit, and Rev. W. H. Skelton, of Charlotte, officiating ceremonies; burial at Maple Hill cemetery, Charlotte.

Student Held Blameless for Thomas Death

Justice Harry L. Creswell Saturday dismissed the charge of negligent homicide made against Elmer Gee, 19, of Whitehall, Ypsilanti normal student, in connection with the accidental death of Charles Thomas, Cascade township farmer, on May 25.

The court in ruling that the young student should go free said: "There is no doubt the crime of negligent homicide was committed, but evidence in the case shows the crime was not committed by the respondent."

"The testimony was that the body of Thomas was lying between 18 feet and 75 feet, varying with the witnesses, beyond the point at which the respondent drove his car into the ditch."

Shows Third Vehicle.

"It appears the man was killed by one or the other of the trucks that were passing at the moment. There was plenty of evidence of a third vehicle. It is regrettable the automobile body truck said to have passed at the moment could not be identified."

Justice Creswell commended the action of Prosecutor Munshaw in taking the matter into court for judicial determination of the facts.

"It may have been a hardship on the respondent," said the justice, "but now he has the benefit of the record which clears him."

Thomas was struck and killed almost outright as he walked along the highway near his home, Gee and his mother, who was riding with him in a small sedan, related at the inquest that a smaller truck dodging around the long body truck, struck the aged man and drove on. When he saw the body in the road, Gee ditched his car to avoid striking it, he said. The third truck never was traced—Grand Rapids Press.
