Boys Start Forest Plantings in State

4-H Ranger Stations Enroll Groups To Plant Trees on Michigan's Idle Acres.

Groups of Michigan boys by joining 4-H Ranger Stations are trying in a modest way to bring back to Michigan the forests which made the State one time a leading producer of lumber, according to the forestry department at Michigan State college.

Michigan uses 1,500,000,000 feet of lumber each year and 1,000,000,000 feet of this must be bought outside the State and shipped to the point where it has to be used. Freight charges and other costs must be added to the price at which this building material is sold.

The groups of boys who enroll in the forestry project may obtain four years of training in methods of tree planting, care of wood lots, and of measuring and estimating timber. Forest or Christmas tree plantings of 500 trees must be made by first-year members, and those enrolled the second year plant trees for wind-breaks or shade. Third and fourth-year members are trained in woodlot management.

Michigan has millions of acres of idle land which, were forested and which would produce a wealth of timber again if the trees could be planted and fires prevented. Members of the present Ranger Stations should be able to put these idle acres to work.

Full details of the way to become a member of a Ranger Station may be obtained from county agricultural agents, club agents or the forestry department at Michigan State College.

Will Rogers Heads Big Bill at Strand

The Strand has gone to great lengths to make the Sunday and Monday program one of the outstanding entertainment events of the spring season, having assembled a bill of truly fine talent. The feature presentation stars Will Rogers in his latest comedy, "Business and Pleasure," and as usual this star provides a rare treat with his special brand of homely satire and humor.

Zazu Pitts and Thelma Todd are featured in a new comedy, Red Noses, and are also responsible for innumerable laughs. A musical specialty will provide blistering synopses. A Paramount Pictorial provides a number of interesting subjects and Pathe Sound News completes this unusual program.

FARMERS MAY BORROW $400 FOR SEED, ETC.

KENT COUNTY AGENT WILL ADMINISTER LOANS MADE AVAILABLE THROUGH NATIONAL FINANCE FUND—INTEREST RATE 5 1/2%

The following rules and regulations have been established for obtaining loans for seed, fertilizer and spraying:

Who Can Get a Loan
Only those who farmed in 1931. Minors cannot get a loan.

How Big a Loan
Amount depends on size of crops. $3.00 per acre is allowed for all crops except truck crops, including potatoes on which a maximum rate of $12.00 is allowed. Where fertilizer is necessary for all crops except truck crops the maximum rate is $6.00 per acre. The rate for truck crops is $20.00.

Not to exceed $1.00 per acre of loans made at any of these rates may be used for repairs and miscellaneous expenses of crop production other than seed, fertilizer, feed for stock animals, and fuel and oil for tractors.

Interest at 5 1/2% is charged. Loans are due on or before November 30, 1932.

All applications must be in Washington by April 30th, 1932. Where the applicant for a loan does not own the land, the person holding the mortgage, contract or crop share interest, or any other interest in the crop or land must sign a waiver to the government of all interests in the mortgaged crop.

Loans Cannot be Used to:
Buy livestock, feed for livestock other than work stock, the purchase of machinery, payment of taxes, debts or interest on debts.

A note for the amount of the loan is given the government. This note is secured by a crop contract of all crops grown.

The Applicant Must Bring
A legal description of the land on which the crops are to be grown.

A statement of all indebtedness, including store accounts.

A statement of the acreage and yields of all crops grown in 1930 and 1931.

A statement of the crops for which the loan is asked and the amount of seed, fertilizer needed, and other costs must be added and fed on hand.

The applicant should have the above written out as it will help in making out the applications.

The work of making these loans in Kent County will be handled through a committee of three: Charles Johnson, Sparta; Lee Griener, Cedar Springs; and Wilmarth Shaffer, Grand Rapids, and K. K. Vining, the county agent, Grand Rapids, 613 Association of Commerce Bldg.

"Some Old Man"

Lowell, March 31, 1932.
Editor of Ledger:
Certain material in your issue of March 17 suggested a poem to me. You may be interested in it.

THE FUNERAL
The Last Long Mile, Life's peaceful close of day,
The sad procession, sadly on its way,
The Silent Way—the Way of all mankind,
Life's toils and sorrows to those left behind.
"Who's dead?" I asked of him of youthful years,
Whose joys had not been blighted by life's tears.

He shrugged his shoulders, 'ere his tongue began,
And carelessly he answered, "Some old man."
"Your father lives?" His wrinkled brow replied,
"What of tomorrow, then, when he has died?"
And of yourself? Can you believe that "old man's" but a step ahead of you?

Including ranks of man, from king to slave,
Life's long procession winds on toward the grave;
The grave, impartial to the rank and file,
Of tried souls on probation here awhile.
Conceited atoms, such as you and I,
That only live, but ageing wonder why.

Like by Life's Sea, a grain among the sand,
Naught sees beyond, nor can it understand
The secrets of the vast and rolling sea.
So is the Great Unknown to you and me.
Beyond the narrow vision of man's eyes,
Beyond the world of things that men so prize,
Beyond the grave, the ashes and the dust.

Return to which youth's pride and beauty must,
The mysteries of Life and Death abide;
The souls of other "old men" who have died,
The soul hears what the fleshy ear ne'er can;
The Gentle Voice that summoned that "old man,"
Fur briefer is life to eternity
Than lightning flash into the night can be.
Soon you'll return to dust, where life began.
Gaze on your funeral, and think, "old man."

Odds and Ends Here and There

In renewing her subscription to The Ledger Mrs. Louis M. Douglas of Ada, Route 4, writes: "We enjoy The Ledger very much."

A letter received not long ago from Mrs. R. C. Hyder, (nee Anna Ryder) of Los Angeles, Calif., renewing her subscription to The Ledger says: "It has been nearly eight years since I left Lowell, but still enjoy the paper. There are many new names appearing in The Ledger, nevertheless it is almost like getting a letter from home."

There were 1,065 marriages performed in Kent county in 1931, a decrease of 216 from the previous year. A total of 507 divorces were granted in 1931, a decrease of 52 from the previous year.

Achievement Day Attended by 100

Kent County Nutrition groups, represented by nearly one hundred women, held their Annual Achievement Day program in Lowell on March 23.

The event marked the completion of the year's work in nutrition under the direction of Mrs. Agnes Sorenson-Richardson and Miss Dundas, M. S. C. Extension worker.

The morning session was devoted to folk games of foreign countries led by Miss Dundas and were greatly enjoyed.

At noon a luncheon was served, tables being arranged for overweight groups, the overweight singing songs instead of eating too much whipped cream and cake.

The afternoon meeting was called to order by Mrs. Richardson, who, after a few remarks, turned the meeting over to Miss Dundas who gave a very interesting talk on diet in health to prevent disease.

After razzing the local American Legion for putting on a St. Patrick's dance using a colored orchestra, I was rather agreeably surprised to get a copy of the Creston News, published by that dean of community publishers, Adrian Nagelkerk, who issued a St. Patrick's edition on a bright green colored paper. Here is an editor who can stand up and declare that he has never aligned with any click or crowd, or faction, and has always been as independent as a Missouri Democrat.

There is something admirable about this editor of the old school which has earned for himself an enviable reputation among the community editorial fraternity. Adrian has stood for the best interests of Creston, and fought off many a promotional fly-by-night plan which would have cost the community many a dollar and the loss of prestige to the merchants. He has been a true guardian of the area which has cost him good cold cash, but which has left him with an unblemished conscience.—J. John Pope in the Grandville Star.

The Government Secret Service has disclosed that more than $1,000 in counterfeit $5, $10, and $20 bills is received daily by the Treasury Department from metropolitan area of New York alone, the greatest flood of counterfeit money disclosed there in three years. Jonkman Addresses Republican Women

Bartel J. Jonkman, Kent County Prosecuting Attorney, gave the address before the Kent County Women's Republican club which met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Nash of Byron Center.

Mr. Jonkman complimented the club on its membership of 3,513 women. "What was it that has kept George Washington so strong in our hearts and mind?" Mr. Jonkman said he believed it was Washington's self-control and self-government; he had a strong will and always exercised it over himself and insisted on others being in order and well kept. We also should keep ourselves in order and always law abiding and insist on others doing so. We will then be organized in one effort and will accomplish what we have set out to do.

George Reed, register of deeds, followed Mr. Jonkman with a few remarks and said the officers were always glad to pass in review, so to speak, before the Women's Republican club that they may judge for themselves the officer they want in office. Mr. Reed, an assistant to Mr. Lloyd Perry, thanked the club women for the opportunity of being there.

The girls' choir of the Byron Center Methodist church rendered two numbers, followed by the McFall sisters on the violin, with piano accompaniment. The business meeting was then in order after which the first vice president, Mrs. K. Prager, acting in the absence of the president, Mrs. Eva Hamilton, called on Wood-Fred Kelly, Mrs. Irving Woodworth, Mrs. Allen Bennett, Mrs. Alfred Siringo, for remarks. The meeting closed with refreshments.

Why Blame Hoover?

When it starts to rain at half-past four
And spoils the picnic out of doors,
Why blame Hoover?
When the stove's a-buckin' and smokin',
When creditors want money, not jokin',
Why blame Hoover?
When time turns gray our hairy locks,
When fortune seems stuck among the rocks,
Why blame Hoover?
When we put our money in a sock,
And make the unemployed a bigger flock,
Why blame Hoover?
When depression kicks us in the slats,
And yanks us about and calls us brats,
Why blame Hoover?
When we're playing, dancing, spending,
As if for money there was no ending,
Why blame Hoover?
When bossy kicked the milk pail o'er,
Formerly, we kicked and damned and swore,
Now we blame Hoover.
When things were going weren't on the level,
We stamped and shook and blamed the devil,
Now we blame Hoover.
When we're selling the sale of stocks you don't own,
Most of us would be delighted if we could sell the stocks we do own.—Dunbar's Weekly, Phoenix.

GUARANTEE HIGHER PRICES FOR FARMER

Higher prices for wheat, corn and cotton are guaranteed by the International Harvester Company in an offer to this year's purchasers of certain important crop-producing and harvesting machines. The higher prices guaranteed are 70 cents a bushel, Chicago, for wheat, 50 cents a bushel, for corn, and 8 1/2 cents a pound, New Orleans, for cotton.

George A. Ranney, vice president in charge of sales, said today: "We are convinced that the reluctance of farmers to buy implements needed for the economical production and harvesting of their wheat, corn and cotton crops is due to the present unsatisfactory prices of these commodities, and we believe that if they were assured of higher prices for their products they would not hesitate to purchase the new cost-reducing machines that they need."

"In order to meet this situation, and to evidence our faith that prices of farm products must soon improve, we are now offering growers of wheat, corn and cotton assurance of higher prices with certain pay notes, given hereafter and maturing this year for purchases of certain machines most vitally needed in making and gathering these crops.

"The list of machines to which this offer applies includes farm tractors, harrow-trashers or combines, windrow-harvesters and stalk pullers. The offer is limited to Hunter & Steed, local dealers, will be glad to give you further information.

AMERICA
While the "Star-Spangled Banner" is the official national anthem of the United States, many more people can sing "America," the familiar song beginning "My country, 'tis of thee." That was written just 100 years ago, in 1832, by the Rev. Samuel Francis Smith, who was then a theological student. He discovered an old German tune in a collection of hymns, and in half an hour had written the words which are still sung to fit the tune. It was not until some time afterwards that the same tune was adopted in England for the national anthem, "God save the King."

The government should keep out of business. All through history government business projects have been notorious failures. This applies with equal force to the smaller units of government as well as the Federal.

Legislature Meets For Taxation Relief

Executive Recommends Cutting State Expenditures 4 Million Dollars a Year--Return Weight Tax to Counties--Special Session Is an Answer to Demands of the Weekly Press to Save Michigan Property Owners.

Michigan's legislature is now in session in the old historic state capitol building in Lansing. Never before in Michigan history has its legislature been summoned together for the purpose of finding relief for an overburdened tax paying public.

Ten important subjects are given by the Governor for consideration by the legislature. They are listed herewith:

1. Pare $4,000,000 a year from state expenditures by cutting pay of employees 15 per cent and reducing university and Michigan State college appropriations a like amount.

2. Return the entire automobile weight tax to the counties, and abolish county road taxes. Counties hereafter to absorb and support township roads.

3. Permit depositors in closed banks to obtain a reorganization upon petition of those having 85 per cent of deposits.

4. Authorize the installment plan of paying delinquent taxes and reduce penalties for redemption and delinquency.

5. Place bank receivers under close supervision.

6. Permit banks to distribute uncashed assets to depositors and authorize receivers to borrow on such assets from reconstruction finance corporation.

7. Name a commission to investigate and regulate defaulted real estate mortgage bonds.

8. Authorize refunding of bonds to lighten tax load on communities and permit issuance of many bonds as needed for welfare work.

9. Require school districts to cut school budgets 15 per cent.

10. Initiate a state income tax amendment to the constitution to be submitted to the voters next November, the proceeds to be used to cut school taxes.

Alert to the serious situation of their readers, Michigan weekly publishers kept up the demand for legislative action and the annual newspaper convention was followed by the appointment of a special taxation committee, consisting of George Averill of Birmingham as chairman, State Representative Vern Brown of Mason, State Representative Frank Brown of Bellevue and Editor Conlin. This committee in cooperation with the association advisory committee has twice conferred with Governor Brucker about the tax situation, the last conference being given over entirely to points in the Governor's message.

In this message the Governor has opened many avenues for the November, the proceeds to be used to cut school taxes.

Girls from the rural schools of Kent County will meet together for their Spring Rally on Saturday, April 9th at the Grand Rapids Y. W. C. A. The rally is open to girls from the eighth, ninth, and tenth grades and other girls 12 years old or over. Girls should be accompanied by their teachers. A day of interesting games, talks, and educational hours is planned by the committee and it promises to be a day long to be remembered. The rally is being sponsored by the Kent County Organization of Rural Teachers in cooperation with the Y. W. C. A.

Children to Hear Indian Princess

"Princess Watassa," adopted daughter of a tribe of Chippewas, near Saginaw, will come with a health message to the school children of Kent county during the week of April 4 to 8 inclusive. She will tell her story with Indian legends, dressed in full native costume, have a variety of tom-toms and trinkets, and give a lesson in picture writing. Her services to this community are a part of the first annual national campaign for early diagnosis of tuberculosis which will be conducted locally during April by the Anti-tuberculosis society. Princess Watassa is employed by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association and has delighted the hearts of many thousands of Michigan children. She will be at the Alto and Lowell High schools on Friday, April 8.

Law Requires Road Fund Cut

All Townships Are Limited to 5-Mill Maximum by McNitt Act--Ruling by Voorhees.

The McNitt Act provides that township voters on April 4 must limit their highway appropriations to five mills, according to Attorney General Paul W. Voorhees.

The holding means that the township legislative bodies will be restricted to one-half of the maximum appropriation which was legal last year. Prior to the McNitt act townships could levy five mills for road construction and five mills for repair.

The McNitt Act provides for absorption of the township road systems by the counties over a five year period, the counties being reimbursed from state funds.

As a result of being relieved of one-fifth of their road burden this year the townships are limited to a five mill road budget which will decline to four mills in 1933 and continue to decline as the counties take over highways.

Bees Work So Hard They Cheat Owners

Insects Refuse to Wait for Fruit Blossoms and Carry Bootleg Pollen.

Honey bees are so ambitious that their restlessness may lead them to form habits which are injurious to the owners of Michigan orchards, who place bees among their fruit trees to secure pollination of the fruit blossoms, according to members of the horticultural department at Michigan State College.

Bees placed in the orchards before the fruit blossoms open are apt to start work on other flowers and, if these furnish a desirable source of nectar, the bees may continue to work on them and neglect the fruit blossoms when these are ready. Some varieties of fruit set very light crops unless bees are used to secure the pollination of the blossoms.

To avoid the danger of bees forming the habit of working outside the orchard the hives should be placed among the trees only a short time before the blossoms are ready. Dandelions are the chief competitors in Michigan, of the fruit blossoms and the latter furnish a more liberal supply of nectar.

The policy of using bees in Michigan orchards has become so well established that many horticulturists now own enough hives to perform the work of transferring pollen. Other fruit growers rent bees from commercial apiaries and hives of the insects are placed in the orchards during the blossoming season.

In orchards which have large blocks of self-sterile varieties of fruits, branches carrying blossoms of other fruit varieties may be placed in the trees to provide the bees with pollen for cross-pollination.
