OLDEST BUSINESS MAN PASSES ON

A. D. OLIVER, 47 YEARS IN LOWELL TRADE, WAS VICTIM OF STROKE MONDAY. MASONIC BURIAL.

Albert D. Oliver, Lowell's oldest business man, in years of continuous service, died Monday at his home at 3:15 p. m., surviving a stroke of apoplexy received at his store two hours before, aged 67 years.

Funeral services were held at his late home at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday, Rev. H. H. Harris, officiating clergyman; burial in the family lot at Oakwood cemetery under Masonic auspices.

Albert Oliver, son of Daniel and Sarah Oliver, was born in Schenck, England, March 19, 1860, and came with his parents to Lowell at the age of 12 years.

After finishing school he entered the jewelry store of I. E. Strong to learn the watch-makers trade and started in business for himself in 1880, continuing in the same until his death, Aug. 1, 1927.

He was married in April, 1883, to Kate Ferwagner, who survives him. Three sons were born to this union, all of whom have preceded him in death: Sidney, at the age of fourteen months; Floyd at 30 years and Herbert at 20 years. Thus, Mr. Oliver is the last of his line.

Mr. Oliver was a member of the Lowell Methodist church, of Lowell Lodge, F. & A. M., of Hooker Chapter, of De Molai Commandery Knights Templar, and of Cyclamen Chapter, O. E. S.

Mr. Oliver was one of Lowell's best informed citizens. He was an untiring reader of good literature, and his intellect expanded with his reading. He was not of an argumentative disposition, but had decided opinions upon the questions of the day and the ability to express them.

Through his long business connections his store was the meeting place of former Lowell people on returning visits and they always received a warm greeting from Mr. Oliver.

This separation removed one of The Ledger's earliest and most loyal friends, a good neighbor, and a wise counsellor.

More Children Wanted at the Playground

It has been said before, and it is well to say again that Lowell does not fully appreciate the excellent parks owned by the village. Visitors are as one in their praises of the three plots of ground which belong to the people of Lowell. Prophets are not recognized in their own home towns. And frequently, civic advantages are not fully appreciated by the home town citizen. It is safe to state, without fear of contradiction, that Lowell possesses the finest possibilities for community spirit of any town in Michigan of like size. The city hall is something of which we should all be proud. The Board of Trade, recognizing no spirit of jealousy, and only striving to do something worth while for the village, is a unique organization and one of which we can all be proud. The village officers are ever alert to serve the people. The other organizations are also as one in the effort to make Lowell a bigger and happier town. And we should continue to do these things, and appreciate what is being done by the others for the common good.

To the Board of Trade goes the honor of suggesting suitable recreational facilities for young and old. This trade body also has financed the project to a great extent. To the council, American Legion, and other boosters, the village owes a vote of thanks. The ball park has been transformed into a playground of which we can all be proud. This place affords pleasant hours for every one. The men can play ball, tennis, volley ball, basketball and other games. There are many more games for the children. There are games for the ladies also.

The best training for democracy is play. The children of this village are ever watching the interests of the child, just as they do in the class room. And yet they see to it that the children have a good time. Parents do well to send their children to the playground several times a week or as many times as they wish. They are indebted to no one for this except the community. At times there have been more than fifty youngsters on the grounds at one time but there should be more. There are games for all and properly supervised.

FRANK HINE SLEEPS AT OAKWOOD

WELL-KNOWN GRAND RAPIDS ATTORNEY, FORMER LOWELL BOY, GONE ON AHEAD. HE WILL BE MISSED.

Genial, jovial, lovable Frank W. Hine has left us and Lowell has lost one of its most loyal sons of other days.

Always a familiar figure at the annual Memorial day gatherings at Oakwood cemetery, his smiling face was one that others expected to see and they were seldom disappointed. The several Lowell Home-Comings found in him an ardent advocate and promoter. Probably one of the brightest spots in his life was the old school reunion at the Home-Coming one year ago and he did much to make it a happy occasion for others.

On the occasion of the last Fourth of July picnic he was on hand as usual greeting old friends with his happy smile.

He was one of The Ledger's oldest and most steadfast friends and it is hard to realize that he has gone. We like many friends still older, will miss him, while we linger awhile longer to carry on in the old town as best we can.

The following from Sunday's Grand Rapids Herald tells the story that brought a shock and a pang to many old Lowell friends; a few of whom gathered at Oakwood cemetery Monday to see the mortal remains of a good friend laid to his last rest with those he loved best:

Frank W. Hine, a member of the Kent county bar for nearly four decades and for many years chief deputy collector of internal revenue for the western Michigan district, was found dead yesterday morning on the farm of Alty, Fred A. Maynard, on the lower Butterworth rd. He had been spending a few days there with Mr. Maynard, a long-time friend.

Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the residence, 105 Auburn ave., SE. Burial will be in Lowell.

Thursday evening Mr. Maynard entertained a few friends in his home and after the departure of the guests he and Mr. Hine chatted for some time in the kitchen. When Mr. Hine did not appear next morning, Mr. Maynard presumed he had received a business call and departed hurriedly for the city. Yesterday morning on employ on a nearby farm, farm went into the Maynard barn and discovered Mr. Hine's body suspended from a rafter.

Born in Lowell, Mr. Hine was Lowell 65 years ago and had resided in Kent county all his life. He was graduated from the law department of the University of Michigan and received here to take up the practice of the profession. He served as probate register under Judge Henry D. Jewell and with the appointment of E. J. Doyle as collector, he entered the internal revenue department, serving in that position until the incumbency of Mr. Doyle and continuing as chief deputy when Chas. Holden became collector.

Mr. Hine was regarded as an expert in federal taxation and many times during his service with the government the Grand Rapids office was commended by the department in Washington for its efficiency in handling the intricate administration of the federal income tax law. Mr. Hine was held in high esteem by his associates in the office.

After the consolidation of the western Michigan revenue office with the Detroit district, Mr. Hine continued for a time in the service of the government, handling some special field work in a group of counties in the state.

Declined Detroit offer.

He was invited to become attached to the Detroit office but he was loath to leave his old home and friends and resigned from the federal service. July 1, he became associated with the law firm of Jewell, Messenger & Faye as a specialist in federal taxation matters and was rapidly becoming established in his new field.

For the last two years Mr. Hine had not been in robust health, but he declined to permit this condition to interrupt his business and social activities. He had a large circle of warm friends with whom he frequently gathered for social enjoyment. He was an adept at whist and his skill at the game won him many medals in competition with the best players in the county. Two years ago he was president of the American Whist association and acted as host at the annual tournament in Chicago.

Mrs. Hine died several years ago and one daughter, Emily, now Mrs. C. Bennett Ainsworth, a specialist in federal taxation matters and was rapidly becoming established in his new field.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Emerson and son, Arthur Percce, of Grand Rapids, spent Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Charles. Mrs. Ray Percce and daughter Betty, who had been guests at the Charles home for a few days returned home with them.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Beltes and son, Arthur George, of Grand Rapids, and Mr. and Mrs. C. Spaulding, of Rochester, New York, were called to the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Charles and Mr. and Mrs. Russel Beltes.

B. B. Averill, of Aberdeen, Washington, a brother of Mrs. Lee Edson, and Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Daugherty, of Orlando, Fla., have been recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Edson. Mrs. Daugherty is Mrs. Edson's sister.

Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Blair are spending two weeks with relatives in Canada, going home with Mrs. Blair's sister and her two daughters who have been guests at the Blair home.

Mrs. Mary Norton, of Belding, has been visiting her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kilgus.

LOWELL'S PROSPERITY MATTER OF CO-OPERATION

Prosperity a Condition of Mind and Controlled by the Public's Attitude, Says Boosting Committee.

The people of Lowell have the town's prosperity in their hands, according to the tenth community-boosting advertisement of the local merchants and professional people.

Individual effort is the thing that counts in the building of a city for a larger and better Lowell.

It is true that prosperity must be born in the public mind. While there is a certain amount of growth in population...

We can give our individual co-operation—morally, physically and financially—to any movement that is going to mean better things or help for living conditions for ourselves.

We can help wonderfully in this way by our home merchants in order that they may progress more rapidly and be better able to meet the needs of our community.

It's simply a case of every loyal citizen here getting "in the harness" and helping the business men put over their program of town development.

Let's go for more prosperity! Let's get behind the boosting committee and help them by carrying out the principles of the motto...

Watch for public elevators. It will appear in this paper a month or more.

Bringing Prosperity to Lowell!

Prosperity is a condition that is brought about mainly by the public mind.

If we, first of all, BELIEVE in our community and then actively give our energy toward real progress—Lowell will have its best start toward genuine prosperity.

True prosperity means honest and efficient government, a contented populace, a healthful community, greater co-operation and conservation of supplies.

No single individual can hope to bring about full prosperity to Lowell. Every man, woman and child here must constantly have the welfare and the community at heart and act accordingly.

Co-operative efforts toward an attractive town, support of our schools and churches, contribution of effort to public enterprises, civic patriotism and loyalty to home merchants—are the most effective means of attaining community prosperity.

If everybody in Lowell will talk, think and act for the community's good—we'll put our fair city on the map as an outstanding example of civic prosperity.

We, the undersigned, Believers in Lowell, heartily endorse the above:
