PROTECTING OUR INTERESTS

THE AMERICAN people are told to go to the polls on November 8 and do their duty as citizens. People do not like to be told what their duty is. Many of them say they don't like sermons, and they feel competent to decide for themselves what their duty is.

It might be more effective if it is suggested that unless they take an interest in the affairs of government, and vote at each primary and election, they are failing to protect their own interests.

Our people are all stockholders in a grand enterprise, which owns and manages the United States and all our affairs. The prosperity or adversity of that enterprise depends on the skill and ability with which it is managed. The fact that it has been prosperous for many years will not keep a business company from losses if the management does not exercise skill and judgment. It is so with the great enterprise in which we are all owners and stockholders, that of managing the affairs of our government.

Mistakes in government are costly to every citizen. If serious enough, they make taxes high, they place burdens on every citizen, they make it hard to do business, so that many people are not employed or only are able to earn a little.

The reason why many people fail to vote is apparently that they forget to go to the polls, or they say that their one vote won't count. As to the forgetters, the government won't forget to get the taxes out of them, which they pay through the increased cost of goods and services. As to their one little vote, if 5,000,000 people take that attitude, the wrong crowd may get elected to office, and the people pay dearly for their unwillingness to take a little trouble.

WAGES AND HOURS

THE AMERICAN people are about starting out under a new law which has just gone into effect, which regulates their wages and hours of labor by national action. Here is a subject that touches people's hearts and lives very closely. When you regulate people's wages, you touch their ability to eat sufficient food, to bring up children, to obtain adequate clothing, to secure shelter for their families.

The far famed NRA attempted a similar objective on a greater scale, but aside from the question of its constitutionality, its aims seemed too vast for any quick success. There are limits to what human nature can accomplish in one jump. It was much as if the farmer should try to alone to cultivate a field so great that it needed a dozen men to adequately cover it.

The government and the country should have learned its lesson from the NRA experiment, and should avoid mistakes that proved troublesome at that time. The people heartily sympathize with any move that seeks to provide fair wages and reasonable hours of labor. Conditions vary so greatly in different localities and industries, that it will not be easy to say what constitutes fair wages. The man who lives in a city where costs are high, needs higher wages than one in a section where food, clothing and shelter cost but little.

The country hopes the industries will do their best to make this law work and obtain the aims held in view. No law is perfect and probably the need for amendments will soon appear. The workers should help make this law a success by the effort to give a fair day's work for a fair day's pay. Break down by the Saviour of mankind that would solve all these problems, and it said, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

HONOR FOR THE VETERANS

ARMISTICE DAY, November 11, our people rejoice in the chance to do honor to the veterans of the World War. It is an occasion that must be treasured. As long as these veterans live, we must tell over again the story of what they did in the trenches of Europe.

Did history ever see such an army transported so far, or see it supplied under so difficult conditions? It reached the shores of Europe at the time when our allies were largely exhausted by the terrible fighting of nearly four years. They had contended nobly against a power which had superior military preparation. They had spent the best of their strength, and they had lost the power to push the invading foe off the soil they had conquered.

America rose up like a young giant, in the night of its just wrath, and gave the deciding push that sent those invaders running for home. It was a great deed. The results of that war have not been all our people hoped. But at least the banner of America got no stain in that conflict, and it covered itself with imperishable glory.

CONGRESSMAN CARL E. MAPES

CITIZENS of the fifth Congressional district comprising the counties of Kent and Ottawa, regardless of party affiliation, have in the person of Honorable Carl E. Mapes a man whose unsurpassable record is a source of the deepest satisfaction. Congressman Mapes holds a warm place in the hearts of the people of this district and in the U. S. Congress where he is esteemed by members of all political parties. He has shown himself to be a possessor of rare judgment, a tireless worker and withal has a kindly, human heart. The people of the fifth district will be glad of the opportunity to re-elect Mr. Mapes to the position he has filled so admirably and so conscientiously.

Four Amendments Up to Voters

Occupy Ballot Four Feet Long; Brief Explanation

When the voter goes into the election booth next Tuesday, Nov. 8, he will carry with him, in addition to the party ticket ballot, another ballot containing three Amendments to the Constitution and a referendum on the Welfare Act passed by the last legislature. These four proposals will be found in full upon the ballot, the reading of which would require from an hour to an hour and a half of time and for the voter to understand the full meaning of these four proposals of real study would be required. The ballot four feet long, full of fine print and in self-defense most voters will doubtless vote "No" upon each proposition.

Some of our readers have asked that we print an outline of the meaning of the amendments and the referendum and we do so with some hesitation as we never like the idea of telling any citizen how he should vote. Briefly, the proposals are as follows:

County Officers' Terms

Amendment No. 1 would provide a four-year term for certain county officers who now serve two years. These officers are: County clerk, prosecuting attorney, sheriff, treasurer and register of deeds. The change would become effective Jan. 1, 1939.

Comment—The disadvantage of a longer term is that if an incompetent man gets into office it would take a longer time to get rid of him. A shorter term would give the people more opportunity to register a protest and in this restricted sense is probably more democratic. From the standpoint of business management, however, the advantages are with a longer term.

Supreme Court Justices

Amendment No. 2 would provide for the nomination and appointment of Supreme Court Justices for eight year terms, by an appointive system whereby the governor would select the justices from names submitted to him by a special judicial commission.

Comment—This proposal would take from the people the right to choose their judges. In other words, it asks the surrender of a cardinal principle of democracy. In our opinion instead of "taking the Supreme Court out of politics" it would have just the opposite effect. In the main, the people of Michigan have shown pretty good judgment in this matter and will continue to do so.

Gasoline Tax

Amendment No. 3 would provide that gasoline and motor vehicle license plate taxes collected from motorists be used for highways, roads and streets.

Comment—Back of this proposal are all the highway contractors, the cement trust, and other interests.

The legislature in special session

1932 passed Act No. 41 which provided for distribution of the funds raised by the gasoline tax. The monies so distributed are required to be used as follows:

- (1) Relief of assessments under the Relief Road Act;
- (2) Reduction of taxes on county and township bonds;
- (3) Reduction of taxes on general highway township bonds;
- (4) Maintenance of township highways taken over by counties;
- (5) Apportionment of balance between cities, villages and counties.

The question has been raised as to the effect of the amendment on the application of the provisions of Act No. 41 in the event of its adoption. The wording "including the payment of public debts incurred therefore" might be construed by the courts to apply to only such debts as are incurred for highway purposes subsequent to the adoption of the amendment. If this be true, then the benefits derived by the counties of the state of Michigan, under Act No. 41 of the 1932 Special Session of the legislature would be immediately eliminated. This would return to the various shelling property owners, road districts and counties, the responsibility to provide other means of raising funds to retire their outstanding road bonds.

The Welfare Referendum

Proposal No. 4 is the welfare reorganization Act, passed by the state legislature in 1937, but held up pending popular referendum Nov. 8.

Comment: Our opinion is that the good points can be incorporated in a more thoughtful, praiseworthy law which eliminates the evil, and the efforts to further subsidize the relief vote politically.

This is by far the most far-reaching of the four propositions on the so-called Amendment Ballot. It involves the spending of $30,000,000 to $80,000,000 of state money every year.

It changes the entire system of public relief. It puts unprecedented power into the hands of a new commission, or bureau, of five citizens to be appointed by the governor, called the "Michigan Public Assistance Commission."

It empowers this commission to set up a vast department, employ a director and assistant directors, to appoint department heads and hire as many people as they deem necessary to supervise and administer relief to the people of Michigan.

The commission would have extraordinary powers. They can create bureaus. They can abolish other departments. They could subpena any person to appear before them and compel them to produce any books, records or papers which they wished to examine.

This commission could review any decision involving old age assistance, aid to dependent children, aid to the blind, or any other form of public aid administered by a county department and the county would be forced to abide by that decision.

This commission is appointed "as the state agency to cooperate with the federal government" to quote one phrase of the law, and in another paragraph, "shall comply with all federal requirements pertaining to methods and standards of administration for the conduct of the work of local units."

The local, or county representation in this new relief set-up would be in the hands of three men—two appointed by the board of supervisors and one appointed by the governor of the state.

We shall not attempt to go further in explaining the law. It is sufficient that local relief will be tied to and under the authority of this new "Michigan Public Assistance Commission" and under the dictates, in a large degree, of the federal government.

Great Grid Battle Friday Afternoon

After defeating Godwin at Recreation Park last Friday, 27-0, Lowell stands at the top of the Grand Valley League along with East Grand Rapids. These two top ranking schools will meet at Recreation Park Friday afternoon at 8 o'clock in what promises to be one of the best football games this season. It seems the two teams are evenly matched and opposition will be great on both sides. Lowell stores will be closed during the game from three to five.

Along Main St.

There will be no city nor rural mail deliveries on Armistice Day, Friday, Nov. 11.

POST OFFICE ANNOUNCES PARCEL POST MONTH

The Post Office Department has designated the month of November as "National Parcel Post Month." This will be the "Silver Jubilee" celebration of Parcel Post which was inaugurated January 1, 1913.

Beat Fast!

"Beat Fast!" That's the cry heard along the main drag as the local football team prepares to meet East Grand Rapids at Recreation Park this week Friday afternoon. It will be a gala affair, the crowd will run from three to five and the band will play. All rooters turn out!

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Compagner, proprietors of the Lowell Creamery, have construction started on their new home on Vergennes rd., just outside of Lowell.

The structure will be of a one-story frame type, 28x32 in size. The Compagners expect to move in around the first of the year.

An unofficial obituary item—is the death of Flash, russet-colored cat member of the O. J. Yeller family. Flash was always tops in the barking world and was a faithful Sunday news deliverer with his young master, Bob. For eleven years he has been friend and pet to Monroe avenue children, who visited his bier as he lay in state in the garage.

The Halloween party for the youngsters of the town, held at Recreation Park last Monday evening, was a great affair with hundreds in attendance and apparently enjoyed as much by the grown-ups, as well as the youngsters.

There was a huge bonfire, games and contests of all sorts, witches, goblins, Indians and whatnot. The kids ate bushels of apples donated by C. H. Runciman, gallons of cider given by Paul Kellogg and hundreds of doughnuts from Herold's bakery. The kids spent their energy in having real good fun and the usual deprecations incident to Halloween were reduced to a minimum. The affair was sponsored by the B. of T. American Legion and Rotary Club.

School Problems Discussed At Big Meeting Here

300 Present From 10 Counties

Three hundred school board members from 125 school districts in Oceana, Newaygo, Mecosta, Muskegon, Montcalm, Ottawa, Kent, Ionia, Allegan and Barry counties met in Lowell Monday night to discuss educational problems which are and will be of vital interest to the boys and girls of Michigan.

C. H. Runciman of Lowell, president of the Department of Superintendents and School Board Members of the Michigan Education Association, presided and called on N. E. Borgerson of the Department of Public Instruction to give the facts concerning the financial distress of many districts. Mr. Borgerson reported that the net cuts of most of the village schools in Kent County would be approximately 30% and that cities like Muskegon and Flint are faced with a net cut of 25%. These figures include the increase in the primary interest fund.

Arthur L. Valade, school board member of River Rouge, discussed adequate and guaranteed aid for the school year 1938-39. He contended that boards of education must know within a reasonable estimate the amount of money that will be available for schools and this amount should be made clear at the time that the budgets are adopted. He also contended that the right of cutting appropriations should not be delegated by the legislature.

Seek Emergency Appropriation

J. H. Stoddard of District No. 8, Dearborn, discussed the duties of school board members and he pleaded for an emergency appropriation in January which would make it possible for districts to receive funds for transportation, tuition, equalization, and other operating costs and to equalize the cuts in those districts which have been particularly hard hit.

H. Franklin Doss, board member of Garden City, pleaded for an estimation of the Bonding Law, recommending that the present five year period be extended to twenty-five years so that school districts might erect school buildings in accordance with federal grants. He also asserted that boards of education should be able to borrow funds for emergencies from local banks without being compelled to go to Lansing for permission.

Dr. A. J. Phillips, executive secretary of the Michigan Education Association, answered many questions relative to the program. School board members in Grand Rapids, Muskegon and many other places participated in the discussion. The program was concurred in almost unanimously by the board members and a committee was appointed to help arrange details for a statewide meeting in Lansing in January. Fourteen other district meetings similar to the one held in Lowell will be held between now and the first of the year.

CHARTER OF "THE LAST WOMAN'S CLUB OF LOWELL, MICHIGAN"

WE, the following members of the Neighborhood Club of Lowell, Michigan, are mindful of the many years of our happy associations establishing deep and lasting friendships between us. In view of this we do hereby organize "The Last Woman's Club of Lowell, Michigan". Its membership will never grow but will gradually diminish, one by one, by death "which comes but once, yet comes that once to all." The following charter, drawn by a well known legal firm, tells the story of the purpose of the club's organization.

- (1). No further members shall be admitted.
- (2). An annual meeting and dinner shall be held, the time and place thereof to be determined by mutual consent. Each living member pledges herself to attend this meeting, if possible.
- (3). A suitable bottle of Champagne shall be purchased at once. This bottle shall occupy the central place in the dinner table at each annual dinner, to be appropriately decorated, but shall not be opened until the event occurs mentioned hereinafter in Paragraph 5. The Secretary of the Club shall have custody of this bottle and shall carefully guard and preserve the same, but shall produce it at each annual dinner as above set forth. This bottle is to be regarded as a symbol and the Charter of this Club.
- (4). At each annual dinner the table shall be set for each member. The chair of a living absent member shall be set upright. The chair of a departed member shall be tilted against the table. Full honors shall be given to each absent member whether living or dead.
- (5). At long last and when only one member remains alive, the following shall be done: This surviving member shall hold the final dinner, the table to be set for all members, chairs of the departed to be tilted against the table. The survivor, with proper ceremony and with due reflection upon the memory of the departed members, shall open the bottle of Champagne and drink a toast to each of the departed, with the condition that the entire bottle is to be consumed. Upon completion of the dinner the Club shall be considered disbanded and its Charter surrendered.
- (6). The Club shall elect a President and a Secretary.
- (7). In so organizing we are actuated by both fun and gravity—Fun, because while life is serious, a proper amount of levity is necessary in all of our lives—Gravity, because we reflect upon our long friendships and our expectation that these friendships will continue to the end.

Dated at Lowell, Michigan, this 22nd day of September, 1938.

H. S. Ag. Department Doing Fine Work

That the Agriculture Department of Lowell high school is going forward with a worthwhile program that will prove of great benefit to students of that department and to farmers in general of this area was brought out at the Wednesday noon luncheon of Lowell Rotary Club in a talk by John Kleinhekel, head of the Ag. department. Present activities include a cow testing association which Donald McPherson said was already worth at least $1,000 a year to the community, even though the movement is just in its infancy.

November Ballot Contains Ten State Tickets

Three Amendments One Referendum

At the general election next Tuesday, Nov. 8, each voter will receive two large ballots—one with party candidates and the other with four Amendments to be voted on.

There are ten parties on the ballot in this order: Democratic, Republican, Socialist, Socialist Labor, American Commonwealth, Protestant United, Supreme Deal, Constitutional Democratic and American Labor.

The voter can vote a straight ticket by putting a cross in the circle beneath the party he prefers or he can split his vote by putting a cross in the square before the name of any candidate.

The first thing to do is put a cross in the circle of the party of your choice then, if you wish to do any more voting in another party, put the cross before that party candidate's name.

There will be plenty of instruction ballots at every voting place so you can look the ballot over before going into the booth to vote.

By election day, Nov. 8, each voter should have his mind made up on how he will vote for local candidates.

Amendment Ballot

The other large ballot contains three amendments to the Constitution and the referendum on the welfare act, nearly all of which are controversial. It is the opinion that if the voter is in doubt it would be safer to vote "No" on all four proposals.

Election day is Nov. 8, and you all know where to vote, so do your part and vote on that day for your vote does make a difference and your vote may decide this election, for many times in the past there has been a tie vote and one more voter would have decided the election.

Grangers Oppose All Amendments

At the recent session of Kent County Pomona Grange, resolutions were adopted opposing all three amendments, also the welfare act referendum to be voted upon at coming general election. The resolutions read as follows:

Resolved—That Kent County Pomona Grange go on record as opposed to the Constitutional Amendment No. 1, providing for four year terms for county officers.

Resolved—Whereas an effort is being made to pass an amendment to the Michigan Constitution whereby judges of the Supreme Court would be appointed instead of elected as at present.

Therefore, Kent County Pomona Grange is unalterably opposed to this amendment.

Resolved—That Kent County Pomona Grange go on record as opposing amendment No. 3, restricting the use of gas tax money for the purpose of road building and maintenance only.

Resolved—That Kent County Pomona Grange go on record as opposed to the Welfare Bill, and recommend a No vote at the coming election on November 8th.

Committee on Resolutions: C. H. Jasperse, Paris; Newton L. Coons, Alto; Maurice E. Post, Algoma.

Alto Grange Favors Health Service Movement

As a result of careful study of governmental statistics which relate to health and sickness in the nation, the Alto Community Grange adopted a resolution at a recent meeting pertaining to an adequate health service for all citizens to be sponsored by the National Government and by the State of Michigan.

This resolution was presented at the Michigan State Grange Convention held at Allegan last week. The Grange hopes that by giving their support to this fine humanitarian measure which will be launched in the next Congress they can make health service as available as educational service and that it will be accepted as freely as educational service, without feeling they are receiving charity.

BENNETT SCHOOL PUPILS PRESENTED WITH FINES

VOTE TUESDAY

Well Qualified For Drain Commissioner

Howard W. Seelye
The voters of Kent County are urged to give careful consideration to the matter of selecting a man for the office of Drain Commissioner at the coming general election. It is pointed out that Howard W. Seelye, candidate on the Democratic ticket, is a man of life, being 37 years old, and seemingly his whole life has been a preparation for the position. He served with leading contractors as a foreman and the past four years he has been in charge of Kent County Drain work having charge of some 800 men in the work. No doubt this was the largest drain construction activity ever carried on in any four years in the history of the county, and his many friends say that his preparation has been better for the job than any man in the county.

Howard W. Seelye

Mr. Seelye was born in the Snow Districts, Lowell, and is now a resident of Chaska, Minn.

FARMERS, in case of fire would your insurance policy give you adequate protection. An insurance company will do no more than is provided in its policy contract. After the fire it is too late to revise or rewrite it. It is our aim to write a policy which guarantees our members broad and liberal coverage. Our blanket policy on farm personal effects pays double the amount a classified policy will pay. Under a classified policy farm personal effects are often classified placing a specific amount on farm property, another amount on livestock and still another amount on farm implements. For illustration, in case of fire, if no livestock are burned the insurance carried on livestock is of no benefit to the owner. Under our policy the full amount carried on farm personal effects can be applied on the loss whether it is farm property, livestock, implements or all three. Registered stock does not need to be specifically insured in order that the number may represent a value commensurate with the value of the animal. These and other provisions make our policy particularly adaptable to the insurance requirements of the average farmer. A policy in our company means money in your pocket and safety for your property.

For State Legislature

JAMES P. MULVHILL
Farmer, mechanic and business man, James P. Mulvihill knows the problems of each of these groups, friends of the Democratic candidate for State Representative from the Kent second district, March 14, 1935. "Jim" as everyone calls him, has his first job on a farm. He left the farm to start his machine business, and worked for various railroads during which time he learned the value of a good education. Since 1922 he has been in the automobile and service business in Wyoming, Michigan. His experience which qualifies him to truly represent the people to the Michigan Legislature.

McCorde's Matters

Mr. R. T. Williams

When Fire Happens

FARMERS, in case of fire would your insurance policy give you adequate protection. An insurance company will do no more than is provided in its policy contract. After the fire it is too late to revise or rewrite it. It is our aim to write a policy which guarantees our members broad and liberal coverage. Our blanket policy on farm personal effects pays double the amount a classified policy will pay. Under a classified policy farm personal effects are often classified placing a specific amount on farm property, another amount on livestock and still another amount on farm implements. For illustration, in case of fire, if no livestock are burned the insurance carried on livestock is of no benefit to the owner. Under our policy the full amount carried on farm personal effects can be applied on the loss whether it is farm property, livestock, implements or all three. Registered stock does not need to be specifically insured in order that the number may represent a value commensurate with the value of the animal. These and other provisions make our policy particularly adaptable to the insurance requirements of the average farmer. A policy in our company means money in your pocket and safety for your property.

AMBITIOUS YOUNG PEOPLE

YOUNG PEOPLE have often asked here in Lowell what they can do to get ahead in life. Success comes to those who give the world superior service. The business man who knows his trade better than others is the one who gets the best of the business. The salesman who is the most friendly and helpful is the one who can expect the promotions. The employee who is the most intelligent and loyal has the best chance to go ahead. The way to success is to study your job, and try to improve the kind of work you do. If there is no future in the job you hold, you can at least use spare hours in fitting yourself to fill some better job.

KING AND QUEEN COMING

KING GEORGE VI and Queen Elizabeth of England, it is stated at London, are to visit the United States next spring. They will be entertained with splendid ceremonies. The old saying has it that a cat may look at a king. Millions of Americans will wish to share that privilege with the traditional cat, and there will be great straining of necks to see these mighty personages. What is the meaning of such a visit? The purpose is said to be to cement friendship between the two countries. At the time of the English have had to make great concessions in Europe, they naturally seek stronger ties with the American people. The aims of the two countries are much alike, and both of them deplore the tendency to substitute the rule of dictators for that of the people.

GROWN-UPS AT SCHOOL

EDUCATORS tell us that people's education ought not to stop when they march out of the school-house doors for the college. So there are night schools, college extension courses, correspondence schools, and a great variety of ways by which education can be continued. A great philosopher once said something to the effect that he felt like a child on a beach, picking up a few pebbles of information which had drifted in from the infinite sea. People who have had a good education sometimes feel they know all they need to know, but if they don't keep studying the wise man can probably floor them with his questions. Practical life brings up questions every day on which we need information. Someone suggests some scheme by which jobs could be made plentiful, by which the cost of living could be reduced, by which the schools could be improved to correct the faults of children, and a thousand other questions. The wise man can answer many of these problems. He can give a good idea how such plans would work in Michigan. The people who read and study are the ones who rule the country. Others look to them for advice and counsel. A good newspaper is a record of the progress of the world for a day or a week. It tells what has been accomplished to make the world better, to help people get more of the good things of life. It also has to present the dark side of the picture, the harmful things done through mistake or selfishness. The newspaper reader comes near getting a complete map and picture of life. As the traveler with a good road map will avoid wandering off his path, so the newspaper map of life tells you where lies the best and straightest road, and how you may avoid needless detours and rough and jolly places.

Committee Endorses Fuller For Judge

A host of friends of Hon. Glenwood C. Fuller launched a movement to retain his services as Judge of the Circuit Court of Kent County when they met last week at the Pottsville hotel and organized the Fuller-for-Judge Non-Partisan Committee with an initial enrollment of more than 10 members.

Judge Fuller was appointed to succeed the late Judge Wm. B. Perkins after making an outstanding record on the public utilities commission. Judge Fuller expressed his appreciation for the active interest and the loyal support of the group. He declared that while it is necessary for a candidate for the judiciary to seek election on a partisan basis, he always had endeavored to divorce judicial procedure from partisan politics.
