VOLUME XXXVIII

You Want Your Meals Regularly

Of course you do. We all do. If we didn't take nourishment regularly, we would waste away and die.

Regularity is just as important with a savings account. It is the steady, week-by-week addition to the account that makes it develop into a healthy resource.

A penny a day, a dime a week, ten dollars a month--any definite sum, systematically put away soon grows into surprisingly proportions.

It's our business to help you save. We admire thrift wherever we see it. For that reason we take a personal interest in your savings problem. Come in and see us about it.

Ledger Entries

Being a Collection of Various Topics of Local and General Interest

The "new editor" cannot let his first issue of The Lowell Ledger go to its readers without expressing his sincere appreciation of the friendly and cordial welcome he has received from all with whom he has come in contact during the first week of his work here. Truly, Lowell lives up to its slogan, "The Friendly Town," and we shall ever strive to maintain "A Friendly Office in a Friendly Town."

We also wish to take this opportunity to extend a cordial invitation to all the people of this community to drop in on the Ledger office at the first opportunity that we may become better acquainted.
R. G. Jefferies, Editor.

Just after the new census of Michigan's capital city had been completed, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Morlock announced the addition of quadruplets to their family circle. The four babies, all girls, are the first quadruplets ever born in Lansing. The story goes that the unusual increase in the family was broken to the father by slow degrees. He was first informed of the arrival of "a girl baby" and the father beamed with joy. In a few moments the nurse announced twins, and the father's joy deepened. A little later the nurse announced the third arrival and immediately a startled look appeared in the father's eyes, but the real climax came when the re-check on the count showed quadruplets and the father fainted away.

We know who washes the dishes at the Father and Son banquets, but what puzzles us is who does the job at the Mother and Daughter banquets.

The new editor feels he is getting in good company in counting this section of the State, where the Johnson triumvirate holds forth--Thomas E. Johnson, the able editor of the Rockford Register; H. T. Johnson, the courteous veteran of the Saranac Advertiser; and last, but not least, the retiring editor, Frank M. Johnson, of Lowell.

The Chicago Tribune has for its slogan, "The World's Greatest Newspaper." (Give the Tribune credit for modestly placing the apostrophe before the "s.") The Detroit Free Press with considerable justification for its claim says it is "Michigan's Greatest Newspaper." The Lowell Ledger, not to be outdone, had an idea that "Western Michigan's Greatest Weekly" would sound pretty good when we recalled the story of the fellow who claimed he could lick anybody in town. He was not disputed. Emboldened, the bully asserted he could lick anybody in the county. Again his challenge went unaccepted. But his third boast, when he loudly asserted he could whip anybody in the state, proved his undoing. His challenge was accepted, and as he slowly came out of the "K. O.," after the count of ten was frank to admit he had taken in too much territory. So, when we consider the many other splendid weekly newspapers in this part of Michigan we are happy to continue with the old slogan, "A Friendly paper in a Friendly Town."

It is said that a Frenchman has invented a car which jumps from the ground and travels considerable distance in the air. Or you could try driving on U. S. 27 between St. Johns' and Lansing.

The editor's family will come to Lowell just as soon as the home in East Lansing can be disposed of. The family consists of three--Mrs. Jefferies, Harold, who celebrates his fourteenth birthday this coming August, and the writer. Harold is quite a lively chap, and of course he's "the apple of our eye." He is already looking forward to happy days on the banks of the Grand and Flat rivers and hopes it won't be long until he can earn the price of a canoe; but aviation is his great dream and he hopes to be an aviator when he "grows up." In the meantime his mother's big problem is to get him to eat enough vegetables and milk. We fancy many of you mothers know all about such problems.

Who Can Tell What to do With Banded Pigeon?

A phone call came to The Ledger office Monday from Mrs. Wesley Miller of Fallsburg, stating that a carrier pigeon had arrived at their place and asking for information as to what to do in such case. Of course a country editor is supposed to know everything but we were stumped. We asked Postmaster Borgerson but he frankly admitted he didn't know any more than the editor. Next we tried Expressman F. F. Rosewarne, who suggested that the news be broadcast. Naturally the best way to broadcast in this section is to use The Ledger, so we are sure that some reader will be able to tell what to do. If so, just call this office or phone Wesley Miller, 86-F 2.

The pigeon mentioned carried two bands, one reading "320," the other "A. J. 28 Cleveland--3981."

TRIBUTE PAID NATION'S DEAD

Lowell Citizens Observe Memorial Day in Old-Time Manner

REV. LEMKE SPEAKS

The Weather man after his previous unseasonable behavior and gave us fair skies and cool breezes tempering to comfortable hours during the Memorial services at Oakwood cemetery, May 30, much to the pleasure of the large body of people in attendance.

The Memorial parade was formed at Richards park and moved to and down Main street and up Monroe avenue to Oakwood in the following order:

Colors, band, firing squad, Civil war veterans, World war veterans, the Auxiliary Scouts and their colors, Camp-fire girls, school children.

At the Soldiers' monument the following program was given:

America, audience, lead by Mr. Sterkling.

Invocation, Rev. E. J. Stevens. Patriotic music, Lowell band. Gettysburg address, Audrey Chase.

Scouts, oath and pledge. Introduction of speaker, W. J. Kropf.

Address, A. B. Lemke. Star-Spangled Banner, Lowell band.

Salute, firing squad. Taps, bugler.

Rev. A. B. Lemke in his address counseled his hearers to refrain from morbid sorrow on this and other Memorial days, citing Edgar Allan Poe, and his great classic poem, "The Raven," as an example of a morbid sorrow that destroyed a great life.

Memorial day, he said, should rather be a day for inspiring courage, Rev. H. Williams, a victim of religious intolerance, himself an eminent example of tolerance and Abraham Lincoln's determined call for 500,000 additional soldiers, in spite of the threat that it would defeat his reelection. Rev. Williams, as examples of the right kind of courage.

Mr. Lemke concluding his address by admonishing the young people and children before him to dedicate their lives to their country's service.

The decorating of soldiers graves concluded the exercises and the throng of attendants scattered through the beautiful city of the dead, which had been previously visited by hundreds of those dear ones had been laid there in years past and their resting place made radiant with beautiful flowers.

Among the many former residents present, Uncle Marcus noted: Mrs. E. E. Behler and Dorothy, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Young, Mrs. Lennie Anderson and Dorothy, Mrs. H. Williams, Mrs. Vanche Moore, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Gilbert, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Quick, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Quick and children, Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Crawl, and daughter, Ethelyn and H. S. Schreiner, all of Grand Rapids; Mr. and Mrs. H. Chesnes of Clarkston, Mrs. M. E. Simpson and sister, Mrs. Schrouder, of Los Angeles; Mrs. Bessie White Gulliford, of Detroit, John D. Crawford, of Ionia and sons, Don and Bruce, and Mr. and Mrs. Hoover, of Pontiac.

Conspicuous by their absence were many loved former Lowell residents, long faithful Memorial day visitors, now kept away by advancing years or death. Such is life. F. M. J.

Board of Trade Morrison Lake Monday, 7 p. m.

Arrangements have been completed for the next meeting of the Lowell Board of Trade which will be held at Morrison Lake club house next Monday evening, June 9.

The dinner, which will be served at 7 o'clock, will be in honor of two of Lowell's older business men who are now retiring from active life, W. S. Winegar, a veteran druggist here for nearly a half century, and Frank M. Johnson, for 37 years publisher of The Lowell Ledger.

President Verne Ashley will call the meeting to order and after the transaction of business will turn affairs over to Mr. M. N. Henry, who will act as master of ceremonies. It is expected there will be a large attendance and all are anticipating a happy occasion.

BOARD OF REVIEW NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the Board of Review for the township and village of Lowell will meet at the clerk's office June 9 and 10th. Any one having grievance will be heard. Lewis M. Yeiter, supervisor. Chris. Bergin, assessor.

COOKING SCHOOL NEXT TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY.

The ladies of this vicinity will doubtless attend in large numbers the Westinghouse electric range demonstration and cooking school which will be held next Tuesday and Wednesday at the office of the Lowell Municipal Water, Light and Power plant on Riverside drive. A competent demonstrator and cooking expert will be in attendance and the ladies are cordially invited to attend--Lowell Municipal Water, Light and Power Plant.

MISS ABBIE ODELL UNDERGOES SERIOUS OPERATION.

Tuesday morning Miss Abbie Odell, a real club in the American bank, submitted to an operation for the removal of a tumor. On account of the nearness to the brain, and the seriousness of the operation she will need to take a second surgical treatment Thursday or Friday of this week. Miss Odell is as comfortable as one could expect under the conditions. Mr. and Mrs. Odell have been with their daughter much of their time during the past few days.

FINEIS OILS SPLIT ON TWO

Win Hot Eleven-Inning Game at Ionia by 4 to 3 Score

LOSE OUT TO SPARTA

Last Friday the Fineis Oils journeyed to Ionia where they met a real ball club in the American Oils from Jackson. This affair soon developed into a pitcher's battle between Beauchamp and Hall. The Jackson crew started by scoring the first man to bat when he was passed by Beauchamp, a single and a sacrifice fly. The Fineis Oils retaliated by scoring two runs in their half of the first inning on four successive singles, and to take the lead only to have it taken away when the visitors got to Beauchamp for three singles, netting two runs, making the count three to two in their favor. It looked very much like the initial defeat for the home boys as the score stood still 3 to 2 against them in the ninth with two out and first and second occupied. Ferris took two strikes and it apparently was all over. Base on Ball lost control and Ferris walked, filling the bases. Pulkner singled scoring Ashley and tying the count with Childs tagged out at the plate which would have been the winning run.

The 10th saw only three men for each team at bat. In the eleventh four men faced Beauchamp. Smith got to first on an error, but died there. In the home half of the 11th Ashley singled, look second when Childs sacrificed. Hermitson was purposely passed. Ferris fled out to left field. Here Pulkner again proved himself by singling over second and scoring Ashley from second.

Summary--Fineis Oils: 4 runs, 12 hits, 3 errors, American Oils, 3 runs, 9 hits, 5 errors. Base on Balls, Beauchamp, 1, Hall, 5. Struck out, Beauchamp, 9, Hall, 8. Left on bases, Fineis Oils, 14, American Oils, 8. Winning pitcher, Beauchamp, losing pitcher, Hall.

Foreman Poultry Being Shipped to Many States

The last hatch of the 1930 season, a small one of 10,000 chicks, was shipped this week, Wednesday from the Foreman Poultry farm, one shipment going as far as Texas, others to border states, Ohio, Wisconsin, etc.

Mr. Foreman was in Saginaw Tuesday and sold 10,000 10-week-old pullets to ex-Congressman Joseph W. Fordney, to whom he had previously sold 10,000 day-old chicks.

The Foreman farm has still 15,000 young Leghorn pullets to ship, which will wind up the 1930 shipping season.

Mr. Foreman expects to enlarge the capacity of his hatchery by 60,000, and to enlarge his already extensive laying house in the near future.

The front acre lawn has been beautifully laid out, with trees, shrubbery and a large rock garden, and Mr. Foreman has proven himself and his institution as a live wire and progressive additions to our thriving community.

ODD FELLOWS AND REBEKAH MEMORIAL SERVICE JUNE 12

RECAPTURE 10 INSANE FELONS

Country Being Scoured By Officers For Remaining Three

COMMUNITY WARNED

Lowell street lights were blazing all Tuesday night, as a warning to possible unwanted visitors that Lowell is on guard, as our Sheriff's office is currently scouring the country for the remaining three of the State hospital at Ionia, only fourteen miles away, had escaped from that institution early that morning and were scattering over the adjacent country.

Housewives were advised to keep their children at home and to lock their doors, day and night. A large company of officers, including 24 state police and 30 deputies under Sheriff William Franch, of Ionia, county were scouring the country at an early hour Tuesday and continued actively on the job at a late hour that night.

Wednesday morning's report said that of the thirteen dangerous escaped prisoners, nine or ten had been recaptured, the last one taken being John Milendez, 25, Detroit bank bandit, sentenced to 25 years, who was taken early Tuesday night by Sheriff Waldo, of Montcalm county.

Three were captured in a corn field and another on a freight train near Owosso.

Another, Frank Garrison, was captured early Wednesday morning on the Saranac bridge over Grand river by three Ionia county farmers. A fellow inmate, who was with Garrison, escaped.

EASTERN STARS SHINE BRIGHTLY

Kent County Association Entertained by Cyclamen Chapter

GIVE MOCK WEDDING

The Kent County Association Order of the Eastern Star was royally entertained by Cyclamen Chapter No. 94, of Lowell, with Mrs. A. S. Bennett, Worthy Matron and Will Hartman, Worthy Patron Wednesday afternoon and evening.

The president of the association, Mrs. Mabel Freeman, of Grand Rapids, called the meeting to order.

The following program was rendered:

Song America; presentation of the flag, Mrs. Cora McKay, of Lowell; prayer, Mrs. Mathilda White; solo, Mrs. Maxine Laughlin, of Ada; introduction of grand officers, guests and past presidents.

The address of welcome was very ably given by Mrs. A. S. Bennett, to which Mrs. Bessie Gardner responded.

Roll call of association officers; roll call of chapters; business meeting followed by music by the Misses Lois and Mable Hall, reading, Mrs. Mabel Winter Wilson, of Grand Rapids. Opening of Cyclamen Chapter 94, with instructions to selected officers by Mrs. Lucille Anderson.

A fine dinner was then served to nearly 300 people at the city hall by Mr. William Christensen, during which unusually fine music was rendered by an orchestra consisting of the following young people: Glen Converse, Russell Smith, Misses Evelyn Williams and Maizie Thomas.

The evening meeting was opened by community singing led by superintendent of schools, W. W. Gumsier, followed by a musical number by little Miss Inez Cole, and a solo by Mr. Gumsier.

Mock Wedding Great Success.

A mock wedding which caused much merriment was carried out by member members of the local chapter.

Mrs. Arthur Armstrong, with her gift for male impersonation, took the part of the clergyman in a manner that would have done credit to a real "man of the cloth."

The grave-looking young man in the close-fitting derby hat was none other than Mr. Orlo Yeiter, who, with much dignity accepted the demure and blushing bride, Mrs. S. S. Lee, for "bad or worse." Mrs. Reuben Lee as the decrepit father, with the aid of a cane, managed to lead the bride in her maidenly dignity to the altar.

Mrs. George Parker was the petite bridesmaid, while Mrs. Mert Sinclair, in full dress suit, attended the groom. Mrs. Hattie Peckham as winsome flower girl captivated all hearts as she pranced in with her basket of flowers and her elfin smiles.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Elmer White, in male attire, that would deceive the very elect, gave two very appropriate readings.

Mrs. Maxine Laughlin then sang a pleasing selection which was followed by a reading by Mrs. Frances Sydnam, of Alto.

After an instructive business session, Mrs. Georgina Bowers, of Hastings, who is Grand Electa of the Grand Chapter of Michigan gave an interesting talk, as did also Mrs. Gertrude Parkhurst, of Grand Rapids, who is Past Grand Matron.

The guests were loud in their praise of the hospitality rendered by the local chapter.

The Inexpensive Way To Achieve The Modern Decorative Touch

TO HELP YOU achieve the smart contemporary decorative note without refurnishing your home, there is nothing like wallpaper. Wallpaper enables you to attain freshened decorative distinction for every room... without relegating heirlooms... without experimenting in oddity... without expending overmuch.

It is not strange that wallpaper is depended upon to carry the decorative scheme of so many of America's most exclusive homes. Wallpaper furnishes the perfect setting for our furniture, our pictures, our clothes--ourselves. We can make that setting as vigorously modern as we wish and yet send none of our treasured period furniture to the garret. We don't have to make over our homes completely to bring them up-to-date in a decorative sense.

Wallpaper works the subtle magic which transforms a museum-like room to a miracle of cheer. Wallpaper can turn even the hospital-like cell which is the average American bathroom into a room worthy to be considered a part of the home's decorative ensemble. Wallpaper can bring color and design into a kitchen, a closet or a hallway which might otherwise have been less attractive than the more important rooms of the house. Truly--wallpaper works wonders.
