

VOTE NEXT MONDAY

NEXT MONDAY occurs the Biennial Spring Election and the Annual Township Election. The election is of the utmost importance to every citizen and especially so to the tax-paying citizen. Upon its results will be determined not only the political party but the kind and types of men chosen to perform the duties of the respective offices to which they shall be elected in state, judicial circuits, county and township affairs. In our own county of Kent three circuit judges are to be elected. The present incumbents are Judges Brown, Perkins and Verdier. They are men whose past records of honorable performance entitle them to the earnest and thoughtful consideration of every voter, regardless of party affiliation.

Without doubt, the next most important post at this time in Kent County is that of school commissioner. Lynn H. Clark is the Republican candidate for this post, an office that is of direct concern to all taxpayers in the rural portion of Kent County. For the first time in many years the rural people of Kent County are going to have the opportunity to choose a rural-minded man as their school commissioner. Mr. Clark knows the rural view point thoroughly. He was not only raised on a farm, but has had many years of rural school experience as a teacher in addition to a broad education in higher institutions of learning. Mr. Clark's election will mean that the rural schools of Kent County will have a champion and a practical, working school commissioner who will look after their needs and requirements in an economical manner.

The Ledger cannot admonish too strongly the people residing in the townships and villages of Kent County the great importance of going to the polls next Monday. We should remember that we are a part of our government and that it is our bounden duty to exercise the right and privilege of franchise. Too many times in the past we have neglected this duty by turning in a mere handful of votes, thus giving to the city domination over our affairs.

Lowell-tp. could easily cast 1500 votes in next Monday's election. Vergennes, Boone, Ada, Cascade and every other rural township could and should turn out with a vote proportionately as large as that of Lowell.

For once, let each and every one of us resolve to go to the polls next Monday and thus give our respective townships the representation they deserve and the proper recognition which will follow if we do our duty as citizens. Talk this over with your neighbors and resolve that your vote shall be made to count.

PERFORMS IMPORTANT WORK

RECENTLY a candidate for the Kent County circuit bench made a public statement to the effect that the office of assignment clerk was unnecessary and that it should be abolished. Many persons who are familiar with the work and duties of the assignment clerk were surprised to hear of such a statement, especially from a man who aspires to the circuit judgeship. The office of assignment clerk fills an important function in circuit court procedure, saving considerable expense in the arrangement of cases coming before the court and the expeditious handling of cases along to indefinite periods in the handling of court cases. Hundreds of new cases are started each year and the assignment clerk is a very important cog in the wheel of circuit court procedure.

Small townsmen in many cities keeps them tied to backward ideas. But there is such a thing as too much big townsmen. The United States may be considered in a way to be one big town. But there are not enough big men to run the whole country but to have them down to Washington whenever we anything done. For things we must still look to our home town or county seat or state capital.

SLOWING DOWN

ONE OF THE fundamental ideas of the church period of Lent, is that people should live less feverish lives, and give less time to the excitements of society. For many years, there was a distinct let-up during that period in parties and dances. The church preached the doctrine that the excited pursuit of pleasure should be checked, while people meditated on the meaning of life. It is hard to induce people to do any meditating in these times. Modern life is not suited to reflection. The favorite motto is "Go it while you're young," and many continue to go it until they are old.

It is the age of speed. You realize that when you go out on the roads with a car, and see people who used to be shocked when an automobile ran 25 miles an hour, now driving their cars 50 and 60 miles per hour without a qualm. Our people are impatient with slow motions.

There are of course plenty of folks who live quiet lives. During the past few years, when money has not been so plentiful, it has been cheaper to stay at home, and for many there is not much else to do. Such folks do not have to worry about slowing down. Something that would start them up would do them more good.

However, the prevailing tempo of the American people is one of haste. There are more people who live too fast than of those who live too slow. It does not hurt people a particle, after their day's work is over, to sit down quietly in the home nest, and read the newspaper and listen to the radio.

The society folks who used to slow up during Lent came out of that period with rested nerves. Some of our thrill seekers would be benefited by similar restraint.

LAST TAPS FOR AGED VETERAN OF CIVIL WAR

LEE EDSON DIES IN BLODGETT HOSPITAL FOLLOWING INJURIES RECEIVED WHEN STRUCK BY AUTOMOBILE—BURIED WITH MILITARY HONORS SUNDAY

Lee Edson, 88, a soldier of the Civil War and a resident of Lowell for the past 25 years, passed away at Blodgett hospital, Grand Rapids, last Friday night. Mr. Edson was taken to the hospital on March 8 after being injured that day on West Main-st., by a passing automobile as he was walking diagonally across the street. Mr. Edson sustained cuts and bruises about the face and body and these injuries combined with shock, proved too much for a man of his advanced age.

Mr. Edson was well thought of in this community. His passing removes one more from the rapidly thinning ranks of those valiant soldiers of 1861-65 who offered their lives for the preservation of the Union.

The funeral services for Mr. Edson were held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the late home on South Hudson-st., Rev. A. J. Hoolema officiating. Burial was in Oakwood cemetery with military honors by members of the United American Legion.

The funeral arrangements were by Roth & Brezina.

Mr. Edson is survived by the widow, who has been confined to the home for the past several months due to a fractured hip. A daughter residing in California also survives.

Mr. Edson was born in Woodstock, N. Y., in 1847 and lived on his father's farm until he enlisted in the Civil War in 1864. With the 15th New York Engineers he went to Virginia where they built bridges, camps, breastworks and roads. After his discharge, Mr. Edson returned home. In 1867 he came to Michigan and was employed for a time in a single mill in Stanton. In the eighties, he returned to Edmore where he turned farmer. A widow with two small children then, he married Miss Harriet Tryphena Averill, Mrs. and Mrs. Edson came to Lowell in 1910 and bought the D. G. Look house on South Hudson-st.

During his lifetime Mr. Edson was affiliated with the United Brethren church, Congregational church and was also a member of the G. A. R.

Oil Drilling To Start Here Soon

The preliminary work preparatory to actual operations for the drilling for oil has been in progress for several days on the Anton Kallinger farm, a short distance north of town. A portion of the drilling machinery has already arrived and the balance of the equipment will be here in and within the next week or two.

Barring bad weather actual drilling operations may be expected to be underway within about three weeks' time.

The expenses in connection with oil drilling operations are very large and a local company has been formed for the purpose of financing the undertaking. This company has been named "The Lowell Development Company," headed by C. H. Runciman as president and secretary. W. V. Burras, vice president, and Earl Thomas, treasurer.

Freshman Colleges Proving Successful

(A Contributed Editorial) Beginning last fall, there was started in the state of Michigan a new type of advanced education. Under the sponsorship of the state universities and colleges, and financially supported by the Federal government, the Freshman Colleges are being given a trial, which so far seems to point toward success.

The Lowell college at present is one of twelve similar colleges, sponsored by Western State Teachers College at Kalamazoo, Mich. There is no tuition fee in these freshmen colleges and they offer courses in a variety of subjects.

The Lowell college at present is offering courses in Rhetoric, German, Spanish, History, Psychology and Trigonometry. The school year is divided into three terms of twelve weeks each. At present the students are rapidly approaching the end of the second term. The college in Lowell has an enrollment of about 35 members and is the only college in its district that has both afternoon and evening classes.

The scholastic averages attained at Lowell are above the general average attained in most of the Freshman colleges. Recently a High Scholarship List was received containing the names of those students who made high scholastic averages.

This tabulation showed that South Haven ranked first, having nine students on this list; Benton Harbor second, with five, and that Lowell and Sturgis were tied for third place, each having three students on this list. The first two colleges named have a considerably larger enrollment than has Lowell. This largely accounts for the fact that these colleges had more names on the list.

Doctor to Speak On Cancer Disease

Under the direction of the Cancer Committee of the Michigan State Medical Society, Dr. Henry J. Vandenberg of Grand Rapids will give a health education talk on "Cancer" in the high school assembly room on Friday at 1:30 p. m. The address will take up the prevention, cure and statistics of the dreaded disease and, according to the manner in which this lecture has been received by the people of Grand Rapids, it should prove to be very interesting. Parents, patrons and friends are invited and it is hoped that a great many adults will be in attendance. There is no charge.

Will Cooperate in Buying Fire Truck

The Village of Lowell and the Township of Lowell, through their respective governing bodies, the Common Council and the Township Board, will join together in the purchase of a fire fighting truck equipped with a centrifugal pump which will draw water from streams, ponds and cisterns.

The equipment, when purchased, will be used in fighting fires anywhere within the township. The cost of the same will be spread over the entire village and township and a trifle over one-half mill on the dollar will be spread each year for three years, raising a total of about $1,000 yearly. Under this arrangement the village will pay approximately 60 per cent of the cost of the equipment and that portion of the township outside of the village will pay approximately 40 per cent. After the equipment is installed, all of the expense of upkeep will be paid by the village.

The arrangement looks like a very good one as it will provide better fire-fighting facilities for all of the property owners residing within the township and, at the same time, provide a very equitable division of the cost.

The equipment has not as yet been decided upon but within a few days a committee composed of members from the council, town board and the fire department will investigate the various makes of pumps and trucks that are used for this purpose.

Tons of Fish Dead, Cause Unknown

Literally tons of game fish have met with destruction this spring in the private lake on the Reuben see farm in South Boston-tp. The cause of the destruction is not known at this writing. It was not discovered until the ice went out of the small lake, leaving the shore lines covered with thousands of valuable fish, included in the number being innumerable black bass, weighing from two to three pounds each, and pickered of greater weight.

The lake was frozen solidly over this winter and it is barely possible that lack of sufficient air might have been the cause of the death of the fish. The lake has usually been solidly frozen every winter but this is the first time that there has been any destruction to the fish.

The State Conservation Department has been appealed to in order to determine the cause of the trouble and also to ascertain if the dead fish may be used as fertilizer.

SENIORS SCORE BIG HIT WITH FARCE COMEDY

ANNUAL PLAY DRAWS CROWDED HOUSE AT THE STRAND THEATRE LAST FRIDAY EVENING—ALL IN CAST WORTHY OF PRAISE

(Contributed)

An event of great interest to students and townspeople occurred Friday evening, Mar. 22, when the Senior Class of Lowell high school presented its annual play at the Strand Theatre. This year the class presented the farce-comedy, "Hold Everything!" The play was splendidly acted and enthusiastically received. Top honors perhaps should go to Gracia Haysmer who as Niobe, the colored maid, drew most of the laughs from the audience. All of the characters, however, took their parts exceptionally well.

The complete cast was composed of the following students: Glendon Swarthout, Jean Weekes, Ethel Ann Thomas, Dorothy Lampkin, Gracia Haysmer, Earl Doyle, J. B. Hawk, Bill Doyle, James Rosewarne, Gladys Ingersoll, Allice Fox, Kathryn Schneider, Jewel Richardson and Herbert Reynolds.

During the course of the evening a beautiful bouquet of roses was presented to Mrs. Warner Roth, who coached the play, and a box of candy to Mrs. K. VanHousen, who assisted with the business management and who also will sponsor the Annual that the play helped to finance. Much credit should be given Mrs. Roth for the capable manner in which the play was directed. This year, as in the past, she gave unstinting aid of her time to insure the success of the production.

A matinee was given in the afternoon for the school children. Great credit should be given to Gerald Yeater and his assistants, George Roberts and Burton Biggs, who arranged the artistic stage setting, and Robert Courtright and his assistant, Ben Frost, for their work as business and advertising managers.

The work of the cast, together with the enthusiastic cooperation of the rest of the class and the appreciative interest of the townspeople, all helped to make this play one of the most popular and successful in years.

Painting of Bowne township school No. 2 inside and outside, removing and cutting into cordwood several trees in the school yard and putting the wood in the school basement and repairing concrete steps of the building will cost $400.25. Another Civil War Veteran Answers Last Roll Call

On May 29, 1931 the then surviving Lowell soldiers of the Civil War sat for the above picture. During the nearly four years that have intervened since the taking of the picture, three of the number have answered the last roll call, A. W. Kne, Fred Rogers and Lee Edson, Mr. Edson, who was laid to rest on Sunday, being the last to answer. Those remaining are Edwin Fallas, now in California; R. B. Boylan, now in Florida, and Merritt Sayles and Robert Cheyne, at home in Lowell. That these four may be spared many more years is the sincere wish of their friends.

APRIL BALLOT CONTAINS SIX STATE TICKETS

REPUBLICANS TO RETURN TO FIRST POSITION ON BALLOT—SOCIALIST, FARMER-LABOR, AMERICAN AND COMMONWEALTH PARTIES TO ENTER STATE CAMPAIGN

Ballots for the April election will list candidates for six parties for state office. Beside the republican and democratic candidates, the Socialist, Farmer-Labor, American and Commonwealth parties have held conventions and nominated candidates for state offices. The republican party will return to first place on the ballots, the position held until the law was changed by the democratic legislature two years ago. Prior to two years ago the party whose candidate received the highest vote for secretary of state was given the first column on the ballot. In 1932 Frank D. Fitzgerald, secretary of state, was the only republican to be elected to state office. His election assured the republicans of holding the first column had the law not been changed by the democratic legislature. The democrats changed the law so that the vote for lieutenant governor, an office then held by a democrat, determined the position. As a result of last year's election when a republican was elected lieutenant governor, the preferred position was returned to the republican party.

Pithy Points Picked Up and Patly Put By Our Peripatetic Pencil Pusher

Nearly 600 rifles and shotguns were confiscated from violators by conservation officers during 1934.

More bobcat pelts were taken by bounty trappers and hunters during January and February of 1935 than in any single year under the state trapper system since 1929.

Grand Ledger now makes claim for fame because of the birth of quintuplets—five baby lambs. Twin lambs are not uncommon and triplets are occasionally heard of, but quintuplets certainly are not common. The owner of the ewe and her babies report that all are "doing well."

The "Put out the milk bottle" reminder is being rigidly enforced in those Rapids homes, along with those two other nightly reminders, "Wind the clock" and "Put out the cat." The reason is that milk leavers got together and decided to levy an additional cent on householders who have no bottle out, unless they say they have to allow seven bottles to a customer on account of slow returns.

Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald's monthly radio report to the people of the state will be delivered from the executive office Friday, Mar. 29, from 6 to 6:15 p. m. over a circuit of stations including the Michigan Radio Network, WJR, WWJ and WJBK. The address is regarded as important, it being likely that the Governor will comment on the status of his legislative program.

Seeds for lawns which are to be planted or replanted this spring should be sown as soon as possible after the ground thaws and settles, according to the landscape gardeners at Michigan State College. The best time to sow grass seed is in late August or early September but most people do not plant the seed then and the next best chance to get a good lawn or to improve bad places in old lawns is to make the seeding early.

Statistics indicating business improvement submitted by the building and loan division of the Department of State. It reports that for the six months ending Feb. 28, last, 62 active associations of the state paid a total of $3,016,508.79 to shareholders, in the form of withdrawals, maturities and for the purpose of meeting necessities. For the same period of the calendar year 1933, payments by 66 associations, on withdrawals, and to meet necessities, totalled $2,300,061.58.

William Cardinal O'Connell of Boston declares that there is need for "some definite form of censorship" of radio. "Undoubtedly a time will come," said the cardinal, "when men with pet ideas cannot command the air and attempt to impress the ideas on others. I see no reason why men with axes to grind, with schemes back in their heads which they are not frank enough to reveal, should be allowed to go on the air and scream and belabor each other. To my mind a modified form of censorship must come.

Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas have begun planting the first 2,000,000 trees in the federal shelter-belts which are to rise in the great plains. Acting Director Paul H. Roberts says Nebraska and the Dakotas will next sink their spades. In the inaugural year of the vast project $1,000,000 will be spent in experimental work. The original idea of conserving moisture and slowing down surface winds with a single forest extending from Canada to the Texas Panhandle has been revised. Separate shelterbelts will be grown wherever good land needs protection—Here's huge scale welfare work for generations far unborn.

The maximum penalty assessable in Michigan for a violation of the game and fish laws was imposed on Victor Holmes, 18, of Iron River when he pleaded guilty to catching brook trout in closed season. Holmes, it is charged, was caught near Crooks farm with 124 brook trout in his possession. On arraignment in justice court he was given his choice of a $100 fine and costs of $7.25 or a 90-day jail term. He took the latter. Walter Gorotski, 22, of Iron River, was with Holmes at the time it is charged. He was accused of fishing for brook trout and pleaded guilty. In default of a $75 fine and $7.25 costs he took a 70-day jail term.

Students Treated To Unique Program

Last Wednesday the students of Lowell high were pleasantly surprised and royally entertained by two different programs. In the morning, Mr. Gumber's special English class put on a short "skit" to advertise the Senior play, "Hold Everything." This was very cleverly carried out in the form of a news broadcast. Actual scenes from the play were used and just as everyone was getting interested the curtain was drawn, and the command was given to "Hold Everything" until the time of the play. After several attempts at the news flashes, with Sam Yetter very ably performing the duties of the announcer, Burton Biggs gave a short pep talk. This program was then brought to a close by Bob Courtwright's speech on the details of the play. Perry Peckham acted as chairman. The second surprise and pleasure came in the afternoon when a delegation from Albion College put on an entertainment for the purpose of arousing interest in their school. The program started with their quartette singing a few selections. Next their soloist sang several numbers which were greatly appreciated by the audience and finally Dr. Harrison gave a short talk about the choice of a college and a few remarks about Albion. Seniors who were interested in college were given an opportunity to confer with Dr. Harrison. —Ethel Ann Thomas.
