BOARD OF TRADE OFF TO GOOD '31 START

Banquet and Speeches Mark the 25th Annual Gathering—New Officers are N. E. Borgerson, Pres., G. D. Cook, Vice Pres., E. C. Foreman, Director

The annual banquet of the Lowell Board of Trade was held in the City Hall Wednesday evening, about 150 persons being present. The event marked the 25th year of the organization. It was a most happy occasion, a spirit of good feeling being everywhere apparent. Music was furnished by Warner's orchestra, which received generous applause. A fine dinner was served by Wm. Christiansen. Invocation was said by the Rev. A. B. Lemke.

At the business session following the banquet President V. E. Ashley read the annual report, combining that of the secretary and treasurer. Total receipts for the year were about $534.61 and expenditures were about equal that amount.

Norman E. Borgerson was elected president for the current year, G. D. Cook vice president and E. C. Foreman, a director.

President Borgerson will make an early announcement of his committees.

It seemed to be the sentiment of the meeting that Lowell should put over the centennial anniversary of the beginning of the town, combining with that a homecoming feature. An historical pageant is planned as one of the features.

Lively Speeches
Senator James A. Skinner was introduced as toastmaster for the program following the business session. The Senator is a favorite here and he presided in a happy manner.

Dexter G. Look, our representative in the state legislature, gave a most interesting talk on the work of the legislature now in session, touching on many points of special interest to voters.

President-elect M. N. Henry spoke of the lower electric rates that are now taking effect in the village and predicted a constructive administration with the aid of the council.

State Tax Commissioner M. B. McPherson defended the Scotch in an able and humorous manner and also gave his hearers food for thought in the more serious part of his remarks.

James A. Crowley, athletic coach at Michigan State College, was the final speaker. Mr. Crowley's speech was full of enthusiasm and inspiration. He held his own with the other humorists on the program. Mr. Crowley made a fine impression on his audience and Lowell people will be glad to welcome him again.

Guests present were Mr. Burrows, president; Mr. Fish, secretary and Mr. Simpson, treasurer of the State Mutual Rodded Fire Ins. Co., of Flint, and C. E. Leonard, of Ionia.

The only criticism we have to offer is that there are not enough of such occasions. There's a heap of work that the Lowell Board of Trade can profitably accomplish by frequently getting together. Two noon-day lunches a month at a nominal price would not be any too many.

Come on—let's go!
That's a good deal better than—Well, I dun-no.

NORMAN E. BORGERSO
1931 Pres. Board of Trade

BONUS LOANS COULD TOTAL $55000 HERE

AN AVERAGE OF $500 WOULD BECOME AVAILABLE FOR EACH EX-SERVICE MAN—LOCAL POST HAS MEMBERSHIP OF 110—$400,000 EX-SERVICE MEN IN NATION.

The World War veterans' bonus loan bill, to permit soldiers of the World War to borrow up to fifty per cent of face value on their adjusted compensation certificates, was rushed through the Senate by the overwhelming vote of 72 to 12. It was passed in exactly the same form as that in which it passed the House by vote of 363 to 39, all amendments offered either in committee or on the floor being voted down. The measure has gone to President Hoover, and while an unlooked-for contingency makes it possible for the President to kill the bill by a pocket veto, it is said that he has told Republican leaders that he will return it promptly with a veto.

The overwhelming vote given the measure indicates it will be passed over the President's veto. Senator Vandenberg conceived the 50 per cent loan scheme while he was in Grand Rapids for the holidays. He made a special trip to Washington to urge this plan on the President, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and Gen. Frank T. Hines, administrator of veterans' affairs, as the least costly proposition that congress could be persuaded to accept.

Mr. Vandenberg urged that the administration accept the bill as his own, but it was strongly opposed by Secy. Mellon and the President.

As stated in the opening paragraph, the measure allows World War veterans to borrow half the face value of their bonus insurance certificates—an average of $500 to each of the 3,400,000 ex-service men. The Lowell American Legion Post has about 110 members and should all avail themselves of the borrowing privilege it would mean a total of $55,000. The entire amount available for Kent County would doubtless exceed two million dollars.

It is claimed by many that only those veterans who are in dire need of the money—perhaps to pay a mortgage on a home or other essential obligation—will avail themselves of the borrowing privilege.

It is estimated that three months' time will be required to perfect the organization, necessary before paying of loan applications can begin.

Woman's Club Hears Accomplished Critic

The Woman's Club met at their club rooms Feb. 18, and enjoyed the program prepared by the hostesses, Mrs. M. Houseman and Mrs. E. M. Purchase. The topic for the day was "Michigan Homes," and was ably handled by the speaker, Miss Beula Wadsworth, of Saranac, who was Art Supervisor of the Kalamazoo Public Schools for fifteen years, and assistant editor of the School Arts Magazine for a number of years.

Miss Wadsworth spoke from the angle of art in the home, how to choose your pictures, color schemes and their proper hanging. It was very interesting and instructive.

The High School Girls Glee Club favored the club with two enjoyable numbers, and we hope for their appearance again soon.

Year's Financial Statement For the Village of Lowell

The annual financial statement of the Village of Lowell is published in this week's issue of The Ledger. It is the most comprehensive statement ever published by the village and reflects credit upon the village officers and the finance committee of the council consisting of Harry Day, Charles Doyle and Earl A. Thomas. The audit of the books was made by B. H. Schaffer.

Mr. Schaffer says the books are in splendid shape and that every cent of receipts and expenditures have been accounted for.

From the statement we summarize the following which will be of interest to Lowell people.

The earning of the light and power plants for the fiscal year just closed were $30,445.47 and after charging all depreciation and interest leaves a net earning of $14,765.06.

The profit from the water plant was $2,783.74. Depreciation and interest is charged off at $2,782.32, leaving a net profit of $1.42. The water department would show a loss of approximately $6,000 were it not for the fact that this is cared for in the overhead in the light and power department.

The general expenses of conducting the village exceed the income from taxes and other sources by $11,584.42. The income from the electric plant makes up the difference to carry the village.

The statement shows that the expense of operating the village amounts to $30,000, while the income from taxes is approximately $17,500.

The total income for the village from all sources, including taxes, fines, light, water, power, licenses, etc., is $99,169.39.

The total expenses including everything—street lighting, street maintenance, the municipal plant, and City Hall, policing, etc., totals $95,987.73.

This leaves a net balance of $3,181.66.

The total net worth of the village, not including City Hall, city parks and sewer system, is $366,405.65, after deducting all indebtedness including the bonded indebtedness. The total bonded indebtedness is now $107,000.

Village officials declare that the earnings from the municipal plant can be applied to a sinking fund for the purpose of retiring the bonds without increasing taxation.

We suggest that all taxpayers give the complete financial statement a careful perusal, as the figures given in this article are but a summary of its salient features.

Revival Services at Nazarene Church Begin Next Sunday

Rev. E. J. Stevens, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, announces a series of revival services at his church beginning next Sunday and continuing for two weeks.

Two well-known evangelists, the Rev. Bessie Stites and the Rev. Albert Stites, who are highly recommended, will be active in the services. The preaching will be by Mrs. Stites, while Mr. Stites will be the leader of the singing.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

STOCKING'S STORE TO RE-OPEN MONDAY, MARCH 2

Having effected a settlement with my creditors, I am pleased to announce to the public that I will be in my store again ready to serve you with my usual line of R. C. A. radios, tubes, batteries and service. Tubes tested free. I will have a much improved line of optical goods which will mean a saving to you. Hazel Hoag will again be in charge of the millinery department with a nice line of Spring hats.

Besides my usual line of sporting goods I shall carry a good line of Golf and Tennis goods.

With the reduced expense of maintenance I will be able to sell cheaper and I need your support and hope you will need me to repair your watches, clocks and almost anything needing repairs, and thanking you, I beg to remain, Your humble servant, R. D. STOCKING.

Telephone or leave orders for radio service. sp 40

MAKING PLANS TO ENTERTAIN OLDER BOYS

CONFERENCE FOR KENT COUNTY TO BE HELD IN APRIL—ASK FOR VOLUNTEERS WHO WILL ENTERTAIN THE VISITORS—NEARLY 100 EXPECTED.

Lowell will be host to the Kent County Older Boys Conference April 10-11-12. This is the first time in many years that Lowell has entertained the conference and it is hoped that the event will prove to be the best one ever held in the county. Mr. Charles Doyle is chairman and has appointed about ten different committees to help with the arrangements.

The churches and school will co-operate with Mr. Carl Metzger, County Secretary of the Y. M. C. A., and the committees in making the affair a huge success.

About eighty boys are expected to attend the meetings. They will arrive on Friday, April 10, and will be entertained at the Methodist church, Saturday noon the boys will eat lunch and play games at the school. From there they will go to the Congregational church where they will have dinner and will later listen to a program. Sunday morning the delegates will attend services in their respective churches.

Mr. Ray Johns, and Greyearth, the Sioux Indian from South Dakota, have been secured as speakers. Lowell citizens are asked to provide lodging and two breakfasts and a Sunday dinner for the boys. Mr. Harvey Coons, Mrs. C. H. Horn, Mr. L. Rutherford and Mrs. John Bannan, who are in charge of the entertainment, would be much pleased to have the citizens volunteered for this work.

Joan Crawford's Newest Picture Stirring Drama

"Dance Fools Dance," which opens Sunday at the Strand is Joan Crawford's latest talking picture and comes to this section immediately following its metropolitan premier. This is in keeping with the Strand policy of showing latest productions as soon as available.

The story, with a Chicago locale, principally concerns the underworld and newspaper life of the metropolis. The story, despite lavish touches, is an intensely dramatic one, the plot motivated by murder on a whole scale.

It is a daring theme, the society angle and still more daring one from the viewpoint of exposing crime and racketeering. There is a wealth of newspaper atmosphere, realistically supplied.

REPORTS GROWTH

Robert M. Ferrall, insurance agent for Farm Bureau insurance lines, reports steadily growing activities of the State Farm Mutual companies. Mr. Ferrall's address is Grand Rapids, R. F. D., 3.

ST. PATRICK'S PARTY

A St. Patrick's party consisting of an entertainment and pedro party, will follow a short business meeting of Island City Rebekah Lodge at 7:30 on Tuesday, March 3rd. Everybody welcome. Members, bring your family and friends.

Secretary.

GRANTED LEAVE

Rev. Fr. George Flannigan has been granted a leave of absence as pastor of St. Mary's church here and has gone to the West coast. Fr. Flannigan has not been in the best of health and it is hoped he will return from his vacation fully restored.

BORN

To Mr. and Mrs. Leo Bowler, a daughter, Clara Marie, Feb. 23.

YOUNGSTERS ON THE AIR

Little Misses Betty and Peggy Brezina, Elinor Bowery and Jerry Roth, Jack and Harold Maxson were heard over the radio Monday evening. Mrs. Oscar Brezina and Mrs. R. J. Maxson accompanied the youngsters to Grand Rapids.

Political Announcement
To the voters of Lowell Township: I wish to announce that I am a candidate for township treasurer. Your support will be appreciated.

WET FORCES ACTIVE INCOME TAX LOOMS

Legislature Again Considering Measures De-feated in Former Sessions—Capital Pun-ishment Step Nearer Referendum Vote—Check Wild Driving

Every week the deliberations of the present session of the Michigan legislature take on more the tone of those of the 1929 session. The income tax proposal was missing but will soon join up with capital punishment, deficit appropriation and prohibition. Senator Peter B. Lennon has announced that he will introduce the income tax proposal shortly, drawn along the lines of the federal tax.

Capital punishment came a step nearer a referendum vote when the senate voted, 23 to 7, to pass the measure proposed by Senator Foster providing for electrocution for first degree murderers. The bill goes to the house, where it is expected to pass, and then to Gov. Brucker for his signature.

The Governor received the first legislative enactment when the house passed the measure to extend the time limit on automobile licenses to March 1.

Proposes "Legal" Beer
Rep. Robert Wardell, of Detroit, has introduced a bill legalizing the manufacture of beer containing 3 1/2 per cent alcoholic content. It was referred to the judiciary committee.

The proposal for a "straw vote" on the question "Do you favor the national prohibition law in its present form?" was killed before it got to a vote in the House. Attorney General Paul Voorhies ruled the attempt unconstitutional. He declared that the legislature is confined to legislative acts and proposed amendments to the constitution. The measure as proposed would serve no good purpose, his ruling stated.

Rep. Deacy, who introduced the original resolution, countered by introducing a bill to repeal the state prohibition act. If it passed both houses, this would come up for a vote at the November, 1932, election.

Check Wild Driving
Automobile drivers figuring in serious accidents will be subjected to examinations to determine their fitness to control a motor vehicle, according to proposals for changes in the present regulations.

Drivers would be compelled to give notice of change of address; compulsory revocation is provided for traffic law violators, for periods of six months to permanent, according to the nature of the offense. Ninety days imprisonment is provided for driving during the period of suspended license.

Seeks Parole Curb
A resolution to remove the power of the governor to pardon, reprieve or commute the sentences of persons convicted of first degree murder has been submitted by Senator Rushton, chairman of the judiciary committee.

Governor Brucker and Speaker Fred Ming of the House appeared as speakers before a meeting of anti-tuberculosis workers. The Governor repeated that the malt tax is "wrong in principle," when Speaker Ming predicted that "the malt tax will go through the legislature."

Condemnation Law
Gov. Brucker's sixth message to the legislature recommended a study of the report of a special committee appointed by former Gov. Green to study and recommend changes in the condemnation proceedings.

Bills passed by the house included the deficiency appropriation of six million and some odd; lots within incorporated city limits to be deeded by the conservation department to the administrative board act, mostly to curb its power; providing for fire protection for townships. Among those introduced to place on tax rolls land turned over to conservation department; to allow chairmen of legislative committees to sit and act with the institutional boards; additional protection for steel workers; to prevent sticker voting; to amend law governing limitation of tax on Masonic lodges; to allow selling of soft drinks outside of city limits to charitable, benevolent and fraternal organizations; to change the penalty for non-payment of township taxes; providing a general sales tax; to require annual reports from co-operative associations.

Use The Ledger Form Noonday Basket League At High School

Several different people have phoned The Ledger office this week to find out when and where auction sales were to be held. They said the bids had become lost and they could not find dates and places of the sales.

Had the auction sale lists been published in full in The Ledger everybody for 20 miles around would have known about the sales in question.

The way to reach twenty times as many people is by using The Ledger—and you do it at half the cost and bother.

INSPECTOR'S REPORT

Lowell H. S. Graduates Prove Exception to the Rule

It has been frequently asserted that graduates from the smaller High Schools do not succeed in college as well as the graduates from the larger High School. An investigation just completed here extending over a four-year period tends to show that this premise is exaggerated. The marks of students for their first term's work at college are always secured, and the results tabulated in order to follow the success of the graduates.

Thirteen of the class of 1930 of the Lowell High school are now attending nine higher institutions of learning all of which are on the North Central Association list of approved colleges. These students have accumulated the following marks, A-11, B-27, C-18, D-8, and E-3. In per cent these grades would equal—16, 40, 27, 12, and 4 respectively. The average for such per cents for all Freshmen students in college should approximate 5, 20, 50, 20, and 5.

It will be seen that our graduates have received many more A's and B's and fewer E's, D's, and C's, than they should have received. We point to this record with pride. The figures are equally true over a four-year period.

It is true that the record for students from the smaller High Schools at the University of Michigan is not so good. For this reason educators have held that adjustments should be made in the smaller High School. But in view of the above statistics the question arises—where should the adjustment be made?

Born After Mother Died Baby Patricia Gains Fast

Patricia Ann Rozell, who was born Jan. 31, 10 minutes after her mother died, is shown here in the arms of Miss Alice Clark, a nurse. Kneeling is Miss Gladys Gibson, who with Miss Clark has had most of the care of Patricia.

Sweet and dainty as a wild rose, Patricia Ann Rozell is queening it over nurses and Sisters in St. Mary's hospital these days.

Patricia Ann, it will be remembered, is a baby girl who was born 10 minutes after her mother, Mrs. James Rozell, of Moseley, died in St. Mary's the afternoon of Jan. 31.

Touched by the tragedy which marked the beginning of her young life, everyone in the hospital united to give the wee mite a proper start in life and yesterday, when she celebrated her twenty-fourth day of life, there was general rejoicing at the vast strides towards healthy maturity, which Patricia Ann has made.

Patricia is more than holding her own, having already regained the nine ounces she lost after birth. Every infant, be it known, loses eight or nine ounces, and a month is usually allowed them in which to get back to normal. She weighed six pounds and 11 ounces yesterday when she had her picture taken for the paper, and is taking her daily feedings with all the gusto of a gourmet.

Blue-eyed and inquisitive the few moments of the day she deigns to sit up and take notice: Patricia is the darling of the attendants in the hospital. Most of the time she is sleepily bored by attention and takes it with polite patience of a monarch.

James Rozell, the father, is station agent at Moseley, where five brothers and sisters are waiting for Patricia to come home. Cut and article courtesy Grand Rapids Herald.

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT

It seems probable that the legislature will pass a capital punishment bill, with or without a referendum clause. If the latter clause is attached the mob squad will put up a campaign against taking human life. The object of a capital punishment law is to save human life and much human misery. The writer believes that there should be included in capital crimes not only murder, but kidnaping and armed robbery. The man who goes into a store or holds one up with a gun upon the highway will commit murder if necessary to obtain your money or valuables, and very often does commit murder in the process of such robbery. He should be treated as a murderer under the law, for he is a potential murderer.

Some time ago a gang of kidnapers in Detroit kidnaped a young man and took him out of town and held him in captivity and demanded a large ransom from the father, threatening to kill the son if the ransom was not paid or if the police were notified. The father paid the ransom but the police were trying to locate the boy and he was badly beaten and killed after the ransom had been paid. There are more kidnaping cases that never appear in print, for parents are afraid of being murdered or have their children murdered if they let the public or police know about it. Is there any manner of violent death too bad for a kidnaper? If there is, I never have heard of it.

Why is it that we have so many more murders per capita in the United States than they do in Canada? One reason is that there is a much greater respect for law in the Dominion than there is here and speed trials and punishment are much more certain there. If a man commits a serious crime in Canada and is caught, and he usually is caught, he is put upon trial in a very short time. He cannot get his case continued along month after month and year after year as is done repeatedly in this country. A case was tried in Detroit last week and the criminal convicted for a crime committed in 1925, and the case had been continued forty-five times. If the judges have no power to compel the prompt trial of criminals, they should be given that power, and then if they do not exercise it they should be removed.

If it is possible to hold down crime in Canada and England, it should be possible here. We boast of being the greatest people upon the earth, but we are not making good in criminal matters.

THE WHY OF TRADE-AT-HOME

In common with most of the citizens of Lowell the Ledger believes most sincerely in the advantages to be secured by the thorough practice of "trading-at-home."

It is a doctrine that is often misunderstood, in that that some people would go so far as to demand a blind adherence to the theory without regard to the facts of the situation. The essence of such a course of conduct, if it is to be a community success, requires the intelligent co-operation of Lowell merchants as well as Lowell buyers.

It is the paramount duty of local merchants, or sellers, to be alert in their business, to present to their customers attractive goods, fairly priced in line with modern competition and to keep up with the best modern merchandising practices elsewhere. This does not necessitate, or expect, the elaborate displays of metropolitan stores, but it does mean meeting the prime essentials of trading that make buying profitable to the buyer as well as the seller.

The obligation which rests upon local citizens, as buyers, demands that, before purchasing merchandise or service out of town, they give Lowell business houses the opportunity of handling the business. No buyer should, through sheer laziness, or a careless idea of economy, thoughtlessly send money from Lowell. The foolishness of such conduct can be easily demonstrated to any reader who has the slightest doubt of its correctness, or of its value to a civic community. Fortunately, we have had a generous observance of the "trade-at-home" ideal. Lowell boasts many progressive business houses, where service to the buyer is as much the keynote as profits to the seller. Of course, this policy exists because, in the long run, business men know that it is an adjunct to profit-making. Our local buyers, as a rule, do patronize local businesses, and we are convinced, in the majority of instances, with pleasure and profit.

FACTS ABOUT LIGHTNING

While dangerous at times, lightning is a great benefactor of mankind, says K. B. McEachron, research engineer for the General Electric Company. It produces, free of charge, he points out, about a hundred million tons of fixed nitrogen yearly over the earth's surface.

Some of our old ideas about lightning are still good, too, he says. "One old idea about protection from lightning is that it is not wise to stand in an open doorway or near an open window during a lightning-storm. It has been proved in several different ways, says Mr. McEachron, that lightning can be drawn and moved from its path by wind. This is possible because much lightning consists of a succession of discharges too rapid for the eye to distinguish, but not too rapid for the wind to blow along.

"Recently a photograph was taken of a bolt of lightning passing near a large radio transmission tower, which shows very clearly the stroke being moved in its path some distance from the tower. For that reason it is not wise to stand in an open doorway or near an open window, for if lightning should strike and be blown by the wind in the direction of the person standing, it might prove fatal. Such instances, however, are rare.

"Another old idea concerns the lightning-rod. This very valuable instrument came into disrepute a number of years ago through the high-pressure methods of traveling salesmen. However, it is a fact that a good lightning-rod, properly installed, will protect a structure ninety-nine times out of a hundred and prevent fire and property damage. It is especially true that lightning-rods are well worth while on isolated buildings, such as farmhouses and barns.

"Lightning seldom damages buildings in cities, because most of them are constructed on a heavy steel frame which acts as a perfect ground for lightning. Then, too, there are plenty of water pipes and steam pipes all leading to ground and making a valuable protection. Several times the Equitable Building in New York City was struck by lightning, and in one instance in its frantic effort to reach ground, the discharge clipped off a large chunk of stone and bounced into busy Broadway below. A ground copper strip encircling the top of the building was installed, and from that day this lightning has been discharged harmlessly."

NOTES AND COMMENTS

There are small boys in this country today who believe that a hairbrush was made to brush hair.

Gen. Smedley Butler, popular marine, is a better fighter than talker, as he is now probably willing to admit.

Not every proposition has merit; you should be on guard when you sign agreements to pay cash for future prospects.

Advertising won't do Lowell merchants any good if all they do about it is to read what big firms spend for publicity.

Somebody sends out a motto, which reads: "There's no limit to the good a man can do, if he doesn't care who gets the credit."

Let us encourage all hard-working citizens by telling them that they deserve success; also, bread, butter, meat and a place to sleep.

President Hoover's praise of advertising finds unanimous agreement among the newspaper editors, even hard-boiled Democrats admitting he is right.

Parents would take more care in educating their children if they stopped to realize that a child sees only what he is taught to see.

The Coco-Cola company reports the biggest earnings in history and then narrows that it spent an extra million dollars on advertising in 1930.

The average American likes a contest and will get one started somehow if none appears likely.

Review of Reviews Editor Says Private Enterprise Has Made Service Efficient, Cheap

No other service of any kind in the world serves so much human satisfaction and so much other monetary value for the amount paid by the user as the telephone, declares Albert Shaw, Editor of the Review of Reviews Magazine.

In a recent issue of the magazine, under a caption, "Most Service for Least Money," Mr. Shaw declares that, while no other country is so well served by local and Long Distance exchanges as is the United States, the whole world is now rapidly learning to use the telephone. He adds:

"To make the telephone a general service would be a calamity. There is no single public utility which is so important to the public as the telephone system, in order that there may be no check upon its further expansion. There is no single public convenience in America that affords so much help in emergency as the telephone."

"The important thing for the public is to encourage the greatest quality of the telephone system, in order that there may be no check upon its further expansion. There is no single public convenience in America that affords so much help in emergency as the telephone."

Women aren't naturally better looking than men—just artificially.

Did you ever pay a lawyer for advice which your wife would have given you free?

If you have lived in an un-insulated house four years you have actually paid out your hair of and your teeth to have paid for the insulation, besides all the extra comfort you would have had.

A fellow struck a match to see if his gasoline tank was empty. It wasn't.

A spreader raced to beat the train to the crossing. He won.

A boy touched a third rail to see if it was charged. It was.

A neighbor bought a roof from a stranger thinking it was cheaper than Mate-Hide. But it wasn't. Believe it or not.

You get plenty of accessories for the automobile which are financially down and out, but hard to get an average of an hour a day. Wouldn't it be brilliant to get some for the home in which you and your family spend most of your lives and in which you entertain your friends?
