Armistice Day Celebrated by Lowell Legion

A committee of the American Legion consisting of W. A. Kroft, commander, N. E. Borgerson, adjutant, and Bruce McQueen, provided a big program for the community in commemoration of the close of the world war. All ex-service men of the surrounding territory, whether members of Legion or not, were invited to the festivities. The local town-people were also provided with suitable entertainment.

Program at City Hall.

Comrade "Pete" Spenstra and his "K. P." put on a feed fit for a king. About seventy-five buddies sat down to the banquet. They came from all directions. There were representatives of members present from Ada, Alto, Smyrna, Grand Rapids, New York City and Texas. They were royally entertained by the band and by a impromptu program in charge of the commander. The chairman of his opening remarks, told his hearers that Armistice Day was a day of celebration but he also called upon the boys to remember that they had a duty to perform as soldiers in times of peace. Theirs should be the duty to carry on in peace as they did in war. He also spoke of the feelings of the departed ones and he called upon those present to remain silent for one minute in honor of those who had gone West. All of the former commanders of the Post and several members were called upon for remarks. The following officers dressed the gathering: P. McQueen, Rickert, Gottfredsen, Hatch, Chaffee, Gazella, Doyle, Borgerson, Spenstra, Simpson, and Gumsier. All of these men told of what the Legion meant to them and called upon those who were not members to join. Adjutant Borgerson reports that there was a fine response.

PROGRAM AT THEATER.

The Legion, with Mr. Callie's co-operation, provided a free show at the Strand theater. They also provided a band concert between shows. The mere fact that the Strand was filled three times would indicate that this form of recreation is appreciated by the community.

Legion Fair.

Comrade H. P. Gottfredsen announces that the plans for the biggest fair in the history of Lowell are well under way. He promises that the big affair of last year will sink into oblivion when compared with this year's spectacle. ### Injury Fatal to Elmer Cox in Grand Rapids

Elmer Cox, 58, died in Detention hospital Friday afternoon from the effects of a skull fracture which Detectives Taylor and Breen allege was suffered when he was knocked against a stove in a rooming house at 16 Sycamore-st., S. E., by Jack Shirley, 37, of 361 Division-av., S., now in custody.

The officers said they would seek a manslaughter warrant for Shirley. They report Shirley admits he struck Cox, but Coroner H. C. Wolfe asserted he probably would conduct an inquest into the death.

Cox was injured last Sunday afternoon in the residence of Joseph Cummings, Negro, according to police, when Shirley is alleged to have struck him because Cox had slapped him in the face "without provocation." Shirley said he had gone to the Cummings' home to find a man he wished to accompany to Muskegon for employment.

After he entered the address, he said, Cox appeared in an intoxicated condition, watched men playing cards for a short time and then approached him. Without apparent reason, Shirley told the detectives, Cox slapped his face. Shirley retaliated and Cox went down, sprawling against a stove. He arose, however, according to Shirley, and returned more blows.

Shirley stated he left the house about two hours later, the officers have learned. Cox was found dazed near his home, a passerby finding him and taking him to the home of a neighbor. Cox resided with his wife at 19 Pleasant-st., S. E., and when the neighbors told the stranger Cox did not live there Mrs. Cox was awakened and she saw her husband was in distress.

A police ambulance arrived and officers decided to take Cox to St. Mary's hospital, where it was found his skull was fractured. He was kept there until Wednesday, when he was removed to Detention hospital. He was unconscious almost all of the time and all that could be obtained from him by way of a statement were a few mumbled and confused words.

The autopsy revealed a basal skull fracture and numerous other bruises. Others known to have been present included Cummings' father, his brothers, Raymond and Lester Cummings, and William Peterson, another Negro, as well as Jacob Banburg, a white man. These men have corroborated Shirley's story, police said.

The body of Cox was removed to Van Srien's mortuary, Grand Rapids Press.

The Cox family formerly lived in Lowell.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon and the body was brought to Lowell for burial. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Emma Cox, a son, four daughters, two brothers and eight grandchildren.

Lowell Lost 6 to 14 to East Grand Rapids

Last Friday night might have been the 13th as far as our football team was concerned. For the second time in four years Lowell tasted of the bitter cup on a county gridiron. Local fans in large numbers followed the team expecting another easy victory, but they returned home disappointed. We feel, however, that there was glory in the defeat. Most of the fans are under the impression that our boys did not play their usual heady game. We heartily disagree with this view. Coach Finch goes on record in saying that the boys played the best game of which they were capable. He believes that they fought harder than in any other game this year. The fans should remember that a team's offense is successful or unsuccessful according to the defense of the opposition. East's schedule was an easy one this year. He is a smart coach and succeeded in doing what no other coach has been able to do all season, namely to stop Lowell's offense. On the other hand the East game, as far as Lowell was concerned was just another big game. In spite of Mr. Waterman's success we feel that Lowell would have won had not the breaks stepped in as they did. We made more first downs and more yardage but the decision on the goal line, and the blocked punt proved too great a handicap. We repeat our boys covered themselves with glory. They played hard, clean football and they gave all they had and any boy or any team that does this deserves a great deal of credit. We do not feel that it is a disgrace to be beaten by a team of East's caliber. We will give them credit for beating us at our best. Gulemb, Klahn, Weaver and Parsons played their last game for Lowell, and these boys never played better. They smeared all attempts directed at them and they were in every play. The rest of the squad did well also. Baird, Houseman, Porritt, Johnson, Lovelless, Broadbent, Layer, Friesner and the Wepmans all did splendidly. The back field made good advances through the line. And they did well at passing. Broadbent and Friesner put the ball in scoring territory by receiving long passes from Layer. Our line did well in holding East to four first downs. East's first touch-down came as a result of blocking a punt on Lowell's 40 yard line and passing for the score. Their second score came as a result of a beautiful 80 yard run by Sam Erik. We will hope for better luck next year. The record for this year is 6 victories, 2 defeats and 1 tie. Lowell scored 231 points to 39 for the opposition. All of the games were played against schools of class "B" and "C" rating.

Welfare Union Boosts Kent Hospital Help

Rural residents in Kent county, especially those in towns and villages, have at their disposal the health and happiness services of the member societies of the Welfare Union. To these residents in time of need, emergency, distress or sorrow are always open, the doors of these institutions maintained to minister to their social service of welfare needs.

What would Kent county do without the three Grand Rapids hospitals?

Their existence relieves rural residents from the necessity of large investments of capital funds for the erection, equipment and maintenance of these institutions. They are open every day and night of the year to share their service with Kent county residents. Without them where would be the rural citizen turn when farm mishaps, accidents or emergencies requiring hospital treatment, skilled medical attention or surgery to save life, relieve pain, suffering or restore health?

Perhaps some do not understand, are not interested in the Welfare Union because they have never required its services. But none as a result of illness, accident or misfortune. Assistance may be needed tomorrow.

The Welfare Union was organized in 1917 with nine member societies, three of which, evangelist Home, Anti-Tuberculosis society and Michigan Children's Aid society, were then and now are serving the whole of Kent county. Today, these members are also serving Kent county; St. John's Home, Home of the Good Shepherd, Kent County Humane society, Boy Scouts, Campfire society, Rehabilitation League, Y. M. C. A. and Safety Council.

While the three hospitals do not furnish absolutely free service to rural residents of Kent county, they do provide ward service and their lower priced private rooms at less than actual cost, and are on the job every day and night, ready for any emergency.

This year, for the first time, the Welfare Union is making an organized effort to enlist the active help of Kent county residents living outside the metropolitan area of Grand Rapids in providing funds necessary to meet the operating deficits of the member societies of the union. This campaign will begin Monday, Nov. 18, and end Saturday, Nov. 23.

Because 11 of these societies, besides the three hospitals, are serving all of Kent county, urban and rural, the campaign leaders under Gen. John H. Schouten, chairman, are looking forward with confidence to loyal and generous support from the entire county.

Said M. R. Bissell, Jr., president of the Welfare Union, contributors are assured that every dollar received by the welfare Union will be carefully used in Kent county social service work. What the Welfare Union means to Kent County resident is best proved by the service report of the Anti-Tuberculosis society from Jan. 1 to Sept. 30 this year. It held 17 clinics, examined 297 persons and one nurse made 1,932 home calls.

When you help the Welfare Union by opening your heart and purse you bring satisfaction to yourself by helping humanity, and especially your Kent county neighbor.
