ADA MAN MEETS SUDDEN DEATH

PETER FASE, 62, SUFFERS SKULL FRACTURE IN AUTO ACCIDENT IN GRAND RAPIDS FRIDAY

An Ada man, Peter Fase, 62, was almost instantly killed in an automobile accident at the intersection of Jefferson ave. and Pleasant st., Grand Rapids, last Friday morning. Occupants of the automobile with Mr. Fase at the time of the accident were his wife, Mrs. Anna Fase, his daughter, Mrs. Claire Brown, who lives at 217 Hudson st., Lowell, and Mrs. Brown's 8 1/2 months old daughter, Gloria. Mrs. Brown was driving the car, her father occupying the front seat with her. Mrs. Fase and the baby were in the back seat.

Mrs. Brown was just starting her car from a standing stop and was part way across the intersection when it collided with a car driven by Helmer J. Campbell, 26, of Toledo, O. The car driven by Mr. Campbell was the lighter of the two and was turned upright, pinning the occupants inside. Campbell's car swerved to the right into a telephone pole.

People nearby rushed to the scene of the accident and succeeded in extricating the occupants after tearing off the top of the over-turned car. Mr. Fase was taken at once to St. Mary's hospital but passed away shortly after reaching there. He sustained a skull fracture. Mrs. Fase, Mrs. Brown and Gloria were able to return home in the afternoon after receiving treatment at St. Mary's hospital.

In speaking of the accident Mrs. Brown states that her father was driven to the back seat by the collision. The baby was thrown to the floor back of the front seat and Mrs. Fase thrown forward on top of the baby, the protection of her body probably saving the baby from serious injury.

Mr. Campbell received slight injuries. His car, the heavier of the two, was considerably damaged. The overturned car was almost a total wreck.

Capl. R. Sprague, chief of Grand Rapids police bureau, who assisted in the investigation, stated Saturday that the car driven by Mrs. Brown collided with Campbell's automobile at about the center of the intersection, indicating both vehicles entered the crossing at about the same time. Campbell, being on the right, would command the right to pass, Sprague stated, but there still is the question as to whether the Toledo man was speeding. Witnesses' testimony conflicts on this point.

A coroner's jury was impaneled Saturday by Dr. Harmon C. Wolfe and an inquest will be held some day this week.

Funeral services for Mr. Fase were held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Congregational church in Ada and burial took place in Cascade cemetery.

Except for a brief period during which Mr. Fase conducted a taxidermist store in Grand Rapids he had lived in Ada practically all his life. He was well and favorably known and will be missed by a large circle of friends and acquaintances.

Besides the widow, daughter and granddaughter, Mr. Fase is survived by a son, William, also of Ada.

OLD TIMERS

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hafer, of Detroit, spent the week-end in Lowell. Both were old-time Lowell residents, having spent their childhood here. They left here 36 years ago. Mrs. Hafer's maiden name was Pearl Horton and while in school here made her home with her uncle, the late Daniel Pratt, a youth here. Mr. Hafer was a member of the Lowell Bicycle club and The Lowell Athletic club. Mr. and Mrs. Hafer derived much pleasure from their visit to the old scenes.

TAXES, REAPPORTIONMENT AND THE GOVERNORSHIP

Editorial comment and news stories from Detroit remind us of the fact that there is a most vital issue confronting the people of the State in the coming primary campaign. The Ledger believes that unless the people living outside the Wayne County area are awakened at once Wayne County may soon gain control of the Legislature. The last census figures show Wayne has almost 40% of the State's population. Under the present constitutional provisions dividing the representation solely on a population basis, Wayne County will soon have from all practical standpoints, control of both houses of the legislature. Within the next few years her population will undoubtedly pass the 50% mark and thereby she would become entitled to a clear majority in both houses. It would seem extremely unwise to allow any single county to gain complete control of both houses of our legislature.

And it is pertinent to state that it would seem equally unwise to choose Alex. J. Groesbeck, a Detroit man, for governor. According to the Detroit News Mr. Groesbeck has declared: "If I am elected Governor I think I can be of as much service to the city as I could if I were Mayor."

The regular monthly meeting of the Eudian Sunday school class was held at the Methodist Episcopal church house, Friday afternoon. After the business session Mrs. Anna Gunn, chairman, announced the program which consisted of the brain teazer, "A penny for your thoughts," several readings by Mrs. Lydia Kyser and Mrs. Choleron. Each member read comic quotations.

After the program a lovely supper was served by the committee with her helpers. At the table the name of Mrs. Agnes Wylie, former Lowell lady, now living in Glendale, Calif., and many years active in the affairs of the church, was mentioned. Her sister, Mrs. Jennie Hunter, had recently heard from her, reporting her health as improved and wishing to hear from her old Lowell co-workers. Mrs. Wylie was the untiring president of the Ladies' Aid society and still retains the work of that organization through the columns of The Ledger, though so far away.

Attendance Small At Pioneer Picnic

The annual Kent County pioneer picnic was held at Campau lake last Saturday afternoon. The attendance was not as large as usual, many no doubt staying away on account of the extreme heat, although a heavy shower came up just at the close of the meeting. It looked for a time as though the long drought had come to an end, and although the rain was appreciated it was of short duration.

Good music, furnished by the band, was greatly enjoyed until the meeting was called to order by the president, J. P. Cooley, who entertained his hearers with appropriate remarks. Dexter G. Look was called upon and gave a very interesting talk on the work of the legislature, followed by George Welch, city manager of Grand Rapids, who improved the opportunity by giving a set political speech favoring Mr. Groesbeck for the governorship, which closed the meeting.

Groesbeck Meeting Held Here Saturday

A week's campaign in Kent county for the candidacy of Alex. J. Groesbeck for governor, closed last Saturday night with meetings in Lowell and Ada, the Lowell meeting being arranged for by E. R. Kniffin and the meeting in Ada by former State Senator Thomas McNaughton. The meeting here was addressed by Cornelius Hoffus, former prosecuting attorney, who was greeted with a good crowd at the City Hall corner, where the meeting took place. A band from Grand Rapids furnished music.

A. M. SCHNEIDER FILES PETITION IN BANKRUPTCY

Petition in bankruptcy was filed Wednesday by Arthur M. Schneider, Lowell, a dealer in farm implements, listing liabilities of $18,526.76 and assets of $18,417.67. Crop failures and inability of many purchasers to pay their obligations have no doubt been the principal contributing factors in Mr. Schneider's business difficulties. It is sincerely hoped that Mr. Schneider will be able to arrange matters so that he can continue his business.

NOTICE TO VOTERS

It has been called to the attention of The Ledger that a mistaken impression has been created on the part of some voters regarding registering. Only those who had changed their place of residence since the last election were required to re-register. If you were already registered and had not changed your residence you are entitled to vote in the primary next Tuesday.

NEW SECTION ADDED TO M-21

SARANAC-IONIA STRETCH IS NOW OPEN TO THE PUBLIC—TERRITORY IS PICTURESQUE IN ITS BEAUTY

Rapid progress on the paving of the new route of M-21 resulted in the opening last Thursday of a completely paved section from Ionia to Saranac and the finishing last week of a new bridge over Stoney creek, east of Ionia, 60 days ahead of schedule.

Through the highway has been thrown open to traffic, there is still considerable work to be done in the Ionia-Saranac stretch and motorists using the road are urged to drive carefully, says the Ionia County News. Shoulders are still to be pointed, and at present a crew of men is at work widening the highway several additional feet where it intersects the Pere Marquette railroad tracks north of the Michigan Reformatory.

Beauty in Route
Much of the new route was cut through farms, woods and dells, and affords motorists not only a shorter route, but one through a territory picturesque in its beauty. The new stretch provides a continuous pavement on M-21 clear through to Holland on the west.

With the opening of the new road plans were made for completing the connecting stretch at David's corners north of Saranac into the business section of the village.

The new bridge on M-21 over Stoney creek, between Muir and Peto, was not only completed 60 days ahead of time, but is believed to be the first state highway span in Michigan to be finished ahead of schedule this year. Started on April 15, it was listed for completion October 15.

The bridge was built under a new system which called for weighing of batches and bends. Every bit of cement and gravel used was put in by weight. Many hundred cubic yards of cement were used and a total of 142,243 pounds of structural steel was employed. There is a spindle guard-rail. The entire project was under the direction of Engineer Maxwell H. Thompson. (By the way, the initial "H" in Mr. Thompson's name stands for "Hine," in honor of his grandmother, Ella M. Hine, of Sacramento, Calif., formerly of Lowell.)

M-21, with the exception of the section between Ionia and Peto, which it is understood will be paved next year, is now practically a completely paved way from Port Huron on Lake Huron, to Lake Michigan.

Family Reunions

FORD FAMILY REUNION
The descendants of Ira and Lydia Ford numbering about eighty held their sixth annual reunion on Labor day at Townsend park. Those present were from Bitely, Muskegon, Greenville, Stanton, Belding, Ionia, Clarksville, Grand Rapids, Moseley, Lowell, Custer and the surrounding country. An elegant dinner was served at noon, after which the men played ball. It was voted to hold their 1931 meeting at Fallsburg park on Labor day.

There were four generations represented. In the oldest, is 83 and little Miss Donna Jean Ford, who is seven months old, was the youngest guest. After dinner the following officers were elected: President, Orlov Weeks; vice president, Grace Weeks, both of Greenville; secretary and treasurer, Emily Godfrey, of Benton Harbor. A sister of Mrs. Weeks, Mrs. W. H. H. Smith and husband, of Alma, were present also to enjoy the day and were invited to join us next year, also their children, grand children and great grand children. It was agreed that we meet at the same place next year.

The afternoon was spent in playing ball and visiting. Those present were from Alma, Benton Harbor, Greenville, Sunfield, Portland, Lake Odessa, Lowell and Murray lake.

Sorry to report that news letters from Ada, South Boston, and Davis Lake arrived too late for this week's issue.—Editor.

Coming Down to Earth

Duck Hunting Opens Sept. 16

Regulations Remain Same With One Exception—Hunters Asked to Play Fair—Department Asks Reporting of Banded Ducks

The 1930 duck hunting season in Michigan will open with a "bang" at 4:50 a. m., central standard time, Tuesday, September 16.

Already duck hunters are securing their licenses, oiling their guns and preparing for the annual invasion of the marshes. The duck hunting regulations have not been changed; and dates, local ordinances and bag limits remain the same with only one exception, a reduction in federal daily bag limit of geese, from five to four.

The season for ducks, (except wood ducks and eiders) Geese, Brant, Coots, and Wilson Snipe (pack snipe), remains open from September 16 to December 31, inclusive. The rail and gallinule season does not open until October 1.

The bag limit for ducks is 15 a day, 30 in possession at one time and 100 for a season. The federal regulations specify that only four geese may be shot in one day. This automatically sets the state limit of geese at four a day instead of five as set by state law. Ten in one day, 20 in possession at one time, and 50 in a season are the bag limits on Wilson Snipe and Coots in Michigan.

The opening of the duck season will bring hundreds of "first timers" to the marshes. The Department of Conservation is urging every hunter to "play the game" and show consideration for the other fellow.

Learn to measure your success by something besides the number of ducks you kill. The Department is asking that all banded ducks killed be reported to the Department's office at Lansing, with information as to the date and place where the bird was killed. The leg bands should be sent to the Department for recording the number, but the bands will be returned to any hunters who want to keep them as souvenirs.

Sensational Rally Wins For Lowell

A sensational ninth inning rally which netted five runs, won for the Lowell Merchants in their game with the Creston Merchants at Grand Rapids on Labor Day. There were two out when the rally began. To quote from the Grand Rapids Herald: Haan was the first to face Anderson. The count was two and three on him when he lifted a fly ball which fell into the bases. With one run needed to tie and two to take the lead, Sullivan responded to the emergency with a double to the center field fence that cleared the bases.

Score by innings— Lowell Mer. 100 010 005—7 Creston Mer. 001 103 000—5 Batteries—Seguin and Sullivan; Alexander, Anderson and Kromberg.

PETE KERR'S JUGGLERS DEFEAT POTATO GROWERS

Pete Kerr's revamped jugglers base ball team was hitting on all nine last Sunday at Greenville and turned back the independent team of the "Spud City" by a score of 8-3. The game was closely played throughout, but timely hitting and airtight fielding held down the Greenville rallies and kept Mr. Kerr's team in the winning column. Pete Kerr featured the contest.

Being a Collection of Various Topics of Local and General Interest

Evert is in confusion. For 42 years every one in town with a watch or clock had set it by the whistle blowing at American Logging Tool Company's factory. Now the old steam machinery has been replaced with electric power, the whistle doesn't blow and people have no way of setting their watches. But everything will be all right when the radio comes to Evert.

A tree with approximately 125 varieties of apples on it has been grown near Martinez, Calif., by George Upham. It took 12 years of experiments to obtain the phenomenon. Upham has been grafting branches to the original tree since 1918. In the Spring the grafted limbs bud at different times with blossoms in dozens of shades.

A light green "button" bearing the picture of a pheasant will be the badge of the small game hunter this year. The Department of Conservation is now sending out 425,000 of these "buttons" and licenses to all of its license agents. The non-resident small game license "buttons" this year are salmon colored.

When you see a fire near the road call central. It doesn't cost anything. The state will pay any toll charges.

The planting of sweet clover by campers, fishermen and others who go into wilderness areas is urged by the American Game Protective association as a means of providing food and cover for wild game. The sweet clover seeds can be scattered along creek banks, along old roads and trails, and in openings in the forest and about old clearings. Sweet clover provides natural feed for game birds, rabbits and deer and affords patches of cover for the small game as well, the association says.

The state population summary for Michigan, issued Friday by the census bureau, showed a total population of 4,842,280, an increase of 1,173,868 or 28 per cent.

We are afraid of new things until they prove themselves. The Manchester weavers destroyed American cotton machinery because they feared the machine would supplant man.

The wagon freighters of America squawked loud and long against the Erie Canal. The steamboats of the Mississippi foresaw their finish when the railroad came along and tried sincerely to put the gypsy curse on the iron horse.

The railroads sparked with dismay when motor busses started long distance hauling, but solved the business by getting into the racket themselves.

The old-timers were always there with bulldozing legislation against the springers who launched something new and puzzling. But when we get to understand it and realize that it is best, we go to it like a moth sniping a woolen garment in summer.

At the opening of his remarks at the Kent County pioneer picnic at Campau lake last Saturday afternoon, George Welch, city manager of Grand Rapids, took occasion to pay a fine compliment to Byron Green, secretary of the county.

Green, of Lowell township, Byron is chief accountant in the city controller's office, Grand Rapids, and Mr. Welch states that he is a capable, dependable and efficient young man. The Ledger might add that a boy with that kind of reputation brings lasting happiness to his parents and is a credit to the world.

Ford Genealogy Covers 300 Years

R. T. Ford and wife and sister, Mrs. Margaret Stowell attended the second annual Ford reunion held at Potter's park, Lansing, on Labor day. About 100 were present. An unusual and interesting item on the program was the reading of the Ford genealogy showing a complete lineage of direct descendants of one, William Ford, who was born in England in 1604 and arrived in Plymouth, Mass., Nov. 11, 1621, on the ship Fortune, which brought 36 persons for the colony. Among them was Widow Martha Ford or Ford and her three children, William, Martha and John.

Vergennes Landmark Destroyed By Fire

One of the landmarks of Vergennes township, the home built by the late Alexander McLain, was completely destroyed by fire last Thursday afternoon. The house was of the colonial type and was built by Mr. McLain in 1857. The property was recently acquired by M. B. McPherson, a nephew of Mr. McLain and Mr. McPherson had about completed the work of rebuilding the home when the fire occurred. The cause of the fire is unknown. Workmen engaged in installing a heating plant had been working there that day. When the fire was discovered it had gained such headway that it was impossible to save the property.

TOWNSHIP VOTERS SHOULD REGISTER EMPHATIC "NO" ON DELEGATE PROPOSITION

TOWNSHIPS WILL LOSE IN PROPORTIONATE REPRESENTATION IF PROPOSITION CARRIES—CITY WOULD CONTROL COUNTY CONVENTIONS—BOTH PARTIES WOULD BE AFFECTED

At the coming primary election held on September 9, the voters will have submitted to them the following proposition which stated briefly, is as follows:

In the matter of choosing delegates to and the holding of county political convention, shall Kent County come under the provisions of Act No. 110 of the Public Acts of the State of Michigan for the year 1927? The voter desiring the county to come under said act, marks his ballot, Yes. The voter opposed thereto, marks his ballot, No.

Under Act No. 110 of the Public Acts of 1927, if adopted by the voters of Kent County, each precinct in the county is entitled to one delegate to the county convention. Any person desiring to become a candidate or delegate must file with the County Clerk a nominating petition signed by twenty-five registered electors of the precinct and the one receiving the highest vote is declared elector.

Under the present law, the County Committee determines the number of delegates that each election precinct is entitled to send to the county convention. Their election is as follows:

The voters of the precinct write or paste on the ballot their preference, and the ones receiving the highest number of votes are declared to be elected as delegates. No nominating petitions are required.

It will be seen from reading the above proposition that if it carries the rural portion of the county will lose in representation at political conventions—and the city will dominate. Notice the wording "one delegate from each precinct." One doesn't have to be a mathematician to figure the thing out. The city naturally has more precincts and can easily create more. Most townships have but one precinct and at the most can have but one precinct for each 6000 votes.

Rural voters, be on your toes. The Republican and Democratic parties are equally affected by this proposition. Vote "No."

Strongly Endorses Kelley For Sheriff

Speaking editorially of the situation among the candidates for sheriff, the Grand Rapids Herald Tuesday morning says of Fred Kelley, one of the candidates:

"Mr. Kelly is a man of intelligence and clean personality, a man of long and efficient experience in the office of sheriff."

"If Mr. Kelly is nominated and elected, we believe he will give efficient, intelligent and fearless service both by day and by night; that he will co-operate with the city police department and be a credit to the office and the county."

Boost-for-Brucker Club Formed Here

A public meeting for the purpose of organizing a Brucker-Ford Governor club was held at the City hall, Lowell, last Friday evening. The meeting was well attended and preliminary to the work of organization talks were made by several of those present, all expressing enthusiasm for the candidacy of Mr. Brucker for governor. One of the points emphasized was that the work of the campaign for Mr. Brucker is being done by volunteer workers who have abundant faith in his ability and who want to demonstrate that a poor man, if qualified, can win the governorship.

After the speeches the following officers were chosen: Earl Thomas, chairman; Walter Kropf, secretary; Carl Peckham, treasurer. The following committee was chosen to work with the officers named in boosting the Brucker cause: G. D. Cook, W. J. Gumsier, Wesley Roth, J. M. Hutchison, ex-Rep. Charles Foote, Rev. A. T. Cartland, Phil Hartley, Frank Coons, L. V. Rutherford, M. N. Henry, T. A. Gazella, Orley Ruslson, L. M. Yeiter, R. G. Jefferies.

Conservation Clubs Favor Game Havens

A program calling for the purchase of state game refuge and public hunting grounds was endorsed by the Kent County Association of Conservation Clubs at a meeting in Rockford Friday night.

The organization also went on record as favoring the tag system of enforcing seasonal bag limits on partridge and pheasants, and adopted a resolution calling for the purchase of a 10-foot strip on the banks of all navigable trout streams in the state to permit anglers access to the stream without trespassing.

A general nonresident angler's license fee of 85 is favored by the association. The closing of a section of Rum creek above Rogue river to protect trout in hand, ready for duty. Supt. W. W.
