

THE GERMAN ambassador complained a few days ago because the gentleman who was recently United States ambassador to Germany, spoke his mind in an address in New York about conditions in Germany. He had to be reminded that the United States constitution gives the American people liberty to express their opinions freely.

The people of Europe and America worked and fought 200 years to obtain the right of free speech, and in our country they do not propose to give it up. Some European countries have lost it, and consequently their people have no means of learning what is going on in their country or elsewhere.

Our people know that through free discussion, their grievances are redressed. They like to talk, and have a moral and legal right to do so. Any dictator who tries to abridge that right should remember the old time country school teacher who found himself landed in a snow bank.

TRAINING FOR MARRIAGE

THE CHIEF of the Indiana bureau of health complains that the young people are not given the training they need to make a success of married life. They have training to make a success of law, medicine, agriculture, or modern plumbing, but they get no such education for marriage.

Young people often get married without more preparation than they take for a week's auto trip. Many of them regard marriage merely as a super-picnic, all roses and honey. When they find it means hard toil and self sacrifice, it is something that did not occur to them. Somebody should have pointed out the thorns on those roses before they got scratched.

77 YEARS OF SCOUTING

TWENTY SEVEN years ago on February 8, the Boy Scouts of America were first chartered under the District of Columbia. Now the organization has swept through the country as a great national movement. Probably every state has flourishing troops of Scouts. It was once thought you could guide and inspire youth by lecturing them. The youngsters of the present day are not keen on moral lectures, and the inspiration has to be given them in a kind of sugar-coated pill. The fascinating pursuit of Scouting are as sweet as sugar to them. They become so attached to the movement, that they learn things they need to know about good citizenship and conduct.

If all the boys of Michigan could be enlisted in such organizations, our state would add but few candidates for prison cells in the years to come.

WHY CROWD GREAT CITIES?

A RECENT forecast of growth in New York city predicts that by 1960 that vast metropolis will have a population of 9,384,000. The 1930 population was 6,930,000.

Thus 2,454,000 people were expected to crowd into that vasty overgrown burg in 30 years. Now what sense is there in jamming so closely into that narrow area, when in most of the country the costs of living are so high, and probably the chances of getting work better?

Young people used to say that a place where there are so many people must have more opportunities. They flocked down there by the millions, and the greater part had to flock back. Some day people will discover that life is lived most comfortably in smaller places.

"BUY WISELY" CAMPAIGN

THE GENERAL Federation of Women's Clubs is starting a movement to induce the women to "buy wisely", so as to combat the recession. It is suggested that the fears of women may have led to the restriction of the nation's purchasing power.

The successful buyer of a business concern goes slow on his purchasing when prices are zipping up too fast, but he loosens up when prices come off. There are signs already that prices have been slipping, which is when the good buyer gets his work in. The women should do likewise. The place to learn the proper time to buy, is in the newspaper advertising. When the women folks see business people advertising things they are going to want, and offering them for bargain prices, they will do well to follow their national leaders and "buy wisely".

WHY GROUNDHOG'S FAME?

YOU HAVE to go back many centuries to find the origin of that old fable that the groundhog comes out of his hole February 2 to look at the weather.

The people of our present age would never invent any such sign. They are not as a rule students of nature, they do not know the ways of animals or plants. Their eyes are on the speedometer of their cars rather than on the skies or the fields. In primitive times, when there were no automobiles, no radios, and no shows, the beasts of the field and barnyard constituted the only show on earth. The primitive folks watched these creatures as intently as we watch the performers of the film play. They somehow conceived the idea that the groundhog knew a thing or two about the weather. It looks a little foolish to us, but there are many fascinations in watching animal life which the modern age knows little about.

A FLAT RIVER PIKE COMES TO A SAD END

Greediness proved the undoing of a 23-inch pike which was found floating under the ice of Flat river about 20 miles north of Lowell. Death of the pike was due to a wound caused by swallowing a six-inch bluegill. The back fin of the bluegill had cut a slit about three inches long through the outer skin of the pike. The bluegill's fin was protruding from the cut when the fatality was discovered.

Main-St. Accident Proves Fatal to Frank M. Blazo, 40

Fell in Path of Approaching Car

An accident occurred on Main-st. about 9:30 Sunday night which caused fatal injuries to Frank M. Blazo, 40, local bowling alley proprietor. The accident took place at the corner of Washington and Main-sts. where, it is reported, Mr. Blazo slipped and fell on the ice while crossing the street. He fell in the path of a car driven by Arlee Brandevore of Grand Rapids, who drove around Mr. Blazo and stopped, intending to pick the fallen man up, but a second car following Brandevore drove over Blazo.

Mr. Blazo's clothing caught in the brake rods of the second car, driven by Fred Roberts also of Grand Rapids, and caused him to be dragged for a block before Brandevore could signal Roberts that something was wrong, according to reports given to Deputy Sheriff A. H. Stormanz by witnesses. It appears quite likely that at least one of the wheels of Roberts' car passed over Mr. Blazo's body.

Mr. Roberts reported Monday at the sheriff's office in Grand Rapids and explained that it was very dark and he did not see the pedestrian lying in the road.

Mr. Blazo was immediately taken to Blodgett hospital, Grand Rapids, where he died about three o'clock Monday morning. A post-mortem examination was conducted by physicians Monday afternoon which revealed, the coroner reported, that Mr. Blazo suffered five rib fractures and lung and brain hemorrhages. Coroner Harmon C. Wolfe said Tuesday that he would hold no inquest in the death. Deputy Sheriff Andrew Van Duinen reported that Blazo's death was the first traffic fatality in Kent county outside the city limits of Grand Rapids this year.

Mr. Blazo came to Lowell two years ago to operate the local bowling alley, before which time he had been station agent for the Pere Marquette railway at Moseley and Elmdale and was also employed for a time in Detroit.

Surviving Mr. Blazo are the wife, Lula; a son, Morris; the mother, Mrs. Joseph Blazo of Saginaw; and two brothers, John of Detroit and Joseph of Chesaning.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon at Haner's Chapel with burial in Alton cemetery. Rev. S. B. Wenger of Jackson officiating.

Mr. Blazo was well liked and leaves many friends who extend their sincere sympathy to the bereaved widow and family.

Rotary Club Making Great Attendance Record

This week's Wednesday noon luncheon meeting of Lowell Rotary Club marked the 22nd consecutive meeting with 100% attendance in celebration of the event the club membership laid aside dull care for a few minutes of hilarity and humor. The attendance committee, composed of F. H. Swarthout, George Story and Dr. D. H. Oatley, presented themselves with bouquets which was preceded by a masterpiece of oratory from Mr. Swarthout, which would have done credit to Demosthenes, after which Club president, Dr. B. H. Shepard, was presented with a unique medal, which he will doubtless treasure always.

George V. Pappin favored the club with a Showboat song, after which the more serious side of the meeting was given over to the hearing of a fine talk by Lee E. Lamplin of Keene-tp, who spoke on the subject of muck soils and muck farming. Mr. Lamplin not only completed a special three weeks' course at Michigan State College devoting most of the time to the subject of muck soils. The meeting closed with an interesting autobiography of Dr. J. A. MacDonell. Chris Leonard was program chairman of the day. Group singing, led by W. W. Gummer with Royden Warner at the piano, was much enjoyed and Secretary F. E. Coons was again praised for the accuracy of his minutes.

Doing a Splendid Job Publicizing Michigan

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company has been running a series of advertisements in 250 Michigan newspapers to boost Michigan winter sports, giving the dates and places of winter carnivals, the names of towns and cities where winter sports are at their best, and in general, promoting the idea that our state is a veritable paradise for the winter sports enthusiast.

These advertisements are doing a good job of putting Michigan in the public eye and the telephone company deserves much credit for publicizing the fact that Michigan is a good place to be, winter or summer.

Supervisors Battle Murphy on Welfare

RUNCIMAN OF LOWELL HEADS REPEAL GROUP

An Associated Press dispatch dated at Lansing, Jan. 26, and appearing in the daily press of the state this morning contains the following. The news shows that two prominent Lowell men figure largely in one of the greatest issues before the people of Michigan and that is as to whether welfare control shall be in the hands of local authorities or centralized at Lansing.

Gov. Murphy openly accepted Wednesday the challenge of county supervisors who, in their annual convention, voted intensified opposition to his welfare reorganization plan.

"I'll meet you on the firing line," Murphy, a convention speaker, promised after the State Association of Supervisors had overwhelmingly endorsed a proposal to initiate legislation "guaranteeing complete county control" of welfare expenditures.

The same resolution created a 15-man committee to work for the defeat of the administration reorganization plan in a referendum next fall. It was submitted by Melville B. McPherson, veteran Lowell Republican, as chairman of the association's legislative committee.

McPherson's resolution called for legislation which would compel the state to distribute among the counties on a population basis, an annual appropriation of $15,000,000. The state would retain 10 per cent of the amount for an equalization fund from which to grant aid to counties unable to meet unusual relief demands.

Runciman Naming Chairman

Heading the new organization as its chairman is C. H. Runciman of Lowell, former member of the state emergency relief commission. Runciman's resignation recently was accepted by Gov. Murphy.

Four Imperiled By Drunken Driver

Howard Bowen, 45, who resides on a farm about 2 1/2 miles east of Saranac, pled guilty in Justice R. E. Springett's court Saturday morning to a charge of drunken driving after spending the night in the village jail. He was given his choice of 30 days in jail or a fine of $50 and costs. He paid the fine. In addition to the fine and costs, Bowen's driver's license is automatically revoked. The complaint was made by Deputy Frank Stephens.

Bowen was arrested Friday evening following an accident on M-66 about one mile north of Lowell when he was traveling northward on the wrong side of the road and crashed into a car occupied by Leonard Bozong, 63; his daughter, Hazel, 22; and his sons, Sheldon, 20, and Glen, 26; all of Keene-tp. All of the occupants of the Bozong car, which was tipped over by the impact of Bowen's car, suffered injuries with the exception of Glen Bozong, who was driving. They were picked up by a passing motorist and brought to Lowell where their injuries were cared for by a local physician.

Bowen has been in trouble on previous occasions because of drinking. On April 30, 1929 he was fined $50 in an Iowa court for drunken driving. He paid a fine of $10 and costs in justice court here on Jan. 22, 1932 for being drunk and disorderly; and on August 31, 1935 paid a like fine in Ionia for being drunk and disorderly.

About one-half of the applications are from people living in surrounding townships and villages.

New Events Will Feature Farmers' Week

M. S. C. Making Great Plans

New events added to the 23rd annual Farmers' Week program at Michigan State College Jan. 31 to Feb. 4 indicate new forms of entertainment and means of gathering information for the thousands of farm families intending to attend.

Under the direction of E. L. Anthony, dean of agriculture, and R. W. Tenny, short course director, the more serious portions of the week's program continue to offer a literal short course in agriculture in all phases. A better farm and community life program is linked up with efficient production and profitable marketing.

High school drum majors are going to kick up the tankard in Demonstration hall Wednesday afternoon and evening as another new event for all state honors.

World champion draft horses are coming in from Plano, Ill., and Springfield, Ind., to compete against some picked Michigan pulling teams. These tests will culminate the Wednesday and Thursday evening events.

Three saits will offer a chance to visitors to take away some of the best Michigan livestock produced recently by Michigan farmers. A bred ewe sale, a horse sale, and a fat stock sale of calves and hogs are scheduled. The first two will be announced in the near future. Eastern Stars Of Kent County Here Friday Evening

Cyclamen Chapter will be hosts to Kent County O. E. S. Association and officers and members of Fenian Chapter of Grand Rapids, this week Friday night at the Masonic Temple. A large crowd is expected and all members of Cyclamen Chapter are urged to be present to welcome their guests.

A fine entertainment is being planned. The county president, Sister Lila Armstrong, will start the traveling Bible through the county chapters. This will be the first time the Bible has been passed in Kent county but the traveling gavel and Friendship meetings proved very successful, creating keen interest and developing a closer friendship with the city and county members. Therefore it is believed that the traveling Bible will prove a great success. Dainty refreshments will follow the entertainment.

All Eastern Stars visiting or living here who are not members of Cyclamen Chapter are cordially invited to attend.

The farmer may soon be putting it: "As ye are permitted to sow, so shall ye be permitted to reap."

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Yeiter Observe Golden Wedding; Parents of Sixteen Children, Eleven of Whom Are Living

Lifelong residents of this community, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Yeiter on Tuesday afternoon of this week held open house at their farm in South Lowell, to celebrate their fiftieth wedding anniversary. Many relatives and friends called to extend their congratulations and best wishes.

Mr. and Mrs. Yeiter were married Jan. 25, 1888, at the Allen Lamb residence in Lowell by the Rev. Mr. Luther who now lives in Ionia. They began housekeeping on a farm located one-half mile north of Alto, but in a short time moved to the Yeiter homestead with his mother, Mrs. Frank Yeiter. His father had taken the land from the government and it was in the log cabin on this farm that Mr. Yeiter was born. Here also all but two of their children were born. The log cabin was torn down about 30 years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Yeiter still are living on the farm.

Mrs. Yeiter is the oldest of the 12 children of the late Hester and George King of Campbell-tp., Ionia county. Her father was a Civil War veteran. Mr. Yeiter was the oldest of three children. They have been the parents of 16 children, eleven of whom are now living, Frank of Lowell, Carl of Alto, Alice (Mrs. Goodsell) and Nelson of Lake Odessa, Ethel (Mrs. F. A. Marker) of Ionia, Vern and Gladys (Mrs. Clarence Zera) of Grand Rapids, Hester (Mrs. E. E. Jenks) of Detroit, Ruth (Mrs. Alvin J.

Along Main St.

Another pay-off of five per cent to depositors of Lowell's two former banks will be made beginning Tuesday, Feb. 1 at the office of the liquidator, F. H. Swarthout. A total of nearly $22,000 will be distributed.

Main-st. is viewing the business horizon more hopefully. Industrial leaders throughout the nation predict increased activity in all kinds of manufacturing plants to begin in the early spring. It is also expected that the nation-wide home building program will become a reality within a few months.

Word came from Flushing that Pat Bowers, who with Max Bowers has been spending the winter there with their son, is not in the best of health. Here's hoping that this one time vigorous man, who as the marshal and deputy sheriff could be relied upon to "get his man" will soon be returned to normal health.

The year 1938, being the 51st year of the Lowell Building and Loan association, we rise to remark that there could not be a better year in which to modernize the old home or to build a new one. It might be well to talk the matter over with officers of the association who will gladly give any information desired.

The annual federal income tax must be paid on or before March 15 and in order that all Main-st. business men may be on their feet against over-paying we give out the following information: Those having a yearly income of a half-million dollars must pay an income tax of $305,988; and if your income reaches a million your tax is $680,988.

A young Lowell Miss was attending her first party. When refreshing was copied from a framed motto she copied from the desk of a politician, "No, thank you," although she looked wistful. "Do have some more, dear," the hostess urged. "Mother told me I must say, 'No, thank you,'" the little girl explained, "but I don't believe she knew how small the dishes were going to be."

In order that others may walk all of the patriotic and able-bodied citizens of Grand Rapids and Kent county will be dancing to the strains of Frankie Master's music at the President's Ball to be held Jan. 29 in the Civic Auditorium. Political rivalry has been forgotten, and promiscuous Democrats and Republicans are working together in an effort to raise large sums to assist the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The following sentiment attracted our attention a day or so ago. It among the workers of the nation, this nation will become the most prosperous one and stay that way. What this nation needs is more horse sense and less horse feathers, a government of character and integrity."

After Dr. Ross had concluded his excellent talk, Mr. Runciman introduced some of the men present who gave short talks. They were Lewis Ayres, O. J. Howard, Orville Austin, Mel McPherson, Rev. R. M. Barksdale, George Klahn, R. B. Mill, Dale Curtis and other local men, besides George Smith, buyer at the St. Johns stock yards, and E. Gallant, superintendent of schools at Cheltenham when Mr. Runciman attended.

Music was furnished by the high school orchestra and a Grand Rapids colored quartet.

Member When—

When Uncle Billy Perkins was the mail carrier from Howell Center to Alto, making the trip daily and receiving $100 a year for doing it? (The above was sent the Ledger by Arthur Clarke of R. 3, Jackson.)

MID-WINTER FOOD SALE

The C. Thomas Store of Lowell is this week advertising its Fourth Annual Mid-Winter Food Sale and is offering very special bargains which will be seen by turning to the advertisement on page five of this issue of the Ledger. The various special prices which are being offered by this store should attract hundreds of thrifty housewives from miles around for the event.

Lowell Board of Trade Keeps Alive Booster Spirit Of Its Founders

Thirty years ago—January 28, 1908, to be exact—the Lowell Board of Trade held its second annual meeting, the story of which was recorded in the Ledger at that time. The enthusiasm which marked the meeting is worthy of note at the present time, even though thirty years have passed, and for this reason we set stay this here with the following highlights of the meeting:

At eight o'clock members gathered at the dining room in Masonic hall block where a sumptuous banquet was served by Caterer Weldon Smith, after which President W. A. Watts gave his annual address, reports of Secretary A. H. Peckham (read by Dr. C. McDannell in his absence), and of Treasurer R. VanDyke were given, showing all obligations paid, large pledges for future enterprises secured and a balance in the treasury. A quartet, composed of Sylvester P. Hicks, M. E. Simpson, Harley Maynard and J. B. Nicholson, with R. D. Stocking at the organ, furnished music for the occasion. Mr. Hicks also gave a characteristic address, full of loyalty to Lowell and recommending that Leland Park be put in shape for picnic occasions; Harvey J. Coons spoke of Lowell nicknicks, showing that they compared favorably with those of neighboring towns; Village president D. G. Look followed with a paper on village affairs which contained much of general interest; Secretary Nicholson made a report of the new industries committee; W. S. Winegar, chairman of committee on sports and special days, made a report, showing that his committee had not been idle; H. Nash, chairman of the good roads committee, spoke briefly and to the point.

The entire company stood and sang the following original song by our townsman, S. P. Hicks: "A New Michigan, My Michigan" The fairest state in all the land, Is Michigan, My Michigan. We love her lakes and rivers grand In Michigan, My Michigan.

"Her sons are loyal, true and brave, And many gave their lives to save Our glorious flag, long may it wave O'er Michigan, My Michigan."

The "grand pause" at the dash—well, it surely brought down the house; and Rev. W. D. Ogg added to the fun by calling for a copy so that he could see whether the poet had the place all right.

F. T. King Elected President

Chairman Thomas A. Murphy reported for the membership committee, thirty-two members being secured in the past two weeks. The constitution, read by Rev. F. E. Day reducing annual dues from $5.00 to $2.50 and F. T. King and R. VanDyke were elected president and vice president respectively; Rev. Russell H. Bready spoke of the work on the Village Improvement Committee, after which President Watts introduced Rev. F. E. Day of Albion, who gave an address on good citizenship, civic improvements and urged a liberal support of all the churches in the community as a means of betterment and upbuilding in moral, material and religious ways, and the meeting closed with the singing of "America."

Our theme, tonight, is Lowell fair, In Michigan, My Michigan. For her our songs shall fill the air, In Michigan, My Michigan. Long may her banner proudly float, Her voice ne'er sound discordant note. May she be known to every man In Michigan, My Michigan. Thence westward to the Golden Gate From Michigan, My Michigan. We sing her praises with great delight; In her defense, we all would fight; Stand up and shout, "Our town's ALL RIGHT!" For Michigan, My Michigan.

The Quartet Responds

The above was sung with great gusto and brought some "thurs"!! And then the quartet sang this alone: Sad to relate, but sure 'tis true, In Michigan, My Michigan, There's knockers here, thank God they're few In Michigan, My Michigan. What they are good for, we can't tell. We're fearful they may go to—T'were better far for every man If they were out of Michigan.

The "grand pause" at the dash—well, it surely brought down the house

Free Chest Clinic Here February 4

Lowell will be favored with a free clinic for examination of the chest on Friday, February 4. It will be conducted by the staff of the Anti-tuberculosis Society in the City Hall from 1:00 to 4:00 p. m. The physician in charge will be assisted by Miss Gladys Meers, R. N., the society's nurse. This clinic will be made possible through the sale of Christmas Seals.

The tuberculosis society has been conducting a series of clinics in 15 village centers in Kent County throughout the fall and winter. Prevention of tuberculosis is the aim of this organization and this is accomplished through finding cases early and placing them under proper treatment; examining those who have lived in contact with the disease and seeking infection in children by skin testing. All suspicious cases and positive reactors are provided with xrays because the eye of the xray can find a lesion before it can be discovered with a stethoscope.

"Within the memory of most of us tuberculosis used to be considered a disgrace," stated Blanche H. deKoning, executive secretary of the tuberculosis society. "It should still be so regarded, only the disgrace must be shifted from the victim to the community which allows it to exist."

Seeking Way To Stop Fish "Winter-Kill"

Methods of preventing "winter-kill" which took a heavy toll of fish in a number of southern Michigan lakes in 1935-36 are being sought in an investigation now underway in the Waterloo district in Jackson and Washtenaw counties.

"Winter-kill" is the result of ice and snow completely covering the surface of a lake so heavily as to prevent sunlight from reaching the plants in the water. The plants then decay, consuming the dissolved oxygen in the water, and the fish suffocate. During the winter of 1935-36 thousands of fish died in this manner in several lower Michigan lakes.

It will be recalled that two years ago many thousands of game fish were destroyed by "winter-kill" in the lake on the farm of Reuben Lee, southeast of Lowell.

"Lost By Being a Beauty, Won by Turning Old and Ugly"

Everybody was sure that an attractive girl's prize-winning face and figure would insure her career as an actress, but she couldn't even get started until she made up as a scrubwoman—and then became a success. Read about this girl in The American Weekly with the January 30 issue of The Detroit Sunday Times.

Woman's Club

The Lowell Woman's Club met on January 19th at the home of Mrs. R. G. Jefferies. After the usual short business session, Mrs. Elizabeth Lalley introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Dr. J. A. MacDonell, whose address on Syphilis constituted the program. The club membership was well represented and the interest shown indicated that the stir created among thinking people by recent publications along this line had not been without result. The Doctor gave us a concise and graphic history of the dread disease, which dates back to ancient times but with which science has been unable to cope successfully until more recently. Now that test and cure are available, there is still serious need of knowledge of this terrible plague, that treatment may be sought in time for cure. An intensive course of treatment offers the only hope of cure, and this therefore, because of the awful extent of the disease, is the only hope of the race.

Says Humanity's Need Is Character and God

DR. GALEN STARR ROSS

Many will agree with the statement made by Dr. Ross in his speech at the Livestock Shippers' banquet last week Friday evening when he said "Humanity has tried everything but character and God, in their great scramble to do something. . . I see great hopes for America. Education and Christianity have progressed more in this country in the last generation than any other place in the world and it is these factors that will make the nation great."

CAN SHE KEEP UP WITH THE BUNCH

...OR DOES SHE FALL BEHIND?

Bread should be her principle energy food . . .

It takes husky muscles and fast moving feet to make goals—and BREAD can supply the elements to make those muscles HUSKY and those feet SPEEDY.

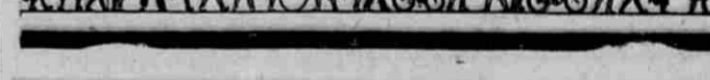

For bread supplies growing children with the food elements their young bodies need in greatest amounts. It contributes to almost every nutritional requirement.
