The alphabetical system of distributing automobile license plates to the various counties will be continued in 1934. The same letters will be assigned in 1934 as in 1933.

Carson City is again being supplied with local banking facilities, the Carson City State bank reopening for business Saturday, July 1, under the reorganization plan laid down by the state banking department.

By virtue of a resolution adopted by the State Administrative Board, all interest, penalties and collection fees on 1932 taxes will be waived if the taxes are paid before November 1, 1933. The deadline for 1932 taxes originally was March 1, but this was extended by the legislature to July 1. The second extension was ordered by the administrative board after adjournment of the legislature.

The state plans to make no effort to enforce any provisions of the old age pension law until it becomes effective Oct. 17, despite conflicting provisions to the contrary, it was announced Saturday by W. S. Carpenter, welfare director. The measure contains a number of confusing sections and court action may be necessary to clarify the law.

William Clark has hit upon a new way of filling the radiator of William Christensen's motor car with soft water, probably to prevent lining the interior which follows the continued use of hard water. The plan is to park the car on the bank of Flat river on Lafayette-st., then while away doing an errand the motor car of its own accord slides on into the stream headfirst and as the radiator sinks beneath the surface of the stream it is automatically filled. It's all very simple of course, except the towing out process which follows.

Lowell must live up to the reputation she is getting. Read the following from the South Lyon Herald:

"It seems to be quite a fad in many localities for towns to adopt some particular flower or fruit and for the community to specialize in the production of that special thing, for instance the tulips at Holland, the peonies at Howell, the cherries at Traverse and the peaches at Romeo. Lowell has begun to beautify itself with petunias, now comes the Holly Herald and suggests that they adopt the dahlias."

A Detroit woman, seeking legal separation from the one time flower of her heart, says her spouse fell in love with another woman and that instead of occasionally telling her she looked more beautiful than ever, put in all his time producing discordant notes to the despair of herself and the entire neighborhood. The lady should be given a divorce. We once had a piccollo band about four neighbors start when the theft was discovered and that was bad enough.—Fred D. Keister.

Almost every day some new syp scheme to get money and valuables from unsuspecting people is uncovered. Last week a man claiming to be a truck driver secured lodging in a St. Johns home. When he engaged his room he told the hostess an expected brother along with an accion and that instead of occasionally telling her she looked more beautiful than ever, put in all his time producing discordant notes to the despair of herself and the entire neighborhood. The lady should be given a divorce. We once had a piccollo band about four neighbors start when the theft was discovered and that was bad enough.—Fred D. Keister.

A New Showboat To Be Presented

We have heard the question asked many times as to whether the presentation of the Showboat this year will be up to that of last year. We believe that we can assure our readers that the Showboat this year will meet the standard of a year ago, with an entirely new program and new features throughout in addition. It is a little early at this writing to tell just what these features will be but they will be of a nature and class that will please the most exacting. We are permitted to state that one of the special features has been determined upon, a noted character from England—none other than the famous Lord Dunsen himself—who has heard of the coming of the Showboat. Lord Dunsen, who is said to be a man of great wealth, makes a special hobby of minstrelsy and never having seen a Showboat, he has expressed a desire to come to America and take part in the presentation at Lowell. We suggest our readers keep in mind Lord Dunsen as they will surely want to see him—monocle and all.

The first rehearsal was held at the City Hall last Friday evening and regular rehearsals are being held every Monday, Wednesday and Friday evening until the Showboat starts on her maiden voyage down Flat River for the 1933 season.

Wheat Levy On, Flour Going Up

Facts Regarding Processing Tax Placed on Wheat

Here are some facts about the wheat processing tax which went into effect at midnight Saturday:

Rate—30 cents a bushel on wheat processed by flour millers and other manufacturers of food who are primary processors of the grain.

Estimated Yield—$150,000,000.

Purpose—To provide funds to pay growers benefits in return for agreements to reduce their wheat acreages in 1934 and 1935.

Time—The tax will be in effect for one year, and may be then continued under a new order by the secretary of agriculture.

Tax in Terms of Flour—It will amount to $1.38 per 196-pound barrel of flour.

Bread—Secy. Wallace estimates that if the tax is reflected directly into the price of a pound loaf, it should be no more than half a cent. This is exclusive of recent rises in wheat prices and other ingredients of bread.

Lowell people have been buying flour in larger quantities than usual during the past few days, stocking up the family larder against the day when the processing tax placed on wheat by the federal government becomes effective.

The tax is the first of its kind employed in this country, and became effective at midnight July 8, 1933, when all wheat processed into flour or other food products became subject to a levy and a bushel.

At the same time the tax went into effect these two levies also became effective:

A compensatory import tax of 30 cents a bushel on all wheat imported in addition to the present duty of 42 cents a bushel.

A tax on flour stocks of flour held by millers and wholesalers.

30 Days to Dispose of Flour

Retailers have 30 days in which to dispose of flour and products made principally of wheat which they have in stock.

The taxes will be collected by the Bureau of Internal Revenue, which has set up special machinery.

All retailers are required to make an inventory report of their stocks on hand as of July 9th and to file it with the Collector of Internal Revenue for their district. Any of the stocks listed which they have on hand 30 days later is subject to tax.

The tax, to be collected from millers and other manufacturers converting wheat into food products for human use, is expected to yield about $150,000,000. This will be used to pay cash benefits to farmers for curtailing up to 20 per cent their wheat acreage for harvest in 1934 and 1935.

Translated into terms of the average one-pound loaf of bread, the tax will amount to .483 of a cent. For all flour except whole wheat and graham the tax will be .704 of a cent a pound. The whole wheat and graham flour tax is about 30 per cent less.

Producers Exempted

Wheat processed by or for a producer is exempted from the tax if it is to be consumed by his own family, employees or household. That is interpreted by the Bureau of Internal Revenue as providing the farmer an opportunity to avoid taxation by having his own wheat ground for his own consumption or exchanging his wheat for its equivalent in flour made from similar wheat.

Likewise tax-exempt are wheat products received by organizations for charitable distribution. Refunds of the tax will be made to those delivering wheat products to such organizations.

$12 Per Capita New Loans On In School Money Fair Farm Value

Receipts Better Than Expected Land Bank Mortgages Based on Appraisals Which Do Not Reflect Temporary Conditions.

Prospects for a distribution of $12 per capita to the school districts of the county next fall were reported Saturday by M. B. McPherson, member of the state tax commission, who stated he had just been informed there was a total of $12,839,937 in primary school money for distribution in the hands of the state treasurer on June 30.

This sum, which will be apportioned Sept. 1, is about three-fifths of last year's total, Mr. McPherson stated, and would mean a distribution of slightly over $9 per capita. However, receipts from the railroads, telephone and other public utilities companies are reported better than anticipated and it is expected that when they pay the balance of their taxes in October and November, sufficient money will have been added to the fund to provide for an additional $3 per capita distribution.

Last year the school districts were allotted $15 per capita, Mr. McPherson stated, and many districts were worrying over the prospect of having to struggle along on $9 a head this year. The extra $3 will relieve their situation materially, he said.

New Invention Will Be Manufactured Here

Steps are being taken for the launching of a new invention, called the "Cleanrake," which will be manufactured in Lowell and sold throughout the country. The inventor of the new device is Adolph Stroh of Lowell and those who will be associated with him in the manufacturing and selling are F. M. Newell and D. G. Loo.

As its name signifies, the new invention fits on any lawn or leaf rake and automatically cleans itself in the operation of raking. The gentlemen interested expect to incorporate in the near future under the name of "Lowell Stamping Company." Mr. Newell, who is well known to the hardware jobbing trade, will be in direct charge of the selling end of the business.

Lowell Schools Will Carry On

The annual meeting of Lowell school district No. 1, held Monday evening in the Central school was well attended, nearly all of the seats being occupied. The patrons present showed a full appreciation of the critical situation facing the schools, due to tax limitation, reduced valuation, delinquent taxes, unpaid tuition and other causes as outlined in the Ledger in last week's issue.

The meeting was called to order by President C. H. Runciman, followed by the reading of the financial report by Secy. F. F. Coons, the treasurer's report by Y. E. Ashley, the financial report and the annual report of the librarian, Audie Post, and the reading of the minutes of the last annual meeting by Mr. Coons. Each report was adopted and ordered placed on file.

On motion the following tellers were appointed: Charles Jones, Ray Bergin, Howard Keyser, Dr. J. B. Stryker, D. A. Wingeier. The meeting then proceeded to the election of a trustee for three years to succeed Mr. Runciman, whose term expires. A total of 113 votes were cast, Mr. Runciman being re-elected by nearly an unanimous vote, receiving 101 votes, 12 scattering. It was a well deserved compliment to a capable official.

The most important fact to be gleaned from the meeting is that patrons and the School Board are united on the idea that the public schools of Lowell shall carry on without sacrificing the school standard as long as finances will permit. It may be found necessary to shorten the school year, but whatever the length of time the school is able to operate, there will be no sacrifice in the standard of the educational facilities offered.

In calling for a general expression and vote by those present as to what might be eliminated from the school's work, the vote was as follows: On dropping music and art, No; on kindergarten, No; on athletics, No; on domestic science, yes.

Charles Jones spoke against closing ward schools, declaring that they should be continued as long as the school is operated. He also spoke in favor of the continuance of physical training.

Rep. D. G. Loo stated that relief from the new state sales tax is possible only after $31,000,000 has been received. He recommended that the school start along the same lines as heretofore, using every possible economy, and then if no relief comes from a special session of the legislature, extreme measures could be adopted at that time.

M. N. Henry recommended issuing scrip earlier in the year in the future, paying the teachers part cash and part scrip, instead of waiting until the school money is all gone.

Charles Young asked what kind of salaries can be paid the teachers next year and Supt. Gumsler was called upon to answer. Mr. Gumsler held out very little hope of our district receiving more than $1,500 to $2,000 from the sales tax at the very best and that with from only $15,000 to $18,000 in sight against $52,000 in 1931 the teachers' pay could not be more than about 25% of the salaries of that year. He stated that four teachers had already been eliminated from the staff during his administration while the enrollment had increased so that even if some subjects were dropped we could not get along with less teachers. Furthermore, we have only two rooms large enough to care for classes of 45 so that combining classes would not be feasible. The amount available could not be made to cover on a basis greater than $50 per month for a nine-months school. He recommended that all subjects be maintained as the school is now conducted, declaring that people differ greatly on what are frills and what are essentials, athletics do not cost the school a penny, because the gate receipts pay the cost of this activity and Mr. Finch carries a full teaching load aside from his coaching job.

Mr. Loo promised not to criticize if some of his hobbies were eliminated and expressed complete confidence in the Board's handling of the matter in the best way possible. At this point the Board was given a vote of confidence.

Dr. F. E. White, when called upon, stated that he was perfectly willing to leave the problem with the Board and P. C. Peckham endorsed the sentiment. R. G. Jefferies spoke of the conscientious manner in which the Board was doing its work and, like the rest, felt that the Board, because of its intimate knowledge, was better able to solve problems than anyone else so he left matters to that able body with his sympathy.

Regarding the matter of teachers' salaries, there is not much that can be said at the present time. The only contract thus far entered into is that between the district and Supt. Gumsler. This contract calls for a salary of $1,000 per year, which means that Mr. Gumsler will receive what the district is able to pay. In this matter Mr. Gumsler has shown a marked spirit of cooperation and understanding, and it should also be said to the credit of the other teachers that in spite of three salary cuts they have carried on their work faithfully. It is such cooperation and such spirit, backed also by the cooperation of its patrons, that will enable the Lowell schools to carry on and upward.

DID NOT VOTE FOR SPOILS SYSTEM

SPEAKING of the wholesale dismissal of capable employees in all departments of the State government, and the substitution of new faces in their stead, the Adrian Daily Telegram says:

These Lansing spoilsmen should remember that the hundreds of thousands of voters who made the landslide for Roosevelt and Comstock were not democrats, and are not now. They were voting to install a democratic spoils system at Lansing. They were voting for retrenchment, for better government, and for new leadership that might bring us out of the depression.

What will be the effect on these hundreds of thousands of voters who don't care a rap about the democratic machine or the democratic job-hunters when they learn that an honest, capable, experienced person has been thrown out of work that he was doing well for the public on a small salary, just in order to enable some politician to hand out a piece of pie where he thinks it will do him good?

The answer to that question will be expressed in votes. Maybe not at the very next election; but the longer the spoils system runs the louder the answer will be. In the light of all that is going on, and isn't going on, in the legislature, it behooves the democratic party to try to increase its assets, and not to take on any new liabilities.

The State's revenue from beer reached $1,263,312 for the first two months of operation under the beer law, ending Saturday. No figures are available as to the amount of milk growing children have consumed during that time.

OUR PARTIES—OUR PEOPLE

WE READ the following paragraph in George Averill's Birmingham Eccentric:

"What Michigan taxpayers probably will need is another party, recruited from both Democrats and Republicans—unless a miracle takes place before the fall of 1934."

What Bro. Averill says reminds us of an incident of our boyhood days, when a man came to father's sawmill for some lumber and said he wanted to build a new house, but he wanted to build it out of the material in the old house and wanted to live in the old house while he built the new house. The foregoing sounds a bit "nutty," we'll admit, but any new party formed in Michigan must of necessity be built out of the same people that are in the old parties, and, after all, our parties are just our people—nothing more—nothing less. If we are as good or just as bad as the people in them cause them to be. No, George, what we need is not more political parties, but an aroused civic consciousness and a higher standard of political integrity upon the part of our people. The political self-interests, political hitches and self-seekers will find their way into any party that is big enough to win an election, and organizing a new party with a new name won't make it any more difficult for that crowd to go out and "bully" the people.—(Cassopolis Vigilant.)

REMEMBERS THE TAXPAYER

MORE than 1,000 applications for positions with the Department of State or with the Sales Tax Commission, of which he is a member, have been received by Secretary of State Frank D. Fitzgerald within the last week. Mr. Fitzgerald is the only elective Republican state official now in office and a large majority of the applicants were state employes who had been discharged from other departments on July 1.

During the last two year period the Department of State operated at a cost approximately $200,000 below the amount allowed by the legislature. Still further economies are being planned and instead of increasing the number of employes in the department, the personnel is to be reduced and still greater use made of the staggered system of part-time employment.

Mr. Slowboy—I love you more than I can tell you, Angelina. Angelina—How about letting a large diamond solitaire do the talking.

Ingham Legislator Looks At Michigan's New Deal

SERIES OF ARTICLES TO SHOW SUCCESSES AND FAILURES OF NEW ADMINISTRATION

Publisher to Review Accomplishments of Legislators Will Compare Actual State Costs With Promises Made in Campaign

By V. J. Brown
Six months of the new deal administration has passed into history and Michigan's citizens a considerable number are making inquiry concerning what has actually been accomplished during the time that may be expected of the future. It is now about fifteen months since this series of articles which gained rather wide circulation among the taxpayers of Michigan in which an attempt was made to evaluate the state government of that day and to point out to the taxpayers of Michigan where their tax dollars were being spent and for what purpose.

Incidentally, it is to be noted that the attempt was made at that time to discover in behalf of the people, from whom the taxes were being collected, just who was benefitting, whether in fact the tax money was being used for the people and for just those whose names appeared on the payroll. Some rather disconcerting discoveries were then made.

During recent weeks many articles have come to this writer asking him to review the session of the legislature just closed and to point out some of the influences which have worked against the adoption of the reforms promised last fall when the campaign was on and again this spring when the people called for the choice of the legislature. Because of this demand and because of the interest of Michigan in the truth regarding the affairs of the state government I have decided to submit a second series of articles dealing with current doings in Lansing and in state political circles. In this series, like the foregoing, shall be free from partisan prejudice and will be based upon the records and statements of fact based upon records open to all at Lansing. Some interesting comparisons will be made between the payrolls of 1932, notoriously extravagant, and those of 1933 under the economy plan laid down by the campaigners at Michigan's two most recent elections.

Outlines Problems
On January 5 when Governor William A. Coadstock appeared before the joint convention of the house and senate to deliver his inaugural address he stressed a few points, promising that later as he became more familiar with state problems and better acquainted with his legislature he would further reveal his administration program. On January 5 he stated in his judgment that the most important problem for early consideration included direct welfare relief and a provision for public work, and the employment of heads of families out of work, old age pensions, state aid for primary schools, primary election reforms, revision of workmen's compensation laws to include occupational diseases, complete revision of the tax system, and last but by no means least, he emphasized economy in every branch of state government.

A little less than a month later, the committee on finance and senate by a majority vote and it then approved by the house at all time given its consideration has been lost. The five points referred to are: 1. The personnel of the two houses and the executive office. 2. Organization - members must be assigned to committees where each can work to best advantage. 3. An efficient technical staff accurately keep the records and the journals so that what is done will stand the test of the courts. 4. Rules of procedure must be amended so that the mass of legislation may move steadily forward. 5. A carefully worked-out program must be agreed to by members of both houses in joint conference with the governor, so that no bank can be 100 per cent owned by credit needs of its community, it opposed the policy which applied to the banks themselves, believed unreservedly in the proposition that Federal bank deposit insurance is demanded.

Depriving the policy of opening only banks which are 100 per cent liquid, Senator Vandenberg cited four reasons why such a provision is erroneous and charged that no bank can be 100 per cent owned by credit needs of its community, it opposed the policy which applied to the banks themselves, believed unreservedly in the proposition that Federal bank deposit insurance is demanded.

I thought that by this time, with all the abolishing of this and that, the government, I would have some real news to pass on to you as to just how much less your taxes are going to be, and as soon as they get around to that, I will create a new bureau. So I will take a different kind of arithmetic out of increased expenditures.

Here is a juicy bit from the page of this economy program. The senate made the mistake of discharging men and women with years of experience in handling the technical side of the work. Their places were taken by campaign workers who knew little of the work of the session. With the aid of a few crabs the republican members of the house succeeded in saving the amount and character of the work done on that side since the time of the very first session. In keeping with the house program, the abolishing of this and that, the government, I would have some real news to pass on to you as to just how much less your taxes are going to be, and as soon as they get around to that, I will create a new bureau. So I will take a different kind of arithmetic out of increased expenditures.

If you aren't drinking good coffee these days, you're missing one of summer's greatest treats. Perhaps you've never tried it. Or perhaps you've had it—and it wasn't as good as you expected. Just try some today—made according to the recipe below. You'll find it a hot weather drink that beats everything else—fast and easy.

HOW TO MAKE GOOD ICE COFFEE

THE TELEPHONE AS A NECESSITY—North Loup, Neb., Loyall
The telephone was instrumental in saving my husband's life, said a woman recently in the Loyall office. Had it not been for the fact that she was able to step to the telephone and call a doctor he would have quickly got him to the doctor, he might easily have been to death, through a cut which turned an artery in the leg.

Here's Something to Think About:

The public buys more Goodyear Tires than any other kind—this is the eighteenth successive year . . . The public wouldn't buy more Goodyear Tires if Goodyears did not offer greater value . . . But they do offer greater value, hence they enjoy greater sales . . . Are you wondering what tire to buy? Just ask yourself this simple question: "Why should I buy any tire but a Goodyear when a Goodyear costs no more?" . . . We think you'll decide it by coming right down to see us.

ARE YOU WONDERING WHAT TIRE IS BEST ?
