Secretary's Report of B. of T. Meet

At 6:30 p. m., Monday, November 21st fifty members of the Lowell Board of Trade gathered at the City hall, enjoyed an hour of good fellowship, following a most excellent dinner prepared and served by the ladies of the Triple C circle of the Methodist church.

President Harry Day, upon calling to order the business meeting, voiced the sentiment of all present when he complimented the ladies and thanked them for the service rendered.

Without the loyal support of the Ladies' societies which at different times have served the Board the meetings would have been dull affairs.

The pleasure with which they enter into the spirit of the occasions is most commendable.

E. E. Siegler, who has opened a jewelry and optical store here, Tom Hickey, of the R. Van Dyke clothing store were introduced as new comers to the village, each responding with brief remarks.

Minutes of the previous meeting, incomplete business, were read and approved. D. G. Low, chairman of the Good Roads committee informed the meeting as to the progress of work on M 21 in-as-much as the village of Lowell is interested.

President Day announced that the meeting of December 5th would be held at the West Lowell church, one mile south of Sam Yetter's corner, providing the Board voted to accept the invitation of the society in charge. Upon motion of D. G. Munge, supported by Pat Bowes the invitation was accepted, the wives and daughters of the members to be guests.

The main feature of the meeting being an address by Vern E. Ashley, the president at this time. Ashley presented the speaker who arose to the occasion amidst thundering applause. Mr. Ashley prefaced his remarks by paying a glowing tribute to his own "good old Dad."

He touched upon several matters pertaining to civic pride, interspersing his remarks with witticisms of which he is a most capable exponent. Though a trifle nervous at the "barrier" he "got away to a good start" and "finished" amidst the cheers of the admiring throng.

President Day complimented the speaker, Pat Bowes allowed it was worth the price of admission.

Matters pertaining to the paving of the east and west ends of Main street came up for discussion, remarks by M. N. Henry, O. J. Yetter, Earl Thomas, D. G. Look, C. H. Runciman, John A. Arehart and others.

On the whole it being a matter of interest to the citizens at large, ways and means and the opportunity time being a factor to be considered, no action by the Board was taken at this time.

Supervisor Lewis Yetter was asked to state the condition of the poor and needy of the village. In his opinion they are reasonably good. Prof. Gumsier led in the singing of several old time favorite songs and the meeting was adjourned.

One hundred members of the Board missed a good-fellowship affair and their absence from this and other meetings of the kind is felt keenly by those who endeavor to keep the Board intact. E. R. K.

A Good Joke on John Lasby

Our old friend John Lasby, "just loves" roast goose and about Thanksgiving time his thoughts are mainly on a good fat goose.

One of his Dutch friends knowing this and thinking to sell him a couple called him by phone, forgetting that John is somewhat deaf:

"You god dem goose?"

Not understanding, John replied:

"What's that?"

This time the Dutchman yelled:

"You god dem GOOSE!"

John turned fire red and called back:

"You come down here and I'll show you whose a dem goose!"

And the receiver came down with a bang.

THOMAS-BIBBLER.

On Nov. 16, at nine o'clock at St. Mary's church was the scene of a pretty wedding, when Miss Marie Bibbler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. Bibbler, was united in marriage to John Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. Thomas, Father Bogie, reading the impressive ring service.

Miss Bernadette Duffy attended Miss Bibbler and Harry Thomas, a brother of the groom, attended Mr. Thomas. Little Charlene Visser was train bearer.

Miss Bibbler was gowned in white satin and lace combined with a veil and white satin slippers and hose to match her gown. Miss Duffy wore a rose satin gown. Little Miss Charlene Visser wore a dress matching that of the bride.

The wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. Bibbler, to the bridal party and their immediate families.

At seven o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. Bibbler a reception was held in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas, about one hundred and sixty friends being present. Music and dancing were enjoyed by all and a delicious lunch was served. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas received many beautiful as well as useful gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas left for a motor trip in Eastern Michigan and will be at home to their friends in Grand Rapids on their return.

Old Stars are Given Life Membership

Friday evening, Nov. 18, about sixty members of Cyclamen chapter, O. E. S., met in Masonic hall to celebrate the 35th anniversary of the Chapter, and to honor the first of its members to be granted life memberships.

A very delicious dinner was served at 6:30, which was followed by a program.

Mrs. M. C. Greene, in her reminiscences of the early days of the Chapter, brought to those present many interesting details which had been forgotten by some and were new to many others.

Certificates of life membership were granted to five members. Those who were able to be present at this meeting were Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Winegar and Mr. Frank King. The certificates were presented by Mr. F. E. White.

A fitting memorial to those charter members who have passed away was given by Mrs. Edna Hunter, assisted by Mrs. Nora Peckham.

The solos by Mr. Haas and readings by Miss Sydman were greatly appreciated and enjoyed. Singing of old time songs by all was led by Mr. Gumsier. Zeena Rivette and Edith Potter presented the gold dust twins dance.

Following the program a social time was enjoyed.

Supt. Writes of School Functions

Years ago people considered that nothing but reading, writing, arithmetic, grammar and geography should be taught in the schools. As time went on more was expected of the schools. The public should bear in mind that the schools have assumed new or added duties only at the behest of the citizens. Naturally the foregoing statement will be questioned by many thoughtful citizens. But a careful scrutiny of the school and its problems will verify the fact that the schools incorporate into its curricula whatever the public wants there. We are not criticizing this tendency. In fact any school system should welcome new or added duties. Teachers recognize full well that the schools should serve the public. In comparatively recent years, tremendous emphasis has been placed upon the social aspect of education, in other words the proper use of leisure time. The youngsters should become interested in something worth while. Something should be provided to make them interested. Some one should be provided to cause them to turn their attention to noble thoughts and ideals, something must be provided to teach leadership. We might go on and on but we have made it clear I hope just what we mean. And so today we find most schools with many organizations such as classes, scouts, camp fire group, athletic associations, musical clubs and other activities. All of these organizations demand the attention of some teacher in addition to her regular classroom work. And so today any modern plan of education must provide for supervised outside activities. The public is generally divided on this subject. There are those who believe that it is over-emphasized. And there are those who feel that there should be more of it. The writer believes in the work if it is not carried to excess. And in Lowell we try to follow a happy medium. We know full well that it is a difficult task for a sponsor to supervise a group. We know full well that if a group of High School students determine to do some thing that it will be virtually impossible to stop them at the time. Parents know that it is difficult to watch one or two children at times. And it is infinitely more difficult to watch a group of ten or fifty. We think that it is fine for parents to open their homes for school functions. We appreciate the fact that we have no jurisdiction over the home, but we earnestly hope that those who do the entertaining will cooperate to the extent of reporting any irregularity or questionable actions. We have positive proof that school youngsters have said they were going to attend some function when in reality there was no school function to attend. We know positively that children have been dismissed from some meeting at an early hour and then they have gone somewhere else and remained until a late hour. As a result of these meetings for which the schools are in part responsible are dismissed not later than nine o'clock on any school night except on Friday. Last year some school children told their parents that they were sponsoring an all night party—and the parents believed it. Absolute faith in one's children is a fine thing, and most of them are worthy of this faith. But from a practical stand-point we believe that checking up occasionally is advisable. Beginning with next week's issue of this paper we will attempt to have printed a school calendar. Parents will then know when and where all school functions are held. W. W. G.

Retired Minister Dies Suddenly

Rev. Elmer E. Day, who had lived until Christmas would have been 66 years old, died suddenly Sunday morning at his recently acquired home in Lowell. Funeral services were held at Clarksville Monday afternoon. Rev. Frank Loomis, of Lowell, and Rev. J. A. Hatten, of Grand Rapids, officiating.

Mr. Day, who bought and settled in the former old Mueller house on Monroe avenue, coming here from Grand Rapids two months ago, was born in a farming town, near Augustus, Me. He was a preacher for many years, first with the Wesleyan Methodists and later with the United Brethren. He was twice married, with the present Mrs. Day, who survives him, seventy years ago, but had no children.

His heart attack was impaired, but he was supervising the building of a garage on the home lot just before the summons came.

OBITUARY—GARRETT STAAL.

Garrett Staal was born in the Netherlands Nov. 26, 1852, and passed from this life Nov. 12, 1927, at the age of 75 years, 11 months and 12 days. He was united in marriage to Jennie Vanderveen in 1875 in Grand Rapids, living there about twenty years, then coming to Lowell where he resided the remainder of his life. To this union were born eleven children, of whom ten survive to mourn their loss. The mother died May 10, 1917. In 1919 he was united in marriage to Mrs. Garrett Van Dam, she living but four years. In September, 1925, he was married to Mrs. Margaret Davis, of Tomia, who with his children, Mrs. Essie Veenstra, of Redlands, Cal., Mrs. Blrd Halmer, of Grandville, Mrs. Helen Klabsen, Mrs. Blanche Serpina, of Grand Rapids, Mrs. Eva Halmer, Mrs. Anna Denton, Jake, Harm and Claude Staal, eleven grandchildren, and two brothers, Abel and Gerard Staal survive him. He was a man who was held in high esteem by all who knew him. He was a man of faith, strong conviction and splendid type of character. The sympathy of the community is extended to Mrs. Staal, who was with him to the last and whose loyalty and devotion to him in his last illness was greatly appreciated by all a children. Funeral services were held from the Congregational church Thursday, Nov. 17, and burial in Oakwood cemetery. (Com.)

A Prayer of Thanksgiving

LET us give thanks! For the old sweet fashions of nature, for the ritual of its seasons, for the wonder of seed-time, summer and autumn harvest; for the stores of material good for our use and blessing; for the spur of necessity which impels industry; for the sky over all, deepening as we gaze, and for that other heaven within which widens into strange distances.

LET us give thanks! For the organization of life in education, art and character; for the fellowship of man in spiritual faith, moral endeavor, and the quest of truth; for the dream that love will one day everywhere prevail to the confounding of all unkindness, all uncleanness; for God the Father of all—who is the meaning of life, the home of the soul and the hope that "love can never lose its own." Amen.
