

RICHARD COURT OF LOWELL, HIGH SCHOOL APPOINTED FIRST ALTERNATE CADET OF FAMOUS MILITARY ACADEMY—OVER 30 COMPETE.

Richard Court was notified by Cong. Carl E. Mages Saturday that he had been appointed as first alternate cadet of the United States Military Academy at West Point, New York.

One need only drop in the school gymnasium most any Tuesday evening to be assured that the local Boy Scouts of America is a fine concern.

Boy Scouts Are Going Strong Here

Over twenty boys comprise the troop and more are coming in. Mr. Merrill, who has had much experience with Scout troops, believes the local troops have the strongest and best balanced leadership he has ever been associated with.

At this week's meeting the patrols reported their songs, yells, calls and flags and had a fine competitive tryout. Perhaps they are the only group in town hoping for a fine fall of snow so they may try out the twelve-foot toboggan they possess through the interest of Chairman Cook.

TOWNSHIP AND COUNTY 50-50 ON SEGWUNRD.

MEN WHO HAVE BEEN GIVEN TOWNSHIP AID TO HAVE OPPORTUNITY TO WORK AND EARN MONEY AND SAVE THEIR SELF-RESPECT.

At a meeting of the Township Board of Lowell Township held on Tuesday of this week at which were present Supervisor Lewis M. Yeiter, Clerk C. H. Alexander, Justices Houghton and C. W. Yeiter, the following resolution was adopted by unanimous vote:

"Whereas, welfare work in the township has increased tremendously and it is deemed advisable that all indigents, so far as possible, should be compelled to work for relief instead of doing same out as in the past;

"Therefore be it resolved that the sum of $1,500 be appropriated from the Poor Fund to be spent in the improving of township roads which are to be taken over by the county on April 1, 1932, and that the indigents be employed in carrying on this work."

Following the adoption of the above resolution agreement was entered into between the Township of Lowell and the Kent County Road Commission providing that each shall pay the sum of $1500 for the improvement of the South Grand River Road through Segwun from the upper to the lower bridge on M-66, near the Grand Trunk depot, a total distance of one mile.

The next day County Road Commission engineers were at work surveying for the above improvement and active work will be started in the immediate future. Hwy. Com. O. L. Rufusson will be in charge of the men on the job.

The action of the Town Board in working out the plan with the County Road Commission will doubtless meet with general approval for the reason that a desired improvement will be made and at the same time men of the township out of work will have a chance to save their self-respect instead of being objects of charity.

Supervisor Yeiter states that about thirty families, three men and about a dozen women, mostly widows, have been receiving aid, some regularly and others as necessity has required, during the winter.

The work will be staggered, that is, each man will be given enough work to support his family.

The arrangement will also ease the drain on township finances as a result of the county paying half of the improvement.

Child Specialist Speaks Here Feb. 16

"Discipline and Your Child" is the title of the fourth and last discussion of the Child Study groups. Good and poor methods of handling children will be considered. Very few parents discipline their children wisely.

They are apt to measure them against an adult scale instead of a scale fitted to the child's level of development. This leads to friction in the home and unhappy family relationships, says Mrs. Lynde, specialist in Child Training who is leading the discussions.

"We need to build into our children a more wholesome attitude towards living and particularly towards law. Every parent is responsible for this and for the same teaching of property rights.

Strand Gets Early Dates on Big Hits

After a flying trip to Detroit last week Hollis Drew, manager of the Strand, informs us he was fortunate in securing early dates on some of the big hits that are just being released by the leading producers. Among the outstanding pictures that will have an early Strand showing are: "Hell Divers" with Wallace Beery and Clark Gable, "Around the World in 80 Minutes" starring Douglas Fairbanks, "Dance Team" with Sally Eilers and James Dunn, and the sound version of "The Big Parade." It is interesting to note that most pictures play the Strand months before such pictures are available in town the size of Lowell.

Vibrant with the personality of a new and lovelier Dolores Del Rio, the radio feature, "Girl of the Rio," opens at the Strand Sunday for a two days' showing. Three noted orchestras provide the various types of music and script calls for her and the supporting cast boasts of Leo Carrillo, Norman Foster, Ralph Ince, Lucille Gleason and Edna Murphy.

THANK YOU, BROTHER

We are sure our readers will pardon us for repeating the following complimentary notice from last week's Ionia County News:

"I want to pause right here and offer congratulations to two members of the craft who live down the river in Lowell. At the annual convention of the Michigan Press Association in East Lansing last week, R. G. Jefferies, publisher of the Lowell Ledger, was elected secretary of the association.

"Jeff" has been in Lowell a comparatively short time but to the newspaper profession he is a well known and well liked figure. "Then there is Frank M. Johnson, former publisher, who still writes for the Ledger under the title of 'In the Old Arm Chair with Uncle Marcus.' He has been a loyal and active member of the Michigan Press Association for nearly a half century and at the meeting last week, this venerable journalist was honored with a life membership in the organization.

"Lowell citizens should be congratulated upon the high standard of their home-town paper, established by the one and being carried on by the other."

D. S. Hudson, 33, Dies Unexpectedly

This community was greatly shocked to hear of the death of D. S. Hudson of Vergennes, which occurred at Blodgett hospital about midnight Tuesday after a week's illness from pneumonia. His condition was not considered serious until Monday and he was taken to the hospital soon thereafter. He leaves the widow and three little girls, the mother, Mrs. Ruby Hudson, and a sister, Mrs. Charles Ward. Miss Grace Blanding is an aunt. He was a graduate of the Lowell High school, class of 1917, and was held in high esteem by all. The grief stricken family have the sympathy of all in their great bereavement.

NECKTIES

Is there anything more foolish than a man's necktie asks Frank Parking Stockbridge, adding: If you wear a collar you have to wear a tie. It is a perfectly useless adornment, serving no real purpose except to gratify the wearer's vanity. A man never sees his own necktie when he is wearing it, so he must wear it to please other people's eyes. I think there is a good deal to be said for the costume which used to be so popular in the movies, the rolled-collar shirt worn open half way down the chest.

No Excuse For Money Hoarding

President Hoover has called upon the Nation to return its hoarded savings into the channels of industry. More than $1,300,000,000 of hoarded money is withheld from trade and commerce, he said, with the result that credit facilities are diminished by many billions of dollars. In order to end hoarding and its crippling effect upon credit, the President announced he would organize a national body to direct a campaign to that end.

The President has felt it wise and helpful to take public notice of the continued disposition of misinformed or hysterical people to draw their money from banks in order to hide it under a mattress or in an old stocking—or, in what is really the modern equivalent, a safety-deposit box. The process has been going on for a year or so with fluctuating intensity and still keeps up. It has all along been foolish and unpatriotic, but is doubly so now that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation has been set up and supplied with funds to come to the aid of any bank exposed to a run while really solvent.

FARM NEWS AND VIEWS AS GIVEN BY K. K. VINING

COUNTY AGENT TOUCHES UP ON A VARIETY OF SUBJECTS OF INTEREST TO FARMERS AND 4-H CLUBS—COW-TESTING ASSOCIATION REPORTS.

Farmers club of South Gaines is making a study of the life of Washington this year. For their material they are using a set of books issued by the Washington Bicentennial Commission at Washington, D. C. These books are so arranged to give a separate study of some phase of Washington's life. Any club or group may get these books for study purpose by writing the above Commission at Washington or through K. K. Vining, the county farm agent.

A total of 166 cows finished the year in the West Kent Cow Testing Association for 1931. These cows averaged 7,634 pounds of milk and 312.5 pounds of butter fat.

Ed. Hendershott with four purebred Guernseys had the high herd in butterfat production with 8,921.5 pounds of milk and 425.4 pounds of butter fat.

High herd in milk production was owned by George Kober with 11 grade Holsteins. These cows produced 12,258 pounds of milk and 386.7 pounds of fat.

John Kober owned the high cow in butterfat production. Ship, a grade Holstein, produced 13,165 pounds of milk and 545.5 pounds of butterfat.

Eleven of the 13 herds that finished the year averaged over 300 pounds of butterfat. Five herds showed a definite increase in butterfat production over last year, the amount varying from 3 to 36 pounds.

One group, Haradine, Lloyd Hill and Ed. Hendershott bought a purebred Guernsey bull, Kober Bros, J. Spangenberg and Lynn Bradford pooled their purebred sire interests in a bull club.

"Lawns" will be the subject for discussion at the third of the home garden meeting at the Byerson Public Library on Thursday evening, Feb. 11th. Meeting will start at 8:30 sharp. Much interest has been shown in the previous lectures.

There is still room for four or five farmers who might wish to keep a farm account book in cooperation with the farm management department at Michigan State College. Fifty-five such books were kept in Kent County the past year and all are keeping books again, a number of them for the fourth and fifth years. Details will be furnished upon inquiry, by the county agent.

The American Sheep Breeder in cooperation with breeders of pure bred sheep have a couple of fine wool bred 2-year-old ewes for distribution to boys of 4-H club age. Any Kent boys who would like to start a flock of fine wool sheep may get this information on application to K. K. Vining, county agent.

The third of the landscape classes for rural folks will be given Tuesday, February 16th, at the Grand Rapids Y. M. C. A. O. I. Gregg, specialist from Michigan State College will be in charge of the discussion, which will be on "Shrubs." Plans are being made for 20 farm homes this year. LIVESTOCK MEN HELD ANNUAL DINNER MONDAY

MEMBERS OF LOWELL SHIPPING ASSOCIATION LISTEN TO TWO FINE ADDRESSES AND ENJOY PLEASING PROGRAM.

The tenth annual banquet of the Lowell Livestock Shipping Association was held on Monday evening at the City Hall with over 250 in attendance. A hearty dinner was served by the management of Richmond's Cafe, members of the Lowell Board of Trade waiting on the tables. Royden Warner's orchestra furnished pleasing music both before and during the dinner.

BARTEL J. JONKMAN

Speaker at Annual Banquet of Lowell Livestock Assn.

Following the dinner the program opened with solos on the accordion by Howard Rittenger and tap dancing by Misses Gladys Armstrong and Jane Runciman with Thelma Wingeier at the piano. Generous applause followed the rendering of these numbers. The program was announced by Chairman C. H. Runciman, president of the association, but before turning the meeting over to the toastmaster, introduced Richard Court, of the Lowell High School who was congratulated by hearty applause on his high standing as a candidate for appointment as a cadet to West Point military academy.

Toastmaster M. B. McPherson introduced Mr. Hartman of Grand Rapids, formerly connected with the Department of Agriculture, now field director for the Roach Canning Co., who spoke on business conditions, declaring that 90 per cent of all our troubles were brought about by ourselves. "When we get out of this cycle of fear, business will run smoothly," said Mr. Hartman.

Bartel J. Jonkman, prosecuting attorney for Kent county, made a constructive and thoughtful address on the subject of "Organization."

State Rep. Dexter G. Look made appropriate remarks, closing with a compliment to C. H. Runciman, secretary-treasurer of the Association, declaring him to be one of the state's outstanding citizens, the applause following this declaration showing that the statement met with unanimous approval.

Lewis B. Ayres, in charge of shipping for the Association, was called upon and bowed his acknowledgments.

Chairman Runciman closed the meeting with an expression of thanks and appreciation to all shippers for their loyalty and cooperation.

At the annual meeting of the Association held recently the following officers were elected: President W. M. McCarthy; vice president, M. B. McPherson; secretary-treas. C. H. Runciman. The board of directors includes the above officers and Glen Yeiter, Reuben Lee, Howard Bartlett, Charles Bowen, Chris. Kroff and Ernest Pickney.

O. J. O'Dell is auditor. The Association makes shipments every other week and all farmers are welcome to ship through the Association, even if not members. Last year the Association shipped a total of 70 carloads of livestock, the gross receipts being upwards of $50,000.

B. & L. Associations Are Helping Many

Even during the present industrial depression, Building and Loan Associations of Michigan can point with satisfaction to the fact that they are enabling many persons to acquire homes and also are making a substantial return upon their investments according to Colman C. Vaughan, supervisor of the Building and Loan Division of the Department of State.

The statement was made after Mr. Vaughan had studied the last monthly reports from the various companies.

"New problems have been presented all financial institutions and the Building and Loan Associations, under the supervision of the department, are coping with unusual conditions in splendid fashion," he said.

At the present time there are 66 building and loan associations in Michigan with assets of over $160,000,000.

The last month for which reports are available is December, 1931. During that month, according to Mr. Vaughan's compilation, 14 associations showed a decrease of $58,683 in bank indebtedness, 3 showed a slight increase, 15 showed no change while 24 associations had no bank indebtedness on their books.

NARROW ESCAPES Nearly ninety-one years of age Associate Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, of the United States Supreme Court, resigned because of the infirmities of age.

For many years Justice Holmes has been one of the leading figures of this high tribunal. His liberal viewpoint, expressed in many famous dissenting opinions, won him wide recognition throughout the country.

Looking back on his many useful years of active life one marvels at the narrow escapes he had from death while serving in the Union army during the War Between the States. Fate seems to have reserved him for unusual vicissitudes.

Justice Holmes graduated from college in July, 1861, and entered a Massachusetts regiment shortly afterwards. In October he was shot through the breast at Balls Bluff. In September of 1862 he was shot through the neck at Antietam. His last wound, a shot in the back, was at Fredericksburg in May, 1863.

Through these narrow escapes upon the battle field his life was preserved. The usefulness of his subsequent career makes tragic the speculation as to how many other lives were lost in that conflict which would have likewise blessed their country if saved.

CHAIN NEWSPAPERS The average reader of newspapers confines himself to not more than one or two dailies. Very few realize the extent of chain newspapers, although forty per cent of the daily circulation is provided by chain journals.

Of the fifty-two newspaper chains that of William Randolph Hearst is the largest, extending over five states and having an average daily circulation of something over four and one-half million copies.

The only other really national-wide chain is the Scripps-Howard group, with one newspaper and twenty-three evening papers, an average daily circulation of something over two million copies. Unlike the Hearst plan the Scripps-Howard newspapers are not subjected to so close a personal control as those of the larger chain.

Like concentrated wealth the acquisition of preponderant control of sources of information represents a potential menace to the thinking and freedom of the average citizen. Like wealth, such power can serve good purposes but the temptation and possibility of abuse are ever present. With resultant evils, must also be considered.

We are also reminded that more than one effort has been made here in Michigan to establish chains among weekly newspapers, efforts which so far as the publisher of the Ledger is concerned, have been always staid. Local newspapers, locally owned, stand for the maintenance and upbuilding of the local community. Let it be the credit of practically every weekly publication that each one has consistently refused to lend a hand in such efforts despite offers of financial aid.

Weekly newspapers under the control of special interests in a distant center would tend toward the gradual breaking down of local community life where citizens are reared in a wholesome atmosphere and where pure patriotism, based upon the fundamental principles of the framers of our constitution, still is taught and inculcated, and where, if you please, "the three R's" are so thoroughly taught as the basis of a sound, practical education for the proper preparation of life.

We are of the opinion that the establishment of chains among weekly newspapers having control in distant centers should be as much deplored and opposed as the efforts to do away with township lines and placing political control in the larger centers.

It pays a business man to know the facts about his own business. Underlying all the talk of hard times is a note of cheerful content that is refreshing and implies a latent optimism that will make Lowell ham again.

EDITORIAL SNAPSHOTS Andrew W. Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury, has been appointed Ambassador of Great Britain, has accepted the post and is expected to depart from the Cabinet in a few days. President Hoover issued a statement saying that the services of Mr. Mellon were urgently needed in the foreign field to deal with grave economic problems and that tender of the Ambassadorship had been made and had been accepted. Confirmation of Mr. Mellon would terminate the longest tenure of a Secretary of the Treasury in more than a century. Mr. Mellon having held the post nearly eleven years. Ogden L. Mills, Under Secretary of the Treasury, will succeed Mr. Mellon, and Arthur A. Ballantine, Assistant Secretary in charge of fiscal affairs, will take over Mr. Mills' post.

Secretary Stimson conferred privately with Katsuyuki Dohri, Japanese Ambassador, and afterward reported to President Hoover. The subject of the conversation was understood to be some compromise on the basis of which Japan can accept the peace proposals made at Nanjing in the United States, Great Britain, France and Italy. Although Japan has not yet officially made known what her reply will be, enough information has reached Washington to make it reasonably sure that the Japanese counter-plan will be accepted.

An attack upon the petitions for disarmament, signed by 600,000 American women and taken to the American delegation to the Women's Patriotic Conference of National Defense. The conference sent a cablegram to Hugh S. Gibson, acting chairman of the American delegation at Geneva, signed by the chairman of the conference, which has a membership of 987,275. The message stated that "the disarmament petitions, as presented by various women's organizations do not represent the viewpoint of the women of our conference. We ask your delegation to safeguard the security of the United States of America by preserving our National Defense act intact and our navy at London treaty strength."

Vice Admiral Arthur L. The American Red Cross called an immediate contribution of $5,000 by the Cuban Red Cross at Havana to aid in the relief of the quake victims.

It was a story of a girl who was born in a poor family, but who through her own efforts and the help of friends, rose to a position of respect and honor. Her story is a story of the American dream, of the possibility of success through hard work and determination.

British Submarine Lost in Channel

The loss of the submarine was a major disaster for the United States, as it was carrying a large amount of the country's supply of plants.

Who was Who? By LOUISE M. COMSTOCK

MAGGIE "THE girl of that familiar song. When you and I were young. Maggie, was his author, George W. Johnson, his heroine was Maggie, a girl of his time and place, who lived in a small town in the West. Her life was a story of love and struggle, of hope and despair, of triumph and defeat. It was a story of a girl who was born in a poor family, but who through her own efforts and the help of friends, rose to a position of respect and honor. Her story is a story of the American dream, of the possibility of success through hard work and determination.

Odds and Ends Here and There

Probably the oldest licensed automobile driver in the United States lives in Michigan. The Department of State recently issued a driver's license to Thomas Gordon of Grand Rapids, 102 years old. When the application giving Mr. Gordon's age was received it was thought a mistake had been made. Then because of his advanced age, he was asked to demonstrate to state police that he could control an automobile. They reported that he was an adept driver as the "average man of 60."
