THE RESOURCEFUL YOUTH

A MANUFACTURER says he would rather hire country boys than city boys, because the former are more resourceful. The country boy, he says, has been out many times alone with farm carts and automobiles, and if they break down, he has to be ingenious enough to repair them with his own hands. That makes him skilful in a shop.

MAKING FRIENDS FOR THE TOWN

THE OLD SAYING has it, "If you want to make friends, show yourself friendly." The reticent and self-absorbed person makes friends with difficulty. It is the same with cities and towns. If they show themselves cold and aloof toward newcomers, if they have little friendly disposition toward strangers and visitors, their home town is not going to win many friends.

PUBLIC LIBRARIES

THE UNITED STATES depends upon public education to carry on its daily work and manage public affairs successfully. Schools and libraries perform the work of popular education. Every town has a school but there are 44,000,000 people who have no access to any public library in their home towns.

HANGING TOGETHER

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN, famous among the founders of our republic, remarked at the time the Declaration of Independence was signed: "We must all hang together, or we shall all hang separately." He recognized that if the American people did not unite in defense of their newly formed republic, their cause would fail, and many would be the personal danger.

THE FIRST PAY ENVELOPE

IT IS A wonderful time for young men and women when they first begin to draw regular pay of their own. Some of them who recently found work after a somewhat prolonged search, say that first pay envelope was a sweet surprise.

'Member When

When in days of the old "arc" lights on village streets, employees of the electric utility used to make rounds of village every few days to change or adjust the carbon sticks which made the light function? One too short for further use usually fell into hands of youngsters who used them to draw pictures on the sidewalk.

Saranac Prepares Homecoming Event

There will be a merry-go-round, ferris wheel, and several other ride concessions as well as all kinds of stands, shows, horse pulling contest, a fast ball game, etc.

Robert E. Lee VII Christened With Imposing Ceremony Along Main St.

Miss Josephine LaFraniar, National Cherry Queen, christened the 1938 Lowell Showboat. The National Cherry Queen came to Lowell through the courtesy of the Traverse City Chamber of Commerce.

"I christen thee Robert E. Lee, VII." With these words Josephine LaFraniar, of Traverse City, queen of the National Cherry Festival, crashed a bottle of cherry wine against the sides of Lowell's new Showboat. Miss LaFraniar was assisted in the ceremony by Miss Inez Cole, who was chosen as state peony queen in a recent contest in Lansing.

Miss LaFraniar, tall and stately brunette, wore a tailored white shirtdress with a bolero jacket and a white open crown hat. Miss Cole, a slender, vivacious blonde, wearing a becoming pink chiffon formal, presented a picture that was a real treat for the eyes.

Ionia Free Fair Bigger Than Ever

Fair history will be made again at Ionia this year when the 24th annual Ionia Free Fair is presented August 15 to 20. This is the prediction of Fred A. Chapman, secretary of the Ionia Free Fair Association, who believes the 1938 attendance records will surpass those of last year, when Ionia was the mecca of the greatest crowd in the history of the exposition.

The practice of keeping stores open Wednesday nights each summer during June and July ended this week Wednesday evening. Everybody will be going to the Showboat next Wednesday evening.

Glendon Swarthout, who knows a good orchestra when he hears one, has heard the Jimmy Raschell orchestra which will play at the Lowell Showboat and pronounces it an organization away above the average.

The demand for reserved seat tickets for this year's Showboat is greater than in any previous year according to D. A. Wingers and L. E. Johnson who are in charge of the sale of tickets. Better obtain your tickets before it is too late.

Paul Kellogg is making extensive preparations for a complete overhauling of his vinegar factory and will expend about $10,000 for new machinery and equipment. About six weeks' time will be required for the new installation, which will more than double the vinegar output.

Postmaster F. J. Hosley has received word from the legal department of the U. S. treasury stating that titles have been cleared for the site of Lowell's new post office building. Mr. Hosley is of the opinion that construction bids will be advertised before long now.

If you think you know a good joke suitable for use by the end men of the Showboat mail same at once, together with your name and address to C. H. Runciman, Showboat manager, at Lowell, Mich.

The Ledger plant is this week completing the printing of the premium list, rules and regulations for the annual Kent County 4-H Club Fair which will be held in Lowell August 24-25. The book contains 32 pages and cover and will be placed in the hands of club members by County Agent K. K. Vining within the next few days.

A lady 80 odd years young is leaving her home in California today to attend the Lowell Showboat. The lady is Mrs. Geo. Force and she has wired Miss Agnes Perry that she will arrive in time to see Lowell's great river pageant and also to attend the annual picnic of the Lowell Ladies Club. That's the spirit, Mrs. Force. It's people like you who help to keep this old earth young.

We had always thought that when people had money coming to them they lost no time in going after it, therefore it is quite strange that a total of upwards of $14,000 remains unclaimed in the hands of F. H. Swarthout, liquidator for the Lowell State and City State Depositors' Corporations. The money is due to holders of certificates of indebtedness in the above named corporations as the result of dividends declared since November, 1936.

Wind of high velocity which hit this section Monday night about midnight played havoc with the framework of the large, new exhibit building under construction at Recreation Park for the 4-H club fair. The framework was laid flat by the wind and from three to four days of additional time will be required for repairing the damage, but everything will be completed in time for the fourth annual fair, which will be held August 24 and 25.

How far back does your memory of Main Street take you? One Old-Timer told a Ledger scribe the other day that he could remember when Main Street had kerosene lamp posts at street intersections for lighting up the thoroughfare. The Old-Timer said that when he was a small boy the lamps were cared for by a one-armed man by the name of Arthur Morgan, village nightwatch at that time. The kerosene lamp rested in a glass compartment on the top of the lamp post and Mr. Morgan carried a torch for use in lighting the lamps.

Some 40 years ago—in fact more than 40 odd years ago, the editor of the Ledger was engaged in writing Mr. L. paragraphs for the "Clare Sentinel," just as he is today for the Ledger—paragraphs that are wise and otherwise, perhaps mostly otherwise. At any rate, the Clare paper has for some time past been reprinting these old paragraphs in its columns for whatever entertainment and information they may afford the paper's present day readers. Below is one of these old paragraphs, reprinted in last week's Clare paper and when your editor wrote it, no doubt he felt at the time as though it was something quite smart. Anyhow, here's the paragraph:

"It now appears that the Council ceases improving the city park because it is claimed that the property was never deeded to the city. The Council, of course it's proper that the improving should cease if that is the case, as it would be just like the district to come some dark night after that park had been made into a beauty spot, and abdicate it. 'Twould be just like the district to do that.'"

Well, the sarcasm in the above paragraph worked and no further objections were raised by the Clare common council. After forty years we can truthfully say that the park is known to be a real beauty spot and your editor is proud of the fact that he helped to plant some of its first trees.

Showboat Program To Be Greatest of All

Great Orchestra and Head-Line Entertainers on Program

The Showboat program is all ready for the blast of the whistle and the glare of the band playing "Here Comes the Showboat," on the opening night, August 3. It will offer a variety which should please everyone from 7-70 and there will be one or two acts for those under and over 70.

The program will open with a lively dance by Miss Inez Cole, state peony queen, and will feature such numbers as the Drunken Mexican, who does every stunt imaginable on a slack wire above the stage. Then will come Fleeta and Doreen Tryon, known to the theatrical world as the Tryon Sisters. This act was mentioned by Robert L. Ripley in his "Believe It or Not" column as being the only girl adagio team in the world. The girls specialize in acrobatic, oriental, hula, eccentric and upside down dances.

Next will appear the Flying Howards, liveliest, snappiest and fastest roller skating act ever to appear on the stage in New York. Then will come Michigan's favorite entertainers, the Morlok Quadruplets, appearing for the third time on Lowell Showboat. Hundreds of people have called to find out if they would appear again this year as everyone is anxious to watch the progress made by these four beautiful and charming little sisters.

Last Rites for Beloved Pastor

Robert Spencer Miller, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Lowell, Michigan, suffered an apoplectic stroke at his cottage near Boyne City and passed away a few hours later on July 20, 1938.

He was born in Indianapolis, Ind. on April 3, 1893, the son of William T. and Maria Louisa Miller. His youth was spent in Jackson, Mich. where he graduated from high school and was a member of the First Methodist Church. He attended Albion College, where he was enrolled in the S.A.T.C. during the World War, and was a member of the forensic fraternity, Delta Sigma Rho. He graduated in 1919 from Albion College and three years later from Garrett Biblical Institute. He also attended one summer at Drew Theological Seminary.

One June 8, 1923 he was united in marriage with Eunice F. Smith of Minneapolis, Minnesota. Into their home were born two children, David in 1924 and Eunice in 1927.

Robert S. Miller was received on trial in the Michigan Conference in 1915, ordained a deacon in 1918 and elder in 1921. After serving the Mosherville and Duplain-Greenbush charges in the Michigan Conference, he transferred to the Wisconsin Conference where he served a year at Oconomowoc and a year as associate pastor of the Grand Avenue Church in Milwaukee. Returning in 1924 to the Michigan Conference he served at Boyne City, Student Pastor at Albion, Gladwin, Greenwood Avenue Church in Jackson, Manistee, Central Church in Traverse City, and First Church in Lowell. He was chaplain of the Chas. W. Clark post of the American Legion and was a member of Lowell Masonic lodge.

The keynote of his life was creative activity. He was endowed with tremendous energy and a flood of creative ideas, which he followed with a determination of youth. In his leisure time he enjoyed working with his hands at his well-equipped bench, producing objects of beauty and utility. He loved to preach and to study, and the latest books were to be found in his library and the best magazines upon study tables. He enjoyed work with young people and the outstanding achievement of his pastorate at Lowell was the development of a strong Epworth League, which at his death held the silver cup of the Grand Rapids district.

He gave twenty-three years to the work of the ministry. Words are inadequate to tell of the hearts comforted in sorrow and trouble and of the lives changed by his preaching and counsel. Let it be sufficient to say, he was a true minister of Jesus Christ.

Funeral services were held in the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Lowell at one o'clock on Saturday afternoon, July 23, 1938. Rev. L. D. Dewey, superintendent of the Grand Rapids District, read the Scriptures; Rev. William H. Helridge, superintendent of the Grand Traverse District, offered prayer; and Rev. William C. Perdue of First Church, Kalamazoo, spoke briefly. Burial was in Woodlawn Cemetery in Jackson and the committal services were conducted by Rev. Frederick Spence of First Church, Jackson and Rev. Lloyd Nixon, superintendent of the Albion-Lansing District. The following ministers acted as pall bearers: Stanley Buck, Morris McKean, Stanley Niles, Albert Bellow, W. F. Kendrick, and E. A. Armstrong. About 20 other ministers were present, who acted as honorary pall bearers.

CAR UPSETS, FOUR HURT ON MURRAY LAKE ROAD

Robert MacFarlane of Detroit, grandson of F. P. MacFarlane of Lowell, was badly cut in the arm Tuesday evening when a car in which he was riding, driven by Bernard Kropf, 17, of Lowell, was forced off the road and tipped over on the Murray Lake road near Moseley. Others in the car were Betty Freeman of Lowell and Jean Taylor of Grand Rapids, who were cut and bruised, but not seriously. Robert MacFarlane was taken to Bledgett hospital, the others being treated in a local physician's office.

REMOVING THE TONSILS

When attempting to reach a decision as to whether the tonsils should be removed, it is necessary that physician and patient should carefully consider the engagement and infection. In any case, it is best to defer the operation until the child is five to seven years old.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

If a single player on a ball team fails to cover his position, the team is usually liable. Also if some part of the people fail to hold their own in the community life, it is in danger of falling behind.

Why Are Three Balls the Sign of a Pawnbroker?

THE FIRST pawnbrokers were from the famous Italian family of the Medici. The name Medici was derived from the medical profession and the family coat of arms was three golden balls.

Tribute to Rev. R. S. Miller

When the news of the death of Rev. R. S. Miller was received here, a shadow and a hush fell upon the community. A sense of loss and deep sympathy for the bereaved family filled our hearts. But while we grieve, we must remember that we thank God with these sorrowing friends, the presence of One who was sent to bind up the brokenhearted and to comfort all who mourn.

Keep Cream COOL AND CLEAN

Oh, use on me a brush, my dear, which can be aired each day. Don't let that sopping rag get near. For that's the unclean way. The dairy brush makes cleaning easy. Washes and dries with the softest touch. This method takes out all that's greasy. For cleanness it hits the spot.

Mary Jane Kaufman was born in Marion County, Ohio, March 9, 1884, daughter of Richard and Mary Ann Baker. She was united in marriage to Wm. E. Kaufman, April 23, 1889. To this union was born two sons, Walter E. and Albert F., both of Lowell. They removed to Wyoming Park, Michigan in May 1912, later moving to Lowell in May, 1920. Mr. Kaufman preceded her in death on March 17, 1933. She resided on Peck's Hill until her demise on July 17, 1938 at the age of 74 years, 4 months and 8 days. She had been ill eighteen months.

She was a hard worker, patient in everything, kind and loving to all who knew her. She leaves a host of friends and relatives to whom her passing is a great loss. Always a kind word here, a helping hand there with a smile was her greatest asset.

To mourn her demise are two sons, one sister, four brothers, one grandson and two nieces. Funeral services were held at Haer Chapel at 2 o'clock Wednesday, July 20, the Rev. R. M. Barkdale officiating. Interment in Oakwood cemetery.

WEAPONS FOR DUEL

Then there was the timid soul who, at a prize fight, put all his fears in his pocket and told the tough guy in front of him to stop popping up and down, says the Jester. The tough guy got very sore and turning around belligerently, said: "Whatta matta wit yuh? Yuh wanna fight?"

The weak Wilbur considered a minute and then said: "I'll duel yuh." The tough guy was startled, but he decided to make the most of it.

"Okay," he said. "Choose yur weapons an' I'll duel yuh."

"Very well," Wilbur answered. "Grammar for twenty paces."
