As a result of the recent rockslide at Niagara Falls, which left an indentation 130 feet long and 40 feet deep on the American side, President Hoover directed Secretary Stimson and Secretary Hurley to suggest to the Canadian Government a meeting of the Special International Niagara Board to plan measures for the preservation of the scenic beauties of the great cataract. In stating that he had asked the Secretaries of State and War to suggest the meeting of the International Board to Canada, Mr. Hoover said that he hoped the Senate would soon ratify the proposed treaty between the United States and Canada, which covers the preservation of the Falls. He added that his action had been prompted by frequent inquiries as to the effect of the rockslide on the Falls, which he had received.

One of the most interesting of the recent rockslide at Niagara Falls, which left an indentation 130 feet long and 40 feet deep on the American side, President Hoover directed Secretary Stimson and Secretary Hurley to suggest to the Canadian Government a meeting of the Special International Niagara Board to plan measures for the preservation of the scenic beauties of the great cataract. In stating that he had asked the Secretaries of State and War to suggest the meeting of the International Board to Canada, Mr. Hoover said that he hoped the Senate would soon ratify the proposed treaty between the United States and Canada, which covers the preservation of the Falls. Representative Melvin H. Lee, of Oakland County, advocates the abolishing of property tax in Michigan altogether and the substitution thereof of a per capita tax on every individual in the state as soon as he or she reaches the age of 21. The tax, according to Mr. Lee's plan, would be collected on a percentage basis of the individual's earnings.

"The three R's" don't mean "Rum, Romanism and Rebellion" any more. In Washington nowadays they stand for "Repeal, Revision or Retention," with every body wondering what H. H. stands for.

From the White House to the Red Cross a half dollar passed. Wherever it rolled, a smile for a childhood memory went right with it. For it was accompanied by a note in unenveloped handwritten letters from a little girl living in Webster, N. Y. It read:

"Dear Mr. Hoover: Here is a big white penny from my bank. Will you buy some bread and butter and milk and candy for the little boys and girls who are hungry?" From Rosemary Erisso, a Little Rosemary Erisso is the 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Erisso, of Webster, twelve miles east of Rochester. Her sympathy was touched by hearing her mother read accounts in the newspaper of suffering in drought-stricken areas and she took the cherished half dollar from her bank and mailed it to the President.

The question of property rights between husband and wife is one of the domestic questions which has never been answered. The dissatisfaction of the parties concerned. Has a wife the right to steam open a husband's letter? Has a husband the right to read the letters that are directed to his wife? The marriage ritual does not touch upon this important question and decisions of learned courts carry no weight. Evidently, Mary's ideas on the subject do not coincide with John's. When John came home he found Mary bathed in tears.

"What's the trouble, dear?" he asked. "Your mother insulted me, horribly," sobbed Mary as she handed him a letter. "Insulted you! How's that?" asked John as he slid his pencil into the flap of the envelope, ripped it open, took out the letter and began reading. "Mary did not reply. The flood-gates in her eyes opened anew. John could not read the letter. He reached the affectionate closing. Beneath the signature "Mother," was the postscript, without which no letter from home is complete. "Dear Mary," it read, "don't forget to give this letter to John."

Pointe aux Barques Township. "The Tip of the Thumb" is one of the smallest political units in the United States. It has a resident population of only 24 persons, according to the 1930 census. Because of the small number of voters, the township usually leads all other districts in the state in reporting election returns.

FAMILY EARNS $400 BOUNTY ON SPARROWS

LOWELL TOWNSHIP CLERK HAS PAID BOUNTY ON 24,000 SPARROWS SO FAR THIS SEASON — SECRET POISON FORMULA SAID TO SERVE AS A LURE.

A number of men are solving the unemployment problem by poisoning sparrows for the two cents a head bounty awarded by the county. Chris. Bergin, Lowell township clerk, has paid bounty on 24,000 sparrows so far this season. This total is several times that of any previous year. The open season extends through December, January and February.

One family has been paid $400 in bounties. This family is said to possess a secret poison formula which acts as a lure to birds. Ordinarily, wheat is soaked in a solution of strychnine and water. After drying, the grain is spread in spots frequented by the birds. Upon eating a few kernels, a sparrow flies about drunkenly for a few seconds, then drops to the ground dead.

Death by the strychnine poisoning entails great suffering to a human being and most of the other animals, but a sparrow dies quickly and apparently in little comparative pain.

The birds develop cunning and after a few of the flock have been poisoned, the rest refuse to touch the tainted grain, and the trap must be set in a new place.

According to Charles Kraft, caretaker of Oakwood cemetery, one ingenious individual has made tobacco money this winter by setting spring mouse traps baited with lettuce on his back porch.

Audubon societies have objected to the practice on the ground that other species of birds are poisoned as well as the sparrows. Humane organizations contend that frequently pet cats eat the dead sparrows and are killed when the strychnine is released in their bodies.

Mr. Bergin believes the sparrow will in time be extinct in this part of the country. He points to the large number taken this year, in spite of the mild and open weather. Sparrows are more frequent in hard and bitter winters. They fly in larger flocks and migrate farther in search of food.

Shooting sparrows with a rifle is a popular sport, but less lucrative than the poisoning method. Bounty awards are made in vouchers drawn against the county treasurer. About one-fourth the bounty total for sparrows is paid for rats, at 10c a tail.

Radio Music For Melody Dairy Herd
"The world do move" is a homely yet true saying and applies with equal force to both humans and animals of the dumb creation.

As evidence of this fact there has just been installed at the Melody Farms Dairy a radio set solely for the benefit of the cows of the herd. It is declared to be a scientific fact that through the soothing effect of music cows will produce ten per cent more.

Those who have visited the dairy since the installation of the radio declare it is remarkable the way the cows of the herd respond to the music. The contended appearance of the animals being at once noticeable.

Mr. Madigan, the owner of Melody Farms Dairy, is leaving no stone unturned to give the people of Lowell a dairy without a peer anywhere.

Muck Soils Meetings Alto, Byron Center
The third of the series of muck soils meetings will be given for the farmers in the Alto and Byron Center areas, on Monday, February 9th. The morning meeting will be held at Alto at 10:00 fast time and at Byron Center at 1:00 slow time. Dr. Paul Harmer, muck soil specialist from Michigan State College, will have charge of the discussion. He will talk on "Cultural Methods and Wind Breaks."

Deputy Sheriff Charles Knapp and Claire Thorn were in Lansing on business Wednesday. While there they visited the state police broadcasting station where its operations were demonstrated by Operator Golden Green.

"Billy the Kid" Here Thurs., Fri. and Sat.

"Billy the Kid," probably one of the most intense Westerns ever produced by the talkies, opens Thursday at the Strand for the balance of the week.

In Vidor's picture the twenty-one-year-old adventurer of New Mexico, is played by John Mack Brown, former All-American half-back of the University of Alabama. Wallace Beery has the role of Sheriff Garrett, the nemesis of Billy. Love interest is supplied by pretty Kay Johnson. Other players include Karl Dane, Russell Simpson, Blanche Frederick, Jack Carlyle, and Wyndham Standing. Wand a Thackeray service was held with Laurence Stallings and Chas. MacArthur dialogue.

Atty. R. M. Shivel Local Club Speaker
There was a good attendance at the Wednesday meeting of the Lowell Woman's club and an interesting program given. The hostesses for the day were Mrs. F. J. McMahon, Mrs. R. Seyforth and Mrs. R. M. Shivel.

Mrs. Charles Doyle occupied the chair in the absence of the president, Mrs. C. H. Reynolds, and Mrs. F. J. Coons served as secretary in the absence of Mrs. A. Bennett. Two enjoyable numbers were rendered by a quartette composed of Mrs. R. T. Ford, Mrs. W. W. Gumsier, Mrs. H. P. Gofredsen and Mrs. O. J. Yeiter, with Mrs. W. Wachterhauser, accompanist.

The speaker for the afternoon was Attorney R. M. Shivel who discussed "Michigan Literature." The speaker brought out many interesting facts, one being that Michigan authors and writers, counting those of the past and present, totaled upwards of five hundred of considerable note.

The speaker divided these into three groups, viz: University authors and writers, University writers, those native born but now non-resident.

The list comprises many of lasting reputation. Among those mentioned from this immediate vicinity were Rev. Henry Beets, of Grand Rapids, Mrs. M. K. Buck, of Traverse City, Myrtle Koon Cherrynan, of Grand Rapids, Judge Hale A. Cutler, of Verdenes township, Bishop John N. McCormick, of Grand Rapids, Hon. Arthur H. Vandenberg, of Grand Rapids, Rev. Alfred W. Wishart, of Grand Rapids.

Mr. Shivel brought out many facts concerning Michigan authors, and the women of the club felt that they had learned much of more than passing interest.

The meeting closed with a reading of the poems of Will Carleton by Mrs. W. W. Gumsier.

OBITUARY
Abraham Keefe
Abraham Keefe was born March 1, 1854, in Orange Township, Ionia Co. Mich. and died in a Grand Rapids hospital Jan. 30, 1931, age 76 years, 11 months.

He married Alice Train and to this union was born six children, Frank, Jennie, Rachel, Vern, Harry and Wade. His wife and one son Wade, having died several years ago. There is left to mourn their loss, a second wife, Hattie Keefe, also Jennie Stiffler, Mary Poff, Rachel Oatley, Frank and Vern Keefe, also two brothers. He was a kind father and a well respected citizen.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at the Roth & Brezina chapel with interment in the Keefe cemetery near Portland.

TAXES LITTLE SLOW
Hattie Lynn, treasurer of Lowell township, reports about $50,000 taxes collected to date, with about $15,000 yet to be paid.

T. E. Bailey, treasurer of Verdenes township, reports about four-fifths collected with about $20,000 on his roll.

A considerable portion of the unpaid taxes will doubtless come in by March 1.

Humane Officer Interferes
Because of alleged mistreatment to several head of horses belonging to "M. Beaver," of Lowell, County Humane Officer French was instrumental this week in having a man placed in charge of the animals to see that they are properly fed and watered. Beaver is held in the Kent county jail charged with violation of the liquor law. His trial is scheduled for the March term of Circuit court.

REP. D. G. LOOK IS INJURED BY CUT-IN DRIVER

MRS. LOOK RECEIVES MINOR CUTS AND BRUISES—ACCIDENT OCCURS ON U. S. 16 NEAR PORTLAND WHILE COMING HOME FROM LANSING; BOTH CARS WRECKED

State Representative Dexter G. Look and Mrs. Look had a narrow escape from death last Saturday morning while enroute home from Lansing to spend the week-end. The story of the accident is best told in the following letter from Mr. Look to V. E. Ashley:

We started for Lowell at about 8:30 this morning and when two miles west of Portland a car coming east tried to pass another car and in swinging in turned around and struck my car full force, sending me into a shallow ditch and smashing up both cars very badly. It occurred in front of a farm house and they at once took Mrs. Look and myself into a doctor's at Portland.

I was bleeding so severely from many cuts on my face that I hardly took a look at the car, only to discover that the front wheel on my side was smashed and steering wheel broken and windshield and door on my side broken.

I am a terrible looking sight with two black eyes, a bandage over my nose where the doctor had to take one stitch and mercurochrome over nearly all the rest of my face, but doctor says I will be all right by Monday.

They could not find enough of my glasses to hardly know I had any on and it is hard to tell without them.

Mrs. Look received a few minor cuts on the face and ankles, but of course both of us are quite sore all over.

Dr. Deacon to Talk on "Foe of Youth"
"The Foe of Youth" will be the topic of an address which will be delivered at the 26th annual meeting of the Grand Rapids Anti-tuberculosis Society, by Dr. W. J. V. Deacon of the Michigan Department of Health. The meeting will be held at a luncheon at 12 o'clock on Wednesday, February 11, in Park Congregational Church House, opposite Fulton Park.

The public is invited, because Dr. Deacon's address will be especially interesting to parents, physicians, nurses, social workers and school principals. Reservations may be made by telephoning 85428 before Tuesday noon, February 10, or writing headquarters at 30, Association of Commerce Building.

Prizes will be awarded to Cedar Springs and Lowell schools for their success in the sale of Christmas Seals.

"Min and Bill" Open Sunday at the Strand
Marie Dressler and Wallace Beery, who have scored repeated successes in separate vehicles, are now to be seen in their first co-starring picture, "Min and Bill," which will open a two-day engagement at the Strand Theatre, Lowell, on Sunday. The picture is crammed with action, thrills, pathos and such comedy as only this inimitable duo are capable.

The locale is the water front with Marie in the role of hotel proprietress and on the side a barber. Wallace Beery, her fish-riding captain boy friend, is responsible for many of the laughs while minor parts are capably filled by Dorothy Jordan, Marjorie Rameau, Donald Dillway and Greta Gould.

No "Blind Driving" By This New Scheme
Eugene Kropf, of Gould's garage, has devised a method of keeping the windshield of his automobile clean in cold weather. To the exhaust manifold he attached a tube running to the base of the windshield. A stream of heated air plays over the glass, melting frost accumulations. The heat also helps to warm the car. This system in many respects is said to be superior to the lighted candle, frost shields, electric heaters and other means used by motorists to prevent "blind driving" in winter.

Mrs. Burdick has a room in her home given to care for all donations in clothing, bedding, Mrs. James Rozell, furniture, that can be used in this work. A baby girl was born in St. Mary's hospital Saturday night, 10 minutes after the death of the mother, Mrs. James Rozell, Moseley, R. F. D. No. 1. The child was reported Monday to be thriving and in normal health.

Such cases are reported to be rare and this is believed to be the first in local surgical records. Mrs. Rozell, wife of a Pere Marquette station agent and mother of five children, was taken to the hospital Saturday afternoon. She had heart and kidney disease. Her death occurred at 8:30, about two and a half hours after she was admitted. The operation to save the infant was performed by Dr. Alexander M. Campbell, assisted by Dr. A. B. Thompson, Jr.

GREAT POWER IN THE DOLLAR SPENT AT HOME

IN ONE WEEK'S TIME A SINGLE DOLLAR DOES SIXTEEN DOLLARS WORTH OF BUSINESS ON MAIN STREET, OR AT RATE OF $82 A YEAR—STORY ITS OWN MORAL.

A dollar is a powerful thing when kept in circulation—especially when kept in circulation at home.

Just as an experiment on Friday, Jan. 23, the Ledger started a dollar bill in circulation with a note attached that each person in whose hands it should come during the next six days, make a record of the period the $100 would have done a total of $832 business. Suppose it had been a $10 bill at work here at home at the same rate—$100 in one week, $832 in a year.

Take a hundred dollars and keep it busy here at home, or do something to bring a hundred dollars into the community and have it work here for a year, at the same rate that the dollar did and we easily figure that at the end of the period the $100 would have performed $83,200 worth of business. Naturally the $100 would not change hands as often, but the principle involved is the point.

You may be interested to know just how the dollar referred to kept working. Here's the story of its travels:

From the Ledger to W. E. Hall, where it bought oil; Mr. Hall needed some groceries and in a little while it was across the street reposing in R. D. Hahn's tin box, long with Mr. Hahn soon exchanged it with Ira Moore for shoe repairs; Mr. Moore has to live and it wasn't long until it had bought groceries from O. L. Beebe's store; Mr. Beebe was in need of drugs and as a consequence the dollar comes back to us in need of drugs and in a short time the dollar spends an article from a clothing store and the said dollar soon finds itself in Van Dyke's store several blocks west on Main street; Carl Freyermuth, of Van Dyke's, has a baby at home in need of stockings so the dollar passes across the street to the Weekes dry goods store; Mr. Weekes soon has occasion to visit a drug store and the self-same dollar is left with W. C. Hartman, who in turn uses it to pay for cleaning at D. S. Simon's. Mr. Simon is also in need of drugs and in a short time the dollar takes another westward journey and is left at Look's drug store. But not for long, as V. E. Ashley is another man who has to live and so the dollar gets across the street again and is left at the C. D. Hodges store; Mr. Hodges in turn patronizes the Lowell City Bakery where it is traded for bread; Mr. Herald dines at Richmond's cafe's nearby and in turn Mr. Richmond buys some meat at Weaver's market and Mr. Weaver turns about and leaves it with Ray Fullington towards some vegetable buying from him. Mr. Fullington has to have some more feed and at the end of its week's journey the dollar finds itself back again in the till of W. E. Hall.

We venture to remark that in the course of another week this dollar will have visited practically every store on Main street.

Folks, we do not believe it necessary to attempt to point out the moral of this story.

We know, however, almost to a certainty, that if we spend $10 or a hundred dollars in some distant city that it will never find its way back to work for us over and over and over again.

State Income Tax in Time—McPherson
M. B. McPherson, state tax commissioner, speaking before the supervisors' convention held in Lansing last week, advocated a constitutional tax limitation. Declaring that the burden on real property is too great, he prophesied a state income tax will come eventually, but not while only the farmers are for it. He questioned the policy of permitting tax-delinquent lands to revert to the state. He claimed the counties have the major interest in such properties and they should receive them, paying the state its share of the tax. Under the present system the delinquent lands go to the state conservation department, which McPherson described as a "hard place from which to get anything back." He endorsed the proposed plan of state and county absorption of township highways.

OLD RESIDENT PASSES
Philip S. Krum, 64, died Sunday at his home in Lowell after a two years' illness. Born in Vergennes township, he lived in and about Lowell all his life. ### Editor's Mail Box

Belding, Mich., Jan. 31, 1931. Editor Lowell Ledger, Lowell, Mich.

Dear Sir:— I saw by the last issue of your paper about a Mr. Roth, of Keene township, having seen a flock of blackbirds. These were undoubtedly European starlings, as they are about the size and color of a blackbird, only they have a short tail.

I noticed a small flock of these birds about five years ago, and they have increased since then until flocks are more numerous and larger in size.

The starling was introduced into the eastern United States 20 or 25 years ago and have spread with great rapidity until they are found all over the States east of the Mississippi river. They are practically of no value and are a growing nuisance to our native birds inasmuch as they eat food that our Winter birds need, and are hole nesters, that is, they build their nest in holes occupied by flickers, bluebirds, woodpeckers and martins, in the crevices of buildings, etc.

The starling has no song but utters a rasping cry which is very unmusical. Whether they become a nuisance is yet to be seen.

When you mentioned industries of Michigan in your paper this week you forgot to mention our silk industry here, which if I am not mistaken is the largest of its kind in Michigan or the middle west.

The manufactured products of the Belding-Hemenway Co. run into many millions of dollars a year.

I remain, Sincerely yours, H. L. Fletcher. Everett, Wash., Jan. 28, 1931.

Mr. R. G. Jefferies, Editor of Lowell Ledger:

Another year has gone by and still we want The Ledger to come our way, so enclosed find money order for $2.00 to pay for same, as we would not miss the news for the price.

We are having fine weather, only had a few white frosts. My daffodils are one inch out of the ground, daisies in bloom.

1931 COMMENCEMENT INVITATIONS

The line is complete and contains many pleasing and attractive designs.
