STATE MUTUAL

(Continued from First page) Mutual insurance as Franklin perceived, preached and practiced it is recognized today by all who are free to form an unbiased opinion as the soundest and most equitable system of protection against disaster common to all. It is America's Insurance owned and controlled by its policy holders. The Insurance Society of Virginia incorporated in 1794 and numbering Thomas Jefferson and George Washington among its members and is still in business. The oldest Mutual Insurance company had been in operation forty years when the oldest Stock company was organized. Mutual insurance had been operating sixty years when the second Stock company was organized. The first fire insurance company in the world was a Mutual and the first fire insurance company in America was a Mutual and that one is today the strongest fire insurance company doing business and now has net assets of more than $6,000,000. Mutual companies rarely give up their charter and retire from business, but like the oldest one in America continue to expand and prosper. For 176 years Mutual Insurance has secured 100% on a dollar and for 176 years Mutual Insurance has given its members secure protection at cost, and in a Mutual company all its efforts are concentrated on rendering relief, they are organized to provide protection not to make profits. Mutual Insurance is America's insurance. It is older than the Declaration of Independence or the Constitution of the United States. The founders and authors of one are founders and patrons of the other.
