"How 'em up," a hoarse voice yelled. "I bet you boys are all in that fraction of a second during that quarter's two hours ago. That man who was in there, he was a minute ago."

"I don't know what I was saying. I was sick with fear." "I never forget what you said. I told her when she was in the question in his mind. 'Are we going to be married?'"

"He couldn't stand out against what you said. That night, when he was married, he was in the question in his mind. 'Are we going to be married?'"

"You're very material, aren't you?" "I don't know what I was saying. I was sick with fear."

"I don't know what I was saying. I was sick with fear." "I never forget what you said. I told her when she was in the question in his mind."

PHILLIPS said: "Do you recall the name 'Bob'?" "Yes, I recall the name 'Bob'."

"I don't know what I was saying. I was sick with fear." "I never forget what you said. I told her when she was in the question in his mind."

Accidents

We have just READ that the invention of the HARP was due to an ACCIDENT, while on the OTHER hand, the invention of the BAGPIPE was achieved when a HIGHLAND cottager got the IDEA through stepping on a CAT. And we SUPPOSE the man who discovered a SERUM to make SHEEP give four times as much WOOL must have stumbled onto his Bag of TRICKS while looking for a HAIR RESTORER. But it is DIFFERENT with WALL PAPER as the MANUFACTURERS deliberately set out to make the BEST WALL PAPER on the market, and you can JUDGE how well they SUCCEEDED by giving it a TRIAL.

Moral: Buying Wall Paper at our store is not the result of an accident. We keep the best because we know you won't be satisfied with anything short of the best.

Michigan Folks Had Big Time in Yankeetown

Mrs. Nellie K. Andrews who is spending the Winter in Florida at Yankeetown, writes the following interesting letter to Lowell folks through The Ledger:

Yankeetown, Fla., is surely "on the map" after the events of last week. Nearly or quite 300 people from 33 states, Toronto, Ont., and Montreal gathered here for their annual reunions, merry-making, etc. By official count the number of tents and house cars, some of which were like a palace car—was 178, one-half of which were from Michigan. The beautiful tourist camp, a large grove of palm, pine and magnolia trees, with a scattering of live oaks which are always laden with Spanish moss was a veritable city of "tin can tourists."

Opening Monday evening was a welcome address by Dr. A. Elgas, of Hartford, Mich., who was master of ceremonies and kept busy during the week's festivities in several places at once.

He was followed by A. F. Knott, founder and mayor of Yankeetown, who, in his pleasing manner, voiced and emphasized the welcome already given by Dr. Elgas. Each evening following was given over to community singing, extemporaneous remarks, etc., after which programs by different entertainers from out of town were featured.

Then came the time of tripping the light fantastic loc. Friday was the big day—a fish fry. A 6 o'clock dinner was served at tables placed in the grove to about 500 people, mostly tourists. A total of 400 pounds of fish from the river were furnished by Mr.

Knott and four men were kept busy frying them on a large arch built for the occasion. They were served piping hot. The resident ladies did their share in providing pies, pickles, sandwiches and coffee.

The weather man kindly furnished a perfect day for the "fish fry."

In the evening a fine children's program under the supervision of the teacher, Miss Anna Dyer, was given. Many of these children belong to families from the North, who own homes and spend each Winter here.

A masque party was the program for Thursday evening. The grand finale was Saturday evening when every one either danced or was a spectator. Local artists furnished the music. A rousing three cheers and rising vote of thanks were extended the officials, Miss Dyer and the people of Yankeetown, which is a little place of about 400 people, situated on the beautiful White-cochee which flows into the Gulf of Mexico, 3 1/2 miles west.

Boat rides down to the gulf and a visit to the fine large electric plant were provided free as was everything during the week.
