Ticker's Tips

Dear Friends:

This is the week I am supposed to write an ad for the Sigler Jewelry Store.

I borrowed the boss' dictionary and learned a lot of big words but I can't seem to make them fit together.

Finally I asked Mr. Sigler for a suggestion and he said: "Tell 'em about these Fountain Wrist Watches."

That ought to be easy. They're a Swiss made watch of High Standard and guaranteed to give satisfaction. Case in White Gold, choice of ribbon band or gold.

And besides he's got them in the window so you can see for yourself and check up on my ad. writing the first time you are down town.

Ticker.

P. S. I believe I'm going to like this job.

Mrs. L. S. Perry Civil War Teacher Rests at Oakwood

MRS. L. S. PERRY.

Funeral services for Mrs. Leonora S. Perry were held at her late home Wednesday, April 11, at 2 o'clock, p. m., Rev. A. J. Blair, officiating clergyman; burial at Oakwood cemetery.

Leonora Sinclair Perry, daughter of Daniel and Jane Sinclair, was born at Moscow, Hillsdale county, Mich., Feb. 21, 1843. When she was a year old, her parents removed to Jonesville, where they made their permanent home.

She began teaching at an early age and in November, 1863, was engaged as a teacher in the Lowell schools. August 25, 1864 she was married to Milton M. Perry, then principal of the Lowell Union school and continued to teach until Mr. Perry resigned his position to attend the law department of the University of Michigan and they returned to Lowell to make their permanent home.

Four children were born to them: Grace, who died at the age of six years, and Katherine, Martha and Agnes, who survive. Mr. Perry having passed away Feb. 27, 1912.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry also gave parental love and care to their nephew, Stephen B. Perry.

Mrs. Perry is also survived by two aged sisters, Elizabeth and Sarah Sinclair, of Jonesville, who had spent the winter with her and were still with her at the time of her death.

Mrs. Perry was a woman widely informed and of marked literary attainments. Years ago she was actively connected with the Shakespeare club, an organization of Lowell ladies of literary tastes. In later years, she organized the Clover Leaf club, which she served as president and continued in honorary membership with until her death.

She was an active member of the Congregational church and a teacher in its Sunday school during the greater portion of her life, organizing the Cheerful Daughters, which will honor her memory as it continues its useful work as a church auxiliary.

In the passing of Mrs. Perry, Lowell has lost a good Christian mother and citizen, one who has left the community better because she has lived in it. To her loyal daughters she has left a wealth of blessed memories and to the community an example of noble womanhood.

As she lived, so she died, and with an unflinching trust approached her grave like one who wraps the drapery of his couch about him and lies down to pleasant dreams.

Streeter Restaurant Had Small Blaze

Fire broke out on the wall of the Streeter restaurant Saturday night about 12 o'clock at the rear of the electric Frigidaire ice cream cabinet. Fortunately it was promptly discovered by Night Watch Carr, who turned in an alarm and gave first aid. A small hand fire extinguisher being used, the blaze was extinguished before it had a chance to spread much and the damage was mostly from smoke.

The confectionery stock was in glass cases it was not damaged. Insurance with the Concordia and Northern companies, of which R. E. Springett is local agent, has been satisfactorily adjusted and the store will be re-decorated.

"HER GLOVES."

On Tuesday, the first of May, Saint Mary's church will present the "Victor Players," in a three-act comedy called "Her Gloves." The play will be given at the City hall at 8 o'clock.

The Victor Players are a group of semi-professional and professional actors who produce two or three plays each season for the benefit of church and charitable purposes.

They presented "Her Gloves" to capacity audiences twice in Grand Rapids a few weeks ago and the demand was so great that they will put on the play again in Grand Rapids on May 8. They have also made arrangements to produce the play in Lansing on May 6, and from reports the hall will be packed.

Lowell will be fortunate in securing the services of this group of players, and from all indications every one will have a very enjoyable evening.

Mrs. A. W. Hawley, an old Lowell resident, died at her home, 725 Avery street, Wednesday morning, after a long illness. She leaves a husband, daughter, Mrs. Hazel Bangs, and step son, Howard Hawley, of Grand Rapids. Funeral Saturday at 2 o'clock from her late home, burial at Oakwood.

McKinley Explains Why Ada Was Left Out.

Difficulties in the way of routing M-21 traffic over a detour between Ada and Lowell over the Vergennes road, as requested by the Lowell board of trade, are outlined in a communication which H. J. McKinley, secretary of the Kent county road commission, has sent to the Lowell business men. The trunk line is closed for the construction of a paved road and the traffic is being detoured over the Lansing road, thus practically eliminating Ada from the county map for the present.

"You no doubt understand this is a state trunk line project under construction and the state, having to maintain trunk lines 66 and 16, is out practically no additional expense in diverting M-21 traffic over that route," said Mr. McKinley. "In event the traffic should be detoured north and east through Vergennes township the state would be under obligation to pay the maintenance of this road, which would run into considerable money before the end of the year."

The secretary has also sent to Paul Reynolds, the state right-of-way engineer, a report covering the ownership of the right-of-way of the Grand Rapids, Grand Haven & Muskegon Railway company, which has suspended operations. It is desired to obtain a part of the railway property for the widening of M-16 west of the city. It is shown that because of the abandonment of the line some of the property reverts to the present owners, some goes back to the owners at the time the right-of-way was obtained and some is owned by the interurban company.

Bids will be opened Tuesday on the construction of a warehouse at Cedar Springs. The building will be 50 by 20 feet with loading platforms.

METHODIST M. E. CHURCH.

Rev. W. M. P. Jerrett, a former pastor of this church and now pastor of the Upton Ave. Methodist church, Battle Creek, will preach at the morning service at 10:30 a. m., next Sunday. Mr. Jerrett comes to give the annual thank offering for the Women's Missionary society.

We invite all to attend the church school at 12 noon.

A group Sunday school rally will be held at this church Sunday afternoon and evening under the management of the Kent County Sunday school association. The afternoon session will begin at 2:30 p. m. and the evening session at 7:30. Speakers from out of town will address the meeting. All are invited.

The Mothers'-Daughters banquet will be served by the men of the church Tuesday evening, April 24. The men are doing their best to give the women and girls a great time next Tuesday. We want all our women, young and old, to enjoy this banquet. We are fortunate in getting Rev. R. B. Sparlock, associate pastor of the Trinity Community church of Grand Rapids for the main address. The men will give the women enough to eat for once in their lives. The program will abound with music and fun, sense and nonsense. Tickets are being sold at Coons clothing store and by the heads of the Ladies' Aid society circles. Get them not later than Friday noon. Price 50c.

The Eudian class will hold their April meeting at the church Friday, April 20. The Stowell division will have charge of refreshments.

The Epworth League meeting Sunday evening will be led by Nelson Meangs.

A food sale by Mrs. Hatch's division of the Greene Circle will be held next Saturday afternoon at the former Shuter shoe store, Main street and Riverside Drive.

Dana Coal

It is free from slate, bone or other foreign substance. It is HARD, BLOCKY, PURE, CLEAN, ignites readily, holds fire a long time, burns down to the smallest amount of greyish white ash. Most economical for use, as it also is highest in heat value, and thus, in reality costs less per ton.

Ticker's Tips

Dear Friends:

This is the week I am supposed to write an ad for the Sigler Jewelry Store.

I borrowed the boss' dictionary and learned a lot of big words but I can't seem to make them fit together.

Finally I asked Mr. Sigler for a suggestion and he said: "Tell 'em about those Fountain Wrist Watches."

That ought to be easy. They're a Swiss made watch of High Standard and guaranteed to give satisfaction. Case in White Gold, choice of ribbon band or gold.

And besides he's got them in the window so you can see for yourself and check up on my ad. writing the first time you are down town.

Ticker.

P. S. I believe I'm going to like this job.

Mrs. L. S. Perry
Civil War Teacher
Rests at Oakwood

MRS. L. S. PERRY.
Funeral services for Mrs. Leonora S. Perry were held at her late home Wednesday, April 11, at 2 o'clock, p. m., Rev. A. J. Blair, officiating clergyman; burial at Oakwood cemetery. Leonora Sinclair Perry, daughter of Daniel and Jane Sinclair, was born at Moscow, Hillsdale county, Mich., Feb. 21, 1843. When she was a year old, her parents removed to Jonesville, where they made their permanent home.

She began teaching at an early age and in November, 1863, was engaged as a teacher in the Lowell schools. August 25, 1864 she was married to Milton M. Perry, then principal of the Lowell Union school and continued to teach until Mr. Perry resigned his position to attend the Law department of the University of Michigan and they removed to Ann Arbor.

At the close of his course they returned to Lowell to make their permanent home.

Four children were born to them; Grace, who died at the age of six years, and Katherine, Martha and Agnes, who survive, Mr. Perry having passed away Feb. 27, 1912.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry also gave parental love and care to their nephew, Stephen B. Perry.

Mrs. Perry is also survived by two aged sisters, Elizabeth and Sarah Sinclair, of Jonesville, who had spent the winter with her and were still with her at the time of her death.

Mrs. Perry was a woman widely informed and of marked literary attainments. Years ago she was actively connected with the Shakespeare club, an organization of Lowell ladies of literary tastes. In later years, she organized the Clover Leaf club, which she served as president and continued in honorary membership until her death.

She was an active member of the Congregational church and a teacher in its Sunday school during the greater portion of her life, organizing the Cheerful Doers, which will honor her memory as it continues its useful work as a church auxiliary.

In the passing of Mrs. Perry, Lowell has lost a good Christian mother and citizen, one who has left the community better because she has lived in it. To her loyal daughters she has left a wealth of blessed memories and to the community an example of noble womanhood.

As she lived, so she died, and with an unflinching trust approached her grave like one who wraps the drapery of his couch about him and lies down to pleasant dreams.

Streeter Restaurant
Had Small Blaze

Fire broke out on the wall of the Streeter restaurant Saturday night about 12 o'clock at the rear of the electric Frigidaire ice cream cabinet. Fortunately it was promptly discovered by Night Watch Carr, who turned in an alarm and gave first aid. A small hand fire extinguisher being used, the blaze was extinguished before it had a chance to spread much and the damage was mostly from smoke.

As the confectionery stock was in glass cases it was not damaged. Insurance with the Concordia and Northern companies, of which R. E. Springett is local agent, has been satisfactorily adjusted and the store will be re-decorated.

"HER GLOVES."
On Tuesday, the first of May, Saint Mary's church will present the "Victor Players," in a three-act comedy called "Her Gloves." The play will be given at the City hall at 8 o'clock.

The Victor Players are a group of semi-professional and professional actors who produce two or three plays each season for the benefit of church and charitable purposes.

They presented "Her Gloves" to capacity audiences twice in Grand Rapids a few weeks ago and the demand was so great that they will put on the play again in Grand Rapids on May 8. They have also made arrangements to produce the play in Lansing on May 6, and from reports the hall will be packed.

Lowell will be fortunate in securing the services of this group of players, and from all indications every one will have a very enjoyable evening.

Mrs. A. W. Hawley, an old Lowell resident, died at her home, 725 Avery street, Wednesday morning, after a long illness. She leaves a husband, daughter, Mrs. Hazel Bangs, and step son, Howard Hawley, of Grand Rapids. Funeral Saturday at 2 o'clock from her late home, burial at Oakwood.

McKinley Explains Why Ada Was Left Out.

Difficulties in the way of routing M-21 traffic over a detour between Ada and Lowell over the Vergennes road, as requested by the Lowell board of trade, are outlined in a communication which H. J. McKinley, secretary of the Kent county road commission, has sent to the Lowell business men. The trunk line is closed for the construction of a paved road and the traffic is being detoured over the Lansing road, thus practically eliminating Ada from the county map for the present.

"You no doubt understand this is a state trunk line project under reconstruction and the state, having to maintain trunk lines 66 and 16, is out practically no additional expense in diverting M-21 traffic over that route," said Mr. McKinley. "In event the traffic should be detoured north and east through Vergennes township the state would be under obligation to pay the maintenance of this road, which would run into considerable money before the end of the year."

The secretary has also sent to Paul Reynolds, the state right-of-way engineer, a report covering the ownership of the right-of-way of the Grand Rapids, Grand Haven & Muskegon Railway company, which has suspended operations. It is desired to obtain a part of the railway property for the widening of M-16 west of the city. It is shown that because of the abandonment of the line some of the property reverts to the present owners, some goes back to the owners at the time the right-of-way was obtained and some is owned by the interurban company.

Bids will be opened Tuesday on the construction of a warehouse at Cedar Springs. The building will be 50 by 20 feet with loading platforms.—Grand Rapids Herald.

METHODIST M. E. CHURCH.
Rev. W. M. P. Jerrett, a former pastor of this church and now pastor of the Upton Ave., Methodist church, Battle Creek, will preach at the morning service at 10:30 a. m., next Sunday. Mr. Jerrett comes to give the annual thank offering for the Women's Missionary society.

We invite all to attend the church school at 12 noon.

A group Sunday school rally will be held at this church Sunday afternoon and evening under the management of the Kent County Sunday school association. The afternoon session will begin at 2:30 p. m. and the evening session at 7:30. Speakers from out of town will address the meeting. All are invited.

The Mothers'-Daughters banquet will be served by the men of the church Tuesday evening, April 24. The men are doing their best to give the women and girls a great time next Tuesday. We want all our women, young and old, to enjoy this banquet. We are fortunate in getting Rev. B. B. Spurlock, associate pastor of the Trinity Community church of Grand Rapids for the main address. The men will give the women enough to eat for once in their lives. The program will abound with music and fun, sense and nonsense. Tickets are being sold at Coons clothing store and by the heads of the Ladies' Aid society circles. Get them not later than Friday noon. Price 50c.

The Eudian class will hold their April meeting at the church Friday, April 20. The Stowell division will have charge of refreshments.

She Gave Us a Jolt

We had a WICKED one HANDED to US yesterday by a lady CUSTOMER in the store here when she ASKED us why we didn't ADVERTISE a particular kind of WALL PAPER that had made a HIT with her, and when we TOLD her that our last ADVERTISEMENT in this LOWELL LEDGER run for three weeks just to BROADCAST the merits of that self same WALL PAPER she never READS advertising unless it looks INTERESTING and ours SELDOM does.

Can you TIE that one? We can't, but Anyway we are going to put the old BEAN into high and SEE if we can FIND something INTERESTING to tell you each week about this DRUG, WALL PAPER and PAINT business of ours.

Radio Service

Would you like to have an inspection of your Radio every thirty days? Everything looked over, tested, repaired, etc.

If so, you may receive this service by using our yearly Service Contract. At a small cost to you, it means your Radio will not cause you unnecessary trouble when you use it. Many owners are using this service and are highly satisfied.

Get Yours---

The others get theirs. That is slangy but to the point.

Here's the point:

The butcher, the baker, the candlestick maker—each gets his share of your pay envelope. Do you get your share?

You do when you put a part of each pay to your own credit in our Savings Department. You get yours, plus interest.

Begin this payday and you'll be surprised how much is salted away one year from today.

"A Penny Saved Is a Penny Earned"

---Reads an old proverb. You can prove it is still practical by burning

Dana Coal

It is free from slate, bone or other foreign substance. It is HARD, BLOCKY, PURE, CLEAN, ignites readily, holds fire a long time, burns down to the smallest amount of greyish white ash. Most economical for use, as it also is highest in heat value, and thus, in reality costs less per ton.
