UNVEIL MONUMENT OF RIX ROBINSON

BOULDER MARKING SITE OF OLD HOMESTEAD DEDICATED IN CEREMONY AT ADA SATURDAY.

Rix Robinson, the sturdy pioneer who forged through the wilderness of Indian territory more than a century ago and established a trading post along the banks of the Grand river, was honored Saturday, as one of the makers of Michigan history when a monument, placed on the site of the old Robinson homestead at Ada was unveiled in his memory.

"Uncle Rix," as he was known to his friends in the early days founded western Michigan 106 years ago and settled in Ada, which became his permanent home 90 years ago. The dedication service Saturday afternoon around the massive boulder which has been placed at the old homestead as one of the markers in state history, was attended by more than 200 people, many of whom were personal friends of "Uncle Rix" in his last days, and others who are direct descendants of the father of western Michigan.

The program was opened by the invocation which was pronounced by Frank Robinson, of Fremont, president of the Rix Robinson family union, who has the distinction of claiming Uncle Rix as a true great uncle. Other members of the Robinson family, who were present included Milo of Muskegon, Leamon of Grand Rapids, George of Lansing, and Nelson, of Fremont, all great nephews of the famous founder.

Many of Uncle Rix's old friends were also there to witness the ceremony in honor of a friend who was close to them. James Bristol, a prominent figure in Ada, who with the late James Spence, kept vigil at the bedside of Uncle Rix during the long hours when he lingered between life and death, gave at the monument yesterday a knowledge that Uncle Rix would be happy in the appreciation of his Michigan children. Mr. Bristol has resided in Ada for the past 58 years.

Mrs. Lawrence Burns, of this city, another pioneer of Ada, who came to this part of the country as a 16-year-old bride and settled in Ada where her husband kept the general store, was well acquainted with Uncle Rix and recalls tales of the intimate life of the founder who traded at her husband's store. Mrs. Burns was also among the guests at the services.

The monument, which is three feet in a concrete foundation, six feet above the ground and nine feet in circumference, contains the following inscription on the tablet:

In memory of Rix Robinson, born in Massachusetts, 1792. Founder of West Michigan. Established Ada trading post in 1821, a short distance north on the river bank. This tablet marks the site of his home into which he moved in 1837. Explorer of the northwest territory, fur trader, lumberman, lawyer, banker and friend of the Indians. Was first supervisor of Kent, now of Grand Rapids, state and county commissioner and state senator. Also helped to revise the constitution in 1850, when he advocated woman suffrage. The beloved Uncle Rix Robinson died in this house January 13, 1875. Erected by Kent county, 1927.

The program was in charge of the Friendly League of Kent county, of which Mrs. Stella Richmond Hill is president and historian. Mrs. Hill presided at the service and gave a history of Rix Robinson. She has been instrumental in securing the placing of the boulder in memory of Uncle Rix. She also read the poem "The Waters of the Owashtanong" by the late Mrs. Marion Frazier-Hendley, whose son, Grant Frazier, supervisor of Ada township, has been active in placing the marker.

"The greatness of America today is not due primarily to our resources," declared Dr. Alfred W. Wishart, pastor of Fountain Street Baptist church, who addressed the assemblage, "but to the type of men and women who founded our government. There is something in an American that is hardly approached by any other nationality in the world. It indicates all that was great and noble in the soul of the men who laid the foundation of our government and our educational system. We should know of this greatness and hand it on to the generations. It is the soul of the people that determine the kind of a country to be made."

"There is something in the American atmosphere, in the spirit of enterprise, the educational advancement that the world outside needs, but it was no boy's play going through these forests in the olden days. It was a man's job and the founders were real men. The bulk of the men who really made the state of Michigan were men filled with the missionary spirit. This is proved by the fact that the first building in Grand Rapids was a mission school. On that foundation rests the welfare of Michigan."

Mrs. L. P. Brock, of Lonia, gave a brief explanation of the boulder ground of the old chest brought by her to the Robinson home to be exhibited yesterday. It is the chest used by Uncle Rix to store the dishes of Samuel Dexter in the early days of the Dexter colony.

Milo Robinson expressed the appreciation of the Robinson family for the monument in honor of their ancestor. Other speakers on the program included Mrs. Anselm Burr MacGregor, who read a paper on "Rix Robinson: Man and Neighbor" and Mrs. Sophia Clements Bowles read Kipling's "Lest We Forget." George Greenbauer spoke in behalf of the supervisors of Kent county, who appropriated $100 toward the erection of the monument. Music was furnished by the Wigle male quartet and the Ada mixed quartet, and a saxophone solo by Francis Wigle.

Mrs. Hill made known her plans for the erection of another monument to be placed in Grand Rapids on the site of the first school and mission in memory of the early pioneers of Michigan. (Grand Rapids Herald, Sept. 25.)

Bready Goes to Cincinnati Church

Rev. Russell H. Bready, twenty years ago a popular Lowell Methodist pastor for four years and since of Hastings, Grand Rapids, Pontiac, Detroit and Port Huron, has been transferred to the West Ohio conference and to the pastorate of the Trinity church, Cincinnati, one of the big churches of that city. The parsonage is near the University of Cincinnati, where the Bready children will finish their education. Best wishes of Mr. Bready's many friends accompany him on his upward climb.

Man Proposes—Woman Disposes

The deal between The King Milling company and F. M. Johnson, whereby the store building of the former at 214 Monroe street became the property of the latter has been revoked by mutual consent to elect Mrs. Johnson, who refused her approval.

This means that The Ledger office will remain where it is in the building which it has occupied for nearly 25 years.

LOWELL LEGION BURIED UNKNOWN GEORGE GRAY.

The body of George Gray, who died at the Hermance & Gross farm September 10, which had lain unclaimed by relatives at the Yeller chapel, was buried Friday by the Charles W. Clark Post of the American Legion. He had claimed to be a World War veteran and the Legion decided to bury him to save him from the dissecting table. He was thought to be about 38 years old.

LEGION DOINGS.

A crowd was out Monday night for election of officers for 1928 which resulted as follows: Com. F. A. Gazella, vice commander, Walter Kaufman; adjutant, Dr. H. P. Fredson, finance officer; Robert D. Hahn, historian; Floyd Doherty, chaplain; W. W. Gunser, sergeant-at-arms; Merril Miller, welfare officer; Joseph C. Scott, executive committee; Norman Berger, Dr. H. P. Fredson and Bruce McQueen.

Next meeting will be held second Monday in October under new officers.

Chicken Thieves Active Again Or Yet?

O. C. Austin lost 140 to 150 nice spring Plymouth Rock chickens last week by thieves, and Mrs. M. D. Court lost some Rock hens recently, also Mrs. Rutrick, of Cascade lost some chickens and about two weeks later lost some ducks.

These cases are being worked on from the Sheriff's office and also Pat Bowes has an eye out for suspects.

Any one having losses of this kind or knowing suspicious circumstances should at once report to the above deputy or telephone to the Sheriff's office.

Buy Your Own Christmas Cards

If persons receiving unordered packages of Christmas cards by mail with requests for $1.10 or more will hand same to Secretary Kniffin of the Lowell Board of Trade they will be returned to the senders when postage is furnished and no obligation assumed. This is being done by Secretary Bierce, of the Grand Rapids Association of Commerce. See Wednesday's Herald.

SHOWER GIVEN PASTOR'S WIFE.

On Friday, Sept. 23, the members of the Church of the Nazarene, gave a miscellaneous shower to the wife of their new pastor, Rev. J. Francis Fuller. A speech of appreciation was made by the pastor's wife after she had spent some time opening package after package.

She said that she had come to Lowell with some misgivings but that all the misgivings had been swept away in the shower and that she felt at home with the people of Lowell.

CANT STOP CLAMMERS DUMPING MEAT IN RIVER.

There is no redress through city channels for city water users who object to the fact that some tons of clam meat are dumped daily in the river between Ada and Saranac. Charles A. Slate, 908 Lake dr., SE, was informed yesterday when he complained to the city health department that clambers around Ada were clearing clams and dumping from two to five tons of the meat daily in the river. This season there have been from 15 to 20 clambers working on the river. Mr. Slate reported, and their catch sometimes runs as high as half a ton apiece.—(Grand Rapids Herald.)

EXTENSION M66 TO HASTINGS IS URGED

DELEGATIONS FROM LOWELL, FREEPORT, HASTINGS, KENT COUNTY COMMISSION BEFORE STATE BOARD.

The matter of the extension of trunk line road M 66 from Lowell to Hastings, as frequently discussed in this paper, was presented to the State administration board in Lansing Monday by delegations from Lowell, Hastings, and Freeport, and the Kent County Road commission, representing the several communities affected.

W. L. Shulters, Joseph Campbell, John Carlisle, Elmer Bising, Fred Smith, of Hastings; L. M. Curtis, William Boughner, George Negler, E. D. Cook, of Freeport; D. G. Look, M. S. Henry, M. E. McPherson, E. R. Kniffin, of Lowell; Warren H. Townsend, Henry A. Johnson, secretary McKinley, of the Kent County Road Commission. These appeared before the State Administration board in Lansing Monday, September 26, asking that Trunk Line Road M 66 be extended from M-16, the present south terminal, south through Freeport to Hastings.

Joseph Campbell advised the construction of the road if for no other reason its junction with M-27-M 43 at Hastings a direct line north and south through the center of the state would be established.

State Highway Commissioner Frank J. Rogers mentioned the fact that the proposed extension was eligible for Federal aid. Representative D. G. Look presented the argument for Lowell and the Lowell Board of Trade.

W. R. Townsend, chairman of the Kent County Road Commission, advised the Board that at the present time only one and one half miles of the proposed extension remained un-built by Kent county. Mr. Townsend stated that without M-66 running through the village of Freeport the town was practically isolated having no auto bus line and no passenger service on the railroad at this time.

His argument was well founded and deserving of much consideration. Others including W. L. Shulters, John Carlisle spoke briefly for Hastings. Mr. Townsend thanked the Board for listening to the plea of the villagers and the delegation was excused.

Mother Makes 'em Best

By O. Lawrence Hawthorne

I guess most anybody's cake 'n' cookies ain't so hard 'n' that...

When boys ain't 'er comin' in from play, But when I'm looking for a treat...

My Gramma makes 'em awful good, An' lots o' times I wish I could...

Be at her house 't eat 'em with my Gramma, Sometimes a neighbor-lady, too...

When Mother hasn't any more, Sometimes she buys some at the store...

But every kid tastes 'er like all the rest, You bet yer neck 'n' like the cake...

An' cookies other people make; But my own Mother always makes 'em best!

Not as many Lowell people go to the Grand Trunk depot three quarters of a mile south of Main street as in the old horse and buggy days; but those who drive by and strangers passing through on the trains have noticed this past summer a neat well grown yard with a large bed of beautiful flowers for a center piece, all betokening much painstaking care on some one's part; and it's a good sign. Look at it and if you like it, a word of appreciation to Station Agent Bettis and Freight Agent Morse might sound good to them. This is something they don't get paid for except in good will.

Ionia Trims Lowell, 6 to 0

The Lowell football team was forced to taste of the bitter cup last Friday. Weight and experience finally triumphed, but only after the local boys demonstrated to the crowd's satisfaction that Lowell has a team of which it can justly be proud. Several glaring mistakes cost Lowell the much coveted victory, but no one is more aware of this fact than Coach Finch. Several things were done incorrectly, several things which should have been done were not done at all. The all-Ionia school teams make mistakes, and Lowell, even in defeat, has raised its banner a little higher. Fighting against great odds the locals contested to the bitter end.

Score in First Quarter.

The only score of the game came in the first quarter. Lowell received the ball and Captain Alexander dashed to the 35 yard line. Haysner reeled off five around end, and then lured a pass to Alexander for a gain of twenty yards. Ionia braced here, and the ball went over on downs. The victors kicked out of danger and when M. Alexander and Haysner fumbled Ionia recovered on a fifteen yard stripe. This was the first of two breaks for the Ionians. On fourth down Bass carried the ball over for the six points. The rest of the half found the teams battling on even terms.

Second Half.

Lowell again close to receive and soon had the ball on Ionia's fifteen yard line. The crowd vainly yelled for a touch-down but the punch was lacking and Ionia kicked out of danger. Again Haysner fumbled the kick and Ionia recovered. The rest of the half was Ionia's. The locals repeatedly held whenever threatened. Ionia completed several long passes but whenever they reached Lowell territory three locals threw them back and Haysner kicked out of danger.

Facts of Game.

Lowell has a wonderful line. Time after time the forwards broke through and tackled the man behind the kick and Ionia recovered. Very few yards were made through the line. March and B. Alexander repeatedly succeaded the wide end runs for losses. The offense did not function, it is true. And yet careful perusal of the facts reveal that Lowell advanced the ball fully as far as Ionia did from the line of scrimmage. It is also true that Ionia made nine first downs to four for the locals but most of these were made by passes. It must also be born in mind that Ionia has the strongest team it has had in years. Had Arthur Morse been in the game the result might have been different. This boy was on the side lines due to injuries.

Sparta Here Friday.

Coach Finch will have to make several changes in the line-up for Friday's game due to injuries and eligibility rules.

This will be the first county championship game and Lowell will have to win it to stay in the running. It is hoped that a good crowd will attend.

The officers of the athletic association are much pleased over the splendid support accorded the team.
