Only 120 Turn Out to Township Election

Only 120 voters turned out to the Lowell township election Monday as contrasted with the township caucus which preceded it and at which 465 ballots were cast. Of course, April was coming in like a roaring lion and the roads were strewn with poles and wires and trees and limbs—tree limbs. Anyway it was settled at the caucus and the so-called election, so far as the township was concerned was simply ratification. The newly elected (or re-elected) officers in Lowell township are: Supervisor, Lewis M. Yeiter; clerk, Chris Bergin; treasurer, Hattie Lynn; highway commissioner, Orley Rulason; justice of peace, Frank Houghton, Clarence Yeiter; member of the board of review, Frank Houghton; highway overseer, Charles McIntyre; constables, Fred Gramer, Eugene Carr, Ed. C. Walker, Frank L. Stephens.

Reports from other townships in this part of the county are as follows:

Ada Township.
Supervisor, Grant Frazier; clerk, Roy Richardson; treasurer, Hattie R. Fitch; highway commissioner, J. C. Ward; justice of peace, John Abraham, (long term.) Moses Whaley, (short term.)

Road amendment: Yes, 153; no, 129.
Bowne.
Supervisor, Irving Dintaman; clerk, Howard Aldrich; treasurer, Owen Nash; highway commissioner, Leonard Warner; justice of peace, (long term), Charles Rittger; board of review, Peter Stahl. Total 78 votes cast. No contests.

Voters confirmed grant of a franchise to the American Electric Service, Inc. for using highways for business, 67 to 9.

Cascade.
Supervisor, Charles Buttrick, 310 Miner L. Cook, 5; clerk, Maude McClellan, 312; Bert Towne, 1; Reid Towne, 3; treasurer, Arch Wood, 314; highway commissioner, Arch Thomas, 220; Frank Schrum, 104; justice of peace, (long term,) Ralph Auble, 308; board of review, J. Martin Schenk, 309.

Cannon.
Supervisor, Clayton Davies; clerk, William P. Joyce; treasurer, E. P. Weller; highway commissioner, L. O. Beach; board of review, Ernest Ladner. Total 69 votes each. No contests.

Grattan.
Supervisor, Seiford Cowan, 170; Lee Jakeway, 192; clerk, Amy E. Madison, 204; Rolond Donovan, 155; treasurer, Aquinas Sullivan, 170; William J. Lessiter, 191; highway commissioner, Patrick Abraham, 178; Harold Story, 183; justice of peace, (long term), Cleburn Byrne, 196; Lawrence Green, 161; (short term), Patrick Keating, 194; John Nash, 162; board of review, William J. McNaughton, 174.

A franchise was granted the village of Lowell to construct and maintain lines for carrying electricity on township lands by a vote of 274 to 33.

Oakfield.
Supervisor, John S. Watson, 82; Delaskie Snyder, 5; Roy Gray, 1; clerk, Vernice Hansen, 87; treasurer, Charles Brigham, 87; justice of peace, (long term), Harold Rowley, 88; (short term), Carl James Williams, 88; board of review, Morris Lawrence, 88.

Vergennes.
Supervisor, Nellie N. McPherson, 202; O. J. Odell, 87; clerk, Annabelle Ford, 198; Carl M. James, 91; treasurer, Fred Roth, 209; Bettie Baker, 212; highway commissioner, Bry Condon, 187; Vincent C. Carey, 102; justice of peace, Percy Read, 207; William Engle, 79; board of review, Carl Bieri, 203; John H. Wright, 85.

Woman's Club Elects Officers For 1929-30

The annual meeting of the Lowell Woman's club was held Wednesday afternoon at the City hall. The following officers were elected:

President, Mrs. C. D. Hodges. First Vice President, Mrs. Chas. Doyle. Second Vice President, Mrs. C. H. Reynolds.

Recording secretary, Mrs. A. S. Bennett. Corresponding secretary—Mrs. F. F. Coons.

Treasurer, Mrs. William Hartman. Parliamentarian, Mrs. R. Van Dyke.

Press correspondent, Mrs. L. E. Johnson. Junior Advisor, Mrs. R. D. Hahn. Board of Directors, Mrs. W. E. Hall, Mrs. M. C. Greene.

The next meeting will be President's day and will be in the form of a luncheon held at Riverside Inn Wednesday, April 17, at 1 o'clock.

ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Lowell Building & Loan association will be held at the office of the Mangle-Taylor Insurance agency, Negonce block, on Monday evening, April 15, 1929, at 7:30 o'clock, daylight saving time, for the purpose of electing two directors, full term and such other business as may come before the meeting.

All persons owning shares in The Lowell Building & Loan association are members and are requested to be at the meeting and vote.

Harvey J. Coons, Secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Norton, of Edgerton, were calling on their former Lowell neighbors and friends Wednesday. They report poles and trees down all along the road from Rockford to Lowell as a result of the big sleet and wind storm.

Why B. of T. Membership is Good Insurance

This question is one that is asked so many times by the members of the Budget committee that the member does not know that the Board of Trade is his association and this is his business insurance.

The secretary, Mr. E. R. Kniffin, is constantly working for each member's welfare. Just as one illustration of Ed's watchfulness. The Directors passed a resolution whereby they will solicit for advertising and charities must have the endorsement of the secretary of this association. Now, if the Board of Trade does nothing more than that, it has saved you members the amount many of you contribute to the annual Budget.

The drive is now on for more members and a larger Budget. Please mail me your pledge, don't make me call on you and then ask, "What is the Board of Trade doing for me?" but intend mail your pledge to the Budget and help in the work of fostering good will among ourselves—protect your own business.

You wouldn't think of getting along without insurance on your buildings, merchandise, household goods. Yet you probably will never have a fire or collect on that insurance, yet you should consider the Board of Trade your insurance company in the same way. The day is not far distant when the independent merchant will find it much harder to exist than now.

F. M. Johnson, City State Bank, and C. H. Runciman forwarded their pledges to the annual Budget in the order named. Send in your pledge, it's the only way to make the directors and committee know that you believe Lowell is a good town.

V. Ashley, Budget Com.

MRS. F. R. ECKER ILL.

Wilson, N. C., April 1, 1928.

Dear Mr. Johnson:

My mother, (Mrs. B. C. Ecker) has been critically ill in a hospital here in Wilson, since an operation for acute appendicitis. For several days her recovery was doubtful, but she is improving quite rapidly now, and we hope to remove her to our home before many days. I'd appreciate your writing a news item about her illness in The Ledger as you will enable so many of her friends to know. I trust you and Mrs. Johnson are well. Sincerely, Freda Williams.

Misses Ethel and Florence Borgerson, of Detroit, are spending the week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Borgerson.

Ray Covert Caught in Bad Scrape

Ray Covert, one of Charles Cook's workmen, was caught Wednesday by a cave-in of earth while working in a ditch for a sewer connection in front of Dr. Shepard's newly purchased Harry Holland home. He was covered to his head with a mass of earth and helpless. Some of the neighboring women saw his predicament and called for help. Among those responding were Dr. Shepard, Mr. Cook and Leo Rowland. Covert was finally released and this Thursday morning is feeling no serious injuries except for lame shoulders.

Prompt calls for help and vigorous action saved a tragedy.

OBITUARY—CARRIE M. CLARK

Carrie Moore Clark died in Grand Rapids Sunday, March 31. She was the daughter of Curtis T. and Phoebe Quick Moore, born at Castile, N. Y., Aug. 18, 1856, she came to Lowell with her parents in 1862, attended the local school and on July 3, 1877, was united in marriage to W. M. Clark for many years associated with J. C. West in the drug business here. Since her husband's death in 1905 she has resided with her daughter at Grand Rapids. Besides her daughter, Emma Clark, she is survived by two sisters, Emma Moore Winters and Jessie Moore Barrows, of Phoenix, Ariz. Funeral services were held at Greenhose's Home for Funerals at 2 p. m. Wednesday. Interment at Fair Plains cemetery.

OBITUARY—MRS. RUTH MATTERN CONKLIN.

Ruth M. Mattern Conklin, daughter of Laura E. and J. A. Mattern, was born in Lowell, April 9, 1897, and died of pneumonia in Flint, Mich., March 24, 1929.

She was laid to rest in Oakwood cemetery, Lowell, March 27, 1929.

Besides her husband, Dexter G. Conklin, and father, J. A. Mattern, three children survive her, Rodney James, age five; Jacqueline, age three; and Dexter Mattern, age two. In recent years she has made a great fight to live, and always with a smile. A loving daughter, wife and mother, thus leaves her many friends.

Wild Storm Made Trouble for Electricians

Sunday night's wind and sleet storm which did great damage to telephone, telegraph and electric lines all over Michigan and left many towns and cities in darkness was successfully combated in Lowell and vicinity by Superintendent Frank J. McMahon and his crew and volunteer assistants. With two miles of poles tipped over and some broken, with trees breaking over the lines and the wind strewn the debris everywhere, while the people of Lowell sat snug and dry in their homes, some complaining perhaps because the lights went off and on and they had to light candles or kerosene lamps, these men were out in the storm, drenched from head to foot, taking their lives in their hands to keep the "home fires burning," working all Sunday night, all day Monday and until midnight Monday without rest to remedy the damage and maintain service.

It was a critical time with the Foreman Chick hatchery, with a number of big "hens" on and when the power went out threatening a loss of $3,000, the gang was appealed to and their response was as above told. Contrary to a current report the hatchery did not lose a dollar. The incubator hatches can stand a loss of four hours current and the service was resumed in less than three hours. Mr. Foreman was thoughtful enough to express his appreciation.

It was a wild night and dangerous work and it was simply human in the men to grumble a little especially after Byrne McMahon received a bad shock; but they stuck to the job.

Superintendent McMahon expresses his appreciation for the volunteer help of Charlie Bowen and his men of Keene in the work on the line.

Sleet on the wires accumulated until the wires were covered nearly two inches through with the ice, the weight of which tipped the poles over the soft soil and caused the most trouble.

COMING TO NEW STRAND THEATRE, SUNDAY AND MONDAY, APRIL 7 and 8 MATINEE SUNDAY

"Redskin" filmed in natural color, brings to the screen all the wonders of the majestic Canyon de Chelly, near the Navajo reservation in Arizona. Here nature has gone riot, giving the lands all the colors of the rainbow and the sunset, vast distance, tremendous cliffs, long, broad sweeps of tumultuous rocks, sands and verdures.

The Enchanted Mesa. The picturesque homes of the Indians who live in their adobe houses, high up on their fortified mesa, living now, as they did centuries ago.

Imagine the color of a Navajo chief's regal blanket.

"Redskin" has sweep of movement beyond description; a tragic and dramatic theme of thought-provoking, soul-stirring, heart-rending power.

Richard Dix in a dramatic role which Dix, himself, considers the greatest of his career. adv

SPELLERS MET APRIL 1.

On Monday three spellers from each school in the townships of Vergennes and Lowell competed for honors in the Lowell High school. In these youngsters had all previously won the right to represent their school. Mr. A. M. Freeland was in charge and he found it difficult to make the thirty contestants miss the words he selected from the list. The winners of the township contests will participate in the county contest which will be held at the fair grounds next fall. Each winner receives $10.00 in gold.

The winners are:
Vergennes township:—
1st, Teresa Miller, age 12, grade 8, No. 1, Vergennes. Mrs. B. S. Claus, teacher.

2nd, William Boylson, age 12, grade, No. 3, Vergennes. Miss Irma Eickhoff, teacher.
Lowell Township, 1st, Gladys Armstrong, 12, grade 7, Village of Lowell.

Second, Esther Devries, 13, grade, 8, Village of Lowell.

DEXTER LOOK MAY ENTER SPEAKER RACE

Kent county may furnish a candidate for the speakership of the next house of representatives in the person of Representative Dexter G. Look, according to some of the friends of the Kent solon in the lower house.

Look is a veteran member of the house and has put in some valuable services on the ways and means committee in the past three sessions. In the present session he has labored long and hard on appropriation measures, and many of his friends believe he should be rewarded in some fitting manner.

Look personally is not a candidate for the speakership, but this is not preventing his friends getting behind him. Should he consent to let his name be used he would prove a strong candidate for the job.—Fred A. Grimes in The Grand Rapids Press.

WEST VERGENNES EXTENSION CLASS.

The West Vergennes class in Home Management held their third meeting at the home of Mrs. Ed. Byrne Tuesday, March 19. Owing to poor roads the attendance was not large. The lesson reviewed the "Purpose and Care of Dining Room," and some time was devoted to the living room. Each was given a dust cloth made from our leaflet instruction. Adjourned to meet April 19 in the afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frank Bergin.

The Open Formula shows you that the feed contains exactly what your chicks need from the first feeding until ready to lay

Complete feeding directions are given with all Amco Feeds, on the tag carrying the Open Formula.

Special chick starters are more expensive than growing mash, not because they contain superior ingredients, but for two very different reasons. 1.— Their marketing season is so short that mixers and distributors have to make prices cover the chance they take in handling them, and 2—using a special starter has become a habit with so many poultrymen that almost any prices may be charged. But this expense is going out of date among sound poultrymen. Special starting mashers have been proved unnecessary.

Lower the cost to raise your chicks
