New Strand's Big Opening Fine Success

The New Strand Theatre opened with a big bang Tuesday evening, with all of its over five hundred luxurious opera chairs full with a pleased and eagerly expectant audience, who were satisfied that in the announcement of the opening of "Michigan's Most Beautiful Small Theatre," was not a word of exaggeration, as the hearty round of applause that greeted the nervous promoter, Harvey J. Callier, on his appearance, amply testified, an appreciative public feeling in which his loyal partner, Mrs. Callier, worthily shares.

The roar and tremble of the powerful pipe organ manipulated by a master hand, filled the ample auditorium; pictures, illustrated news, comedy and a newspaper drama, "Telling the World," introducing scenes of Chinese riots, were shown and the entertainment concluded with a vaudeville act put on by a quartet of dancing girls.

The front curtain showing business men's cards, uncompleted, was not shown. Fixtures for the refreshment room not arrived and that department was not open. The Ledger joins the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Callier in sincere congratulations on the successful inaugural of their large undertaking.

Baccalaureate Services Are Well Attended

The Seniors listened to an address Sunday night which was pregnant with splendid advice. Rev. Father Robert W. Bogg gave the Baccalaureate or farewell address in a very efficient manner and the many citizens present were much pleased with his words of counsel. The speaker explained the origin of the service and he stressed the importance of religious education. Education without character training is responsible for many of the ills of the day. We should think of the things worth while. In his closing words Father Bogg admonished the young men and women to be honest in all their dealings with their fellow men and to be open minded and not narrow and bigoted. In the course of the address the question of advisability of attempting to educate too many people was raised. The speaker took issue with this stand and considered that in a country such as ours we should educate all pupils to the extent of their ability.

On Friday the Seniors will listen to Galen Starr Ross, of Detroit. This man comes under the auspices of a speaker's bureau and all of those people who heard him in Lowell recently will attest to the fact that those present Friday will listen to a real oration. The valedictory and salutatory will also be given. There will be other numbers including music. Two hundred fifty choice seats will be reserved for friends of the graduates until eight o'clock. The services will not start until 8:15 but the holders of these reserved seats should get there before 8 o'clock. No seats will be held after 8 o'clock.

Picnics will be held on Thursday and Friday of this week. The school will sponsor no evening picnics and the school year officially closes on Friday. All pupils including the Seniors should report on Friday afternoon for their report cards. The portals of the school houses will not open again until September 4.

Former Lowell Man Goes Mad On Ionia Visit

Becoming suddenly violent while calling at the office of an Ionia attorney Tuesday, Lynn Perry, 40 former garage owner here, was removed to the county jail by Deputy Charles Hopkins.

Perry, according to the sheriff's department, has been showing signs of mental trouble in Grand Rapids where he now lives. The officers of the sheriff's force of Kent county are said to have had him under surveillance for some time but he never before has shown signs of becoming violently insane.

He called at the attorney's office to consult the attorney about securing a patent for a machine he claimed to have invented, which could be driven through a beet field and which would pull and top all beets as it went along.

Perry declared the machine was about to earn him countless millions, and, when placed in the county jail, the officers say he tried to persuade them to quit the police business to join him promising them a million apiece at once. It required the combined force of three officers to restrain him until such time as he could be turned over to the Kent officers.

He had come to Ionia in a truck which attracted a great deal of attention. The heavy truck was apparently new but had been stripped to a mere chassis with a plank deck on top of the frame. He had painted the entire machine with a gold bronze paint. He told a number with whom he was acquainted that he was about to start a tour of the country with the machine, the tour being for the purpose of selling the beet-topping machines.

The officials here believe the Kent officials will subject him to a mental test, if his mental condition is as suspected, have him confined to an asylum.—(Ionia County News.)

Lowell Farmer Ends Life in Despondency

The body of Lonsberry Gould, a Lowell township farmer, aged 75 years, who had lived alone three miles south-east of this village, was found in his home Sunday by a neighbor, Judd Hapeman, who investigated after missing the aged man for some time.

Mr. Gould, who lived in Grand Rapids thirty years before coming to Lowell, had locked his doors, placed the muzzle of a shot gun to his head, pulled the trigger with his toe, blowing off the top of his head. Justice Clarence Yeiter and Deputy Sheriff Bowes looked into the matter and the former, acting as coroner impaneled a jury which rendered a verdict of suicide.

Mr. Gould had left a short note to a daughter who lives in Kalamazoo. He is believed to have ended his life because of despondency owing to loneliness and old age.

Funeral services were held at Yeiter's chapel Tuesday, a Christian Scientist from Grand Rapids, officiating. Burial private.

Annual School Meeting of District No. 1

The annual school meeting of District No. 1, Lowell township, was held at the Central building Monday evening, June 11, President C. H. Runciman presiding with sixty-two voters present.

Reports of the Secretary, Treasurer and Librarian were read for the current year and were accepted and filed.

The salaries of the secretary and treasurer were voted to remain the same as last year.

The chairman appointed Anthony Tasken, Bruce McQueen and Mrs. Dan Simon to act as tellers.

On the first ballot V. E. Ashley was elected trustee for three years to succeed himself.

No choice was made on the second ballot.

The third ballot resulted in the choice of H. L. Weekes as trustee for three years to succeed J. M. Hutchinson who had withdrawn his name from consideration.

The meeting adjourned at 8:45 p. m. The minutes of the annual meeting together with a complete report of the school finances will be published immediately following the close of the school year July 1, 1928.

Officials Raid Liquor Resort; Arrest Youths

After members of Sheriff Byron J. Patterson's force and Arthur Q. Scully's federal prohibition agents had raided her home on Beal rd., west of Buchanan ave., SW., last night Mrs. Margaret Dieber, 33, was held on a charge of violation of the liquor laws.

The place is alleged to have been a resort for young people, many of them of high school age, and the cause of numerous complaints to the officers. A group of youths and girls were dispersed by the officers in the raid.

The officers are said to have seized 49 gallons of alcohol, 24 quarts of whiskey and 110 pints of beer. She will probably be prosecuted in federal court.

Four and a half gallons of moonshine whiskey and 250 pints of beer were seized yesterday by members of the sheriff's and police department and federal officers in a raid on a residence at 23 Graham st., SW. The proprietor of the place was away at the time of the raid and had not been arrested last night.—(Grand Rapids Herald, June 10.)

Resists Liquor Charge
Margaret Dieber, arrested in a liquor raid on her Wyoming township home, demanded examination in justice court and it was set for June 20. Fifty gallons of alcohol, 120 pints of beer and other intoxicants were found at her home, sheriff's officers reported.—(Grand Rapids Press, June 13.)

MAN IS CHARGED WITH ILLEGAL SALE OF STOCK.
A warrant charging illegal sale of stock was issued yesterday for Clarence Cypher, who has been held at the Kent county jail eight weeks on a capias warrant. Claude P. Hughson, of Lowell, who claims he lost $19,000 in negotiations with Cypher and who had him imprisoned on a civil action, caused the criminal action to be brought when he despaired of recovering his lost money.—(Grand Rapids Herald, June 10.)

Trade Board Monday Meet A Good One

Forty members of the Lowell Board of Trade were served a well prepared dinner by the ladies of the Yardley Group from the Lowell Congregational church, at the City hall, Monday evening.

Visitors present were Tom Murphy, a Lowell boy of other years, F. C. Clay, a new comer to Lowell's Main street, Mr. Woodruff, a guest of R. D. Stocking. Each was called upon for a few remarks.

The business of the meeting was transacted in a manner pleasing to all, a number of the members making suggestions which were acted upon most favorably.

The Budget committee received the loyal support of those present as did the Play Ground committee. Prospects of a "Big Day," for Lowell upon the completion of M21, through the village, are in sight with arrangements in the hands of the committee.

"Observations" was the topic selected by the speaker of the evening, Mr. Vern Ashley, and he handled it as only a real live red blooded member of the organization can.

More of men and money and less of the "don't care" attitude, the Credit Exchange, the wonderful part in business affairs taken by our mills and factories, the new Strand theater, the parking situation, aviation field and golf course, and many other features which are and might be well to receive thoughtful consideration were advocated by the speaker in his address, which was snappy, witty and all too short.

Unnecessarily deemed advisable there will be no meetings of the entire Board until September.

The Board of Directors is at the service of any or all wherein they may advance the betterment of conditions, singly or collectively, throughout the village of Lowell.

Village Council Proceedings

Regular meeting of the Common Council of the Village of Lowell held in the Council rooms Monday, June 4, 1928.

It Looks Easy--But It Isn't

Harry Day, president of the Lowell Board Trade, pulled a GOOD one on the bunch when HE asked us to make a few TIMELY remarks at Monday night's LUNCHEON. It was a dark secret but you can't fool them all because Norm Borgerson says you can tell when a fellow is going to make a talk by the large amount of water he will drink. Up to then I thought Will Rogers had a snap. It LOOKS easy. But TIMES have changed; was out to a church social last week and all the WOMEN talked POLITICS and the men went over in the corner and exchanged recipes.

"Lamps of Learning"
In Greece and Rome the dim, smoky lamp made its appearance at a fairly early date. It was a shallow dish, round or oval in shape, with a handle at one end and a spout for the wick at the other. It was made of baked earth or metal and the wick was made of tow or cloth. These lamps, used chiefly by students and teachers, are the traditional lamps of learning to which reference is frequently made.
