NEW STUDENTS IN WIDE AREA TO COME HERE

OPENING OF THE LOWELL SCHOOLS ON SEPT 9 WILL FIND BIG INCREASE IN NUMBER OF NON-RESIDENT STUDENTS

The Lowell high school opens on Monday, Sept. 9. Supt. W. J. Gummer and Prin. W. J. Smith will be in their offices for consultation on Friday and Saturday, Sept. 6 and 7, and those pupils who are entering the Lowell high school for the first time should plan to arrange their schedules on these days.

As the home school districts will not have to pay any tuition this year, students may attend any high school they choose. The only requirement is that the pupil have an eighth grade diploma.

Each succeeding year has shown an increasing number of non-resident pupils attending the Lowell high school due to the fact that the school has the best of reputations, not only because of its educational standing, but also for its general activities in athletics, music, boys' club, girls' club, agriculture and animal husbandry.

The school is on the accredited list of the University of Michigan and is also on the list approved by the North Central Association, the highest recognition given to any high school in the state.

The faculty of the Lowell high school believes that the purpose of a high school is two-fold: first, to offer something of interest to those who will not continue their education upon graduation; second, to act as a college preparatory school.

See the display advertisement on another page of this issue for details as to courses, college requirements, etc.

Tests Help Farmers Grow More Potatoes

Lake City Station, Sept. 12, Will Prove Value of Scientific Work

The importance of agricultural experiment stations to the practical farmer will be shown at the annual potato field day at Lake City, Sept. 12, where the test plots contain new varieties which have shown marked immunity to yellow dwarf disease.

Yellow dwarf is carried from infested plants to healthy ones and the most feasible method of controlling the disease appears to be the development of varieties which are immune.

The Michigan State College specialists in charge of this potato breeding work say that these new varieties will have to be tried for two or three years more before they can say definitely that the immunity is certain.

Artificial attempts to infect the plants with yellow dwarf have been unsuccessful in trials so far.

Other experimental work at Lake City is just as important although not as unusual. Tests with the placements of fertilizer in planting potatoes will be interesting to potato growers who have had poor stands in their fields when fertilizer was mixed directly in contact with the seed pieces.

Twelve acres of potatoes out of the 40 now growing at Lake City are under irrigation. Two methods of furnishing water, porous hose and metal pipes, are being used. The metal pipes are in sections and have uprights which are topped with revolving nozzles.

Members of the staff of Michigan State College will discuss all phases of the experimental work during the forenoon. Samples of all potatoes will be dug and left on the ground so that visitors can see just what effects the different treatments have on yields and quality of stock.

V. R. Gardner, director of the experiment will talk about investigations being conducted by the College. H. M. Moore and E. J. Wheeler, farm crops specialist, will have charge of the program.

SINKING TEST OIL WELL HAS MANY HAZARDS

PERPLEXING PROBLEMS SEEM TO POP UP JUST AS OPERATORS FIGURE THEY ARE READY TO GO—COSTLY, TOO!

If persistency is to be rewarded, then it can be truly said that those in charge of drilling operations at Lowell's first test oil well certainly are deserving of the quest for upwards of four months of the quest has been going on almost continuously, meeting and surmounting the various obstacles that have arisen.

On one occasion, the drill became detached and could only be recovered by the importation of special grapping equipment used for such purposes; on another occasion, almost imperceptible rock formation was met with when only inches of progress were made in each twenty-four-hour period; on still another occasion, water flowed in which had to be sealed out, and this was no small job, working blind, in a hole 2,000 feet or more beneath the surface of the earth.

Have such obstacles and the great cost involved discouraged the drillers? They have not. Determinedly they are going ahead and if oil is there they are going to find it.

In brief, here is the situation at the writing of the test well on the Anton Kallinger farm just north of town: About two weeks ago J. C. Flannigan of Toledo, who recently became associated with the Lowell Development Co., decided to apply what is known as the acid treatment in the traverse vein at a depth of about 2100 feet.

The application of this treatment some forty or fifty barrels of oil were obtained. Mr. Flannigan then decided to treat with acid a second time at the same point and it was planned to reopen the well last Thursday or Friday.

Water began to seep in, however, and workmen have been endeavoring to shut out the water. As soon as they are successful in this endeavor, acid will again be applied. The purpose of the acid treatment is the eating away of rock, etc., so as to form openings therein through which the oil may flow to a given point where it can be pumped out by machinery in case there is not enough gas pressure to bring the oil to the surface in the form of a gusher.

Referring to the acid treatment mentioned above it may be mentioned that it is a matter of interest to our state that Michigan was the first state to try out this method on test wells and, as a result, many profitable oil wells have been found in Michigan that otherwise would have been only dry holes.

It is hard for the present generation to realize that no oil had ever been taken from the earth until the middle of the last century. Previous to that time grease was obtained almost entirely from animals. The discovery of oil brought light to the world and then caused men to apply his brain to the invention of labor-saving machinery.

John D. Rockefeller was a young man when oil was first brought to the surface in Pennsylvania. He investigated the find and then decided that his forte lay in refining the oil after others had found it.

Since the dawn of civilization, men have risked their fortunes, their health, and even their lives in the search for gold. They have done the same for "flowing gold" since about A. D. 1850.

Hiram F. Converse Passes at Age 49

Hiram Francis Converse, aged 49 years, passed away Friday, Aug. 23, in St. Mary's hospital, Grand Rapids, after a lengthy illness.

Mr. Converse, who was the son of George and Coletta Converse, was born in Vergus-tp., April 27, 1886. He moved with his parents to Keene-tp. when he was seven years of age.

Surviving are the widow, two children, Mrs. Frances Parker of Grand Rapids and Joy Converse; his mother, Coletta Condon; one sister, Mrs. Mildred Herp of Grand Rapids; one brother, William Converse of Keene-tp.; one grandson, Dickie Parker of Grand Rapids; other relatives and many friends.

Funeral services were held on Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the W. A. Roth funeral chapel. Rev. S. B. Wenger was the clergyman. Interment in Oakwood cemetery.

See Good Prospect For State Poultry

Fewest Hens on Farms in Years and Supply of Storage Eggs Is Reduced

Poultry owners in Michigan face an unusually favorable prospect for better returns for eggs and meat, according to the economics department at Michigan State College.

Prices showed a seasonal decline as the summer months are higher than one year ago. The number of hens on farms is the smallest since 1925 and the supply of eggs in storage is much smaller than one year ago.

Feed prices have been reduced and the supply is ample enough to keep feed price levels from advancing as they did last year. The combination of reduced numbers of hens, smaller storage stocks of eggs, and more reasonable prices for poultry feed will all work to the advantage of the poultryman.

Fluctuations in the numbers of poultry on farms occur in four-year cycles, with the number gradually increasing from the low point, as now, to a high point, which is due to occur in 1937 or 1938.

Good flock management practices will pay extra profits as egg and meat prices improve. Culling the laying flock to retain only the best producers from the old flock and to remove non-producing pullets will be important.

New Owners of Two Kent County Farms

John Jakeway of Sand Lake has bought a 40-acre farm tract 8 miles east of Sand Lake and is taking possession of it at once. It was announced to The Ledger this week by Samuel Newhouse, secretary-treasurer of the Grand Rapids National Farm Loan Association.

Mr. Jakeway is a potato dealer. The farm he has just bought is located about one mile from his present home. The place was formerly owned by Arthur Lambertson, but has been in possession of the Federal Land Bank of St. Paul for some time.

The sale was arranged through the cooperation of the association and the Federal Land Bank's representative in southern Michigan, John A. Doe, who has headquarters at Kalamazoo.

Another farm recently sold in Kent County is the former Robert A. Ford place 3 miles south of Lowell, which has been purchased by Clarence J. Place of Lowell. The present tenant on the farm, Mr. Place is expecting to put new roofs on the house and barn. This sale was closed by Mr. Doe.

Biggest Crowd at Parnell in Years

How would you like to be wakened from your sleep at one o'clock in the morning and then have the happy surprise of being informed that a nice, new, bright 1935 automobile has been presented to you and is now at your door? That was the experience that occurred to Miss Emma Kropp last Friday morning after the drawing held at the Parnell supper on Thursday night.

Miss Kropp now is driving the car to and from her home in Vergennes and her work here at the State Savings Bank and reports that she thinks the car is "just fine."

The supper, which is sponsored by St. Patrick's church of Parnell, was attended by the largest crowd of the past five years. Everybody had a good time and enjoyed another of those fine feasts for which the cooks of Parnell are rapidly becoming famous.

Works Starts Today On Sewer Project

Work started this Thursday morning on the WPA Lowell sewer project with ten men, a foreman and a time-keeper on the job. By the end of the week it is expected that this number will be increased to fifty and by Tuesday, Sept. 3, it is expected to have the full quota of seventy men at work. It was planned to have 25 men on the job this morning but only ten reported for work.

The job started this morning is one of the WPA projects which has been officially approved for Kent County and is a part of the federal government's 4.8 billion dollar public works program.

As soon as the local reservoir project is given final sanction the men will be transferred to that job in order to hurry it to completion, after which they will resume work on the sewer construction.

Vining Appreciates Lowell Cooperation

Grand Rapids, Aug. 27, 1935. Mr. Wilbur Burras, President, Board of Trade. Dear Mr. Burras: We would like to take this opportunity of thanking the Lowell Board of Trade and Lowell merchants for the generous help given the first annual 4th Club Fair and Achievement Day held last week.

The County Club Council, club members themselves, the parents and the writers deeply appreciate the support given.

We trust the effort was worth while enough that we can come to Lowell in 1936. Very truly yours, K. K. Vining, County Farm Agent. Mary S. Thompson, Home Demonstration Agt.

DONKEY BALL GAME WAS FUNNY

The donkey ball game played at Recreation Park last evening under auspices of the local American Legion post drew a large crowd which filled the grandstand, many of the bleacher seats in addition to large numbers in automobiles and others standing around. The crowd got a heap of fun from the antics of the animals and the players, too, for that matter. The proceeds will be used next Christmas time.

PETER ZYLSTRA, 74, DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS. Peter W. Zylstra, 74, passed away Monday at his farm home east of Lowell, following a long illness. Mr. Zylstra, who was born in The Netherlands, April 12, 1861, had lived for a great many years in this vicinity. He leaves to mourn their loss the widow and a stepdaughter.

Supplies of grass seeds commonly used by Michigan farmers will be much more ample this year than in 1934 when unfavorable weather conditions caused a very short crop, according to reports from the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.

The distinction of being the oldest fishing license in Michigan goes to Thomas Gordon, 49 Myrtle street, Grand Rapids. Gordon gave his age as 105 when he purchased his license on the fifth of July.

Approximately 6,800 fishermen, who are United States citizens, harvest in the neighborhood of 100 million pounds of fish from Great Lakes waters each year, says the United States Bureau of Fisheries. For this crop they receive about $6,000,000.

Frank Wolfson of New York was leaving the courtroom when all charges dismissed against him when someone in the crowd shouted: "He's the one; he's the one! He'd me up last February." Wolfson was called back, given a trial and sentenced to 40 years in prison.

A radio-phonograph manufacturer of Fort Wayne is wearing one of those "what-to-do-about-things" expressions. A while back he sold three custom-built sets to King Carol of Rumania. Now the king complains the dials are so low he has to kneel to tune them, causing "personal concern and inconvenience."

On September 28, 1935, republicans from the Fifth District, which comprises Kent and Ottawa Counties, will participate in one of the largest rallies and barbecues that has ever been sponsored. All National State officers will be invited and the affair which is to be held at Reed's Lake will bring together about 10,000 people.

A new one-dollar silver certificate—just a dollar bill to you—is being designed for the United States Treasury. The great majority of the United States will be placed on its back. The front will look about the same. Secretary Morgenthau said that the new design eventually will replace the present one-dollar certificates, which will be retired as rapidly as they can be accumulated.

A shrine to "King Pine" and the early lumbermen of Michigan has been constructed in Hillsdale. The new Pine State Park north-east of Grand Rapids in the form of a typical lumberman's camp, containing replicas of a camp mess hall, kitchen and workshop. The buildings are of log construction and were built by CCC men under authorization of the National Parks Service and the Department of Conservation.

Lake Odessa will be host to old residents and their families and friends at a home-coming to be held there on Labor Day. The crowds will be entertained every minute of the day by high class features including a good card of horse racing, horse pulling contests, free vaudeville acts, balloon ascensions and other acts and stunts. One of the main features is to be a Speed Boat Regatta in which some fast outboard boats are entered.

In a national straw vote among Republican leaders, Senator William Borah of Idaho is the first choice for presidential nominee in 1936. Col. Frank Knox of Chicago, formerly of Grand Rapids, is second choice; Gov. Alf Landon of Kansas, third; Frank La Follette of Illinois, fourth; and our own Senator Vandenberg, fifth. The result of this poll is interesting. The vote was cast by Republican politicians, county chairmen, city leaders, and young men coming up in the ranks of the Republican party.

While many indications have pointed to increases in automobile activity in this state in 1935, from the standpoint of both sales and usage, figures on gasoline tax collections for the first six months of this year show definite increase in the state government's revenue directly attributable to automobile activity. For the first six months of 1934, the Department of State turned over to the Auditor General a total of $9,734,179.28 in gasoline tax collections, while for the first half of 1935, the figure was $10,432,769.65, an increase of $698,590.37 for the period cited.

The alchemy of weather having transformed the plains of northern Michigan into fields of "blue gold," tens of thousands of residents of the state, young and old, have moved into the open for the cash-crop blueberry harvest, which to many means food and clothing for the winter months. Weather conditions have been so favorable this year that a bumper blueberry crop of exceptionally high quality is predicted, especially for the upper peninsula. Tent villages have appeared in many localities where the berries are plentiful and in a number of instances these temporary towns have populations of several hundred persons.

Barry County Fair To Be Among Best
The Barry County Fair Association has done and is doing everything possible to make this year's fair one of the biggest and best County fairs ever held in Michigan. For many days a crew of mechanics and laborers have been busy putting the grounds and buildings in first class condition. Everything in the way of needed repairs have been taken care of, fences rebuilt where needed and painted. Visitors will be pleased with the fine clean appearance of the grounds and property.

In the matter of entertainment the management has gone to considerable trouble to secure such attractions as it believed its Fair patrons would enjoy. Two fine revues will be shown in front of the grandstand daily with two changes of program. Other fine free attractions will be going on all afternoon of each day.

The race track has been put in fast condition and some of the best horses in Michigan will enter the races.

$7,000.00 is offered in premiums to exhibitors and every indication to date is that there will be unusually fine and large exhibits this year.

At Hastings Sept. 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7.
