

BATTLE WITH THE WEEDS

THE HOME OWNER in Lowell asks why it is that weeds prosper so easily, but the plants have to struggle so hard. That little tender plant succumbs to the first dirty soil that comes along, and every little dry spell shrivels it up to parched leaves. He can pull the weed out of the earth, and in a few days some overlooked root is sending up its green shoots as perky as ever. It is so with all good things. It takes long effort to cultivate the virtues, but the vices grow like sliding down hill. Such being life, the gardener will cease lamenting and try to get some fun out of his toils.

THE BACKWARD 20 PER CENT

ABOUT TWENTY per cent of the young people in the public schools of this country are said to be unable to go beyond the grammar grades. If put into high school courses, they make a failure there. That failure does them no good. It costs money to give them instructions they can't receive. And they are reconciled to the idea of failure, which makes them less desirable as workers.

Yet almost all this 20 per cent could do well as mechanics and other workers. They are often completely backward. They are backward simply in that they can't take in ideas easily from books at least in the more advanced subjects. The biggest problem of education is what to do with this 20 per cent of the young people who do not profit by the usual method. If left to themselves, some of them will become idle and disorderly. The country suffers a constant loss because they have not been encouraged to do their best.

In many cases all that is necessary is to find some useful job that they can do, and leave it to their employers to train them. If they can find work they usually come out well and they help carry on the country's affairs. Many of them are a little slow mentally and need a great deal of help. The failure to give them this help is costly to the country. Some of them drift into lawless ways and crime, some become vagrants and live on charity, and some work in an irregular way. Schools that teach mechanical trades, farming, etc., are the most practical expedient for dealing with these youngsters. It would pay for the country to spend a good deal more on such education than to let these young people come up without being fitted for any kind of work.

Advertising is one way of getting people to drive a few extra miles to their trading. Any town's best advertising medium is its local newspaper of dependable circulation. Such a newspaper can be a community development confidence in local institutions and makes more effective the work of moral and educational agencies.

HOW LONG SHALL WE WORK?

IN THE MINDS of many, the way to get all the unemployed people to work is to reduce the hours of labor in factories and stores. Then, it is argued, they will take more interest in these activities and we shall see more of the idle put to work. Perhaps shorter hours do have that tendency to some extent. It is very easy to carry that plan too far, and in so doing to make more unemployed. When people work shorter hours, it costs more to produce goods. Business is carried on at rather small profit and the producer can't be expected to work for nothing. Therefore, if his operating costs have been raised, he has to think up some way of saving money.

Some will save it by cutting out some expense that they think they can do without. That means throwing somebody out of work. Apparently many concerns have met this difficulty by putting in labor-saving machinery. It is often complained that such machinery causes unemployment, and no doubt it does for the time being. Higher labor costs induce people to put in such machinery, so this idea of reducing unemployment by increasing labor costs does not seem to work.

Some employers will try to raise prices when their costs are increased by running shorter hours. Perhaps that is the only thing they can do. The public is not in a mood to pay higher prices. It has a way of buying cheaper goods when more is charged for anything.

This problem of putting idle people to work is extremely complicated. If you make some rule that helps in one place, it is apt to pinch somewhere else. With all the work that needs to be done in this country and all the needs of the people, it should be possible to find work for everybody whose labor has any value.

WHEN SCIENCE GOES SOUR

SIR OLIVER LODGE, famous scientist, says the time has come for "science to call a halt on the things of the devil." He complains of such things as the wonderful modern discoveries could be used in warfare to throw bombs on innocent children.

Suit Is Started By the Calliers For $75,000

Claims Are Result of Automobile Crash

Damages totalling $75,000 are asked by Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Callier of Lowell, proprietors of the Strand theatre, from Dr. J. C. Foshee of Grand Rapids in three circuit court lawsuits filed last week. The actions are in the names of Mr. Callier, Mrs. Callier in her own right and as administratrix of the estate of Corinne Callier, 13, deceased.

All participants in the head-on crash between automobiles driven by Dr. Foshee and Mr. Callier, one mile west of Ada on M-21, last September 21, were critically injured and Corinne died May 6, 1936, from pleurisy and a streptococcus infection of the throat. It is alleged she contracted the illness due to her weakened condition.

Dr. Foshee spent the winter recuperating at Mayo Brothers' clinic in Rochester, Minn., and in Miami, Fla. The Calliers were confined to Blodgett hospital for a considerable time and, although now able to be around more or less, have not as yet fully recovered from their shocking experiences.

The bill charges Dr. Foshee with losing control of his car while driving at an excessive rate of speed. It is alleged he struck the Callier car while driving on the wrong side of the road.

In the accident in question Mrs. Callier suffered a fractured hip and jaw. Mr. Callier sustained severe scalp and face cuts and bruises, a fractured ankle and knee. Corinne received a fractured right arm and right leg and Dr. Foshee had fractures of the skull, jaw and nose.

Showboat Fountain Sighted in Pacific

The Showboat fountain, which wandered down Flat river some time ago, and was believed to be from Lowell, Michigan, U. S. A., was sighted in the Pacific Ocean, according to June 10 reports, has changed its mind again and rounded Cape Horn into the Pacific Ocean. The Steamer Excelsior, near Balboa and the Panama Canal, picked up the following radiogram, which reached the Ledger yesterday:

Are You an Expert At Cocking Alfalfa

July 31 on the campus at Michigan State College any farmer in the state may enter a hay cocking contest in a competition to decide what fork handler can put up ten cocks of alfalfa hay in the best shape and in the shortest time. The contest will be the opening feature at 9 a. m. in the annual Farmers' Day program, according to R. E. Decker, R. S. Hudson and D. H. LaVoi of the extension staff at the college.

Auto Owners Warned Of Sticker Deadline

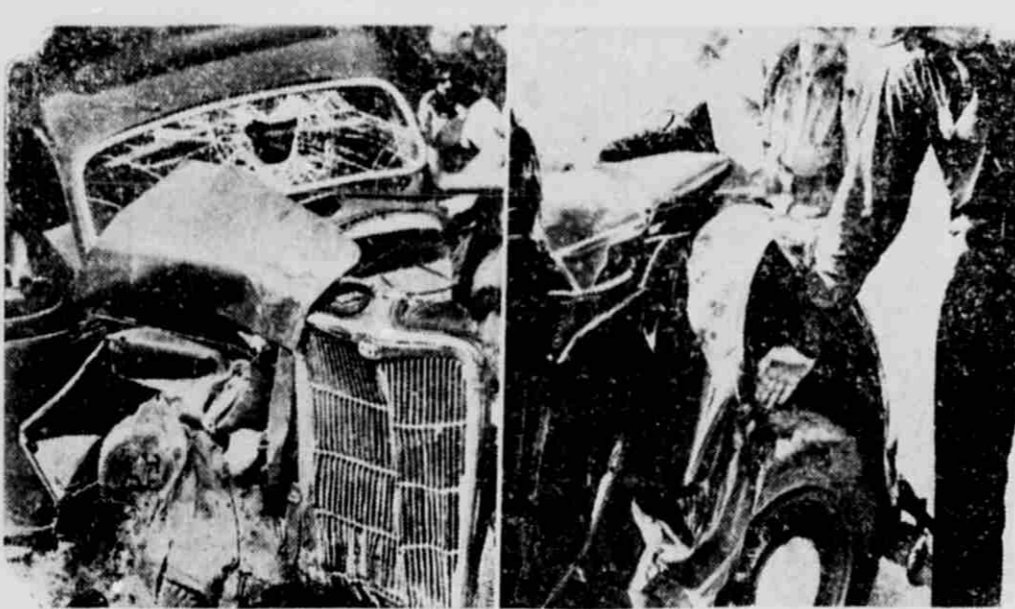

Use of automobile "stickers" or half-year permits will be illegal after midnight, July 31, and owners of motor vehicles in this state who expect to operate them after that time must equip them with 1936 license plates before then.

Orville E. Atwood, Secretary of State, points out that he is permitted no latitude, discretion nor power of extension and that only express authorization of the state legislature—not now in session—could delay or change this deadline.

Wreck Causes Starting of $75,000 Damage Suit

Council Consents To Change in Will

In regular session last Monday evening the village council formally closed Ottawa street from Broadway to Recreation Park. This was a disused platted highway running behind the Kellogg Vinegar plant.

Supt. F. J. McMahon of the Light & Power plant reported that two showers have been installed under the bleachers at Recreation Park for the use of trailer camp tourists. Electric light installations for twelve trailers are being made, Mr. McMahon said. The trailer camp will be completed in time for its advertisement in connection with the Lowell Showboat, Aug. 6, 7 and 8.

More Paving and Boulevard Lights

A material increase is being made this week in Lowell's paved streets, adding much to the improvement of the town. The additional streets to be treated with black top surfacing include the following: Lafayette, from Main-st. north to the school grounds, five blocks in N. Washington, five blocks in N. Jefferson, South Riverside-dr., from Main-st. to Recreation park and Monroe Ave. north to Oakwood cemetery. The work of laying the black top surfacing is being done for the village by the Kent County Road Commission at actual cost. The improvement is made possible from returns from Lowell's share of the gas tax refund.

G. M. Henry Speaker At Ionia Lions Club

Capital punishment was discussed by Gerald Henry of Lowell before the Ionia Lions Club last Monday noon. Most of the confused argument on the subject arises from the assumption of contentment on the part of talkers, writers and debaters as to the purpose of such punishment, whether exemplary, reformatory, deterrent, or merely vindictive, the speaker declared.

Showboat Tickets On Sale Saturday

Fifteen hundred nightly Showboat reservations at 50c, and 3,500 general admissions at 25c for the August 6, 7 and 8 productions, go on sale Saturday morning in a booth to be placed, gaily painted and bannered, on the south side of the East Main street bridge and just east of the King Milling Company offices. Mail orders may be addressed to Mr. Doyle. The booth will be in charge of Mrs. Rowland T. Ford and parking space in front will be set aside for Showboat purchasers.

Unusual Enterprise By Morrissey Firm

This week at the Regent theatre in Grand Rapids is the funniest of all Joe E. Brown pictures, according to many critics. To make this picture, the Caterpillar Tractor Company loaned six large "Caterpillar" tractors to the studios to play the role of "Earthworm Tractors." Nearly everyone has read at least some of the "Alexander Botts" magazine stories from which this picture was taken.

Kent Taxpayers Pay Lowest County Tax

Kent County taxpayers this fall will be met with the lowest county tax within memory, $2.06 per thousand of valuation, Melville B. McPherson, chairman of the state tax commission, declared in a vigorous and informative talk before the Lowell Rotary Club on Wednesday noon. The figure represents a decrease from $3.50 last year, and $4.75 the year before.

Government Salaries Minor Item

Referring to the common belief that official salaries constitute the major tax expenditure, he said that the annual payroll of the Lansing officialdom was $3,000,000. Farewell, Mr. Ford

The Ford Motor Company, a Delaware corporation owned by Henry and Edsel Ford, with $150,000,000 in taxable property on which levies are now met by sales all over the world, could easily abandon its Michigan operations, whose total value represent only a two-month payroll, he said. A similar situation exists regarding General Motors, the commissioner declared. Both are foreign corporations, and could not be reached by state income taxes such. Only personal assets could be assessed, and the large scale ones are enjoyed by outstate residents, the DuPonts, Alfred Sloane, and others who are not, or would quickly cease to be, residents of Michigan.

POOR OLD UNCLE SAM LOCAL GOVERNMENTS were spending $6,270,000,000 in 1929. In 1934 they were spending $32,000,000,000. What a swell idea to "chisel" and reduce the cost of local government.

On a per capita basis the National Government cost in 1934 and 1935 to the people more than twice as much in 1934 as in 1929.

McPherson Tells Of Dangers From Two Amendments

Income Tax Eventually

The adoption of a moderate controlled state income tax, balancing the sales tax and supplementary to it, will, however, come within a few years, Commr. McPherson prophesied. But any such income tax as would replace the property tax, amounting to upwards of one hundred million dollars annually, would be suicidal. He characterized the proposal, not as an amendment to the constitution, but a destruction of it.

The foodstuffs exemption is perfectly correct in theory, but caution was urged in making exemptions based on the interpretation of "necessaries" as of doubtful constitutionality and dangerous in precedent. Fuel and clothing might certainly be placed in the same category as certain classes of foods, he stated. A loss of from twelve to fifteen million dollars in state revenue, resulting from the proposed exemption, would certainly necessitate a curtailment of expenditures on schools, welfare and old age assistance, it was declared. Governor Frank E. Fitzgerald believes the issue should be left squarely before the electorate, Commr. McPherson stated.

He urged a boosting of the fifty dollars monthly sales tax exemption for the benefit of the small business man as a preferential alternative.

WPA Mistakes
Calling for a return to the fundamentals of representative government, Commr. McPherson commented that the WPA system is working backward, precipitating men into relief rolls, with consequent permanent dependence and loss of self reliance, when it should assist them in keeping off the welfare. The rule whereby the granting of relief assistance is a condition precedent to obtaining WPA employment is inherently vicious, he declared. Kent County relief rolls are climbing because large sums formerly expended by Grand Rapids in work relief for temporarily hard-pressed citizens now go toward matching federal sums devoted to the mass creation and regimentation of indigence.

Preceding Commr. McPherson's talk, which was arranged by program chairman Lawrence V. Rutherford, the club voted to dispatch a good will wire to Club secretary E. E. Coons, vacationing at Harbor Beach. Dr. D. H. Otley is pinch-hitting as secretary in his absence.

Richardson-Baker
The home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Clayton Richardson of Ada was the scene of the wedding of their youngest daughter, Evelyn Elyse, to Mr. Menno H. Baker of Kale, mazon on Tuesday evening, July 21, at 8:30 o'clock. The vows were spoken before an altar of live pine and ferns, banked with two five-branch candelabra and bouquets of pink and white larkspur and roses. Rev. William Headley of the Calvary Baptist Church, Grand Rapids, read the service.

The bride, given away by her father, wore a white satin gown fashioned along princess lines with a full length tulle veil and a puffed hair cap trimmed with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses and swansons. Miss Emma Covert of Lowell was maid of honor and wore a peach colored organza gown. Her arm bouquet was of pink roses.

Early Riepma of Kalamazoo was flower girl and wore blue organza. Edward Rowland of Grand Rapids acted as train bearer. Herman Baker of Grand Rapids attended the groom as best man and the ushers were Gale of Grand Rapids, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Walrath of Los Angeles, Calif., uncle and aunt of the bride, completed the wedding party as master and mistress of ceremonies. Mrs. Walrath wore figured crepe and the bride's mother a pink crepe jacket dress. Both wore corsages of pink roses.

Miss Charlotte White, pianist, and Bruce Walter, violinist, of Lowell played a program of wedding music including "Nocentini" by Chopin, "Lohengrin" by Wagner, "The Wedding March" by Mendelssohn, "The Glow Worm" by Paul Lincke, "I Love You Truly" by Carrie Jacobs Bond and "Souvenir" by Drilla.

A reception for the fifty guests followed the ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. Baker left for a motor trip through the East. They will sail from New York July 29 on the Queen Mary to spend four months in England, France, Scotland, Belgium and the Netherlands. After December first they will be at home in Kalamazoo where Mr. Baker is employed.

For going away, the bride wore a two-piece beige boucle ensemble with brown accessories. Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Walrath of Los Angeles, Mrs. Clyde Farthing and son of Oklahoma City, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Max Schmidt of Three Oaks, Mrs. Jennie Marema of Chicago, Mrs. Lillian Leach of Detroit, Mrs. Jacob Bush, John, Mary Jane, Betty Ann and Robert of Fruitport, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Riepma of Kalamazoo, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Peter DeVries, Misses Gertrude and Anna DeVries, Mr. and Mrs. B. Urges Planning In Tree Planting

Forester at Michigan State College Thinks Care and Selection More Important Than Volume in Reforestation

With the approach of the fall tree planting season for farmers seeking improved windbreaks, woodlots, landscaping, cellulose production or feed and shelter for game, Professor P. A. Herbert of the forestry department at Michigan State College urges greater care in selection of species and method of planting.

More than a million trees a year are being distributed from the two nurseries operated by the college at East Lansing and at the Dumble forestry experiment station. From inspections of plantings, Professor Herbert has drawn a tentative conclusion that volume of planting is far less important than proper selection and planting.

He urges farmers to consult with county agricultural agents who can obtain advice for them through the Michigan State College extension service. As an example of the need for advice and planning, he finds that in fields that slope down to swales, the difference in elevation and soil even in closely adjacent plantings requires selection of different species for the high and low ground.

Where plantings suffer from weather conditions or lack of proper planting, replacements should be made within two years. This is especially timely advice, according to Professor Herbert, in connection with the new type of snowbreaks being set out along highways where trees are to be used instead of the customary snow fences.

Urges Planning In Tree Planting

Forester at Michigan State College Thinks Care and Selection More Important Than Volume in Reforestation

With the approach of the fall tree planting season for farmers seeking improved windbreaks, woodlots, landscaping, cellulose production or feed and shelter for game, Professor P. A. Herbert of the forestry department at Michigan State College urges greater care in selection of species and method of planting. More than a million trees a year are being distributed from the two nurseries operated by the college at East Lansing and at the Dumbur forestry experiment station. From inspections of plantings, Professor Herbert has drawn a tentative conclusion that volume of planting is far less important than proper selection and planting.

He urges farmers to consult with county agricultural agents who can obtain advice for them through the Michigan State College extension service. As an example of the need for advice and planning, he finds that in fields that slope down to swales, the difference in elevation and soil even in closely adjacent plantings requires selection of different species for the high and low grounds.

Where plantings suffer from weather conditions or lack of proper planting, replacements should be made within two years. This is especially timely advice, according to Professor Herbert, in connection with the new type of snowbreaks being set out along highways where trees are to be used instead of the customary snow fences.

McPherson Tells Of Dangers From Two Amendments

Income Tax Eventually

The adoption of a moderate controlled state income tax, balancing the sales tax and supplementary to it, will, however, come within a few years, Commr. McPherson prophesied. But any such income tax as would replace the property tax, amounting to upwards of one hundred million dollars annually, would be suicidal. He characterized the proposal, not as an amendment to the constitution, but a destruction of it.

The foodstuffs exemption is perfectly correct in theory, but caution was urged in making exemptions based on the interpretation of "necessities" as of doubtful constitutionality and dangerous in precedent. Fuel and clothing might certainly be placed in the same category as certain classes of food, he stated. A loss of from twelve to fifteen million dollars in sales tax revenue, resulting from the proposed exemption, would certainly necessitate a curtailment of expenditures on schools, welfare and other public services, it was declared. Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald believes the issue should be left squarely before the electorate, Commr. McPherson stated.

He urged a boosting of the fifty dollar monthly sales tax exemption for the benefit of the small business man as a preferential alternative.

WPA Mistakes

Calling for a return to the fundamentals of representative government, Commr. McPherson commented that the WPA system is working backwards, precipitating men into relief rolls, with consequent permanent dependence and loss of self reliance, when it should assist them in keeping off the welfare. The rule whereby the granting of relief assistance is a condition precedent to obtaining WPA employment is inherently vicious, he declared. Kent County relief rolls are climbing because large sums formerly expended by Grand Rapids in work relief for temporarily hard-pressed citizens now go toward matching federal sums devoted to the mass creation and regimentation of indigence.

Preceding Commr. McPherson's talk, which was arranged by program chairman Lawrence V. Rutherford, the club voted to dispatch a good will wire to Club secretary F. F. Coons, vacationing at Harbor Beach. Dr. D. H. Oatley is pinch-hitting as secretary in his absence.

Social Events

The members of the Goofus Club met with Mrs. V. E. Ashley Wednesday afternoon. Honors were received by Mrs. Chris Leonard, Mrs. Louis Wingeier, Mrs. D. H. Oatley and Mrs. Clyde Collar.

The Lowell Contract Bridge Tournament which has attracted extraordinary interest during its two years of existence, closed last week for the summer, according to a statement of William C. Doyle. The tournament boasts that it is the only American organization of three persons or more which didn't start out by electing a president, vice president and a secretary. It has never had any officers, but Mr. Doyle acts as ex officio manager and spokesman. The exact time and place of the September re-opening will be announced in this publication later.

Jackson—Crane

Miss Mary Louise Jackson and Roland James Crane were quietly married Sunday, July 19, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Gramer. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. L. Bradley, pastor of the Lowell Church of the Nazarene.

Mr. and Mrs. Crane will make their future home in Lansing. They have the best wishes of their large circle of friends.

Hesseltine—Keech

Miss Irene Hesseltine of Grand Rapids and Lee Keech of Moseley were united in marriage on Monday by the Rev. R. S. Miller at the Lowell Methodist parsonage. Miss Helen Wittenbach of Vergennes and Edward Werner of Grafton attended the couple.

After spending several days on a motor trip in Northern Michigan, Mr. and Mrs. Keech will be at home in Moseley where he is the proprietor of the general store. Congratulations.

Club Holds Picnic

The S. Keene-N. Boston Jolly Community Club held their annual picnic at Fallsburg Park on Sunday July 19. About seventy partook of the beautiful potluck dinner, sponsored by the serving of ice cream. Under the direction of the sports committee, Mrs. Delmer and Mrs. Rickett, several contests were enjoyed by all. Among the prize winners were Roland Acheson, Margaret Ruesegger, Mrs. Sam Delmer, Helen Shores, Mrs. Arthur Acheson, Mrs. Godfrey Oesch, Mrs. Frank Ruesegger, Sam Delmer, Mrs. George Denton and Eva Ruesegger.

A pleasant day, thoroughly enjoyed by all, passed quickly by and the president wishes to thank all committees and each party in making it so successful.

A white linen table cloth with rose plaid and a blue stripe in border was lost by a member. It will be greatly appreciated if anyone finding this cloth will communicate with the president or leave at the club office.

—Mrs. Frank Ruesegger, Pres.

Richards—Baker

The home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Clayton Richards of Ada was the scene of the wedding of their youngest daughter, Evelyn Faye, to Mr. Menno R. Baker of Kalamazoo on Tuesday evening, July 21, at 8:30 o'clock. The vows were spoken before an altar of live pine and ferns, banked with two five-branch candelabra and bouquets of pink and white larkspur and roses. Rev. William Headley of the Calvary Baptist Church, Grand Rapids, read the service.

The bride, given away by her father, wore a white satin gown fashioned along princess lines with a full length tulle veil and a peaked halo cap trimmed with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses and swainsons. Miss Emma Covart of Lowell was maid of honor and wore a peach colored organza gown. Her arm bouquet was of pink roses.

Marilyn Rieppma of Kalamazoo was flower girl and wore blue organza. Edward Rowland of Grand Rapids acted as train bearer. Herman Baker of Grand Rapids attended the groom as best man and the ushers were Peter Veenema of Ada and George Gane of Grand Rapids. Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Walrath of Los Angeles, Calif., uncle and aunt of the bride, completed the wedding party as master and mistress of ceremonies. Mrs. Walrath wore figured crepe and the bride's mother a pink crepe jacket dress. Both wore corsages of pink roses.

Miss Charlotte White, pianist, and Bruce Walter, violinist, of Lowell played a program of wedding music including "Nocturne" by Chopin, "Lohengrin's Wedding March" by Wagner, "The Wedding March" by Mendelssohn, "The Glow Worm" by Paul Lincke, "I Love You Truly" by Carrie Jacobs Bond and "Souvenir" by Drda.

A reception for the fifty guests followed the ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. Baker left for a motor trip through the East. They will sail from New York July 29 on the Queen Mary to spend four months in England, France, Scotland, Belgium and the Netherlands. After December first they will be at home in Kalamazoo where Mr. Baker is employed.

For going away, the bride wore a two-piece beige boucle ensemble with brown accessories. Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Walrath of Los Angeles, Mrs. Clyde Farthing and son of Oklahoma City, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Max Schmidt of Three Oaks, Mrs. Jennie Marema of Chicago, Mrs. Lillian Leach of Detroit, Mrs. Jacob Bush, John, Mary Jane, Betty Ann and Robert of Fruitport, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Rieppma of Kalamazoo, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Peter DeVries, Misses Gertrude and Anna DeVries, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Pruitt, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Dietzinger, John and Helen, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rowland, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Heintzelman and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Rowland of Grand Rapids; Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Dieffenbaker and daughters of Dulton, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Dieffenbaker, Mr. and Mrs. Will Schrader and Mr. and Mrs. Ruben Heintzelman of Caledonia.

Many lovely gifts were left for Mr. and Mrs. Baker who have the sincere wishes of their host of friends here for many years of happiness together.

WHAT—no children!

THERE really isn't room any more because the Old Lady ordered her winter's coal supply and the shoe is full. However, when the children do come, she'll have more money to spend on them because she saved by ordering her coal early.
