COUNTING THE VOTES

ABOUT 44,000,000 votes are being cast at the election of November 3. To count all this enormous number of votes, for all the many offices, to get the returns forwarded and have them classified and added, is a clerical task of enormous proportions. If it had to be done for the first time, it might take weeks to accomplish it.

The newspapers and other agencies have been working on the job for many years. They have evolved a system that is a marvel of organization. Unless the race for president is unusually close, it is ordinarily possible to tell the result by midnight of election day.

If a number of states are in doubt, the result may not be known until the returns are practically all in. Even in that case, the result should be certain within 24 to 48 hours. Commonly the political arithmetic men can make an accurate guess of the vote of a state when they have received 10 per cent of the returns.

This system has to reach out into many thousands of remote precincts and provide means in advance for transmitting their results as quickly as the votes are counted. The older newspaper men can remember when many of the returns came by carriage or horseback. With our wonderful telephone and telegraph systems, the work is now partly simplified.

It still depends upon the promptness of many thousands of correspondents. If some sleepy reporter in a back district puts the return in the mail, he is liable to wait until next morning before sending it along, the fate of an important election may be in doubt. Every reporter charged with the duty of forwarding these returns should be on his toes. He is working on a vast machine on which the public depends for prompt information.

UNTRAINED YOUTH

FROM MANY industrial centers comes the report that skilled labor is scarce. The industries in former times made it their practice to keep taking on apprentices, who learned the various trades. As the older skilled workers dropped out, the apprentices became ready to take their places.

The depression led many industries to discontinue this practice. Now they are up against it for lack of skilled men. If they want to enlarge and expand, they will probably have to take on a lot of green hands. It pays in the long run to train an ambitious young man. His mistakes and slow work may cost something for a time, but his knowledge becomes an asset to any business after he has acquired skill.

THE PURSUIT OF FAME

MISS SALLY SALMINEN, a young lady from Finland who has been working for six years in various homes around New York city, has just won a $2100 prize for a novel written for a competition in Finland. So people often acquire success and fame while doing faithful work in some ordinary occupation.

If this young woman had devoted her entire time to writing that prize novel, she might not have come out so well. Probably she gained added insight into life as the result of her experiences in housework. Some young folks who start for Hollywood hoping to become film performers, might learn from her experience. Perhaps they would do better to keep working on some ordinary job, meanwhile taking part in dramatic performances in their own neighborhood. If they have real talent, they can get recognition anywhere. Fame is a very elusive critter to catch, and as slippery as the greased pig at the county fair.

EMERGING FROM THE DARK

ONE OF the country's most wonderful women, Mrs. Anne Sullivan Macy, died a few days ago. She taught Helen Keller, who was blind and deaf from early life, to read and talk. Mrs. Macy was also blind in early life, but recovered her sight, which she lost again a few years ago.

Brief Paragraphs, News and Information on a Variety of Topics

An eight-point buck deer is roaming Ingham county, less than a dozen miles from the capitol building.

A total of 227 new oil wells was completed in Michigan between Jan. 1 and Sept. 1 with an initial production reported at 49,678 barrels of oil daily.

The confiscated gun racks of the department of conservation are steadily filling up with rifles and shotguns forfeited by individuals who violated the conservation laws during September and the early part of October.

Not generally known, the Government has been holding off foreclosure on large numbers of farms, against which it has loaned money, until November, with prospects of a sharp pick-up in legal moves affecting thousands of farm homes.

Federal scientists are opening a new commercial avenue to American fur farmers. Breeding experiments now under way with Karakul sheep may ultimately open a field for which the American fur trade paid more than $2,000,000 last year.

Capitol Hill "insiders," according to The United States News, say that some members of Congress are busy with efforts to check foreclosures on city homes and the H. O. G., even after the owners have long been in default on their obligations to the Government agency.

Word is being passed in certain State Department circles that access to the new Italian Ambassador's credentials, designating him representative of the King of Italy and Emperor of Ethiopia, is in fact a recognition of Italy's sovereignty over Ethiopia.

More and more persons are taking to the air. An increase in pilots holding Department of Commerce licenses on Oct. 1, compared with the same date last year, is reported by the Department. On Oct. 1, there were 15,783 pilots as against 14,768 last year.

Exports of munitions and implements of war to China from the United States during September accounted for more than one-third of the total purchases of that nature by all countries. Of the slightly more than $2,000,000 total, China accounted for $782,119.

Some concern is being privately expressed in Administration circles, lest the enthusiastic reception given by the press to the recent international currency stabilization moves will lead the public to expect miracles in international trade and peace as a result of these steps.

The next President will be the First President to take office under the 20th or "anti-lame duck" amendment. Although ballots will be cast by voters on Nov. 3, the President will not actually be elected until the purchases of the Senate and the House, in joint session, count the electoral votes.

Reports from the United States Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Agricultural Economics indicate that the purchases of corn for 1936-37 are about one-fourth smaller than that available last year but about 7% larger than the short supplies of 1934. The short feed grain supplies are being supplemented by imports of corn largely from Argentina.

Two hunters were killed and eight wounded, one a woman, as the direct result of gun accidents during the first two days of the small-game hunting season in the lower peninsula. In addition, two hunters were killed and three wounded during the entire small-game season last year, 16 hunters were killed and 36 wounded as a result of gun accidents.

It takes twenty-five million meals a year to appease the appetites of the railroad traveling public of the United States. Tabulations made by the Association of American Railroads shows apple pie ranks first as the most popular dessert; 35 of every 100 meals are served with it. The second most popular is beef and a half million quarts of cream and milk is used every year.

Thirteen hundred persons who have been committed to institutions for the insane are jamming the streets of Michigan Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald said in a recent radio broadcast, because the State's institutions and hospitals are full and overflowing. The Governor cited this as one of the pressing problems faced by the State government, which must be solved "regardless of how the national election goes."

Typewriters can now be operated by radio. For a past year and a half the Bureau of Air Commerce has been operating an experimental radio typewriter service between Washington and Baltimore without the use of land wires. A new service costing $200,000 will be installed between Washington and Nashville. The radio typewriter is a joint development between the Government and private individuals.

"Michigan State Forests," a three-reel motion picture, will be released by the education division, department of conservation, Nov. 15. It was announced recently. The picture will be placed in the Department's film loan library and will be available for loan to any public organization for the cost of transportation. It deals not only with a pictorial history of Michigan's forests, but also shows present forest management practices, scenes in state forests and the various ways in which the state forests now are being utilized.

Budget Balancer

GOV. FRANK D. FITZGERALD

It is the irrefutable record of Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald that during the 20 months he has been chief executive of Michigan he took the state's finances "out of the red and placed them in the black." He did this by means of his pay-as-you-go policy until now there is a surplus of upwards of $8,000,000 in the state treasury.

It has been the avowed conviction of Governor Fitzgerald that the balancing of a budget is only the first half of a good job. The second half is keeping it balanced. "I shall combat to the limit of my power," says Governor Fitzgerald, "any tendency or any movement that threatens a return to government by deficit. What can a bankrupt unit of government do toward feeding the poor, training the unemployed, helping the aged, or providing for the crippled children?"

And it might be said at this point that the ten plans adopted by the Republican state convention at Grand Rapids are largely the views of Governor Fitzgerald as to the conduct of state affairs for the next two years.

A fine list of prizes will be offered in all classes of exhibits.

Notice To Voters

Third Party candidates having the endorsement of the national union for social justice are the district and national boards of the Townsend movement:

For President of the United States, William Lenke; for vice president, Thomas O'Brien; for U. S. Senator, Louis B. Ward; for congressional representative, George Veldman.

If you cannot see the joke of wholesale bank failures, the good bonds which are purchased for less than one year's interest on them, and which you are required to pay back two dollars for one; if you cannot enjoy a national policy of devastation and destruction of our food stuffs, and unless you are willing for our constitution to be made present under the Five-Year-Plan; if you are no longer to support an army of political fence riders; if you do not enjoy having private fight promoters to pick your candidates for governor, but prefer to elect one that has already been elected by the people; if you do not wish to face the possibility of a Twigg or a Dubinski to the Supreme Court in case of a vacancy in the next four years, which we doubt that you do, then think of the Christian people of Spain. Communism's best gift to them was a fleet of battleships to blast away their last privilege of Christian worship—then the above candidates merit your full support.

VOTE EARLY ON ELECTION DAY

The intense interest which is being manifested throughout the entire country in the present general election bears out the predictions of political observers that the largest vote by several millions will be cast next Tuesday, Nov. 3. It is calculated that upwards of 44 millions of people will go to the polls on that day. This means that the election boards in every precinct in the country—including the one in which you live—will have a tremendous amount of work to perform and it also means that every thoughtful citizen will cooperate by going to the polls and voting as early in the day as possible.

Keep this thought in mind. Do your best to arrange your affairs so that you can go to the polls early, at any rate, do not neglect to vote. That is your patriotic duty as well as one of the sovereign rights guaranteed to you by the constitution.

Note: On election day free automobile service will be provided for those who, because of sickness or otherwise, are unable to walk to the polls. Just phone No. 30 or No. 24 and an automobile will call at your door.

Standard Bearers of Americanism

Landon and Knox

Gov. A. H. M. Landon knows the problems of Michigan as evinced by his statements made on the occasion of his recent visit to this state. He is aware that the automobile industry, not only unaided but in the past hampered by New Deal dictatorship, is making great strides along the road to real recovery.

He pointed out that it was no government at Washington that built this great automobile industry, and he called attention to the fact that these plants within the state are paying higher wages and producing cars at lower prices than at any time in history.

He called attention to the all-important fact that it was not planned economy, such as President Roosevelt proposes for the United States, that brought about the development of this industry.

"The government at Washington did not make it possible for twenty million of our citizens to own automobiles," he asserted. "The government at Washington did not give employment to the millions in this new industry and the dozens of related industries."

New School Unit Amazes Patrons By Size, Beauty

Over 300 adult citizens attended the ceremonies which were held in connection with the dedication of a new school building last Friday night. Those who attended were amazed at the spaciousness of the new gymnasium-auditorium, and they were still more amazed when they found that they could hear every word of the program without any difficulty. The new gymnasium-auditorium should be in much demand for community purposes and the Board of Education will make every effort to have it properly equipped so that it will become an agreeable community center.

Program A Success

The high school band, gaily decked in their new uniforms, very appropriately opened the exercises by giving a concert which was greatly appreciated by the audience. F. F. Coons, secretary of the Board of Education, traced the history of the action of the Board, which were taken in connection with the new building. He also called attention to the fact that no provision has been made for such things as bleachers, lockers, auditorium chairs, tables and many other forms of equipment. Dr. Lee M. Thurston, Deputy Superintendent of Public Instruction, brought congratulations from his chief, Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, and he told about the value of American education, which compared conditions in countries which do not have equal opportunities for the children, with the State of Michigan which has always provided for an education at state expense for all of the children. C. D'Neil, Chief, Legation of Michigan Public Works Administration, in representing that organization told about the Federal plan of aiding virtually every county in the nation. He congratulated Lowell on being one of the communities to qualify for a Federal project. C. H. Ruciman, president of the Board, introduced other representatives of the PWA and of the WPA, the architect and the contractors. Miss Katherine Perry and Superintendent A. A. Rather of Ionia were also introduced and they gave a few words of congratulations. Mrs. Chas. Doyle, accompanied by Mrs. David Cox, delightfully sang two solos which were well received by the audience. Bruce Walter played two numbers on the violin, one of which was composed by Mrs. Walter, who was his accompanist.

Project To Be Finished Soon

The application for the final grant from the Federal government will be made sometime this week and as soon as this has been received and final payments made, the PWA will surrender all connections with the local building. The WPA is setting out trees and shrubbery this week and that phase of the work will undoubtedly be completed within a very few days.

Bill Stone wants to know how a mallard duck can tell time.

Last Saturday Mr. Stone clipped the wings of the 175 member flock maintained by the King Milling Company, examining each bird carefully for concealed watches, and found none. Nevertheless, at 5 o'clock, at the dot, the ducks assemble beneath the mill for grain feeding. The flock has been reduced from 300 to 175 birds by poachers who drive them down the river to capture and death, and by snapping turtles which, although displaying a slightly higher quotient of moral principle, affix themselves to birds' feet, drown, and eat them. During the open season the flock will be sequestered in the Cutter Factory mill race, William C. Doyle has stated.

Brucker, Mapes Speak at Rally

Kent County's share of the New Deal debt, $22,891,000, was cited by Wilbur M. Brucker, Republican nominee for United States Senator, as a cogent reason for repudiating the Roosevelt New Deal administration at the polls next Tuesday, at a Republican campaign rally in the Yeter Block headquarters Wednesday at 1:30 p. m.

The former governor pleaded for a return of American principles to government, and a cessation of the "riotous spending" of the people's money which has marked the last three years in Washington.

He was preceded at the microphone by Congressman Carl E. Mapes, twelve-term veteran who is seeking re-election on a basis of experience and proven capability.

Art Masterpieces To Be Shown Here

Among the former artists there will be Leonardo da Vinci, Titian, Van Dyck, Raphael, Gainsborough, and many other famous painters. Among more modern pictures will be found those from the brush of George Inness, Ben Foster and Gustave Wiegman.

This collection has been loaned to us for the purpose of raising a fund with which to purchase some much needed pictures for our schools. The exhibition will be here during the week of November 15.

So. Boston Grange To Hold an Auction

South Boston Grange has completed arrangements for an auction sale in the hall Thursday evening, Nov. 5, to raise money for needed equipment and decorating in the hall. A good program will be given and refreshments served at the close of the sale. N. C. Friday, The 13th, Unlucky For Rats

Fat rats, skinny rats, big and little rats—all are invited to the banquet of tempting red squill bait on Friday night, Nov. 13th. The bill of fare for the banquet to the rats, that is available through the cooperation of the Agricultural Extension Service and the U. S. Biological Survey, consists of meat, fish and cereal, each mixed with red squill, in the right proportion and put up in air tight tin cans.

A package of the bait will make about 100 small baits, enough for the average infested set of buildings. Directions for using the bait, state that it should be put in half teaspoonful quantities and grouped so that rats can choose the kind they like best. To avoid any chance of pets or other beneficial animals accidentally taking some of the red squill bait and becoming sick, it is best to feed them well the night

Re-Elect Mapes

CARL E. MAPES

When it comes to voting for congressman next Tuesday, there is but one really worthwhile thing to do and that is to re-elect Carl E. Mapes, the Republican candidate from the 5th District, comprising the counties of Kent and Ottawa. It has been stated, and with truth, that "it would be the height of folly to lose the tremendous advantages to the district which goes with seniority, with long service in the lower house of the Congress."

As has been pointed out, the real work of the House is done in the committee rooms. New members are placed at the tail end of the least important committees. The older member in point of service, the more important his committee, the further up in the line he finds himself. Carl Mapes has been in the House so long that today he rates the most important committees and is pretty nearly, if not actually at the head of the minority representation of those committees. That is where his influence and ability really to serve come in. For that reason alone, to displace Mapes would be to lose all the advantage of these important committee assignments.

Every citizen of this district knows that Mapes has looked well to the interest of his constituency. He has been most faithful in rendering every service asked of him. The real test of a Congressman is in the general election. In Administration, in committee assignments and in the influence he has among his fellow members, Mapes has passed the test. It is for the best interest of the Fifth District that Mapes be re-elected on Nov. 3.

Old-Time Parade On Election Eve

Not since the gay nineties (horse and buggy days) when election feeling ran high, will western Michigan have seen such a pre-election parade as has been promised them on next Monday night, by the Kent County Republican Committee, according to Wallace Stanley, general chairman.

Floats, bands, red flares, torches, decorated automobiles, noisemakers and a general massed enthusiasm for the victory which they confidently expect, climaxed with the final pre-election address by Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg in the Civic auditorium. The parade will gather on Bridge Street and promptly at 7:30, rain or shine, will move down Michigan to Monroe, up Monroe to Fulton Park and will disband so that participants and spectators may return to the auditorium for the address.

"Michigan State Forests," a three-reel motion picture, will be released by the education division, department of conservation, Nov. 15. It was announced recently. The picture will be placed in the Department's film loan library and will be available for loan to any public organization for the cost of transportation. It deals not only with a pictorial history of Michigan's forests, but also shows present forest management practices, scenes in state forests and the various ways in which the state forests now are being utilized.

WHY NOT?
 Little Dora, aged seven, is extremely precocious for her years. She is also, inordinately fond of her maternal grandfather, who resides with her parents.
 "Mummy," she said, when a fashionable wedding was being discussed, "when I've grown up I shall marry granddad."
 Her mother told her that such a union would be illegal and finished up by saying "Well, in any case, I couldn't allow you to marry my father."
 "Why not, mummy?" queried the precocious one. "You married mine, didn't you?"

CATTY
 Ella—How did I look in my new evening dress last night?
 Kate—Charming, dear, isn't it wonderful how much a dress can do for one?
 Cut Both Ways
 An old gardener always had an answer for everything. On one occasion he was told by his employer to mow the lawn.
 "Cut it short," she said, "for an inch at the bottom is worth two at the top," says London Tit-Bits.
 Donald did the work, and when it was finished he was offered a drop of whisky. The employer poured it out, but showed signs of stopping before she had filled the glass.
 "Fill it up, ma'am," said Donald. "An inch at the top is worth two at the bottom."

To warm over a fruit pudding which has already steamed, put it into the top of a double boiler and set it in boiling water for a half hour.

In the early days of the World War, the seat of the French government was removed from Paris to Bordeaux.

For a long time the cotton states sent away all their cotton, but now there are many mills in the South.

FOOTBALL
 Lowell and Rockford, traditional annual football rivals since their first bitter three-game series of 1917, clashed again on the Rockford field last Saturday before a large homecoming crowd. The heavy Rockford squad rushed the locals off their feet at the outset, scoring two touchdowns; while a second-half rally by Lowell was good for a tally but failed to pull the fat from the fire, and the final whistle blew on a 13-7 score favoring the north Kent city.

FOOTBALL

Lowell and Rockford, traditional annual football rivals since their first bitter three-game series of 1917, clashed again on the Rockford field last Saturday before a large homecoming crowd. The heavy Rockford squad rushed the locals off their feet at the outset, scoring two touchdowns; while a second-half rally by Lowell was good for a tally but failed to pull the fat from the fire, and the final whistle blew on a 13-7 score favoring the north Kent city.

Cut Both Ways

An old gardener always had an answer for everything. On one occasion he was told by his employer to mow the lawn.

"Cut it short," she said, "for an inch at the bottom is worth two at the top," says London Tit-Bits.

Donald did the work, and when it was finished he was offered a drop of whisky. The employer poured it out, but showed signs of stopping before she had filled the glass.

"Fill it up, ma'am," said Donald. "An inch at the top is worth two at the bottom."
