HAVE YOU GIVEN?

WHEN YOU READ of the noble work which the American Red Cross has done in relieving the victims of disaster in helping people take care of themselves, the question arises why more people do not contribute to this splendid work.

As just one item, the Red Cross cared for 130,000 stricken families in 17 flood swept states in 1936. Who would refuse a gift to those pathetic families, driven from their homes by a torrent of dirty water?

THE POLITICAL PARTIES

IN EVERY national election there is an effort to organize one or more political parties to contest with the historic Democratic and Republican organizations. Claims are made of the tremendous vote such new movements are going to roll up.

SKETCHES BUILD NOTHING

WHEN COLUMBUS discovered a new world, he was full of skeptics who said there was no land across that ocean. If Columbus and other navigators had kept listening to such people until this time, our marvellous continent would never have been discovered.

HOLIDAY TRADE OUTLOOK

DISPATCHES from business centers give hopes that the holiday trade will be the best since 1929. The people have more money to spend than they had a year ago. The better times in the factories, greater prosperity on the farm and heavy tourist travel the past summer, indicate that the country is on the up grade.

GOVERNMENT AND WELFARE

ONE COMMENTATOR on the recent election remarks that it represents the feeling on the part of the American people that the federal government should do more toward promoting human welfare. Those who were defeated in the recent election may question that statement. Still it is probably true that the people expect the United States government to devote more attention than formerly to human welfare.

When the government was founded, little attention was paid to the economic welfare of the people. If a family did not acquire such welfare, it was commonly supposed to be their own fault. The main business of the government was to provide national defense. The infant republic was menaced by powerful enemies, and the feeble little colonies had to stand together to keep from being crushed. Very few regulations were made to control the daily life of the people.

Now life has become extremely complicated, vast systems of industry have arisen, and it is not so easy for the citizen to provide for his own welfare. Many people feel that the calls for more regulation of daily life by the federal government.

There are limits beyond which the people will not stand such control. It was thought, for instance, when national prohibition was enacted in 1920, that such control of liquor by the federal government would provide more welfare. But after a few years, the people would not stand for such centralized control. They demanded that each state have the right to regulate liquor for itself.

Will it work that way as respects the regulation of industry? The times seem to indicate more control by the federal government, but it has to be exercised with discretion, or there might be a reaction like the overthrow of prohibition.

Appreciate Flag

The Bennett school wishes to thank the American Legion and the WPA for the beautiful flag given them. We shall try to live up to the ideals it represents and be loyal to the republic for which it stands.

Social Security Program Started Here This Week

Employer to Furnish Names of Help

On Monday of this week the national Social Security board took the first step toward placing in operation the old age security program for 26,000,000 workers in Lowell and every other town, village and city in the state and nation began delivering application blanks to all employers of one or more persons. These blanks are to be filled out and returned by Nov. 21 and they will show the number of workers each employer has on his payroll.

On Nov. 24 other blanks will be distributed to all employers, and shortly thereafter each will receive an account number. The old age security plan will become effective Jan. 1, 1937, and will entitle workers to annuities when they reach the age of 65.

Under provisions of the Social Security Act employers will deduct 1 per cent of the wages of all eligible workers after the first of the year, to be paid into the U. S. Treasury. Employers will contribute a like amount for use toward payment of annuities. These deductions will increase until employer and employee alike is contributing 3 per cent of the workers' wages.

All persons working for salary or wages, excepting those in agriculture, domestic service in private homes, government service and a few other excluded occupations, are eligible.

The plan is expected to enable millions of workers to retire at the age of 65 with a monthly income for life, the amount of the income being based on their previous wage records. If the worker dies before 65, stored up cash values will be paid his family.

The Social Security board emphasizes that while the underlying nature of the plan is that of listing all workers is of unprecedented proportions, the plan in which 45,000 Postoffice employees will co-operate will be conducted with all possible convenience to employers and employees.

The postal employees will distribute applications for an account number and for an identification number to be issued each eligible employee and employer.

The nature of the application requires the signature, address, occupation, age, sex, color and information as to whether the applicant is registered with the United States Employment Service.

For employers the application requires address, name of business, approximate number of persons employed, detailed description of nature of business and, if manufacturing company, the nature of the product, and whether the establishment is a branch of subsidiary company.

The identification card will carry the number assigned the worker and his signature. Application forms all will be delivered on or before December 1. As soon as full information has been supplied postmasters, employers and employees may obtain full information from all post-offices.

The board announces distribution of the application forms throughout the country will be distributed to employees, through their employers, forms known as "Application for Social Security Account Number." These employees' application forms will be distributed to all work places and will also be available, after such distribution, at all post-offices. Local postmasters will announce when these forms are available.

The employee's application is a simple form asking a few questions such as name and address of the worker, name and address of the employer, the date and place of birth, and father's and mother's name. When the worker has provided this information on the application, he may return it, without paying any postage, in any of five ways:

"By handing it back to the employer, or

"By handing it to any labor organization of which the worker is a member, or

"By handing it to a letter carrier, or

"By delivering it personally to any local postoffice, or

"By mailing it, without postage, in a sealed envelope addressed simply to the postmaster.

On the return of this information to the postoffice a social security account will be set up for each person eligible and he or she will be furnished with a card comparable to an insurance identification card—certifying that an account has been set up and bearing the number of the employee's social security account so as to make it easy for the worker to find out at any time just how his or her account stands."

Pioneer Church Near Destruction By Fire

Lowell Baptist church had a narrow escape from what might have been a destructive fire last Friday during the noon hour. Workmen have been engaged for several days in repairing and decorating the church, and during their absence a quantity of tar boiled over causing, it is thought, the stove to explode.

The pastor, Rev. A. J. Hoolema, expresses appreciation in saving the property from destruction in the following communication: "The Baptist Assembly wish to commend the village of Lowell on the splendid fire department service at the fire Friday noon, utmost care and very good judgment was shown in every phase of their efforts, good harmony, splendid team work, and very good head work. Water and other damage was confined to only the basement. They also wish to thank all those who contributed in one way or another to the work of rebuilding the damaged rooms, and the M. E. Church for the donation of an organ replacing the one that was burned. "If any one else would care to have a part in the reconstruction of this old landmark (the church was organized in 1854) send it in care of the pastor."

M. Shivel, Mr. Doyle's sister, who with Mr. Shivel hastened to Danville upon word of Mr. Doyle's illness.

Dr. B. H. Shepard, the family physician, went by airplane last Saturday to Mr. Doyle's bedside, returning home Wednesday evening.

Beginning on Nov. 16, post-offices throughout the country will distribute to employers a form known as the "employer's application for identification number." This form will ask of the employer only seven simple questions, answers to which will enable the Postoffice Department to know how many employees' application forms to deliver to each employer.

Then, beginning on Nov. 24, post-offices throughout the country will distribute to employees, through their employers, forms known as "Application for Social Security Account Number." These employees' application forms will be distributed to all work places and will also be available, after such distribution, at all post-offices. Local postmasters will announce when these forms are available.

FOR the moon and the stars that shine, For the stout heart that beats with mine, For my home and its daily cares, For dreams that grow along the years, For those friends whom I hold most dear, For my senses, e'er keen and clear, For the seasons which come and go, For the books that I've learned to know, For music and its lovely way, For the sun pouring out gold all day, For the hills of my native land, And the clasp of my children's hand, For the life that binds me to these Let me be thankful, dear God—please!

A party claiming to represent American Legion Post of Grand Rapids has been in town upon three or four occasions of late soliciting subscriptions for newspapers and magazines. American Legion officials inform the Ledger that the solicitor is obtaining orders under false pretenses and the public is warned not to patronize him. It's a pretty good plan to require strangers to furnish bona fide proof of their claims.

Loses Left Hand In Power Cornhusker

Harold Simpson, 35, who formerly resided four miles west of Lowell on M-21, and was a popular Lowell high school student, had the misfortune to lose his left hand at the wrist when he slipped and fell into a tractor-powdered corn husker at the family farm three miles north of Saranac, during late afternoon last Thursday. Efforts of his father, Oliver and Harold Pant, hired man, to stop the husker before the member was mangled, were fruitless.

First Agr. Fair By Local School Is Well Received

Promises to Grow In Interest Yearly

The Lowell High School and Community Agricultural fair, sponsored by the Agricultural Department of the Lowell high school, was a great success, not so much because of the number of entries, but because of the spirit and enthusiasm which prevailed during the two days at the high school auditorium.

The high school division had twenty entries, while in the open class, there were only three who came through with exhibits. However, this was our first attempt, and I am sure that next fall there will be a goodly number of exhibits in both the open and high school divisions.

Five of the business men showed their interest by displaying commercial exhibits. They were Lowell Sprayer, W. A. Roff, Lowell Metal Products, Price Rite Hardware and W. E. Hull. The following were the winners:

High School Division: Marjorie Gross, 1st on Yellow Dent corn, $1.00, 2nd on potatoes, 50c; Howard Acheson, 1st on plate of Northern Spy apples, $1.00; Roy Heimbecker, 1st on pie pumpkin, 50c; John Smelker, 1st on peck of oats, $1.00, 2nd on potatoes (Katchidi), 50c; James Jasperse, 1st on plate Wagners, $1.00, 2nd on carrots, 25c, 2nd on potatoes (White Rurals), 50c; Richard Kerekes, 2nd on oats, 50c, 1st on Red Wheat, $1.00, 1st on carrots, 50c, 2nd on beets, 25c, 2nd on potatoes (Katchidi), 50c, 2nd on field pumpkin, 25c; Glenn Connor, 1st on Winter Squash, 50c, 2d on Winter Squash, 25c; Jack Hale, 3rd on plate of Northern Spy, 50c, 2nd on plate of Jonathans, $1.00, 3rd on plate of 1st on turnips, 50c; Raymond Denny, 3rd on peck of oats, 25c, 2nd on cabbage, 50c; George Blocher, 2nd on peck of White Wheat, 75c, 2nd on pop corn, 50c; Dan Wark, 1st on tomatoes, 50c; Royal Clark, 2nd on plate of Winter Bananas, $1.00, 1st on plate of Delicious, $1.00, 1st on plate of Delicious, $1.00; Edwin Roth, 1st on peck of oats, $1.00; Allen Roth, 1st on cabbage, 50c, 1st on field pumpkin, 25c, 2nd on Yellow Dent corn, 50c; Richard Beimers, 2nd on plate of Northern Spy, 75c, 3rd on plate of Jonathans, 50c, 1st on plate of R. CHAMP MOUNTAIN CUMBER
A DISPATCH from Vancouver, B. C., tells how Arthur Marshall, a railroad traveler, has completed his ambitious plan to climb the highest peak in each of the 48 states of this country. He has now reached the top of Mount Washington, which is the highest mountain in the United States. Marshall's trip was a remarkable feat, as he had to climb some of the most rugged peaks in the country. He is now planning to visit the other 47 states.

THE INCREASE OF JOBS
THE GOVERNMENT figures show that 1,400,000 more people have found work in non-agricultural industries during the past year. While this is not quite the rapid gain the people had hoped for, it means that the progress of the country is well ahead of the depression. The government reports that the number of jobs in manufacturing and other industries has increased by 1,400,000 since 1935.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS
"Where there's a will, there's a way," is a saying that has stimulated many a man to success. It is true also of cities and towns. Where there is a strong will to accomplish some reasonable aim, they can usually do it if they work hard enough.

The Old Bailey Church in Vergennes

Oh, turn the time backward—Just for today.
Let us mingle awhile with old neighbors and friends.
Let's be happy and carefree and gay.
Back in the old Bailey Church in Vergennes.

How dear to my heart are the memories of childhood.
As they fill through my mind like birds in the air.
Oh, the old turn of the road that ran through the woods.
And the bright Sabbath mornings as to church we'd repair.

How dear to my heart are the memories of childhood.
As they fill through my mind like birds in the air.
Oh, the old turn of the road that ran through the woods.
And the bright Sabbath mornings as to church we'd repair.

How dear to my heart are the memories of childhood.
As they fill through my mind like birds in the air.

WHY

Chile Adopted Standard of Red, White and Blue.
 Chilean independence began on September 18, 1810, when the patriots of Santiago, now the capital of the republic, deposed the last Spanish captain-general and established a provisional government. Two years later a choice of national colors was made, blue, white and yellow being selected, the last-named being taken from the flag of Spain. These were the three colors that formed the Chilean banner, which was unfurled at Santiago by the side of the flag of the United States, on the Fourth of July, 1812. This banner was accepted as the national standard of Chile until 1817, when, after the victory of Chacabuco, which was decisive in giving Chile its independence, a new tricolor flag, composed of the present red, white and blue, but of different design, waved over Chile. The permanent national flag dates from October 17, 1817, when, through a decree of the supreme dictator of Chile, Gen. Bernardo O'Higgins, it was officially adopted. The lower half of the flag is red, and the upper half white with a blue canton in the upper left-hand corner, occupied by a large five-pointed white star. This star is taken from the pennants used by Chilean Indians in the past, and also recalls the geographical position of Chile, the most southern country of the American continent.

Why Apples Are Red No More Puzzle to Experts

Laboratory workers of the Department of Agriculture have partially solved one of nature's most closely guarded secrets—why some apples turn red.

Dr. Henry G. Knight, chief of the bureau of chemistry and soils, announces for the first time that the coloring matter which makes apples red has been isolated.

This pigment is known under the scientific name of lutein. Previously this coloring material had been found in European cowberries which are closely allied to the American cranberry.

The yellow coloring which is seen in apples has not yet been isolated, but it probably is similar to the coloring matter found in carrots, the scientists believe. This substance is closely related to vitamin A.

Why the Cow "Ticked"
 A New Jersey farmer lost his watch and chain while milking some months ago. He couldn't understand it. He was sure the watch had been safely in his waistcoat pocket when he began the job. Recently he sold the cow to a butcher. When the animal was killed and cutting up started, the butcher heard a faint ticking. Then he found the farmer's watch and chain in the cow's windpipe. The watch was still going. The butcher believes the cow wound it up in breathing.

Why Sphinx Is "Wonder"
 Dr. George S. Duncan of the department of Assiriology and Egyptology of the American university says that the ancients considered the pyramids of Gizeh near Cairo as one of the seven wonders of the world. These three pyramids included also the group of structures including the Sphinx, so in a very important sense the Sphinx is part of the wonders of Gizeh taken together as one wonder.

 Birds roost on telegraph wires without being electrocuted because they are not in contact with the ground or a return wire and therefore the current does not pass through their bodies.

Why Floors Squeak
 A squeaking in hardwood floors is caused by floors not being properly nailed or when subflooring is omitted or laid parallel to flooring strips. An experienced floorlayer will remove the squeak.

Wash the burners on your gas stove frequently with soap suds and water. Clogged burners dull the flame and lessen the heat obtained from gas.

To remove cinder or sand from the eye, place one or two grains of flaxseed in the affected part, or drop castor oil in the eye freely.

Social Security Program Started Here This Week

Employer to Furnish Names of Help

On Monday of this week the National Social Security Board took the first step toward securing in operation the old age security program for 20,000,000 workers.

On Nov. 24 other blanks will be distributed to all employers, and a short time later each will receive an account number.

Under provisions of the Social Security Act, employers will deduct 1 per cent of the wages of all eligible workers after the first of the year, to be paid into the U. S. Treasury.

All persons working for salary or wages, excepting those in agriculture, domestic service in private homes, and a few other excluded occupations, are eligible.

The plan is expected to enable millions of workers to retire at the age of 65 with a monthly income for life, the amount of the income being based on their previous wage records.

The Social Security board emphasizes that while the undertaking of listing all workers is unprecedented, the procedure is simple.

The postal employees will distribute applications for an account number and for an identification number to be issued each eligible employee and employer.

The applications for employers requires the signature, address, occupation, age, sex, color and marital status of the employer.

For employers the application requires address, name of business, approximate number of employees, a detailed description of nature of business, and if manufacturing company, the nature of products and whether the establishment is a branch of subsidiary company.

The identification card will carry the number assigned the worker and his signature. Application forms all will be delivered by early in December.

As soon as full information has been supplied postmasters, employers and employees may obtain their information from all post-offices.

The board announces distribution plans as follows: "Beginning on Nov. 16, post-offices throughout the country will distribute to employers a form known as 'Application for Social Security Account Number'.

"The employer's application is a simple form asking a few questions such as name and address of the worker, name and address of the employer, the date and place of birth, father's and mother's name.

"By handing it to any labor organization of which the worker is a member, or by handing it to a letter carrier, or by delivering it personally to any postoffice, or by mailing it without postage—in a sealed envelope addressed simply to the postmaster.

"On the return of this information to the postoffice a social security account will be set up for each person eligible and he or she will be furnished a card-comparable to an insurance identification card—certifying that an account has been set up and bearing the number of the employee's social security account.

Thanksgiving

FOR the moon and the stars that shine, For the stout heart that beats with mine, For my home and its daily cares, For dreams that grow along the years, For those friends whom I hold most dear,

For my senses, e'er keen and clear, For the seasons which come and go, For the books that I've learned to know, For music and its lovely way, For the sun pouring out gold all day, For the hills of my native land, And the clasp of my children's hand, For the life that binds me to these Let me be thankful, dear God—please!

Russia as a country of tragedy, with the rainbow's end of communism revealing nothing but degradation, physical and spiritual poverty and despair, was depicted by Rev. Fr. John Gabriels, pastor of the Church of the Resurrection, Lansing, in a talk before Lowell Rotarians on Wednesday noon.

The destruction of the middle classes, which might have led the way to a new order, was pointed out by Rev. Gabriels before the high school assembly later in the afternoon. As with local Rotarians, he was accorded a rousing reception.

Hundreds Attend School Sessions

Several hundreds of people attended the open house conducted by the schools on Tuesday night. It was the first time in several years that an open house had been held and the people seemed more interested than ever because of this fact. All of the rooms were taxed to capacity and unfortunately the visitors were not able to find seats. The industrial arts department, which is a new department, was visited by over 200 people. Cider and doughnuts were served through the goodness of C. H. Humeiman and the Board of Education.

Art Exhibit a Success

The children of each grade represented living pictures which were very interesting to the large crowd. The audience was compelled to remain standing because at present the school district does not own a sufficient number of chairs.

A party claiming to represent American Legion Post of Grand Rapids has been in town upon three or four occasions of late soliciting subscriptions for newspapers and magazines. American Legion officials inform the Ledger that the solicitor is obtaining orders under false pretenses and the public is warned not to patronize him. It's a pretty good plan to require strangers to furnish bona fide proof of their claims.

First Agr. Fair By Local School Is Well Received

Promises to Grow In Interest Yearly

The Lowell High School and Community Agricultural fair, sponsored by the Agricultural Department of the Lowell high school, was a great success, not so much because of the number of entries but because of the spirit and enthusiasm which prevailed during the two days at the high school auditorium.

The high school division had twenty entries, while in the open class, there were only three who came through with exhibits. However, this was our first attempt, and I am sure that next fall there will be a goodly number of exhibits in both the open and high school divisions.

WHY

Chile Adopted Standard of Red, White and Blue.

Chilean independence began on September 18, 1810, when the patriots of Santiago, now the capital of the republic, deposed the last Spanish colonial government. Two years later a choice of national colors was made, blue, white and yellow being selected, the latter being taken from the flag of Spain. These were the three colors that formed the Chilean banner, which was unfurled at Santiago by the side of the flag of the United States, on the Fourth of July, 1812.

This banner was accepted as the national standard of Chile until 1817, when, after the victory of Chabuco, which was decisive in giving Chile its independence, a new tricolor flag, composed of the present red, white and blue, but of different design, waved over Chile.

The permanent national flag dates from October 17, 1817, when, through a decree of the supreme dictator of Chile, Gen. Bernardo O'Higgins, it was officially adopted. The lower half of the flag is red, and the upper half white with a blue canton in the upper left-hand corner, occupied by a large five-pointed white star. This star is taken from the pennants used by Chilean Indians in the past, and also recalls the geographical position of Chile, the most southern country of the American continent.

Why Apples Are Red No More Puzzle to Experts

Laboratory workers of the Department of Agriculture have partially solved one of nature's most closely guarded secrets—why some apples turn red.

Dr. Henry G. Knight, chief of the bureau of chemistry and soils, announces for the first time that the coloring matter which makes apples red has been isolated.

This pigment is known under the scientific name of lutein. Previously this coloring material had been found in European cowberries which are closely allied to the American cranberry.

The yellow coloring which is seen in apples has not yet been isolated, but it probably is similar to the coloring matter found in carrots, the scientists believe. This substance is closely related to vitamin A.

Why "Percy" Is Not Effeminate

Why the name "Percy" is so often regarded as effeminate is a mystery, as no name in history has more masculine associations. A member of the Percy family was a follower of William the Conqueror and from then on the Percys were fighting men. One was among the barons who forced the Magna Charta from King John, another took prisoner King David II of Scotland, another fought at Crecy, and several were outstanding in the Wars of the Roses and other struggles. Sir Henry Percy was such a frebrand he was given the name of Hotspur. Several Percys figured in Shakespeare's plays. They became dukes of Northumberland.

Why the Cow "Ticked"

A New Jersey farmer lost his watch and chain while milking some months ago. He couldn't understand it. He was sure the watch had been safely in his waistcoat pocket when he began the job. Recently he sold the cow to a butcher. When the animal was killed and cutting up started, the butcher heard a faint ticking. Then he found the farmer's watch and chain in the cow's windpipe. The watch was still going. The butcher believes the cow wound it up in breathing.—Pearson's Weekly.

Why Sphinx Is "Wonder"

Dr. George S. Duncan of the department of Assriology and Egyptology of the American university says that the ancients considered the pyramids of Gizeh near Cairo as one of the seven wonders of the world. These three pyramids included also the group of structures including the Sphinx, so in a very important sense the Sphinx is part of the wonders of buildings taken together as one wonder.

Why It Is Called "Pop"

Some sweet, nonintoxicating drinks containing carbon dioxide were named "pop" because when the bottles were opened the corks were expelled with a pop or quick, explosive noise. The original name was "soda pop," but was soon shortened to "pop."

Why Earth Is Dropped on Casket

The reason that some religious services require earth to be dropped on the casket as it is being lowered into the grave is that the act symbolizes the return of the body to dust.

Why Floors Squeak

A squeaking in hardwood floors is caused by floors not being properly nailed or when subflooring is omitted or laid parallel to flooring strips. An experienced floorlayer will remove the squeak.

Wash the burners on your gas stove frequently with soap suds and water. Clogged burners dull the flame and lessen the heat obtained from gas.

To remove cinder or sand from the eye, place one or two grains of flaxseed in the affected part, or drop castor oil in the eye freely.

When the city of Washington, D. C., was laid out, it was near the geographical center of our country, but now, of course, it is far from the center.

YOUR LETTERHEAD CAN BE made any size you desire, with any printing you like. Estimates gladly given. Lowell Ledger.

Odds and Ends

Farmers of the future may destroy weeds by chemicals. Experiments to develop an economical and safe chemical for weed eradication are now being made by the Department of Agriculture.

A total of 628 miles of highways will have been surfaced in Michigan during the construction season now drawing to a close. The program will also find the completion of twenty bridges and twenty-nine grade separations.

Indications point to an increase of more than 25 per cent this year in the traffic over the Straits of Mackinac on the state-operated ferry system, 181,409 vehicles having been transported across the Straits during the 1933 season up to Nov. 1.

Consensus fund of the Treasury now totals $624,113. The fund has accumulated since the establishment of the Treasury from sums sent in by anonymous donors causing their consciences of intentional or unintentional dishonesty in dealings with the Federal Government.

Plans are being considered for introduction of legislation to the next session of Congress to regulate installment buying practices. Objective is to give the Federal Reserve power to control inflationary tendencies which might arise out of over expansion of installment credit.

Enough paper to supply double that now used in the United States could be manufactured from the wheat, oat, rye and other straws grown on farms in the central area of the country, according to an estimate made by the national bureau of standards. It announces a new process for making paper pulp out of straw.

Sale of motor vehicle license plates for 1937 is proceeding at the rate of slightly more than 1,000 pairs a day. Department of State figures show, plates for 1937 went on sale Oct. 21, so ordered by Orville E. Atwood, Secretary, as an aid to car manufacturers who bring new models out in the fall now, rather than during mid-winter.

Nearly 90,000 acres of state land will be made available to the oil industry of Michigan for private exploration and development when the department of conservation holds its public auction of state-owned oil and gas lease rights in Lansing on Dec. 3 and 4. The lands involved are scattered through 12 counties as follows: Arenac, Bay, Clare, Gladwin, Isabella, Midland, Montmorency, Newaygo, Ogemaw, Osceola, Otsego, and Roscommon.

At the outbreak of the World War Myron T. Herrick was ambassador to France from the United States.

Red Cross Potential Life Savers Number Nearly 2,000,000

First aid and life saving certificates issued by the American Red Cross since the start of the service 26 years ago now number 1,888,702. During the past year the Red Cross qualified 222,693 persons in first aid and taught water safety and rescue methods to 80,961.

This army of First Aiders in Life Savers is one of the great safety factors in the nation. They are trained to give immediate first aid at the scene of accident, thus saving many lives and preventing permanent injury. Red Cross training includes skill in treating for shock, splinting fractures, checking arterial bleeding, applying artificial respiration, towing drowning persons to safety, and in the safe handling of boat and canoe.

Last year the Red Cross reached 10,000,000 homes with check lists or accident hazards in a nation-wide program to reduce the incidence of home and farm accidents. This year home accident fatalities were cut by several thousand according to statisticians. A similar campaign has been launched this year through Red Cross chapters.

Woman's Club

The regular meeting of the Lowell Woman's Club was held Wednesday, Nov. 4, at the home of Mrs. S. B. Wenger. Very interesting reports were given of the Kent County Federation meeting at Rockford. Mrs. W. E. Hall, as program chairman, presented Rev. S. B. Wenger, who spoke upon the subject, "Some Educational Problems in Our State". The people of this state need often to remember the words of the Ordinance of 1787, that "Religion, morality, and knowledge being necessary for good government, schools and the means of education shall forever be encouraged." Problems discussed were, first, the changing trends in school financing, with increased need for state aid as the property tax is decreasing; second, the requirement for larger school units; and third, the necessity for recognizing movements of the population, the necessity for adjustment to flux of population. We must continue in the spirit of Michigan education of the past, that provision may be made for the youth of the future, that all may have the opportunity for the abundant life.

The program delightfully concluded with two songs sung by Mrs. Charles Doyle, "Indian Dawn," by Zamecnik, and "Last Night," by Frank Grey.
