EVERYBODY KNOWS WHERE WE LIVE

YOU KNOW where you live. Your close neighbors and friends know. But, actually, how many people know where this county who could drive directly to your home... or who could find you?

The next day after the ad appears several people will come in to find out how to locate the man who "advertised two cows"...

Sometimes people in business get the idea that "everybody knows me." They are mistaken. Probably Henry Ford is about as well known as any industrialist in this country...

It is true that sometimes small business places are located near large well advertised business places in the hope of picking off some of the customers...

When youth wins prizes young people get a big thrill when they read how some quite young person has won some high honor or leading business position.

The open-air concert to be held in Richards Park next Wednesday evening sponsored by the Lowell Board of Trade will mark the last program of the summer season.

Success comes rather slow in business and politics, because it takes such mature judgment to handle organizations and organize human effort.

Much might be said also about the necessity of having faith in one's own ability to do things. There are countless people of intelligence and capacity who are living in obscure positions...

WHAT ARE the essentials for success in life? Several such essentials might be mentioned, such as hard work, intelligent study of modern conditions...

IT CAN BE DONE. The essential for success in life? Several such essentials might be mentioned, such as hard work, intelligent study of modern conditions...

LEARNING EVERY DAY. TO MAKE a success on a job, or in any kind of business, people must expect to be constantly learning.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS. Many folks who left home and went to the big cities, have bitterly regretted later that they did not lay aside enough money...

NOTICE TO CORRESPONDENTS. Please make an effort to send in your letters earlier in the week, as we are particularly busy at this time of the year...

Rev. R. S. Miller M.E. Pastor Here Dies Unexpectedly

Death Occurs At Summer Cottage

This community was greatly shocked when word by long distance telephone was received here early this (Thursday) morning of the unexpected death of Rev. Robert S. Miller which occurred at a late hour last night at the Miller family cottage on Lake Charlevoix near Boyne City...

REV. R. S. MILLER

Only meager details have been received at the time of going to press but so far as is known Mr. Miller had been in his usual health, participating in usual outdoor activities which he greatly enjoyed.

The Rev. Miller had been pastor of the Lowell M. E. Church for the past four years and had been returned here for another year by the recent general conference of the M. E. Church. Rev. Miller came here from Traverse City and was formerly at Manistee, Greenwood, Jackson and Boyne City.

The Haer ambulance left here early this morning for Boyne City and the body will be returned here later today. Particulars regarding funeral services cannot be given at this time.

Along Main St. Marihuana Weed Known Here Under Name of Hemp

Did you ever stop to think what would happen to this town if the stores that advertise should quit their advertising? Lowell gave to Michigan the Mississippi River Showboat and now she presents a State Peony Queen in the person of Miss Inez Cole. All of which helps to keep the old town on the map.

Entertained at Mackinac Island

Miss Inez Cole, Lowell high school student who had the honor and distinction of being chosen State Peony Queen at Lansing recently in competition with a number of other young ladies from various sections of the state, and who was awarded a silver trophy cup, and a trip to famed Mackinac Island, Michigan's nationally known summer resort, has kindly furnished the Ledger with an interesting account of her trip.

Miss Inez is numbered among our most talented young people and never hesitates to respond when called upon to provide entertainment for the pleasure of others. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cole, and was sponsored by the Lowell Garden Lore Club.

Below is her account of her experiences at Mackinac Island:

Inez Cole, State Peony Queen

I left Lansing Saturday morning in the company of the Mesdames A. Newton, Baker and Carter, all members of the Lansing Garden Club, Mrs. Newton driving. They acted as my chaperons on my trip up and back to the Grand Hotel, Mackinac Island.

We arrived in Mackinac City and from there took a fast currier over to the island, where I was met at the wharf by Mr. W. Woodfill, owner of the hotel, and put in the care of their charming hostess, Miss Agnew, and my chaperons from Lansing departed to spend their time at the summer home of Mrs. Newton while waiting for my return.

When I first sighted the hotel, I was impressed by the porch and was told it is one-sixth of a mile long and that the hotel itself is the largest summer place in the world. The carriage-way and steps to the porch are red carpeted and each night the gateway is chained shut at a certain time.

I was assigned a room overlooking the water and the beautiful terrace garden below. Room to the right of me was reserved for President Roosevelt with name plate on the door; room to the left occupied by Governor Murphy, next to that occupied by Senator Brown and family. My room was white with red modernistic trimmings.

I changed to formal and was escorted to dinner by my hostess and later to the Blue Room where Captain Everett Williams was my escort for the ball.

Sunday morning I attended the quality little service church with two lady guests from Chicago. In this church a melodeon, an old Mormon relic, which after King Strang, leader of the Mormons was murdered, finally descended to a granddaughter and is still used in the church, while in St. Ann's Church, the body of Madame LaFramboise, fur trader, is buried beneath the church altar.

Sunday afternoon we visited the John Jacob Astor House, the old City Hall, Fort Mackinac, the oldest U. S. Army fort still standing, and the Mission House where Edward Hale wrote "Man Without A Country."

Monday morning with the hostess and the Mr. Varzos, band leaders we went to golf grounds. In the afternoon Mr. Woodfill, owner of the hotel, had his carriage and driver to take me on the tour of the island.

Tuesday and Wednesday, July 26-27, "Island in the Sky" with Shirley Stuart and Michael Whalen. Added feature, "Quick Money" with Fred Stone, Gordon Jones and Dorothy Moore. Added, Universal News.

Thursday, July 28, "Battle of Broadway" with Victor McLaglen, Brian Donlevy and Louise Hickock; Shorts, "Uncle Sol Solves It," Pete Smith, "Lavette" and a musical, "Mike Riley."

Every governmental official or board that handles public money should publish at regular intervals an accounting of it, showing where and how each dollar is spent. We hold this to be a fundamental principle of domestic government.

Closest one of the most important fashion accessories in today's wardrobe are chosen to match bags and shoes. And since the bags and shoes of 1935 are often gay and colorful the gloves should follow suit.

Keep your gloves immaculate with the frequent washing. Of course this is washable before you attempt to clean them in soap and water. But gloves that are stamped "washable" by the manufacturer can be kept fresh and soft with careful washing. Most washable gloves should be washed on a delicate cycle, using lukewarm water and a mild soap to make a heavy suds. Rub the body soiled spots with a soft brush. Feel off from the hands, turning gloves inside-out to wash the inside. Then rinse through two clear waters the same temperature as the soapy water, squeezing instead of wringing to force out the water.

Roll up in a bath towel to remove excess water. Knead to work moisture. Take out of towel, straighten out fingers and blow to dry. Pin by the wrists on a warm, shady and airy place to dry.

Lacy M. Malby has written a book "It's Fun to Cook" that will help many a mother to solve the vexing problem for teen age daughters. The book is written in story form and any girl who reads it will feel the need to try the recipes. Practical suggestions and illustrations throughout the book point out mistakes on the part of inexperienced cooks. While Miss Malby wrote the book primarily for young girls, a bride will find the book ever present before the altar. There is nothing childlike about the contents which cover a wide range of subjects from recipes and menus to calories and diets. Illustrations and diagrams add much to the interest and value of the subject matter. The whole thing is written in a friendly, conversational mother can feel perfectly safe in turning her daughter loose in the kitchen of "It's Fun to Cook" in a matter of the equipment.

DUODENAL ULCERS

Mr. L. S. desires to know (1) proper diet for duodenal ulcer, (2) length of time he must remain on this diet and (3) whether smoking is harmful.

What foods may be considered appropriate and beneficial while the ulcer is in an active state will be described. Also the proper use of physician with regard for his diagnosis and treatment of the patient. The lesion has taken place, the diet will consist of the softer foods, cooked vegetables, fruits and easily digested meats and cereals. The patient with "stomach trouble" should eat only what is prescribed in six, rather than in the past of four meals.

It is difficult to set any limit as to the period when the modified ulcer diet may be discarded. Indeed, if the patient resists to refuse it upon it for the rest of his life, the relatively wide range of foods which can safely be permitted would run no risk of malnutrition.

Milk is an excellent food for the ulcer patient and a taste for it should be cultivated. Some physicians instruct their cases to eat only neutral or acid foods during the night and to take a glass of milk at that time, thus avoiding an accumulation of acid in the stomach during the longer period without food.

The pain an active ulcer may be relieved almost immediately if food is taken and a meal in time may prevent a month or more of serious illness. Apparently, food does not irritate and dilutes the acid in the stomach but also protects the stomach lining.

During active treatment of the ulcer, smoking is usually forbidden. After three or four months, if the x-ray indicates satisfactory healing, the doctor may again permit indulgence in tobacco, provided it is not carried to excess. But there is no question that total abstinence from the weed is advisable for the stomach suffering, indeed, it is for all of us.

Mr. L. S. may be reminded that avoidance of mental stress is quite as important as avoidance of irritating foods and tobacco. The over-scrupulous, over-ambitious individual is most susceptible to the disease. Occasional vacations, the introduction of slight variations in one's work or environment, the cultivation of hobbies and the absence of the regular members when absent. Mrs. Hartman herself, who is formally addressed as "Madame Minister," learned to knit and do ever so many other kinds of handwork. She has recently prepared a report on the handwork industry of Norway for the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Bachelor (dreamily): "Sometimes I yearn for the peace and comfort of married life."

Married Friend (wistfully): "I always do."

Automobile Accidents

Costing about 40,000 lives annually, more than 1,000,000 people have been injured. The property damage is estimated at around $800,000,000. When you add hospital care, doctors' and nurses' bills, and lost time, the total cost has been estimated at $2,000,000,000. It is doubtful if this figure would cover the financial loss to the people which come through the death of any victim.

Automobile accidents have something to do with the sufferings of many people from poverty and distress. Many of these families are struck by fatal accidents is something that can not be measured in any terms of dollars and cents.

Some of the families who are afflicted with this trouble are the families of the burden of personal loss, for which no money can compensate. Automobile accidents have something to do with the sufferings of many people from poverty and distress. Many of these families are struck by fatal accidents is something that can not be measured in any terms of dollars and cents.

Women of every station take an active part in the affairs of Sweden according to Mrs. Gordon Harman, who has returned from her duties in Oslo as our Minister for a visit to the United States. She is the second woman in her field to be appointed in our country. In Sweden the working women help to produce universal welfare, they do not attend to their own needs but to those of the community. If the American people want to produce universal welfare, they should do so by the aid of the women who have been on relief had savings on which they could have drawn, had it not been for the losses and expense caused by traffic accidents.

Back To The Ol' Swimmin' Hole

Freedom
HUMAN experience in many cases seems to consist of an endless struggle for emancipation from various forms of oppression, physical or financial, moral or social. In this our age, freedom is too often sought only for the turbulance of worldly pursuits and the indulgence of fleshly comforts? Not that physical well-being is reprehensible, but freedom in all things (1 Cor. 13:13) is desirable as a result of understanding God's loving care for His creature.

But dependence upon material means and humanly evolved systems for welfare and happiness, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, includes the following words: "Science is the knowledge of Truth gives full faith in Truth, and spiritual understanding is better than all burnt offerings."

What is the individual, when he takes hold of that which is true, safe and to drive him out of error?

What foods may be considered appropriate and beneficial while the ulcer is in an active state will be described. Also the proper use of physician with regard for his diagnosis and treatment of the patient. The lesion has taken place, the diet will consist of the softer foods, cooked vegetables, fruits and easily digested meats and cereals. The patient with "stomach trouble" should eat only what is prescribed in six, rather than in the past of four meals.

8-Dwarf Mystery In Farmers' Day At M. S. C.

Farm Problems To Be Discussed

It's no longer Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs. It's to be Snow White and the Eight Dwarfs at least for one day on the campus of Michigan State College.

For the annual Farmers' Day Program Friday, July 29, a mystery is being created by H. H. Muselman, head of agricultural engineering. He is in charge of a pageant of nearly 20 dwarfs which will depict farm and home conveniences. The eight dwarfs will be in the pageant telling their own version of Muselman's mystery.

This pageant is one of the highlights of the day's program, annual summer offering of the college which usually attracts more than 3,000 to East Lansing. Science and research and entertainment comprise the program.

In the morning the theme will be how Michigan farmers can help save their portion of the annual national loss in livestock of $12,000,000. Parasites, bruises and injuries all contribute to this loss. Proper phases of breeding and feeding and handling on the way to the market all are to be depicted. Prevention of livestock losses as the morning feature is being worked out by G. A. Brown, head of the animal husbandry department. Included in exhibits will be a neat display to show various types of injuries.

Three commercial livestock trucks will be at 9:30 a. m. They will try to see which can load with greatest rapidity and efficiency a mixed load of cattle, sheep and swine.

Thirty dollars in prizes are offered farmers displaying the best in farm trailer equipment designed to haul livestock to market. Dr. M. S. Rice, Detroit, is the headline speaker for the afternoon program on the campus lawn.
