

ABOUT 25 former soldiers, all the survivors of an army of 83,347 furnished by Michigan in the Civil War that are physically able to attend, will meet in Detroit June 10, 11 and 12 to hold the 99th annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic. This reunion reminds us of the great heritage of the G. A. R. which has been summarized in the following words:

"The Grand Army of the Republic is a unique organization. No child can be born into it. No proclamation of president, edict of king or czar can command and authorize it. No university or institution of learning can issue a diploma authorizing its holder to entrance. No act of Parliament or Congress secures recognition. The wealth of a Vanderbilt cannot purchase the position."

"The doors are open only on the presentation of a bit of parchment, worn, torn and begrimed as it may be, which certifies to an honorable discharge from the armies or navies of the Nation during the war against the rebellion, and, unlike any other organization, no new blood can come in."

"There are no growing ranks from which recruits can be drawn into the G. A. R. With the consummation of peace through victory its ranks were closed forever; its lines are steadily growing thinner, and the ceaseless tramp of its columns is with ever-lessening tread. The gaps in the picket line grow wider every day."

"Details are made for the reserve summoned into the shadowy regions until by and by a solitary sentinel will stand guard, waiting until the bugle sounds from beyond the last muster of the comrades of the Grand Army of the Republic."

SOLVING RELIEF PROBLEM

THERE IS MUCH to be said in favor of the plan, now being discussed in Washington, for throwing half of the burden of unemployment relief back upon the states and municipalities. The plan that the states cannot afford to carry the load of the unemployed is realized that, whether Federal, state or local funds are used, they all come out of the pockets of the taxpayers—the same taxpayers.

The merit of the plan is that it would tend to much more careful scrutiny of relief rolls by state and local officials. It would also tend to ministering relief and raising half of the money locally. There would be much less extravagance and in all probability a great reduction in the number of persons found to be in actual need of relief.

This may not be the best possible solution, but it seems better than the present situation. It is certain that relief expenditures by the Federal government cannot continue forever as a permanent part of our national economic system.

THE FLAG OF OUR COUNTRY

ON JUNE 14, 1777, the continental congress of the United States adopted a resolution providing for the flag which is now the symbol of our country. The only change has been the addition of a new star every time a state was admitted to the union. This flag that once had but 13 of those glorious stars now has 48. Every one of them is a valued and beloved member of the grand sisterhood, and each one has made contributions of the greatest value to American development.

People sometimes speak disrespectfully, but it seems better than the present situation. It is certain that relief expenditures by the Federal government cannot continue forever as a permanent part of our national economic system.

Second, schools for all. Not all the schools are what they should be, yet they do more for our young people than is done on any other continent.

Third, an opportunity for all. While these opportunities are not all one can wish, it is still true that a young person who shows fidelity, industry, and mental ability can obtain recognition and rewards. Long may the flag wave that assures these principles.

MEETING THE PUBLIC NEED
SOMEONE was speaking of a person who has achieved a rather remarkable business success. How did he do it? The answer was that he had a very keen perception of the things the public wanted, and he proceeded to give the people those things.

Farewell Address

Commencement
Wednesday Evg.

Forty eight Seniors are scheduled to participate in Baccalaureate and Commencement exercises which will take place during the week of June 13. The graduates have been very busy during the last days of school and are looking forward to the final week which will be crowded with various forms of activities. The high school orchestra will furnish music and Miss Nina Clark will render a solo. The public is invited to the services and there will be no reserved seats.

Commencement Exercises

Parties, picnics and banquets occupy secondary places in the hearts of the Seniors when it comes to comparing them with graduation. The actual receipt of their diplomas will mark the peak in their experiences at school. The graduation exercises will be held in the new school auditorium Wednesday June 16, at 8 p. m. and the program promises to be very outstanding. The address of the evening will be delivered by Reverend H. Ralph Higgins of St. Mark's Church in Grand Rapids. Reserved seats have been issued to members of the class and the holders of these tickets will be entitled to seats until 7:45. There will be no reserved seats after 7:45. Annual Reception
A Brilliant Event

Tuesday evening one of the prettiest affairs of the year was held in the new school gymnasium where the Juniors of Lowell High School entertained the Seniors in the annual reception. The room was beautifully transformed into the garden of a Southern plantation, complete with a starry sky, an old oaken bucket and negro servants.

After the dinner a program of toasts and music was given. Robert Finis, introduced by Beth Burdick, acted as chairman, who in turn presented Richard Lampkin, who toasted the Seniors; Carol June Smith who complimented the Juniors; John Cordtz and Sarah Bannan, who toasted the girls and boys respectively. Bruce Walter played a violin solo. W. W. Gummer sang two songs and Charlotte Fitch played a piano solo. Little Miss Marjorie McQueen entertained the group with a tap dance and song.

Mrs. Hannah Reynolds gave the address of the evening, an inspiring talk based on the character and achievement of Dr. George W. Carver, the famous negro scientist of Dreeskeog Institute.

The evening was spent in dancing to the music of Al Moore's rhythm orchestra. During the intermission a group of high school students presented a floor show.

Credit for the success of the reception goes to Beth Burdick, general chairman; Virginia Hosley banquet chairman; Ted McDonald, program chairman and Maxine Roark, invitation chairman and sponsor. Lee Miller and Miss Arlova VanPurseum. The excellent dinner was prepared by several of the mothers of members of the Junior class.

Fingerprinting
Recommended to All

The Lowell Rotary club at their regular Wednesday noon meeting heard W. R. Jones from the identification division of the Michigan State Police. Mr. Jones told of the work of the identification division in solving crimes and identifying civilians who have become lost or killed in accidents. In Michigan the civilian fingerprint file is becoming one of the largest in the world. The protection of life fingerprints which has heretofore only been available to the criminals, is now available to every citizen of Michigan. School children are being protected by this method of identification in county schools of Barry, Calhoun and many others. The Lansing schools are also giving their pupils this protection. Any citizen may have his fingerprints taken and filed at any police station or sheriff's office. Mr. Jones was brought to Lowell by chairman of the meeting, W. A. Roth, who announced that next week's meeting will have as speaker, A. S. Kellogg of Chicago.

Tulip Time in Alto

Alto Garden Club Creates A Beauty Spot

About a year ago, Ed. O'Harrow and Mrs. Fred Pattison of Alto, having plants to spare in their gardens, conceived the idea of turning an unsightly spot at the end of main street, between the depot and Floyd Hunt's into a flower bed. On a Saturday afternoon, with the section men grubbing, Matt Matternick used the tractor to pull out huge tree roots and large stumps, breaking two log chains in process. Several other men in Alto did nobly, holding the plow behind the tractor, then dragging, using shovels, etc.

The huge stumps were piled at the back in a half moon shape, making a lovely rock garden.

Miss Adeline Hunt drove the truck and with the assistance of interested people drew top soil. Two round beds were made and planted, while the rest was seeded. These flowers made it a beautiful place all summer.

Now every one in Alto was getting interested and a notice was placed in The Lowell Ledger for all who would like a garden club in Alto to meet at the home of Mrs. Fred Pattison on July 9th, 1936. So many came that it was thought advisable to organize a club, which was done, and it has been very successful, in civic work and financially.

The members exchanged plants, had social affairs, and took interest in the 25c annual association dues gardens. Last fall the club met and planted nearly 500 tulips in the beds. Ladies who cared to and were able to plant the bulbs while some prepared a fine potluck supper, at the home of Mrs. Matt Matternick, who resided in Alto at that time. From this planting lot this fall the club has 150 tulips ready for planting. Many people have remarked that the beds presented as fine an appearance as those in Holland.

The garden club members number about 45 now. They have cleaned and mowed along the railroad right of way, making the south end of main street very neat looking and they hope to prepare a vacant lot this fall at the north end of main street and next door to a supervised playground, outlined by a neat white fence with Zinnias around the front (as that

The addition of sleeping rooms and bath and extensive rearrangement, both exterior and interior, have been made to the home of Mrs. Anna Yardley on W. Main-st.

Recent improvements in Main street business places include new flooring in the Lowell bakery, repainting interior of the Fitzgerald restaurant and redecorating of the interior of State Savings Bank.

Washout Causes
Big Damage to Bridge and Mill

Repairs May Cost $10,000 or More

A washout under the east end of the Main-st. bridge early Tuesday morning put the feed mill of the King Milling Company out of commission shortly after starting the day's work. The washout occurred when the water found its way around the piling, put in under specifications of the state highway department two years ago when the new bridge was built, and gradually made a hole large enough so that on Tuesday morning it gained enough impetus to start washing out the fill-in sand and gravel from under the sidewalk and pavement. After washing the lighter soil away, it washed out the supports of the flume gate and the supports of the feed mill. The pavement and sidewalk were immediately roped off and investigation began.

The damage is much more than appears on the surface and it is estimated that the cost of repairing may reach as much as $10,000 or more. The foundation under the northwest corner of the mill was washed out so that the corner of the mill dropped down several inches. The mill wheel dropped down from the washout, throwing it out of gear. The sidewalk and pavement will have to be torn up and filled in where the washout occurred and new cement abutments put in. It will be necessary to construct a coffer dam and divert the water through the other channel in order to make the repairs.

The washout was kept from doing greater damage by the quick action of the mill hands in opening all the dam gates and letting the water out. William C. Doyle, secretary of the King Milling Co., announced Tuesday that the flour mill would be in operation as soon as the coffer dam is built and the feed mill will begin operation after motors are installed.

Claude Thorne, proprietor of the Regent Barber Shop, last week completed a six months' course in all phases of beauty culture in a Grand Rapids institution and in the near future expects to take the State Board examination. After which he plans to install here one of the most completely equipped beauty parlors to be found anywhere in the state.

W. A. Roth has completed the redecoration of the stores of the building formerly known as the Yeiter block which he recently purchased and began moving his furniture stock to his new location the first of this week. The stock will be all moved by this week Saturday. Mr. Roth plans to have a formal opening of his new establishment about July 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kraz, who live about a mile and a half northwest of Lowell, were in town Saturday afternoon with the first home-grown strawberries to be offered for sale here. They report that these berries are a week later than their first ones last year, probably due to the frost in the spring which did a great deal of damage to the crop.

Over at Bad Axe they are doing what the Ledger has advocated persistently for Lowell, viz: Sponsored by the Bad Axe garden club, that city has adopted the dwarf Yellow Wonder as its official flower. Thousands of the plants are being made available to residents at half a cent each. The demand has been so great that additional orders for plants have gone out to nearby greenhouses for a new supply.

Tuesday morning with the excitement of the mill washout, few people saw the little wild woodcock family come around the corner of Ralph's and down Main-st. to the bridge by the Beach & Outman shoe store. Stopping at the bridge's brink, gathering her five ducklings to her, the mother gave a couple of quacks, then flopped off the bridge into the river. The ducklings lingered at the edge until one got up courage enough to follow, then the rest did likewise.

Rev. Charles W. Boman arrived here this week to assume the pastorate of the local Baptist church. Successor to the late Rev. J. H. Hoolmes, who is now located at Skeels' Tavern. Rev. Boman has been engaged in evangelistic work for sometime past, having just completed a 50,000 mile tour. The new pastor and his wife are having a hard time to find a home which again emphasizes the fact that more homes are needed here. Something should be done about this important matter.

In last week's issue we mentioned that the Lowell Common Council had on June 1 paid $10,000 on its Water Works Bonds and another $10,000 on Hydro-Electric Bonds. We might also have added that in March the council paid $1,000 on outstanding paving bonds. In addition during the past year the council has paid approximately $4,800 on the Diesel engine contract. The payments on the bonds mentioned above were made from a sinking fund established some time ago. A very good showing.

Last Monday marked an epoch in the life of Master Jackie Callier which will linger long in his memory. The lad enjoyed two great experiences, one a trip from Grand Rapids to Detroit by airplane, after which he went out to Navin Field where he saw the Detroit Tigers defeat the New York Yankees 4-3 in one of the most thrilling ball games of the year. He saw Whistling Jake Wade, Tiger pitcher, strike out eight of the first ten batters to see him. On top of that he saw Big Hank Greenburg hit a homer with Charlie Gehring on base ahead of him. It was a great pitcher's battle, with Gomez for the Yanks allowing 8 hits while Whistling Jake gave up only 4 hits. Jake was accompanied on the trip by his father, Harvey Callier.

How To Obtain Dust Layer For Roads and Streets

Because of lack of funds the Kent County Road Commission has been forced to adopt a conservative policy in regard to placing dust layer on roads and streets. Most of the main county road system will be treated as in the past, but all roads taken over from the townships during the last six years under the McNitt Law including platted streets cannot be treated unless the people living on the roads or streets provide the cost of the chloride. In such cases the Road Commission will spread the chloride at county expense.

The Road Commission will keep a supply of chloride in its warehouse and will furnish same at $1.00 per 100 pound sack. One hundred pounds of chloride will cover 100 square yards of surface when applied one pound to the square yard, which is a generous treatment. This is equivalent to 112 ft. of road applied 5 ft. wide or 56 ft. of road applied 16 ft. wide. Roads and streets should receive this application at least twice during the season.

Allowing for intersections it would be safe to figure 100 pounds of chloride, 16 ft. wide, for each 50 ft. lot. Two applications per year would require 200 pounds, a cost of $2.00 for 50 ft. of street. If property owners on both sides of street divide the cost, the cost to each would be $1.00 per year and street.

Those requesting this service should make payment at the main office of Kent County Road Commission, 1500 Scribner Ave., N.W., Grand Rapids, in person or by mail. Requests wherever possible should be for at least one block of street, otherwise the spreading cost would be excessive. Anyone who wishes to cover a small area and is willing to spread the chloride at Road Commission warehouses in Grand Rapids, Sparta, Cedar Springs, Rockford, Ada or Caldon.

The Kent County Road Commission has jurisdiction over all roads, streets and alleys outside of incorporated cities and villages.

Lavan to Speak at Athletic Banquet

The annual Athletic Banquet for high school athletes and the men of the town will be held this Friday evening at 7:00 o'clock in the high school gymnasium.

Dr. John Lavan, a former big league pitcher for New York and who is now a member of the Grand Rapids Health Department will be the speaker of the evening. Awards will be given to all the athletes and trophies to the senior boys.

Those desiring tickets may purchase them for fifty cents at Christiansen's or from the high school boys.

Were Here at Turn of Century

JOHN F. THOMAS

J. F. Thomas, superintendent from 1900 to 1906, has promised to come, and the committees feel that his presence will virtually assure the success of the banquet. Mr. Thomas, now assistant superintendent of the Detroit Public School system, remains as unassuming and approachable as the day when he first came to Lowell. His friends here are legion, and always turn out full force to greet their former preceptor.

A second well-known and liked figure from earlier days will be E. E. Crampton, present superintendent of the Roseville schools. Mr. Crampton headed the local system following Mr. Thomas, returning after an interval for a second administration. Mr. Crampton, like his predecessor, retains through the years a large local personal following.

Thirdly, but by no means least, will be Mrs. Alice Morris Peckham. As Miss Morris, fresh from the university of Michigan, she was principal, or "preceptress" to use the then current title, under Mr. Thomas. Subsequently, during the years preceding the untimely death of A. G. Peckham, she contributed greatly to the social and cultural life of this community. Mrs. Peckham, now a Grand Rapids resident, has promised to attend the banquet.

These three are only representative of the throng of old friends and classmates, from 1875 to 1937 who will gather at the gymnasium of the new school unit on the evening of June 18. All are cordially urged to attend.

L. H. S. Nine
Has Fine Record

With Cordtz, Ellis, MacDonald, Briggs and Slater leading the attack, the local team finished the 1937 baseball season with a win over East Grand Rapids last Thursday afternoon. The boys' jumping on the offerings of Morgan, East's pitcher for 16 runs while East scored 6 runs on 7 errors and 6 hits. Billy Dawson thrilled the crowd with a spectacular running catch of a hard hit ball into left field in the fifth inning. In the third inning, Thorne was doing nicely on the mound for the locals when, in fielding a ground ball, he wrenched his knee so badly that he had to leave the game. Slater finished the game allowing only four hits in four innings and striking out four.

Four boys, John Cordtz, catcher, William Dawson, fielder; John Thorne, pitcher; Russell Kyser, fielder, will graduate and finish their high school careers. These boys will be missed. However, if Slater and John Briggs continue to improve as pitchers and Condon, Smelker or Engle make a good pitcher the local team should go a long way next year in completing infield returns. This season's record was six wins and four losses. The reserves won three and lost two.

Mrs. Lida Kyser, 79 Laid to Rest

Lida A., eldest daughter of Alanson and Mary Youngs, was born in LaGrange, Indiana, July 26th, 1858. Her childhood was spent in Berlin Township, Ionia County, where she was married July 24th, 1880 to Charles F. Kyser, to which union nine children were born, all of whom are living with the exception of the oldest daughter, Blanche, who died in early childhood. Mr. and Mrs. Kyser lived in Orleans for a few years, moving from there to the farm in South Boston, where they lived until 1916, at which time they purchased the home in Lowell. Mr. Kyser passed away in Jan. 1924, since which time she has lived in her own home until a week ago when she was taken to the home of her daughter, where she passed away June 2nd. The funeral services were held on June 5 at the Lowell M. E. Church, the Rev. R. S. Miller officiating, after which the W. R. C. funeral service was given by members of that order. Orrin Stenken sang two appropriate solos accompanied by Mrs. Harold Weekes at the pipe organ. Burial in Saranac Cemetery. Pallbearers were six of her seven sons. She was always active in church work, being a member of the Lowell Methodist Church, the Greene Circle, and the Women's Relief Corps. She leaves to mourn their loss one daughter, Mrs. Mabel Bovee, seven sons, Roy, Howard, Carl Edward, Ralph, Myron and Smith, twenty-seven grandchildren, seven great grandchildren, a sister, Mrs. Alice Trumbull of Saranac, a brother-in-law, F. H. Slessem of Lansing, and many other relatives and sincere friends.

"The depths of sorrow we cannot tell. Of the loss of one we loved so well. And while she sleeps a peaceful sleep. Her memory we shall always keep."

Card of Thanks
 We desire to express our heartfelt thanks to all the neighbors and friends for their many acts of thoughtfulness and kindness and to the W. R. C. and the M. E. Ladies Aid during the illness and death of our beloved mother, Mrs. Lida Kyser.

The Children

Garden Lore Club

Mrs. N. E. Borgerson entertained the club at her home June 8. She was assisted by Mrs. Avery and Mrs. Pappin. The president, Mrs. Elmer White, conducted the usual formal opening. Mrs. Yeiter read two appropriate selections, "Talking in Their Sleep" by Edith M. Thomas, and "Little Chickens".

Discussions of projects followed: The problem of exterminating box elder bugs; a report of placing flowers in our churches on Sundays; the question of restoring the beauty and use of the islands; Plant petunias now! Cover the unsightly places, plant them around telephone and light poles. The small plants are available to all. Many ugly places can be made bright with these easily grown flowers. Mrs. Borgerson's gardens were beautiful with their choice variety of flowers. Iris of unusual beauty stood tall and stately among the background of shrubbery. She told us the names of different species and their origin. Tea was served by our hostesses. We were entertained by four young musicians, Ardis Schneider, Dorothy Fletcher, Ruth Housman and Lorene Kyser. On the lawn was a group of eight young girls, dressed in gauzy pastel colored gowns, who danced the minuet, the musicians playing the composition of Beethoven. The dancers were Janet Fletcher, Lorraine Haglund, Erna Jean Bettes, Bernice Muller, Virginia Young, Virginia Conant, Nellie Richards and Louise Swartz. A tour of the gardens followed and the club adjourned to meet in two weeks. A rose show is planned and the announcement of place of meeting will be published later.

W. R. C. Notes

The Woman's Relief Corps is grieved to report the loss of three of its members, so recently. Mrs. O. M. Kyser and Mrs. Carter. Mrs. Mason and Mrs. Carter being Civil War veterans' widows. Mrs. Kyser having acted as chaplain at different times and at the time of the District convention she, with Mrs. Rouse and Mrs. Hooker, took part in the convention memorial services, as a trio singing two lovely old hymns, which reminds us of the song recently published "Little Old Lady." Mrs. Carter became a member in the year of 1907 and was presented with her 25-year badge in 1932. She was proud of the record of having three of her daughters members of the order at one time. She served long and well. Mrs. Mason, while not being an active member for some years, was faithful to the last. Owing to old age and failing health she was not able to attend the meetings and festivities but she was always in mind. "It's better to give than receive." We bow our heads in reverence while we drape the charter in their memory, and sing "Nearer My God to Thee," while we say God's will, not ours, be done.

Mrs. Lydia Chubb is again able to attend the meetings, having been confined to the home for several months caring for a sick grandchild, who was returned to the home of its parents recently.

Don't forget members and friends, our potluck dinner is held the first Thursday in the month, with a business meeting in the afternoon at our corps room in the City hall. Please bring something good to eat, and be present next time. Especially do we ask the members who joined in 1935-36, to join with us and get acquainted. Next dinner day, July 1.
