The Ionia school district has received $10,000 from the state, under the act providing for the pledging of deposits in closed banks with the state for a loan, and this money will extend the possible closing of the schools until March, without any further aid. The money obtained was obtained by pledging the balance now in the State Savings bank under the moratorium agreement, the bank agreeing to the plan. The hope now exists that from time to time additional funds will become available to keep schools going the full school year.

Applications for loans from the Ionia County Federal Land Bank association have been so numerous that Register of Deeds Foster Kenny has been obliged to increase his working force. He estimated applications up to December 1, would reach $1,000,000. The first loan recently was received on a Portland township farm.

Mrs. Howard Bowen of Sarnac grew a vegetable noodle in her garden this year that weighed 19 pounds. The vegetable resembles a pumpkin in color but is oblong in shape. It must be cooked whole until tender. When opened the contents are easily removed and look exactly like noodles.

C. W. Twiss, manager of a Lansing insurance agency, was convicted by a justice court jury at Stanton and given one of the heaviest penalties ever assessed on a drunken driver by a justice court in Montcalm county. He was fined $100 and costs of $226 and his driver's license was revoked. Twiss was driving an automobile which collided with two other cars and injured two people on a highway west of Stanton recently. Nearly 39 witnesses were called to testify.

Another 50 cents a 100 pounds, making the tax $1 in all went in effect on processing hogs Friday, (Dec. 1) which is to be paid by all packers who kill hogs and all producers who kill and dispose of hogs in any way except for their own table. So far this hog processing tax does not seem to be very popular. It is said that many are not paying the tax, when they kill, it not being very clear that farmers themselves have to pay it other than for their own tables.

The Cedar Springs State Bank is scheduled to reopen about the first of January, probably on January 2.

Notices have been sent out to all township clerks by the county clerk that there will be no more bounty paid at least during the year 1934 on rats, sparrows and weasels. The sparrow bounty ends with the month of December of this year. The bounties paid in the past has amounted to very large sums and it has been spending money for many of the boys, who became experts in catching and killing these pests.

The legality of Michigan's chain store tax is being considered by Circuit Judge Robert M. Toms of Wayne county, following arguments last Friday. At the present time 100 chains representing 591 stores have paid the chain store tax while 27 of the larger companies are testing the validity of the law. Of these companies, 26 are joined together in the suit in Wayne County while the 27th company last week filed a bill for a permanent injunction against the collection of the tax, in Shiawassee County.

Well, we see that the national prohibition is officially ended. And our State legislature is now trying to frame liquor laws that will prove satisfactory. Neighbor, it can't be done. The coming generation must be taught in home and school to abhor the stuff.

Former Alto Man Dies in Oregon

Malcolm Bailey Remington passed away at the McMinville hospital of McMinville, Ore., Friday, November 24th, at the age of 82 years.

Mr. Remington was born in Albany, N. Y., in 1851, and spent the greater part of his life in Alto and Grand Rapids, where he had a vast host of friends and acquaintances. The past twelve years of his life he has spent in Oregon, where he has three daughters living, who have survived him. They are Mrs. M. Van Single of Portland, Mrs. Harry H. Bloom of Oak Grove, Ore., and Mrs. Theo. Rehberg of Portland. There are three grandchildren, Mrs. Delores M. Jackson, Miss Geraldine Hallock and Mrs. Phillip C. Morris, Jr., of Portland, Ore.

Mr. Remington also leaves a sister, Mrs. Lillian A. Peake of Grand Rapids, Mich.

Funeral services were held in Milwaukie, Ore., Nov. 27. The body was then cremated and the ashes will be placed at a later date in the Remington family plot at Bowne Center, Mich.

Will Rogers Comes To Strand Theater

Will Rogers, whose latest film, "Doctor Bull," comes to the Strand theater Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday, portrays the character of a country doctor-philosopher, who believes a pill can cure any ail. The story is based on the James Gould Cozzens novel, "The Last Adam."

Mr. Rogers is supported by Marian Nixon, Vera Allen, Ralph Morgan, Howard Laley, Louise Dresser and Andy Divine.

Central Building Is To Be Reconditioned

School Will Close December 15 to Enable the Work to be Carried Out Under the C. W. A. --- Building Will Also be Redecorated Throughout --- A Number of Men Will Be Given Work.

A committee of the Lowell Board of Education journeyed to Grand Rapids Wednesday to petition those in charge of the C. W. A. in Kent County that the central building be repainted and otherwise be put in first class condition. The committee was graciously received by Mr. James G. Bryant, who was acting for Mr. George Waring, and he promised to place the proposal before the committee. Later in the afternoon the board was informed that the committee had acted favorably upon the plans and it is now certain that the work will proceed.

In cooperating with the C. W. A. the board has decided to close the school on December 15. This is necessary because the project will undoubtedly take several weeks, even though two shifts of men might be used. It is probable that the building will remain closed for three or four weeks. In the meantime it is hoped that taxes, and tuition, and state funds due the school district will be paid so the school will be opened in January when the work has been finished.

The prompt action of our school officials in obtaining the desired improvement is to be commended. The improvements also provide more work for the unemployed which is a further cause for congratulation.

UNEMPLOYED OF TOWNSHIPS ARE LISTED FOR JOBS

BUT ONE TOWNSHIP IN KENT COUNTY EXCEEDS LOWELL IN NUMBER WITHOUT WORK.

Registration of the unemployed of Kent County was held in the respective townships last week, Wednesday and Thursday, the registration being held under the auspices of the Kent County Civil Works Administration, and was for the purpose of having the names of men available for the various civil works projects which are being gotten under way as rapidly as possible. The registrations, which are given below, show that only one township in Kent County exceeds Lowell in the number of unemployed. That township is Wyoming which is a railroad and shop center with 587 on the unemployed list; Lowell has 204. Without doubt there are still a number of men in this vicinity to be added to the list. The figures given are for Kent County outside of the city of Grand Rapids.

The Lowell list would show a larger number except for the fact that in the neighborhood of 50 men are now employed upon the Vergennes Road, upwards of 20 upon the new sewage disposal plant, and quite a number upon the road southeast of the village leading to the Ware school house. The payroll on the Vergennes Road job averages about $700 weekly; the disposal plant payroll is running around $500 weekly, while upwards of $100 is being paid weekly on the road south-east of the village.

The list of unemployed registrations for the townships is given as follows:

C. H. Cuddeback, Well Known Here, Dies in Muskegon

Received Original Message of End of World War

Charles H. Cuddeback, railroad telegrapher who received the original message telling General Pershing of the signing of the Armistice ending the World War, died in Muskegon Sunday after a long illness. He had been agent at Muskegon for the Grand Trunk Western railroad the last 12 years. He formerly was stationed at Greenville.

Mr. Cuddeback at one time resided in Lowell, serving the Grand Trunk as telegraph operator here and was otherwise active in affairs of the community. He enlisted in the World War from Lowell and upon his return from over seas located in Greenville.

An Airport For Lowell

Steps have been taken this week by village officials and the Lowell Board of Trade for the construction of an Airplane landing field here. Officials of the Kent County Airport have long desired such a field here and the State Board of Aeronautics also looks with favor upon the proposal. Now the Federal Government offers to finance the cost of approved fields providing a site is furnished.

A committee composed of Messrs. R. Van Dyke, R. E. Springett, Dr. B. H. Sheppard and N. E. Borgerson, accompanied by Major Steers of the State Board of Aeronautics inspected proposed fields on Tuesday and an option upon a 60-acre tract a short distance north of the village has been secured. The F. A. Madigan field just west of the village is also being considered.

If a site is decided upon the Federal Government will be asked for an appropriation of $10,000 for the development of the field. This development will consist largely of labor and it is confidently expected that a site will be secured and the application approved. Major Evans of the State Board of Aeronautics will be in Lowell today (Thursday) for further consideration of the proposal.

The establishment of airports and landing fields are sponsored by the Federal Government as a part of its national defense program. Lowell is fortunate in having the opportunity to take a part in this big program.

Bap. Conference Meets in Lowell

The Quarterly Bible Conference of the Grand Rapids Association of the regular Baptist churches will be held at the First Baptist church of Lowell on Tuesday, December 12. Thirty-two churches are sending pastors and delegates to this conference and the public is cordially invited to attend.

The program opens at 10:30 a. m. with devotions led by Rev. A. J. Hoolsemma, Rev. B. C. Geisz will deliver the morning message. The features of the program in the afternoon and evening include devotions, led by Rev. John Douglas; Messages by Rev. Norman F. Douty, who is pastor of the Assembly at Hephzibah House, New York City, and Rev. C. E. Wood; a business session by the Rev. Wm. J. Hill; and a final message by Rev. N. F. Douty.

G. T. Inaugurates Delivery Service

The inauguration of a new service is announced by the Grand Trunk. They now are performing, at no additional cost, pick up and delivery of all less than carload shipments on which the freight rate is .35c and over. The service is furnished to all patrons within the corporate limits and covers shipments from and to points located on the Grand Trunk and routed entirely over their line.

Eat More Dairy Products is Urge

More dairy products, and particularly butter, must be consumed, says the Department of Agriculture, in order that the surplus be reduced and the price stiffened. For this purpose the Department is cooperating with the state-wide movement in appealing to the people of the cities and villages to use more dairy products. This will not only help the farmers' market but will insure the consumer maximum food values as compared with other foods. The general appeal to farmers to use their own product, rather than substitutes, is being made.

A similar movement originating in Wisconsin is designed to increase the consumption of cheese, and every family in Michigan is requested to increase their consumption by at least one more pound of cheese during the week of December 11.

City State Bank Gets Reopening Approval

Plan Is OK'd by State Banking Department and the R. F. C.

Liberal Terms Provide Half of Deposits Available in Cash and Half in Participating Certificates

The good word has just been received to the effect that the State Banking Commissioner, with the approval of the Governor of Michigan, and of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, has consented to a plan of reorganization of the City State Bank of Lowell on what is known as the "54 Bank Plan."

The plan, when worked out, in the case of this bank, will mean that all deposits of $10.00 or less will be released 100% on the re-opening date. All deposits of over this amount will be divided so that 50% will be available on the re-opening date and the other 50% will be in the form of participation certificates of the assets that will go into the Moratorium or Trust Department.

Complete details of the plan will be advertised in the Lowell Ledger in the very near future. On account of the legal technicalities involved and the tremendous amount of detail work to be done, it will be some few weeks before the plan can be made operative. However, the customers of this bank and the public in general can rest assured that every effort is being made to hasten the re-opening day.

As stated in the opening paragraph this is good news—in fact the best news financially that has come to this community since our banks, in common with all other banks in Michigan, were closed, ten months ago by edict of the governor of the state. The good news also includes cause for satisfaction in the fact that the reopening terms are so liberal. When we stop to consider that almost without exception every kind of business, manufacturing and farming, has suffered at least 50 per cent depreciation, the fact that this bank will make 50 per cent of deposits available at once and that the other 50 per cent will yield substantial returns as time goes on there is indeed added cause for gratification.

In spite of all of the condemnation which has been heard of banks, those who put their money in them will, in most cases fare better than if their money had been placed in any other investment.

Withdrawals may be heavy at first but we predict that within thirty days' time the money will return to the banks and deposits will show an increase. One reason for this lies in the fact that by the time reopening plans are completed the new bank deposit guarantee law will be in operation guaranteeing the safety of deposits.

It is also expected that plans for the reopening of the Lowell State Bank will also be announced in the not distant future.

Men at work — pay checks again — Banks reopening.
Surely a better day is dawning.

NEGRO BLAMED DEATH OF THREE IN US16 CRASH

JURY RETURN VERDICT—NOT IN ACCORDANCE WITH EARLIER REPORTS OF FAT- AL COLLISION.

So much interest was aroused by a recent tragedy on US-16 that we republish the following from the last issue of The Portland Review:

A coroner's jury last week hung responsibility for the recent accident near Morris corners, in which three men were fatally injured, upon Jack Harris, negro driver of the truck that was sideswiped by the car of C. M. Luce, Grand Rapids hotel man, three weeks ago. Testimony was contradictory and is regarded as not strong enough to warrant prosecution.

The accident occurred October 21, at the intersection of US-16 and the Grand Ledge road and the victims, all of whom were riding with Luce, were George A. Miller, Arthur Kirshner and Robert Worfel, all of Kent county.

At the time of the accident it was commonly understood Luce was driving his car at a dangerous rate of speed as he approached the crossing just as a Lansing truck, driven by Harris, headed north, was about to cross US-16, and that Harris brought the truck to a stop before starting to cross. At the inquest, however, where Luce was represented by an attorney, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn S. Cedarium of Muskegon, who were passengers in a car that Luce passed just before hitting the truck, testified to the truth of Luce's statement that he was driving between 40 and 50 miles an hour. Luce and his wife said on the stand that Harris did not come to a stop but merely slowed down as he drove on US-16. Mrs. Earl Morris and daughter Anna, who live near the intersection and witnessed the accident, declared Harris brought the truck to a full stop.

The inquest was held at St. Johns and the jury, after being out about 45 minutes, returned a verdict of "death through the negligence of Jack Harris."

CHRISTMAS BUYING

THERE are indications, as this is being written, that this year will witness Christmas buying quite largely increased in volume over that of a year ago. We hope that this will come true. But even with an equal amount to that of last year a great deal of prosperity can be brought to Main street if all of our people will do their Christmas buying at home. We can see no good reason for going outside the city to purchase Christmas gifts elsewhere. If we were to do that it would rob us of the real joy of giving. We like to feel that being loyal to those who serve us during the year is being loyal to the very things that permit of a better and wider community life. Think it over. Let the municipal Christmas trees be lighted forthwith. Let every Lowell store reflect the holiday season with appropriate decorations.

TALKIES—THERE'S HOPE

THE TWO most popular "talkies" that the American motion picture people have produced in a year are "Little Women" and "Three Little Pigs." Artistically, the best motion picture that we have seen is "Henry the Eighth," an English film.

Hollywood is possessed with the idea that to be successful a picture must have more than a trace of indecency. Yet the proof that the public is not as sex-crazy as the movie people think they are—as many of them are themselves—is found in the success of these three pictures.

We are beginning to be hopeful about the movies.

INFLATION

ALL OF the discussion over the money question, as far as we understand it—and that isn't very far—seems to come down to this:

There are a great many sincere persons who believe that the only economic salvation of the nation lies in increasing the volume of money in circulation. That, broadly, is called "inflation." And there is another group of persons, most of them doubtless equally sincere, who think that "inflation" can end only when the entire nation has been plunged into bankruptcy, once it is begun.

These two groups probably are both wrong. It does not seem to us that what is needed is more actual currency, but a more rapid circulation of the currency already available. If we read the reports of the Treasury correctly, there is enough gold reserve in the hands of the Government and the Federal Reserve Banks, to warrant the issuing of practically twice as much currency as is now in circulation and still remain well within the limits of what has always been regarded as the most conservative finance. Against our four and a half billion gold reserve there is little more than five billion of currency outstanding; yet a forty per cent gold reserve is considered extremely high.

We do not think that either the Administration or the Federal Reserve Board is so unpatriotic, so deaf to the distress of the people of the United States as to withhold its hand if there were any way untried of getting more currency into the hands of the public short of outright gifts. We think they are working toward getting money into the hands of the public, in a dozen different directions, and that they are making progress. Farmers and many other industries are getting more money for what they have to sell, more men are earning wages and immense sums are being spent for public works and other enterprises which put money into circulation. But we do not regard these normal processes as "inflation," at least not in any derogatory sense of the word.

As for the rabid anti-inflationists, who see in every move to make the dollar cheaper in terms of commodities and services, a threat to the investments of the creditor class, we think they have very shaky ground to stand on. We hope to see it possible soon for debtors to pay their debts in dollars that are no dearer than were the dollars they borrowed.

Garden Lore Club

The Garden Lore Club met on Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 5th, at the home of Mrs. E. E. Sigler.

After a short business session the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Wm. Wachterhauser, chairman of the house plant group, who announced the following program:

Piano solo by Mable Hall; Mrs. L. Yetter read a very interesting paper, written by Mrs. Wachterhauser, on the "Care of House Plants"; Mrs. R. T. Ford read a poem entitled, "The Making of the Beautiful"; piano solo by Virginia Doyle; Mrs. E. Fletcher read a letter and newspaper clipping received by Mrs. Finels from Helen Morse Brown, taken from a St. Louis paper, about a new way of preserving flowers in clean dry sand so that they will keep a long time; violin solo by Walter Gumsier, accompanied by Mrs. Gumsier; Mrs. W. Gumsier read a number of short poems; accordion solo by Glendon Swarthout.

The club will hold their next meeting with Mrs. A. Walker on January 9th 1934.

MORTGAGE SALE

Default having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage dated January 22, 1927, executed by Floyd A. Dalloway and Donna Dalloway, his wife, in favor of the trustees of Lowell, Kent County, Michigan, to wit: the Lowell Building and Loan Association, a Michigan corporation, and the Michigan Building and Loan Corporation of Lowell, Kent County, Michigan, recorded on February 16, 1927 in the Office of the Register of Deeds for Kent County, Michigan, under the number of Mortgages on pages 246 and 247, and because of said default the said mortgage is being foreclosed and all sums unpaid thereon have been declared to be due and payable, and the shares of stock pledged as collateral have been forfeited, and the said mortgage in its entirety being due and payable, and which said stock is being sold, it is claimed to be due at the date of this notice for principal Four Hundred and Fifty Dollars and one hundredths, ($450.10) Dollars, interest and penalties of One Hundred Four and Fifty One-hundredths ($150.45) Dollars, taxes and insurance paid by the mortgagor plus interest thereon of One Hundred Thirty-one and Four One-hundredths ($131.40) Dollars, a total amount due and unpaid at this date of Six Hundred and Fifty One and One-hundredths ($681.25) Dollars, to which was added an attorney's fee of Fifteen ($15.00) Dollars as stipulated for in the mortgage, and the sum of Eight Hundred Sixty Six and One-hundredths ($866.25) Dollars, plus interest thereon from the date of this notice to the date of foreclosure, and no suit or proceeding having been instituted at the date of this notice to recover said debt or any part thereof, by reason of which default the power of sale contained in said mortgage has become operative.

The immediate effect of this action on Tom was to draw a red line across his life. The yell of blood-curdling screams burst from his big chest. It reached Sebastian, who lowered his arms. He stared for a moment at the boat as it moved on in the distance. He stood for a moment to avoid every appearance of evil, he shambled to the other side of the deck and dropped his weapon. He was so overcome by the sight of the harmless one, wrongly interpreted as menacing, of purpose to stop him, that he failed to put him in the wrong.

If so, it failed to serve him any good purpose. Tom and his companions were holding their breath and charging as if they were going to charge. Tom was so overcome by the sight of the harmless one, wrongly interpreted as menacing, of purpose to stop him, that he failed to put him in the wrong.
