The Mill Tax According to McPherson

Editor Lowell Ledger:—

The mill tax, so called, is authorized by a special act of the Legislature to provide for the proper maintenance of the county highways and the construction of new roads supplementing the State trunk line system. Prior to the time of the State's bearing all the cost of the construction and maintenance of the trunk lines, the county of Kent was compelled to pay twenty-five per cent of the cost of all State trunk lines and fifty per cent of the maintenance of the same.

For several years the county used nearly all the mill tax in meeting the State's requirements on the trunk lines constructed within Kent county. All the trunk lines except the new twenty-one from the Grand Trunk grade separation east to Lowell were constructed jointly by the state and county, or under the Covert road act.

In 1924, a sum of approximately $200,000 was placed in the county budget for new county roads. The Lowell-Lincoln Lake road was started in the Spring of 1925 and completed during the next three years. Also, the roads running north and east from Parnell, the Fallsburg park road, the road from Fox's corner to trunk line 66, the road west of Elm Lake, the road south of Grand river running west to the Cascade line, the road on the east side of Grand river from Ada to Brooklyn corners, the road from Ada to Cascade and at least two roads in Boyne township were all financed by the mill tax.

Kent county is limited to one mill or $1.00 per thousand on account of its valuation being in excess of $300,000,000. Our neighboring counties of Ionia, Montcalm, Newaygo, Muskegon, Ottawa, Allegan and Barry raise from two to four dollars per thousand and some of them have a very large Covert road tax at large as well. The Kent County Board of Supervisors practically eliminated that system several years ago and started a "pay as you go" policy.

All fair-minded citizens and tax payers living in cities, villages and adjacent to good improved roads in the country should not demand a road holiday until the farmers living back in the mud or sands of Spring and Summer, or the snow drifts of Winter, have an opportunity to participate in some of the benefits paid for in part by their contributions to the gas and weight tax.

The whole system of highway plan of co-operation and participation by the National government, the state, county and township, each unit contributing toward a definite highway program. The finances of Kent county are in excellent condition and our tax rate for all county purposes including the road tax, is as low, if not the lowest of any county in Michigan.

Sincerely Yours,
M. B. McPherson.

MILL TAX AS PRESS SAW IT TUESDAY.

There appeared some possibility Tuesday the board of supervisors might have to adjourn without passing the general county budget of $530,771.45. This is the city side's last immediate recourse in the bitter battle against the mill tax for county roads which carried last Friday. The budget funds would not be needed until Jan. 1 so there is no present danger of having to close up the courthouse.

The city's ranks were reported still complete with the possible exception of City Commissioner Burrill A. Parks.

City Manager Welsh, leader of the opposition to the mill tax, said Monday the advantage of his position is that he has the support of City Attorney Taggart in questioning the legality of the action of the board in voting the compromise road program without going into a reconsideration. Failure to pass the budget would not affect the finality of the mill tax in its present status. The attack on the general budget by the city is intended solely as strategy and the battle would carry on. Should every device fail it is expected before long the whole case will be in court and meanwhile the city assessors would be instructed not to spread the mill tax on the city rolls.

Angry of continued warfare was seen in the first action of the East Grand Rapids commission toward obtaining a third supervisor. The county is considering an attempt to cut down the Grand Rapids representation by action at Lansing or to incorporate one or more villages in the county as fourth-class cities to recover the preponderance on the board.—(Grand Rapids Press.)

LEGION FREE FAIR NOVEMBER 21, 22, 23.

The big indoor free fair staged by the American Legion will be held on Nov. 21, 22, and 23. Dr. Gotfredsen has again been chosen chairman of the committee, with W. Christiansen, W. J. Smith, G. Knapp, G. D. Cook and N. Borgerson as assistants. Many new features will be added this year with enlargements to the livestock and grocery departments. Several merchants have already reserved booths and everything points to a record breaking fair.

"Lights Out" Sounded for Lowell Soldier Boys at Oakwood Cemetery

CHARLES D. STOCKING.

Charles D. Stocking, the oldest son of Rodney D., and Lillie Mae Stocking, was born in Lowell, Michigan, April 8, 1892. He attended the Lowell public schools and went to Detroit in 1912, in which city he lived until his death.

He enlisted in the air service at the beginning of the World war, and was stationed in Arcadia, Florida, as an instructor in flying. At this time he mapped out the first air mail routes through Florida and Georgia and distinguished himself by locating and rescuing Lieut. Smith, who had been lost in the Everglades for five days.

For some time after the war he did commercial flying, but at the time of his death he was president of the Heat and Power Engineering Co., of Detroit.

He was a member of Lowell Lodge No. 90, F. and A. M. He was married in 1918 to Jane Lundquist, of Detroit, and she, with two daughters, Jane, 7, and Nancy 5, survive him. He also leaves his father, R. D. Stocking, of Lowell, one sister, Mrs. Walter Kropp, of Lowell, and one brother, Dr. Bruce Stocking, of Chicago.

Funeral services were held at his late home at 928 West Chester road, Grospe Point, Thursday afternoon, Rev. Wilson, a Methodist pastor, officiating, at which a number of former Lowell people were present, together with a large number of Detroit friends. Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock services were also held at the Stocking home in Lowell, Rev. A. B. Lemke, Congregational minister, officiating. Burial was made at Oakwood cemetery, Charles W. Clark, American Legion Post, according to military honors.

Attendance at the Detroit and Lowell homes and the wealth of beautiful floral tributes attested at once honor and esteem for the departed and deepest sympathy for the mourning family.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH. We invite all to the services next Sunday as follows: Morning worship, 10:30 a. m. Church school at 12 noon. Intermediate League, 5 p. m.

The monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid society will be held in the church Friday, Nov. 1, at 2:30 p. m. Hostess, Mrs. Eunice Thompson.

Prayer meeting Wednesday evening at 7:30.

VERGENNES M. E. CHURCH. Service next Sunday morning at 9 o'clock a. m. Sunday school at 10 o'clock. All are invited.

JOSEPH C. SCOTT.

Joseph Clair Scott, son of James Omar Scott and Mabel Scott, was born in Keene township, Ionia county, May 12, 1892, and died in Blodgett hospital, Grand Rapids, Thursday night, Oct. 24, 1929, aged 37 years.

The family moved from Keene during Joe's boyhood and settled in Lowell and vicinity. It was into manhood that he entered into manhood. During the past thirteen years his home has been in Lowell.

March 30, 1916, he was united in marriage with Miss Mabel D. Gardner. He was the father of two sons, Bertram and Warner Scott. Besides his own family he is survived by his father and mother, four brothers, L. H. Scott, Harold H. Scott, John L. Scott, Elmo E. Scott, and a sister, Mrs. Beatrice Pilmore.

He was a member of the Methodist church, the Masonic order and the American Legion. The great congregation present at his funeral Sunday afternoon in the First Methodist church bore witness to the affection and respect in which he was held by the people of Lowell and vicinity. It was during his service in the navy at the Great Lakes training camp that he fell a victim to the epidemic of influenza which swept through all the military camps and took thousands of the best and bravest of the young men of the land. Joseph Scott never recovered fully from that sickness, and all the years since he came back from the navy he has not known what good health is. He is one more young man whose life has been a sacrifice upon the altar of his country. The sickness which took him away was only a further development of the sufferings he endured during his service in the World War.

It was fitting that he should be buried with military honors, as he was, by his comrades of the American Legion. The sympathy of the large company of friends and comrades who attended the funeral service in the Methodist church and gathered around his grave in Oakwood cemetery, is extended to the bereaved family so greatly afflicted in the loss of this young husband and father. A. T. C.

Lowell Con- quers Rock- ford 19 to 0

Rockford went down with flying colors last Saturday. Our friendly rivals were hopelessly out-classed, but in spite of heavy odds against them they put up a splendid game. The combination of a strong forward wall and a fleet, versatile back-field proved too much for them and Lowell won the coveted victory. Strange as it might seem our own lads did not play up to form. The blocking, tackling, and charging was below "par." The great crowd of Lowell fans who followed the team were delighted because Lowell won. But nevertheless these same fans could be heard to remark that Lowell was "off-formed." Even Coach Finch admits keen disappointment and he promises stiff workouts for the rest of the season.

BELDING HERE FRIDAY. The last home game of the season will be played on Friday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock. Unless a post-season game is arranged, the fans will see Peckham, Gulembo, Parsons and Weaver in action for the last time. Belding should be beaten Friday, but the boys will have to play better football than they did last Saturday. The locals travel to East Grand Rapids on November 8, and it is safe to state that the county championship will be settled at that time. W. W. G.

OUTSIDE ATTENDANTS AT JOS. C. SCOTT FUNERAL. Relatives and friends from away attending the funeral of Joseph C. Scott Sunday were: L. H. Scott, of Oklawaha City, Harold Scott, of Milwaukee, Elmo Scott and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Pilmore, of Lansing, Mr. and Mrs. Will Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Scott, Vernor and Hobart Scott, of Morley, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Scott, of Lakeview, and Mrs. John Scott, Mrs. Mary Sears, Frank Sears, Mr. and Mrs. Don Warner, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Lusk, Clifford Warner, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Warner, Miss Olive Merrill and Robert Nash, all of Lansing; Mr. and Mrs. N. Ludwig, of Grand Rapids; Mr. and Mrs. Lew Pottruff, of Lyons, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Parker, of Freeport, Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Merrill and Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Gardner, of Detroit.

ATTENDANTS FROM ABROAD AT STOCKING FUNERAL. Among those attending the funeral of Charles D. Stocking were the following:

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lundquist, Mr. and Mrs. Juel Lundquist, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lundquist, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rohrmoser, Miss Ruth Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Locke, Mr. and Mrs. Gregory, M. and Mrs. Skag, Chas. Guy Perry, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Perry, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Perry, Mrs. Lotta Rube, Mrs. Fred King and Miss Florence King, all of Grand Rapids.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH. 10:00, a. m., Bible school. 11:00, a. m., morning worship. 5:00, p. m., Christian Endeavor. Thursday, 7:30, p. m., mid-week meeting.

The Christian Endeavors are inviting the adults to be present as their guests at the meeting next Sunday at five o'clock. After the meeting refreshments will be served.

Miss Hattie Lynn, superintendent of the Sunday school, is giving variety and tone to the Bible school hour Sunday mornings at ten o'clock. How did you like the Halloween atmosphere last Sunday? There is a place for you in the life of the Sunday school and we suggest that you will enjoy filling it. The subject of the sermon next Sunday morning is "Looking Through a Microscope." Andrew B. Lemke, Pastor.

LEGION AUXILIARY NOTES. There have been false rumors around concerning the canned fruit which is sent to Battle Creek every year; about the shelves being over loaded. Mrs. Gotfredsen visited Battle Creek two weeks ago and found the shelves practically empty and they were anxious for this year's shipments to arrive. The fruit is sent direct and cannot possibly go astray.

The new membership drive is now on and 1930 dues are now payable. Help your new president by paying without being solicited. The next meeting will be held November 5. Members please bring needle, thimbles and thread. R. R.

He Envies Us

Harvey Callier over at the Strand Theatre says he envies us because after he has sold a couple of hundred tickets for a show no one seems to want what he has left as much as they did the others and he would like to trade jobs with us because we can just keep right on selling Rexall merchandise and the more we sell the more people want it. In fact the hundredth bottle of Puretest Cod Liver Oil was easier to sell than the first because it had just that much more proof of real value. In the forty-two years that Look's Drug Store has sold Cod Liver Oil, D. G. says he has never seen a better oil than that put up bearing the Puretest label. So we don't blame Harvey for envying us.

What surprised us most recently in the recent Michigan newspaper exchange month was to see how well and bravely the Detroit Press of October 27, 1929, has carried on and upholding the credit of the newspaper craft.

It may have seemed to men in their sixties and seventies that the presidential succession has not moved so rapidly in their time, but previously; and they may have explained it by the fact that since 1860, when Buchanan was president, three presidents have been assassinated.
