VOLUME XXXVI

NO. 10

Comes Only by Saving

The difference between the rich man and the poor man is, generally, that the one saved his money and invested it wisely, while the other SPENT all he made. No matter how much you earn, you will never be wealthy or independent if you spend it all. Spare time and spare money are the poor man's capital, and his ultimate success depends upon the returns from the capital.

LOWELL GRANITE COMPANY SQUARED AWAY. Repairs and interior decorations of the Lowell Granite company salesroom and work shop building have been completed and the resulting fine improvement must be a satisfaction to proprietors and patrons. The stock has been neatly re-arranged for convenient display, work on ordered work is progressing, more orders are coming in daily and prospects for a prosperous future business are bright.

Lowell township voters must register by August 18th, or they will lose their votes in November.

Motorcar Pushes Man Through Gate

Pushed through a heavy barnyard gate by a truck which started when he sought to crank it Thursday afternoon, Clifford Klumpp, 38, of Lowell, suffered a left leg fracture. He was taken to Blodgett hospital. Klumpp was working on the farm of David Mange, half a mile west of Lowell on the new M 21, when the accident occurred. He apparently had left the vehicle in gear and when he cranked the motor the truck proceeded, pushing Klumpp with it. The truck continued into a hay loader and Klumpp, who was thrown aside, was obliged to crawl 750 feet to the house to summon aid. Klumpp's wife was in town at the time.

ED. KNIFFEN COMES DOWN OFF HIS PERCH. Ed. R. Kniffin has moved his Lowell Credit Exchange office to the ground floor of 104 Main street, just opposite his former location. He isn't as fond of stairs climbing as he was before he had "Silver threads among the gold," and he thinks some of the old boys will drop in oftener and swap smokes and yarns with him. Dan and Mac will be good neighbors and with one to keep his buttons on and 't'other to keep him warm we predict everything will be lovely and the goose hang high—not Dan's goose, however.

BASE BALL NOTES. The Lowell Independents defeated the Mystic Workers of Grand Rapids Sunday, July 29, by the score of 10 to 5. Collier and Rowlands formed the winning battery. Flynn, White and Buttrick were the points for the losers. Mutt Lewis, of Lowell, featured with a homer with one on. The Independents play the fast Parnell Irish at Lowell celebration August 2, at 9:30 a. m. Sunday, August 5, they tangle with the Grand Rapids Tent and Awning team at Ramona Park in the tenth annual tournament. Jack Bannon will be the John McGraw for the Independents in the Grand Rapids game.

POTTER-TAYLOR FAMILY RE-UNION. The annual reunion of the Potter-Taylor families was held at Riverside park in Belding Sunday, July 29, with an attendance of sixty-five members. A bountiful pot luck dinner including ice cream and lemonade was enjoyed by all. The following officers were re-elected for the coming year: Pres., Carl Taylor; first vice president, Bert Taylor; second vice president, Nora Hudnut; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. C. E. Bowen. After visiting for a time some pictures were taken of the group and all too soon they all departed for their respective homes hoping to meet again at Belding park in July, 1929. Com.

Saw M. E. Church Built Years Ago

Aberdeen, Wash., July 23, 1928. F. M. Johnson: Lowell, Mich.—Dear Sir:—Enclosed find money order for the renewal of my subscription. The 25-30 and 35 year items are the ones we first look for. As we have been away most of the time for over forty years, you can well guess what our acquaintance with the regular run of weekly items amounts to. In today's paper, (that is the one we received this date,) I see Dexter's letter in regard to the new foot bridge, that's an item that was threshed over sixty years ago that I know of, and I suppose there is more need of it today than there was then.

Speaking of bridges I wonder how many there are left that remember the old Main street bridge before it was filled. In those days Lowell was some busy burg. The building of the bank, the mill on the west side, the bridge fill, then came the building of the King & Amphet block and the Pullen store block. Pullen's hall was in great demand for theaters and dances. Side walks began to take the place of well beaten paths. Main street had a walk from the mill east to Jud West's corner three blocks, and from the bridge to east side of Pullen's store, on the west side there was a walk from the corner down to about where the Specialty works are and on north side just past the old Franklin house later the Duke house. The only side street that braggard of a walk was from the corner north to the school gate there was one bridge over Grand river, then a long dry bridge across low spots in the flats on each side.

Then came the building of the M. E. church. Are there any left that used to go to the little old red M. E. church to hear the Indian, John R. Robinson preach, and later he spoke in the new church. I remember a small group that gathered under the old Oak tree to watch Hiram Dawson and Herman Hogan as they started plowing and scraping for the basement of that new church, the foundation was built by Sylvester Brower, Ad. Kniffin, Wm. Rush and Ira Standish, and the first three did the most or all of the brick work. James Ecker, B. G. Wilson, a Mr. Ball and I think Theodore Mason handled the bulk of the carpenter work and Homer Avery and a Mr. Green did the painting. Homer did all of the graining. It was a great place for us kids of the East end to play. I think perhaps Joe Denny is the only now living person that worked there. After speaking this little piece I'll be seated hoping to receive The Ledger in the future as promptly as in the past as here 2-4. Yours, J. C. Maynard, 709 W. Wishkah street, Aberdeen, Wash.

Locke-Peckham Ceremony in Grand Rapids

A charming afternoon wedding was solemnized at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, uniting in marriage Miss Mildred Peckham and Matthew Locke, of Detroit, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. A. G. Peckham by Rev. James W. Fifield, Jr.

The house was decorated with ferns and palms banked the fire place and an arrangement of delphinium, snapdragons, daisies and other garden flowers in postal shades adorned the mantle. Candelabra, holding tall white tapers stood on either side of the altar and the stairway which the bride descended was trimmed the same.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Morris Peckham, was lovely in a model of chintilly lace in a French nude shade with deep scallops in the back falling to the floor. The draped skirt was caught at the side with a pearl and rhinestone pin. A cape edged with the scallops fill in back from the shoulders and deep scallops finished the long tight sleeves. Her slippers and hose matched her gown. A string of pearls worn by the bride was a gift of the bridegroom. She carried an arm bouquet of Ophelia roses, forget-me-nots and swainsona. Miss Mary Greenshields, of Homeo, was maid-of-honor. Her gown was of delphinium blue chiffon, and slippers and hose matched her gown. She carried an arm bouquet of pink roses, larkspur, pink snapdragons and Shasta daisies. Everett J. Vanderveer assisted Mr. Locke as best man, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Finley were master and mistress of ceremonies.

Mrs. Charles Doyle sang "At Dawning," and "O Promise Me," accompanied by Mrs. H. L. Weekes, who also played the wedding march. After the ceremony a reception was held for seventy-five guests. Among those from Lowell who attended were Miss Minnie Meek, Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Peckham, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Weekes, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Day, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Doyle, Mr. and Mrs. Locke left for a wedding trip through Northern Michigan and after their return will make their home in Detroit.

Stands Out Like A Sore Thumb

That's the best EXPRESSION we know when applied to a VILLAGE KNOCKER and the BOYS may as well PICK up their FEET and ride in comfort, Lowell is GOING ahead. John Arehart of the Lowell Specialty Co. says: "We are running to capacity now with future business very good." Mr. Higgins of the Superior Furniture Co. said: "The Midsummer Furniture Show treated us wonderfully well." Charles Doyle of the King Milling Co. says: "The new waterwheel will be in soon, then we will run day and night." It looks like Lowell is getting its share of the increased PROSPERITY. WHO BUT HOOVER? Fred Malcolm, official starter, says the HOSS races will be better than those put on by George Parker and Jarve Train years back. That's saying a lot.

CONTRASTING BORDERS—REVELATION ON THE SOUTH. ON THE NORTH, PEACE. Michigan is perhaps too far removed from Mexico to permit of intelligent criticism by us of the latter's internal affairs, but it does concern us that there is a century of almost unbroken warfare and revolution, since the Spanish and Mexican wars, since the absolute necessity for the complete separation of church and state. He who can account for a century of turmoil in our unhappy neighbor country to the south, much of which has immediately concerned this United States, must needs have a better understanding of all its consequences than has this country. But the same revolutionary spirit in all the Spanish, Central American countries, as evidenced by repeated and frequent revolts against their respective governments, indicates a common cause. Whatever it is it should be traced to its source and the cause controlled or eliminated one and for all.

Consider, too, that in both the United States and Canada religious freedom and non interference between church and state, by reason of the wisdom of the founders of the Republic and of the mother country, have obtained here since the days of Washington and Jefferson.

There, we must conclude, that under the Stars and Stripes, and in this condition of non interference between church and state shall continue as long as freedom shall exist. To the American, where the inalienable rights of man are guaranteed, hands off the religious liberties of the people. Those are matters which concern the people and not the government. To the church: Hands off the American government! Interfere at your peril.

Removal by local linemen of an old telephone pole from the corner of Seventh and Washington streets, a hole in the pole offered an opportunity to invite boys to birds and squirrels. Sparrows and red-headed woodpeckers contended repeatedly for the possession and soon cleaned house after each contest until Mr. Redhead established himself as the victor. One day when Mother Redhead sat contentedly on her nest with her eggs, she entered a squirrel on one of the oak crotch an impediment eye on the household; and determined on an evasive, which he set out to do. He flung his diatribe effect and marched with flying colors to battle at the hole in the pole. Mother Redhead calmly awaited the attack until she could see the color of the enemy's eyes. When she delivered her wicked peck on his nose. Retailer hastily retreated to reconsider and finally repulsed the attack, again to be repulsed. Daring this attempt Redhead retreated with a sore nose, and left Redhead in undisputed possession. So because of a little plucky home-defender, we regret that a decayed has necessitated the removal of Redhead's old home.

A BIG MAN'S EXAMPLE. Refusal of State Representative Milton H. Palmer, of Detroit, to stand as a candidate for the Republican nomination for United States Senator from Michigan, against Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, in spite of the filing of his petitions without his knowledge or consent by a little clique of Detroit-gossip diehards, should show George Welsh voter, better and more statesmanlike course than the one he has permitted himself to be trapped into against Governor Fred W. Green by irremovable.

It is not too late for Mr. Welsh to follow a good example. The Frenchman who thought he could carry his wealth to the next world, concealed $50,000 in the pockets of his coat, and when he died, the money was found in his pockets. It is not too late for Mr. Welsh to follow a good example.

It has long been said that worry kills more people than work. Now we are told that Bulgaria, a small country with fewer people than New York city, has more than three thousand centenarians, whose long lives are attributed to freedom from worry. Dollars to doughnuts that none of the three thousand are newspaper editors.

Somebody in Tampa wants to send a free sample box of So and So cigars prepared—provided we will smoke them. Uncle Marcus says he wouldn't smoke them for $10 each, although promised that it shall cost him nothing. About that last, he is not so sure. Doctor bills are quite "cozy." Nixie, Mister, Nixie!

Justice, a professedly humorous Republican publication, which has devoted much of its labors to ridiculing prohibition and prohibitionists, and which is edited by a workable editor since the Republican party nominated a dry candidate on a dry platform. Why not come out boldly, Judge, and support Smith?

Judging by an editorial on "Pie in the Sky" in Sunday's Herald it is probable that the editor is a pie-eater. He files his editorials on the pie. The time is coming when there'll be no need for syndicate editors. When the boys all find the satisfaction in the production of a column or two of original content on current events the market for ready-made stuff will be a dead one.

The fact is that the people of Lowell School District No. 1, are paying for Unity bridge and not getting it. Why blame the run-runners and peace of mind of the West side kindergarten boys and their parents, for a special bus service. The amount being paid for this special service would in a few years pay for a foot bridge that hundreds of older children and adults can use. As Messrs Hanson, Look and Aron have said, so say we: "Let's go to it."

A peculiar case of "Straining at gnats and swallowing camels," was enacted in Detroit Sunday, where enacted riding on the Jewish Sabbath is contrary to the tenets of the Jewish faith, an officer has walked five miles with a Jew prisoner who was under arrest for alleged embezzlement. More nice than wise. Mighty peculiar in some things and as careless in others.

Nearly seven hundred people were entertained at the New Strand theatre on Saturday evening at an average price of 25 cents. The next evening drawn from a territory many miles in radius, including Alto, Ada, Fremont, Clarksville, Lake Odessa, Saranac, Ionia, Belding, and Interley districts. Mr. and Mrs. Gallier have been in Detroit, and the money will be put to some good use and taken to some good credit for it, for he can take no money with him when he leaves this world; but if he can leave the world a little better because he has lived in it, his life will have been worth while.

Progres of Secretary Kellogg's efforts to outlaw war leads to the hope that the pioneer work of Bryan and Wilson for world-wide peace will be recognized by all honest men.

Michigan Building & Loan association is increasing rapidly and will be finger-printed, glove makers will not have to be absorbed at home.

THE STORY
CHAPTER I—In a small town in the State of Virginia, a young man named Braddock was growing up. He was a bright, energetic boy, and he was very popular among his friends. He was the son of a wealthy family, and he had a very good education. He was a member of the local sports club, and he was a very good athlete. He was a very popular young man, and he was very well liked by everyone who knew him.

The Ball-Bearing Cream Separator

This is the machine that sets the pace in modernizing the cream separator!

From farm to farm went the good word about the new efficiency that eased the daily work and added to the dairy day saving. The demand for the ball-bearing machine—McCORMICK-DEERING—grew by leaps and bounds. Thousands upon thousands invested in the simpler, clearer, turning, cleaning separator. Today these thousands are better friends than ever of the durable ball-bearing machine.

McCORMICK-DEERING (Primrose) Ball-Bearing Cream Separators. The best test of success and popularity is the testimony of owners. When you buy a cream separator, ask the men and women who use McCormick-Deering day in and day out. Satisfy yourself about every point—creams saving, cleaning, turning, sanitizing, lubrication, simplicity, durability, and service. Go by what they say about the ball-bearing machine.

Thornapple River Was Once Ruled By Chief Hazy Cloud

The following account of Chief Hazy Cloud, Thornapple river chief, for whom the county court commission in Grand Rapids, Mich., has recently christened the new four-acre park on the Brooklyn road, was written for The Herald by Capt. Belknap.

The widow, Magdalena, assumed the command and continued, passing up Grand river until reaching the site of the present city of Grand Rapids, where, consulting the chief of the people living on the river, she established a trading post. This trading post was the first of its kind in the area, and it was the beginning of the city of Grand Rapids.

Having won the friendship of the Chief Hazy Cloud (Ma-ob-lin-ki-ki), she became the agent of the American Fur company and made the main station at what is now Grand Rapids. It was the blossom month of 1821, when she sold her interests to the American Fur company.

Brass Tack Talks on Miller Tires

GEARED-TO-THE-ROAD

If I ask you to throw away the money you give away when you buy inferior tires—the argument would be on your side.

When I tell you—and prove it, that you can have Miller quality at a lower per-mile cost than the cheapest tires you can buy—the argument is on my side. Come in and let's talk it over.
