DRUNKEN DRIVER HITS IT AT 60 MILES

DRUNKEN DRIVER USES MAIN STREETS FOR SPEEDWAY. ARRESTED AT IONIA AND GETS JAIL SENTENCE.

Speeding at a rate of sixty-five miles an hour in an intoxicated condition through the main street of the city, endangering scores of lives and disregarding traffic lights and regulations, Vern Fultz, 27, well known Ionia man, was arrested by Sheriff William "Moon" French Wednesday night about 5 o'clock and lodged in the county jail. Like a mad-man he tore through the street intersections with his hand on his horn frightening pedestrians and bringing hundreds to the streets from the stores and offices to see the excitement.

Not only did this happen in Ionia, but the same thing occurred in Saranac.

When arraigned in Justice Baerd's court, Thursday morning he demanded an examination, but later changed his mind and pleaded guilty. He was sentenced to the county jail for 30 days, fined $55 and $5 costs and his driver's license revoked for 90 days. This is considered a light sentence by those who saw him. The limit of 90 days in jail, fine of $100 and his license revoked for a year would have been none too much.—(Ionia County News.)

We expect this is the same wild man who hit a 60-mile pace through Main street, terrorizing every one on the road. Removing the speed limit is going to be a fine thing—in a horn, and let them blow it.

Decoration Day in Lowell Was Well Attended

Decoration day in Lowell was fittingly observed under the direction of Charles W. Clark Post, of the American Legion and no sports marred the sacredness of the day. The exercises at the Soldier's monument at Oakwood cemetery passed off successfully according to schedule, and the thoughtful address of Supt. W. W. Gumsier was closely and approvingly followed by a large concourse of people, among whom were a goodly number of faithful old-timers, who honor Memorial day and themselves by regular visits to the resting places of departed dear ones. And Oakwood never looked more beautiful.

Mr. Gumsier's oration was woven about Lincoln's Gettysburg address, giving its lessons a bearing on present day problems, with warnings against lawlessness and the American activities of Russian Reds who seek to destroy our government and all we hold dear.

We regret to report that flowers for the decorating of soldiers' graves were not provided in the quantity required.

This must be looked after better on future Memorial days.

M. S. C. in Throes of Elopement Epidemic

Lansing, May 26.—There is an epidemic of elopements among the students at Michigan State college and the state board of agriculture is considering steps to stop these marriages during the school year.

The eighth elopement by students to become public this year involves Miss Catherine McPherson, of Lowell, and Russell Davis, of Frankfort.

The marriage was announced here Wednesday afternoon by Melvin B. McPherson, a member of the state board of agriculture, and Mrs. McPherson, while they were visiting the young couple.

Married in Ohio.

"Catherine and Russell were married in Akron, O., last February," Mrs. McPherson said. "They told us of the marriage soon afterward but wanted to keep the secret until commencement week. We had planned to make a formal announcement at that time but now that the news has leaked out we make the announcement at this time."

Mrs. Davis is a sophomore and Mr. Davis a junior. They will continue their school work next year, Mr. McPherson announced.

The last elopement by students united Miss Peggy Green, daughter of Gov. and Mrs. Fred W. Green in marriage with Norval E. Tyrell, which occurred several weeks ago.

Others Married?

Mr. and Mrs. McPherson spoke highly of their new son-in-law, but expressed regret that the young couple had not waited until the conclusion of the school year. Davis is prominent in athletics at the college and Mrs. Davis is prominent in sorority circles.

Announcement of the marriage came as a surprise to many on the campus and it was being whispered that the eight known newlyweds are not the only ones who have skipped out of Michigan this year to avoid the five-day delay in issuance of marriage licenses. Other announcements during commencement week will be made, it is said.—(Grand Rapids Press.)

JURY FINDS KEHOE "SANE"

DESTRUCTION OF BATH SCHOOL WAS "PREMEDITATED AND DELIBERATE PLAN." FAS-TENS BLAME ON FARMER.

Bath, May 25.—(A.P.)—The coroner's jury, which had listened for three days to testimony of more than two score witnesses to the destruction of the Bath township consolidated schoolhouse, Wednesday, May 18, found that the collapse of the building resulted from a premeditated and deliberate plan by Andrew Kehoe, Clinton farmer.

The jury also found that Kehoe had set fire to his farm, caused the destruction of his delivery truck with the consequent death of himself, Emery E. Huyek, superintendent of the school; Glenn O. Smith and his farm buildings in Bath township, and on Nov. 18 or 19, 1927, he purchased two boxes of Hercules 40 per cent dynamite in Lansing, and that thereafter, he bought dynamite from the Bath school and having a key to the school buildings, and having had free access to said building, he placed the pyrolyt in 30-pound sacks, which were laid in pairs under the next part of the pyrolyt in the school building, and he caused the explosion through which the dynamite and pyrolyt were forced by long sticks, the conductor pipe running parallel with the joist of the flooring; that the dynamite and pyrolyt was connected with electric wires, which in turn were connected with an alarm clock concealed in the sub-basement of the building; that all of the pyrolyt and dynamite and wiring and other things in connection therewith were concealed so that they could not be found without a search therefor.

"That Kehoe set the clock to explode in his car and pyrolyt at about 9:15 a. m., on May 18, and that about 9:45 a. m., on that day a portion of the building and pyrolyt did explode.

"That the deaths of children and teachers, caused by the collapse of the school building, resulted from a premeditated and deliberate plan laid by Andrew P. Kehoe.

"That at some time between the evening of May 17, 1927, and 4:15 a. m., on May 18, 1927, he murdered his wife at their farm home, and placed her body on a log chute located in his farm barn. That on May 18 at about 9:45 a. m. Kehoe deliberately set fire to all of the buildings on his farm, except the poultry house, and that the buildings were ignited by means of an electrical circuit connected with an electrical coil, which in turn was connected with dynamite and automobile spark plug and an electrical part which caused oil or gasoline to be ignited and that Nellie Kehoe's body was burned at the time the buildings burned.

"That Kehoe caused his delivery truck to be blown up by the use of explosives and that at that time, which was about 10:10 a. m., he deliberately and by means of the explosion in his car caused the death of Emery Huyek, Glenn O. Smith and Nelson McParren who were standing near, and that said Kehoe there committed suicide, he being killed by the explosion.

"We find that the said Andrew P. Kehoe was sane at all times and so conducted himself and concealed his operations that there was no cause to suspicion of any of the above acts and we further find that the school board and Frank Smith, janitor of the school building were not negligent in and about their duties, and were not guilty of any negligence in not discovering said plan.—(Grand Rapids Herald.)

Efficient Home First Aid.

Efficient first aid at home has avoided many a big doctor bill, eliminated suffering and has saved many lives. The small cut, burn, scratch or seemingly trivial injury can easily develop into a serious case through infection, if not attended to promptly, especially in hot weather. The home medicine chest well stocked is a precaution or guarantee against needless suffering—and every home should be so equipped.

Maybe This Explains How Sales Are Made

From the inner office of the palatial quarters of Solson and company, deep in the heart of the city, a young man in a dark suit and a white shirt was sitting at a desk. He was looking at a stack of papers and a telephone was ringing. He picked up the receiver and spoke into it. He was talking to a woman who was on the other end of the line. He was explaining to her how sales are made. He was telling her about the importance of customer service and how to build a strong relationship with your clients. He was sharing his secrets with her and she was listening intently.

Removal of Old Ones From Rear to Front Advised to Aid Strain.

"If the total power of the motor in an automobile is 100, it is absorbed by the front wheels, 60 per cent, and the rear wheels, 40 per cent. This is the normal condition of the motor. When the rear wheels are worn, the front wheels will do more work, and the motor will be strained. To prolong the life of the tires, it is advised to remove the old tires from the rear and put them on the front. This will allow the front tires to do more work and the rear tires to do less work. This will help to prolong the life of the tires and reduce the strain on the motor.

Keep Faith with Those Who Trust You!

What is the thing that makes a merchant sell you goods without the cash in his hand—the doctor come in response to your urgent call without a word of pay—the tradesman do your work without immediate payment?

It is FAITH—Faith in your desire to pay for goods bought or services rendered—Faith in your ability to pay when you promise.

Without Faith, the world would still be in the darkness of centuries ago. Without it, the commerce of today would be cut to one-thousandth of its present volume.

Your merchants and professional men trust you according to your past record on paying bills promptly. That trust will be continued so long as you continue to respect the confidence that is placed in you.

If you owe someone, do your best to pay on time. If some unforeseen circumstance arises to prevent prompt payment of a bill, be frank with your merchant or professional man. You'll find him human, sympathetic and willing to be a real friend to you.

Above all, never ignore bills or statements sent you. Pay them or have understandings about them. Your credit reputation is too important to be negligent of your obligations.

KEEP FAITH with those who trust you!

With the Clock Turned Back

By COURTNEY RYLEY COOPER

Old Brent was a grouch. Business had made him so. He never had had time to be a boy, to be a youth, to get married or do anything else except make money. The doctors read him a sentence which was to drop everything and get back to nature unless he desired to wear a wooden overcoat and be the chief figure in a funeral.

Read the laughable and thrilling experiences of Brent while he was trying to learn how to turn back the clock.

One Mash to Start Your Chicks and Grow Them

For many years poultrymen have paid needlessly high prices for special chick starters for use in the first few weeks of the chick's life, after which they shifted over to growing mash.

Experience has definitely proven that one mash can supply all of the requirements of the young chick as well as the growing chick. The formula of Amco Starting and Growing Mash has been carefully worked out to meet all of these requirements.

This public formula feed has been used for the past three years in some of the largest poultry sections of the east with uniformly good results. Mortality in the neighborhood of 5 per cent has been the rule among users of this formula, other conditions being normal.

Amco-mixed feeds are priced low, quality considered. They will become cheaper as the volume grows for the savings which result from large volume mixing will be passed on to patrons.
