M. E. Pastor Pays Tribute to D. G. Mange

DAVID G. MANGE.

Seldom has Lowell felt so keenly the passing of one of her citizens as is felt in the death of Mr. Mange. Although he had been in failing health for some time, he had kept steadily at his work until a few weeks ago, only his physician, and a few of his most intimate friends understanding the seriousness of his condition. When two days before his death the sad news spread through the community there was no hope for his recovery a shadow seemed to overcast the sky. For four weeks Mr. Mange had been in Blodgett hospital, where everything was done that medical skill could do. Then a week before his death, he returned home, happy to be home again among his friends and hopeful of recovery. But it was not to be so. Thursday afternoon, June 27, he went from us.

Expressions of sorrow are heard on every hand. The sympathy of this community for Mrs. Mange and her children is deep and sincere. The feeling of loss is universal. A good man, an honorable and useful citizen, a beloved neighbor and friend, a lovable character and a Christian gentleman has been taken from us. How great the sense of loss!—among his associates in the Lowell State Bank, among the business men and farmers of Lowell and vicinity, among the congregation of the First Methodist church with which he was affiliated, as the president of the church board of trustees, among his immediate neighbors where he had resided for more than twenty years. The great company of citizens and friends that gathered at his late home last Sunday afternoon for the funeral service, the floral tributes brought by loving hands, covering the casket and filling the room where the casket stood—these all bore witness to the place held by Mr. Mange in the affections of a multitude of people.

Since the age of 15 when David Mange first came to Lowell, this village has been his home. Here he advanced through the years from an office boy at $5.00 a week to a place of leadership and trust among the business men of Lowell. Here, twenty-nine years ago, he married his wife; here he made his home and raised his family. Here he gathered to his heart his friends and here he completed his life. Is not the story of this life an illustration of the fact, too often forgotten, that a village like Lowell, affords opportunity to her most capable and ambitious sons to achieve a finely useful, and successful life? ## Lees Celebrate Silver Wedding Anniversary

Friends, neighbors and relatives gathered at "Elmsmere," the lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Adelbert Lee Saturday, June 24, at 8 o'clock p. m., to celebrate, joyously, their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary.

The success of these first twenty-five years of Mr. and Mrs. Lee's married life is noted in the number of the many friends that gathered with them, and the many more that wished to be there, and in their delightful family, consisting of Miss Glennis Lee, a teacher in Battle Creek, Miss Betty Lee, a student in Grand Rapids, Robert Lee and Dick, the two boys yet at home, and in their spacious home, with its beautiful acres of sloping hills, fast developing into attractive golf grounds a pretty wedding ceremony was performed on their lovely porch, characterized by styles of twenty-five years ago.

Delicious food was served by Miss Glennis and Miss Betty Lee assisted by their young friends.

Many indications of the respect and love in which Mr. and Mrs. Lee are held were left to help them remember their twenty-fifth anniversary. All departed in gladness, grateful for another, never to be forgotten, joyous evening with the Lees. (Com.)

Fineis Oils Won Rubber of Leonard's

The Fineis Oils won the rubber game from the Leonard Refrigerators Sunday by a score of 4 to 1. Byrnes pitched a masterful game of ball allowing the hard hitting Leonard's only four hits and striking out five men.

The Oilers collected eleven softies off the delivery of Ferguson. Pulkner's fielding at second featured for the home team while Fullover featured in left field for the Leonard's. On Fourth of July the Oilers play the Fox Colored Giants a double header at Island Park, Grand Rapids. These two teams played a 12-inning, 3 to 3 tie on Thursday, June 27. This game turned out to be one of our most interesting games of the season, both teams playing a good game under very unfavorable conditions. About 6 innings were played in the rain and very poor footing: Leonard's Refrigerator Co.: 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 Fineis Oil Co.: 0 1 0 3 0 0 0 0 The Fineis Oil Co., will play July 7, with Greenville at Greenville, at 3:30.

Grand Ending Better Business Bargain Days

Thursday, June 27, 1929, enters into the record of Red Letter Days in the annals of the Lowell Board of Trade, as the day of all days when people came to town. The occasion was the giving of the automobile; the closing event in the advertising campaign for better business, which had been in progress during the months of April, May and June.

Estimators of crowds place the number in attendance when the hour arrived at approximately four thousand. Recreation park was occupied to capacity; Main Street and intersecting streets were lined with automobiles; the thoroughfare leading to the park was a seething mass of humanity.

Throughout the day intermittent showers caused some apprehension as to the size of the crowd which might be on hand, though the more it rained the more the people came.

The program in part was as follows:

6 to 7 p. m., the gathering.

7 p. m., arrival of the American Legion band, followed by a truck, bearing a large iron can, etc., etc.

7:15 p. m., broadcasting of a brief address by C. H. Runciman, President of the Board.

7:20 p. m., Remarks by W. J. Kropf, chairman of the committee.

7:25 p. m., "Everybody Loves a Winner," by American Legion band.

7:30 p. m., Selection of committee to have charge of the giving of the car. The choice of the people fell upon Cam. Hefferan, Frank Madigan, Charles Rogers, Ralph Story, Albert Blaser.

Selected as car giver, little daughter of Lloyd Dennie.

7:45 p. m., Hush! only the rustle of papers in the hands of the impatient, broke the stillness which fell upon the multitude.

7:50 p. m., The voice of a maiden pierced the air, "It's mine! It's mine!" Who was the maiden? The daughter of Bert Hefferan of Parnell. Again the band played, the crowd cheered as the young lady approached the platform. Essex was the name of the automobile given.

For the next two hours the traffic officers were busy clearing the congested district. There were no accidents as the mighty throng dispersed; some to the shopping center, some to the movie, some to the free dance at Johnson's Ford garage, some to their homes. The whole affair was conducted in a masterful manner. All agreed that the contest was open and fair.

There were some disappointments of course, as Mr. Runciman remarked, we only wish it were possible to present a car to every individual present. While the Lowell Board of Trade are the sponsors, primarily the automobile was paid for by the business people of Lowell, offered for the encouragement of better business, another evidence of the fact that "Live and let live" is the motto of our business institutions.

Lowell State Bank

This space which is usually occupied for the purpose of advertising the facilities of this bank, is for this week contributed to the memory of David G. Mange. The life of this wonderful man, was to a considerable extent devoted to the building up of this banking structure, which for many years has enjoyed the confidence of a multitude of people at home and the country surrounding the village of Lowell.

The ever increasing growth of this institution is credited to the efficient management of David, whose cheery disposition, sunny smile and hearty handshake welcomed all who sought his advice in banking matters.

His place is to be filled by another, and the Lowell State Bank will continue on throughout the years, as it has in the past, ministering to the banking needs of every customer in a just and fitting manner.

Ever mindful of the love which David had for the institution, his pride in maintaining a banking house with distinctive qualities; we cherish his memory by continuing to fulfill his cherished desires.

CHAPTER IX

The French harbor, the Cambrian, came along to you, she had been here to and her name was pronounced down our German flag went up and we signalled the inevitable: "Stop or I shall sink you."

Her captain exhibited all of the usual gallantry at the prospect of losing his ship. We looked the craft over. She was large and was equipped aboard a large stock of provisions.

"No," I said to her skipper, "we are going to sink your ship. She will go right to port."

"She will take our prisoners?" "No," he said delightedly, "I would like to have them as my guests."

"You won't be my guests, Captain. You will be my captives. Now get out of the Cambrian."

"Not at all. I have a Captain's club aboard. You, as a prisoner, are invited to join it."

"I will not do that," he said. "I am a Frenchman, and I will not be a prisoner of a British ship."

"You are a Frenchman," he said. "I am a Britishman. I will not be a prisoner of a French ship."

Facts About the Telephone

There was a gain of 7.8 per cent in the number of telephones in Grand Rapids during 1928.

On February 1, 1929, direct telephone service was extended to twenty-five miles of telephone lines from our city to the average modern office building of twelve stories.

One-tenth of all the telephone mileage in the United States, nearly 12,000,000 miles, is in use in the territory of the New York Telephone Company.

Of the nearly 2,500,000 telephones in the territory of the New York Telephone Company at the close of 1928, more than 1,700,000 were in the Greater New York City area.

One telephone communication has been established between the territory of the New York Telephone Company and the territory of the French Indo-China, and a complete service is expected in the near future.

The city of Rochester, N. Y., on April 1 celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of the first telephone in its territory. On that date, April 1, 1879, no less than 450 calls were answered by the operator in charge.

Radio telephone service has been installed between Buenos Aires, also between Buenos Aires and Montevideo, and communication between Paris and Saigon in French Indo-China.

Harvest Is Made Easier By a Good Working Binder

There is no pleasure about harvest, but the day doesn't seem so hot or the labor so tiresome if you have a good working binder. The new McCormick-Deering contains all the best features of the famous McCormick and Deering grain binders. For many years these names have represented the best in grain binder construction. Now, in a single machine you can get the features that have made both binders famous. If you have not seen a modern grain binder recently, it would pay you to take the time now to look over the new McCormick-Deering. You will find many improvements in this machine that are not on your old binder.

When you buy a new binder it would pay you to get the widest cut machine you can buy. If you are now using a 6-ft. binder, remember that an 8-ft. binder will cut a third more grain in a day than the old 6-ft. machine. This means all the difference between profit and loss when bad weather threatens. We will be glad to show you the new McCormick-Deering binder if you will come in to our store.

Having Purchased The Hemstitching and Pleating Machines of Mrs. Jay Ellis, I am now prepared to do prompt and satisfactory work.
