A Purpose Account

Individuals, firms and corporations who have obligations to meet at stated intervals, like taxes, fire and life insurance premiums, payments on homes or on investments, can be sure of having the money to meet these obligations promptly if they start a "Purpose" savings account and deposit pre-determined sums at regular intervals.

Why don't you try this system? You'll like it and it will help you to always be prepared to meet such obligations.

We pay you four per interest to save.

Good Work of A. L. Auxiliary Told in Brief

The Lowell American Legion Auxiliary was the only unit in our district to fill its quota of membership by Dec. 20, for which a national citation will be given. Our quota of 90 is set by state headquarters, but while we have filled our quota we welcome new members. Some ladies who are eligible do not join because they are unable to attend meetings. We wish to assure them that their $1.50 dues are a great help as the demands on the Auxiliary are many.

The American Legion Auxiliary is purely an organization of service, the social side being only incidental. The work of the unit is to help maintain the American Legion hospital and the United States Veterans hospital at Battle Creek and the children's billet at Otter Lake. The Auxiliary units throughout the state provide practically all of the pleasures that come into the lives of the inmates of these institutions, supplying them with clothing, luxuries and gifts on special occasions.

At Christmas our Department Rehabilitation committee wrapped 3,753 gifts which were sent to 345 sick and hospitalized service men throughout the state and 714 in the hospitals at Battle Creek. The packages contained combs, handkerchiefs, socks and candy; 341 baskets of fruit and half-pound boxes of candy were sent to all patients at the American Legion hospital; One hundred baskets were sent for service men in Detroit hospitals. Needy families of ex-service men throughout the state who do not come under Legion posts were provided for by the State Rehabilitation committee. Nuts and Christmas tree decorations were provided for the Christmas party at Battle Creek, department officers taking part in the exercises.

Since October your local unit has sent 100 quarts of fruit, 6 pairs of pajamas, 2 bathrobes and one pair of slippers to the hospital at Battle Creek; paid in $10 to the Neiman Scholarship fund; $10 to the Christmas fund; $2 for the Picture and Pillow fund; $8.49 for the November birthday party at the hospital and sent a crate of oranges to the Children's Billet for Christmas, besides doing local Christmas work. We also sent to the hospitals the contents of our Service Basket, consisting of soap, razor blades, tooth paste, shaving lotions, candy, cigars, gum, etc. This service basket is open at all times for donations of personal articles that the hospitalized men might use. It was voted at the last meeting to have a Valentine Bridge party on February 12 and it is hoped all of our members will turn out at the next meeting, which will be February 4, to assist in the plans. LOWELL WOMAN HURT IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT.

Mrs. Lee M. Miller, wife of a local High school teacher, suffered severe cuts about the face Friday night when she was thrown through the windshield of the car in which she and her husband, in company with others were riding. The Miller car, returning to Lowell from a basketball game at Grand Rapids, struck a parked car near Ada and Mrs. Miller was thrown through the glass. It required more than 12 stitches to close the cuts. The blinding snow was blamed for the accident.—(Grand Rapids Press.)

SILAS W. WARD BELDING, CIVIL WAR SOLDIER, DIES.

Silas W. Ward, 85, Civil War veteran and a resident of Western Michigan most of his life, died Sunday at his home in Belding. After the war Mr. Ward resided in Grant Center a number of years, but had made his home in Belding the past 20 years. He carried on the business of a stock buyer. He was born in Morristown, N. Y., July 28, 1844.

He leaves one son, William, of Belding; a half brother, George Ward, of Beulah, and a half sister, Mrs. Susie Madison, of Grant Center.

Funeral services were held at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon at the residence in Belding. Burial in Ashley cemetery.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE.

Services are held every Sunday at 11 o'clock over the Lowell State bank. Subject for lesson sermon February 2nd, is "Love." Every one is cordially invited.

Editor's Mail Box

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 24, 1930.

Dear Mr. Johnson— Enclosed you will find money order for $2.00 for Ledger. You and your family have my deepest sympathy in your sad bereavement. I enjoy reading The Ledger each week and find many new names, and I guess I wouldn't know the old place, it has changed so. Hope to make a trip East in a few years. How the time does fly. Christmas day it was 83 here and New Year's day saw the tournament of roses in Pasadena, and got my neck sun burned, it was 86. Flowers are always in bloom and have lovely roses and flowers of all kinds in our yard. Give my best regards to Ruth and her family.

With love,
Mrs. J. C. Wayne.
(nee Mildred Cameron.)

Eventually you will take The Ledger. Why not now? M.

Former Lowell Girl's Gift to Old Home Ch.

January 27, 1930. According to the will of the late Emma Moore Winters of Phoenix, Arizona, item is as follows:

"I give to the Methodist Episcopal Church at Lowell, Michigan, in memory of my father and mother, C. T. Moore and Phoebe Quick Moore, and in memory of Martin S. Quick and Mary Quick, my grandfather and grandmother, the sum of Two Thousand Five Hundred Dollars."

According to the conditions of the will, there are no strings tied to this bequest, it being a cash gift outright.

Emma Moore spent her younger life in Lowell and for many years was employed as a clerk in Blain's dry goods store. She left here in the 80's and went to Arizona in a desperate last fight against tuberculosis. After regaining her health, she was married to E. H. Winters of Phoenix, who died about ten years ago.

Mrs. Winters' death occurred about four weeks ago and the residue of her large estate estimated at upwards of $500,000 is given to the Arizona Children's Home association of Tucson, Arizona.

COMRADE PAYS TRIBUTE TO LIEUT. STOCKING.

Our good townsman, R. D. Stocking has received from the widow of his late son, Charles Stocking, a letter of sympathy from Lieut. William D. Smith, of Chicago, a fellow Airplane pilot and tutor in the World War Air service in the South, who was lost in the Florida Everglades for three days, and whose life was saved by the late Lieut. Stocking.

As may have been expected Lieut. Smith pays a high tribute to the ability, character and services of his late companion in their country's service, and this letter will be cherished by the family of the late Charles D. Stocking as coming from one who knew him in camp life intimately and well.

NOTICE TO DELINQUENT SUBSCRIBERS.

The address labels of delinquent subscribers will be blue marked again February 5. We are obliged to clean up our list preparatory to circulation audit.

Our sincere thanks are due to the hundreds who have cheerfully and promptly complied with all arrears notices and have paid in advance. Such people make us feel like going on at the old job until we drop in the harness. Those still in arrears can save the blue mark by paying arrears before February 6, and three months in advance; but better make it a year and have it over with.

Your old friend,
F. M. Johnson.

AUCTION SALES.

See Frank Biggs advertisement for complete information about his farm personal property sale Tuesday, Feb. 4, 1/2 mile north of Fallsburg park. Find it on page seven of this issue.

Get your auction advertising in The Lowell Ledger; if you want the best and most service for the least money. That's us.

Ben's Famous Fragrant Fur Shop Stays Put

Ben Wepman informs us that he has certainly bought the Munge estate buildings near the post office, at present occupied by Claude Thorne and Will Stone, a barber and tailor shops respectively.

Ben says he paid $1,000 down to bind the bargain, but cannot get possession until necessary court action is taken which explains why the rent monies are still paid to the Michigan Trust company as administrator.

This looks as if Ben and his famous and fragrant fur business would remain in Lowell for a long time to come.

N. E. Borgerson, who some time ago bought the present Wepman lots on the corner of Main and Monroe does not get possession of same until the coming June and has no plans relative to same beyond cleaning up the lot, which will certainly be a big improvement.

Aside from that he regards it as the best available business lot remaining in town and as such a safe investment.

THE LOWELL WOMAN'S CLUB.

The Lowell Woman's club held its annual pot luck supper in their club rooms at the City hall Wednesday evening, January 22, entertaining their husbands and Mr. and Mrs. Lemke. Mrs. Elizabeth Lalley and her committee were in charge of the dining room, the tables being very prettily decorated with pink crepe paper and cyclamen.

After a sumptuous supper Mrs. R. M. Shivel, chairman for the evening, called the club to order and the following program was given.

Community singing led by Mr. W. W. Gumsier, with Mrs. O. J. Yeiter at the piano.

Mrs. Fuller, of St. Louis, Mo., was then called on and gave a short talk on the work of the P. T. A.

Piano duet, Mesdames Wachtelhauser and Hodges.

The speaker of the evening, Mrs. W. W. Gumsier, gave a fine talk on Education, comparing the ways of teaching of today with those of yesterday, also leaving many good thoughts with the listeners.

After further community singing the club adjourned to meet Feb. 5.

Meeting open to every one, the program will be an afternoon of harp music by Miss Margaret Hunt, of Grand Rapids, assisted by Mrs. O. J. Yeiter, reader, and a double trio.

AUCTION SALE OF HORSES.

A. T. Eash will sell at auction at his farm two miles north of Freeport, on Tuesday, Feb. 4, a carload of Michigan and Kansas horses. See advertisement elsewhere in this paper for complete details.

Mr. Eash gives us to understand that this will be an honest sale and that no misrepresentations will be tolerated.

YOUR BEST INVESTMENT.

It's an actual fact that there are advertisements in this paper, in a single issue, that are worth more to the wise house supply buyer than the price of the paper for an entire year. What other investment pays so well? Besides that, you get all the home news in your best home paper for a whole year as a bonus.

Cong'l Church Boosters' Feed Big Success

The Boosters banquet is history now, taking its place with the achievements of the past, and it is history that Lowell Congregationalists will love to recall. The orchestra, directed by Russell Smith, played effectively during the banquet, which was prepared and served by the men of the Booster club, under the guidance of Lawrence Rutherford, chairman of Banquet committee, and Verne Ashley, table service being in charge of Lester Bailey.

W. W. Gumsier led the community singing. During the evening he and Orrin Sterkins were called upon for solos. The appreciation with which these numbers were received was quite evident.

When Earl Hunter was called upon he announced that some Sunday soon a King Memorial service would be held in the church, at which time a bronze tablet in honor of the King family will be dedicated and installed in the church auditorium. He paid a splendid tribute to Mr. and Mrs. Francis King, Mr. and Mrs. Frank King and their daughter Florence King, in behalf of the Congregational church.

Rev. J. W. Fifield, Jr., of East Congregational church, of Grand Rapids, guest speaker, gave a most vital address.

The theme of his discourse was that he was interested in giving people, not a religion that would be another burden added to a world already too heavily burdened, but a religion that would help people carry their burdens.

In short, not a milestone religion dragging them down, but a balloon religion buoying people up.

The remarks by W. J. Kropf, Commander of the Lowell American Legion Post, by the Grand Rapids friends and visitors, Geo. S. Norcross, A. B. Klise, Mr. Cross, clerk of East Congregational church, and by our own Mr. Frank King, were happily received.

President Norman E. Borgerson, who made an ideal toastmaster, called upon Rev. Fifield to pronounce the benediction.

They Overstrained

M. B. McPherson tells about an amusement park in Edinburgh, Scotland, which installed a novel Chest expansion machine to catch the canny pennies. It bore a sign which said "Your penny will be returned if you make the dial go all the way around." It was expected that the proverbial Scotchman would take to the idea of getting his money back, but the fondest expectations of the promoters were exceeded when on the morning following the opening of the park several dead Scotchmen were found beside the machine.
