

CALL IT THOUGHTLESSNESS

LAST Saturday morning a respectable citizen of this community called at The Ledger office for the purpose of transacting a little business. After the business was over with the visitor, who is a man past 70 years of age, told us a story of meanness that filled us with righteous anger. The man had been to Grand Rapids one day recently for the purpose of transacting some business in the Probate Court. He was without funds but succeeded in making his way to the city by the aid of friendly motorists. He was not so fortunate in the way of lifts on the homeward journey. Late at night, footsore and weary, he stepped into an eating house near Ada where he asked for a glass of water which was given him. At a table nearby sat four young people, two boys and two girls, whom the traveler asked if they were traveling toward Lowell. Upon a reply in the affirmative the aged man asked if they had room in their car to let him ride that far. The reply by one of the smart young men was that he could ride with them "if he had 75 cents."

"I have no money," said the old man, "but if you will let me ride with you I may be able some day to give you a lift when you need it."

But the old man was again informed that he couldn't ride unless he had the 75 cents. The proprietor was thanked for the glass of water and the old man stepped out to resume his journey. Half way to Lowell the thoughtless pleasure-seeker in young people pleased the old man and as they sped by shouted at him with a jeer, saying, "How's the walking? Don't you wish you had 75 cents?"

The traveler reached Lowell at midnight where he stepped into an eating house and asked for another glass of water after which he continued his journey of 2 1/2 miles further to his home where the good wife prepared some refreshments for him at two thirty in the morning.

This is not printed because it's news. We publish the story simply in the hope that these young people if they read these lines or any other persons for that matter may be caused to pause and consider with the hope that they may never again do such an unkind thing and thereby learn that it pays to spread a little of the milk of human kindness.

A WHIP IN EACH HAND

THE LEDGER went to press a little too early last week to make comment in that issue on the Democratic pre-primary state convention held at Battle Creek Governor William A. Comstock was in complete control. He not only held the whip hand, in fact he also held a whip in the other hand. "Sixty-day Democrats," proceeded to the political picnic, were leashed to a frazzle by the governor, after which he received the almost unanimous nomination to head his party's ticket there being but sixty-six votes against him out of the 700 cast.

Then, after the governor had demonstrated that his steamroller was working in perfection, he did the dramatic and magnificent thing. He stood up before the convention and asked the delegates to also endorse his opponents as candidates for the Democratic nomination for governor. With wild cheers the convention did the governor's bidding by nominating Arthur J. Lane and John S. Slack. It looks like a merry fight in prospect. Comstock will be both praised and condemned. Those who know him best will say, "It was just like the Governor to do that." Some other democrats will say that he has been the greatest failure of his party ever had in the executive chair, forgetting to allow in their criticism for some of the types of legislators whom the Governor has had to deal with.

Some democrats will praise Lacy for his likeable qualities and his Chesterfieldian manners; other democrats will remind the voters that the legal firm of Arthur J. Lacy took the hand-some fee of something like $110,000 within a brief space of time while acting as attorney for a Detroit trust company before Lacy was finally ousted from the job. Some mean things will be said about Slack.

Meanwhile, the candidacy of Frank D. Fitzgerald for the Republican nomination for governor appears to be moving forward with smoothness and surety. Former Governor Wilbur M. Brucker, who has been a tentative candidate, came out strongly last Thursday in behalf of Fitzgerald, urging all Republicans to get solidly behind him in the interests of good government. At this writing Congressman McLeod of Detroit appears to be Fitzgerald's only opponent. Some Republicans have done their darndest to force former Governor Alex J. Groesbeck upon an unwilling people but Groesbeck, with the cunning of an oriental, thus far stands silent. If he ever had an opportunity it has been lost. Fitzgerald will be nominated. So will Comstock. These are our predictions. You have the right to make yours.

MORE SURVEYORS

"PLEASE, boss, let's survey it just once more—just for fun." And so another party of surveyors was in Lowell the other day. That makes about the fifteenth or twentieth group of transit-pepers which has visited here since new bridges were first proposed for the village. They ought to have a microscopic picture of our Main Street in Lansing. State efficiency! But we won't complain unless, after all this bewildering preliminary work, the bridges are not perfect.

APRECIATION

NOW THAT school is out it is fitting that at this time at least a brief word should be said regarding the faculty of Lowell schools. We doubt if there can be found anywhere a corps of teachers from the superintendent down of higher moral character and of better teaching ability. The moral tone of the schools of Lowell is such that every patron and every parent should feel a deep sense of satisfaction and gratitude. That is something that should reflect itself in the lives of those students who go out into the world of endeavor and which should be, if they do their part, of immeasurable benefit through all time to come. Our teachers have worked for meagre stipends during the past year, yet to their credit it should be said that they never slinked in the giving of their best to our boys and girls.

BIRTHS

To Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Bieri, Friday night, June 22, at Blodgett hospital, Grand Rapids, a 7 1/2 lb. son, Robert Karl. Mrs. Bieri will be remembered as Betty Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Lee of Boston-1p.

Verle C. Burras Taken in Flower Of Her Girlhood

Verle Cora Burras, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur V. Burras of Lowell, passed away Wednesday, June 20, in a Grand Rapids hospital from complications following an appendicitis operation which she underwent some two weeks previous to her death. The news of her passing came as a great shock to the people of this community and expressions of sorrow and regret were heard on every hand.

Verle Cora Burras was born in Lowell township on September 4, 1917, and was therefore sixteen years, nine months and sixteen days of age at the time of her untimely passing. She attended the Snow school and after completing the eighth grade there entered the Lowell high school where she had just completed her junior year. She was one of the most popular students of the high school, taking an active part in nearly all of the school's activities and in the various organizations in connection with school life.

Funeral services were held at the home at 1:30 Sunday and at the Lowell Congregational church at 2:00. Rev. S. B. Wenger officiated, assisted by Rev. Baird of Snow church. Friends by the hundreds were in attendance at the last rites, paying their respects to one who had been called in the flower of her girlhood. Members of the junior class attended in a body and the mountain of flowers sent by sorrowing friends testified to the love and affection in which Verle was held by all.

Burial was in the Snow cemetery. The following young men acted as pall bearers: Raymond Dinsen, William Doyle, James Green, John Lalley, Bertram Scott and Morse Schwacha.

Surviving are the parents, one brother, Darrel V., and four sisters, Velma E., Margaret B., Florence A. and Marian E. To quote the words of a friend: "Verle was a sunny, loving disposition, a pal who was always thoughtful of others. Those who knew her best loved her most."

Large Crowd Here Wednesday Night

Wednesday night shoppers in Lowell are increasing in numbers with each passing week. Many of the shoppers come from long distances and many of the stores report very satisfactory business.

The open air band concerts are much enjoyed by the visitors. At the drawing on Wednesday evening the following persons held the winning numbers: Mrs. Peter Hester, $200; Mrs. Lyle Denmark, $50; Jesse Biggs, $3.00 and Jack Wilks $2.00. If the holder of No. 119,903 had been present he would have won $50.00; if the holder of No. 115,376 had been present he would have won $300.

Former Lowell Man, Wife and Daughter Bound and Robbed

Two youths, about 25 years old, held up Mr. and Mrs. Carl J. Rittenger and their daughter, Ellen, 4, as they entered their home in East Grand Rapids last Saturday night. The men, who had entered through a window in a sunroom, jumped out with a drawn gun as the three entered the house. "Stick them up and then lie down on the floor," they commanded and then tied Mr. and Mrs. Rittenger and their daughter.

After taking, as far as Rittenger could determine, only two dollars from him, the pair went to the garage and escaped in Rittenger's car, a Ford coupe. Breaking his bonds, about a half-hour later, Rittenger reported the holdup to East Grand Rapids police. Mr. Rittenger was a former Lowell boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rittenger.

7-YEAR OLD BOY DROWNED SUN. IN THORNAPPLE

DAY'S OUTING WITH FATHER AND A BROTHER COMES TO SAD ENDING AS ROLLAND L. BUTLER OF GRAND RAPIDS LOSES HIS LIFE

The first drowning in the lake at the Consumers Power plant at Ada occurred Sunday afternoon when Rolland L. Butler, 7 year-old son of Eugene E. Butler of Grand Rapids, manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, lost his life in the Thornapple river. The body of the boy who disappeared at about 2:30 p. m. after he had been warned away from the deep water above the dam by his 14 year-old brother William, was found in the shallow water on the right bank of the river by his father shortly after 5:00 p. m.

Robert Ferrall, justice of the peace at Ada, acting as coroner, said the boy had apparently been stricken with cramps. The boys had been taken to a spot near the dam for an outing by their father, who was asleep at the time Rolland disappeared. It was first believed that the boy had walked into the woods near by, and a search was started. When they were unable to find him the father and others began looking for him in the water. Deputy Sheriffs Carl Rose and George Laman and Patrolman Ralph Randall of the Grand Rapids Police Department rushed an inhalator to the scene of the tragedy but it was too late to revive the boy.

Matt Koskin of Grand Rapids, Maurice Ward of Ada and several others, assisted the father in searching for the boy.

Surviving besides the father is the 14 year-old brother and a grandmother who resides in Chicago. The lake at the Consumers plant has been a popular place for swimming with the children and adults in Ada and vicinity and this is the first accident that has ever occurred there. (By Mrs. Mattie B. Fitch, Ada Cor.)

Lowell Banks To Be Merged

Details looking toward the return of full banking facilities to Lowell have been moving forward during the past week. It is unofficially reported that the two Lowell banks are to be consolidated and it is also reported that the responsibility of choosing the banking house to be used here is in the hands of the State Banking Department. In the meantime attorneys are working out the consolidation agreement. A matter of a comparatively brief time should see a bank fully opened for the convenience of the people of the community. Speed the day!

Guard Your Home Against Burglars

It must be that the same burglar or burglars who stole several hundreds of dollars worth of diamonds and a sum of money from the H. L. Weekes home in Lowell are operating in other nearby points. The Rockford Register says: "On Monday evening the homes of G. A. Krause and J. G. Muir were entered by a professional burglar. The work was clearly that of a professional because of the way the screens were drilled and the lattice windows opened proved that. In the G. A. Krause home, he was evidently scared off for very little ransacking was done. In the Muir home they got a little farther but in neither case did they secure anything of value. It is probable that the intruder was the same person who robbed the store at Grattan of about seventy-five dollars. The State Police have been investigating but to date had not secured a very definite clue."

Garden Lore Club

The Garden Lore Club met at the home of Mrs. S. S. Lee June 12th. After a short business session, at which time the president appointed Mrs. V. A. Snell general chairman and Mrs. B. H. Shepard co-chairman of the Annual Flower Show held in connection with the Showboat Aug. 2, 3 and 4. Mrs. Fineis and Mrs. Ford each gave a short report of their trip to Dearborn to Mrs. Henry Ford's garden and the Edison Institute Museum and Village. The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. Lee and her committee, Mesdames Shepard, Foreman, Hahn and Miss Jewell, who served a very delicious luncheon.

Ward E. Hubbel Is Laid To Rest In Arlington

Ward Ellis Hubbel, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Hubbel, passed away at the Hines Veterans Hospital, Ill. June 22, 1934, aged 35 years, 10 months and two days, from a complication of diseases. He leaves to mourn their loss, a devoted wife, Mabel, a daughter Violet, a sorrowing mother, three brothers and a host of other relatives and friends.

He attended Lowell high school, afterwards taking a course in Business College and accepting a position when 18 years old with the Federal Government in Washington, D. C. and was in their employ for fifteen years. The last three years he has been on the retired list on account of failing health. Mr. Hubbel came to Lowell in April to attend the funeral of his father and expected to spend his summer vacation here, but he kept growing worse and not being able to make the trip back to Washington, entered the Hines Hospital at Illinois.

When a youth of fourteen he united with the Baptist church at Lowell, later joining the Calvary Baptist church in Washington, D. C. where he was a member when he died. He was a faithful and constant worker in the Lord's work, a member of the C. E. and always ready to help those in need. The remains were shipped in a flag-draped casket to Washington where they were placed in Arlington cemetery beside his brother. He is still loved in the hearts of those who knew him.

Little Miss Marker Comes To The Strand

"Little Miss Marker" opens on Sunday-Monday at the Strand Theatre, with Adolphe Menjou, Dorothy Dell, Charles Bickford and five-year-old Shirley Temple in the principal roles. The story is a sentimental yarn of a little girl left as security for a racing bet. The girl's father never does return, and she is taken over by a grouch, light-fisted bookmaker, who tries to get advice from his gang of Broadway mugs. The girl takes a liking to her new environment and before long she is talking their lingo and acting their rough, slangy ways. With a crooked racing deal and a romance on the side, the film reaches a heart-touching climax.

M. P. S. RETURNS; WILL BE BUSY DURING SUMMER

Congressman Carl E. Mapes, who arrived on Saturday from Washington, plans to spend most of his time this summer in Grand Rapids. He has a committee assignment which will occupy much of his time on the special committee to investigate conditions in the oil fields of the country and recommend legislation. Committee members have a mass of data on oil to digest this summer and they will also visit oil fields to gain first hand information. Congressman Mapes expects to visit several fields, both those inside and others outside the state.

She is able to be up in a wheel chair for short periods.

Lowell Resident For Fifty Years Is Laid To Rest

Mrs. Elizabeth McIntyre Sayles, widow of Frank Sayles, died last Thursday at her home after a long illness. Mrs. Sayles was born at Brantford, Ont., in 1847 and had been a resident of Lowell 50 years.

Surviving are a daughter, Miss Nellie Sayles of Comstock Park; four grandchildren, and four great grandchildren. A son, Arthur Sayles, died June 4. Funeral services were held at 3 p. m. Saturday at the residence, Rev. S. B. Wenger officiating. Burial in Oakwood cemetery. Funeral arrangements by The Yeller Co.

She was for many years an active member of the Cheerful Dopers of the Congregational church. Mrs. Sayles was of French and Scotch descent, tracing her line age in direct descent from Robert Burns, the noted Scotch poet. When Mr. and Mrs. Sayles came to Lowell a half century ago they first made their home on Peck's hill in the eastern part of the village. At that time a goodly share of the low land, lying between Peck's hill and the Grand Trunk depot, was covered with water, the family finding it necessary to make their trips to and from the depot in row boats.

Mrs. Sayles made many friends during her fifty years residence in this community all of whom extend their sympathy to the bereaved family.

The lake fishing opened on Monday and innumerable local minnows celebrated the event by "going fishin'" in nearby lakes. Some good catches are reported while others of course had the proverbial fisherman's luck—you know the rest of the rhyme.

The Ledger office has enjoyed a lot of kidding during the past few days because of the installation of a big two-ton fire-proof safe, once the property of the late Charles McCarty, one of Lowell's pioneer business men. Mr. McCarty was a real merchant tell us that Mr. McCarty transacted a volume of business aggregating a third of a million dollars yearly. It will probably be some time before The Ledger reaches that volume. In the meantime we shall continue the use of our tin change box.

Master David Clark, Jr., 9-year-old active young son of Mr. and Mrs. David Clark, Sr., celebrated the opening of the fishing season in a manner that puts to envy the volume of business aggregating a third of a million dollars yearly. Master David captured a 4-lb. fish in rather original manner. Equipped with a pail he engaged himself in a search for turtles near the Main St. bridge and while doing so the fish in question caught the lad's eye and quicker than it takes to tell it the fish was pounced upon and after becoming the young man's trophy was tied up for safe keeping while the lad scurried home for another pail in which to carry his catch, the first pail having been lost in the waters of the Flat while the boy was struggling with the fish. David's cat has been feasting on fish since the memorable event.

Rock gardens are being constructed on the east and west sides of the King Milling office building.

Lowell's new creamery, which will engage in the manufacture of butter, will be open for business soon, according to announcement in the advertising columns of this paper. Edwin Compagner, the proprietor, has nearly completed installation of machinery and the renovating of the building at 208 E. Main-st., where the plant will be located. Mr. Compagner has the reputation of being a first class butter maker.

Tools and steel for the building of the new culvert on East Main-st. began to arrive this week, and it now looks as though construction work would be under way soon.

The former Association star held the Dixies to five hits. Howard opposed him and was touched for 12 safeties.

In the nightcap, Bobay and McCally were the opposing boxmen. The Dixie heavy hitters swung into action to win, 8-1. The Stars got only eight hits off Bobay but three were homers and one a double. Shackelford and Rainey Bibbs smashed successive circuit drives in the third. Shack hit his homer with one on and Walter Coe hit one with two on base. Mitchell got two hits.

Coal Code Stands

George Andrews, National Recovery Administration deputy administrator, announced Tuesday that a recent story from Washington, implying that the price-fixing and controlling codes with relation to the retail coal business would be abolished immediately, was in error. In a telegram, Mr. Andrews said he has instructed all division code authorities to continue enforcement as before. The retail coal code has not been affected or changed by recent rulings, he stated. He advised that should any change in the code be contemplated, ample notice for a hearing would be given and only such changes would be made as proved mutually agreeable to the National Code Authority and the NRA.

Legion Jrs. Win Two More Games

Displaying a brand of ball which would be a credit to most any semi-pro team, the Board of Trade-Legion Junior baseball team took the second place Comstock Park outfit into camp last Saturday to the tune of 4-2. The boys made but two errors and garnered nine hits in seven innings and they looked like veterans in all departments of the game.

Kerekes at third played a whale of a game in the field and had a perfect day at bat with three lusty bingles. Bieri and Ellis each collected two timely blows which were good for runs and in addition to his timely hitting Ellis again caught a fine game, allowing but one stolen base and guiding the pitcher, excellently. Miller on the mound allowed but four hits, struck out eight and allowed no walks. Comstock Park scored as the result of an error and a home run.

Half of the season is over and the team is batting at an average of .204. Individual averages are: J. Fonger, .476; R. Ellis, .381; P. Juniors Defeat Caledonia

Lowell Juniors defeated Caledonia Wednesday by a score of 5-2. The pitching of Thorne was a feature of the game. He breezed 12 of the Caledonia batters while allowing only one hit, a double, by Dutcher, Caledonia's leading offman, on the first pitch of the game. Three errors and four passes accounted for both of Caledonia's runs. Bieri led the local attack with a double and a single. Other hits were by Ellis, Fonger, Thorne and Reynolds. Locals play Carl A.
